

RECALL MOVE IN JACKSON COUNTY IS LAID TO KLAN

Medford, July 21.—Application for a court order restraining the county court from holding the recall election, scheduled for July 29, against Sheriff C. E. Terrill, besides attacking the legality of the recall petition and the consequent election expenses, charges that the Ku Klux Klan is behind the recall. W. C. Daley signed the application with Terrill. Defendants named, aside from the county clerk, are: D. M. Lowe, recall candidate; Rev. W. Judson Oldfield, pastor of the Congregational church at Ashland; John J. Hoogstraat, a kinsman of the local Klan; George Inerson, a builder; Clay Walker, former newspaper man; Howard Hill, farmer; W. D. Hughes, proprietor of a vacuuming plant; Mack Ford; H. L. Ray, rancher, and Thomas E. Goodie.

Paragraph three of the document reads: "That prior to the circulation of the pretended recall petition a notorious secret political organization known as the Ku Klux Klan had been formed in Jackson county, Oregon, that among other purposes the said society had conspired to secure the election, through the election of its members, to the various political offices in said county.

"That coincident with the formation of said society certain acts and outrages of mob violence were perpetrated upon the persons of divers citizens of said county, said society being commonly and openly charged with responsibility therefor. That at said times it was generally known and understood that a grand jury was to be summoned to investigate said outrages and the activities of said society.

"That the said defendants, D. M. Lowe, W. Judson Oldfield, John J. Hoogstraat, George Inerson, Clay Walker, Howard Hill, R. L. Ray, Thomas E. Goodie and W. D. Hughes and each of them were at all times mentioned therein and are members of said society; that on or about May 20, the said last named defendants, together with divers and sundry other persons whose names to the plaintiff herein are unknown, with the intent, desire and purpose of perpetrating a fraud upon the plaintiff herein, and upon the legal voters, citizens and taxpayers of Jackson county, Oregon, and with intent to fraudulently deprive plaintiff, C. E. Terrill, of his office, and fraudulently usurp some to a member of said secret society, and with the intent to obstruct justice in said county, they well knowing that the said sheriff of said county, and a selection of jurors to fill special venire could select such jurymen out of and from the members of said society, said members being without any effort to reveal the identity or secrets of its members, treason, rape and willful murder alone excepted, said fraudulent intent being heretofore and hereafter carried out, they and each of them wilfully and fraudulently contrived and conspired together to circulate a petition in and throughout Jackson county seeking for the recall of the plaintiff, C. E. Terrill, as sheriff of Jackson county, Oregon.

"That the report that the sheriff had been guilty of malfeasance in office as shown by the 1921 grand jury report, W. E. Eiden, foreman, the application of which is: "That, then, and is no report of any kind by any grand jury of Jackson county, Oregon, made during the year 1921 charging said sheriff with any violation of his office or misconduct thereof, or malfeasance of any kind therein."

La Pine Merchant Wants Witnesses Held for Perjury

E. L. Clark, La Pine merchant, and his attorney, Robert H. Maguire, at noon today asked United States Attorney Lester W. Humphreys to bring charges of perjury against Burton E. Onay, N. E. Jones and Matt Raber, government witnesses in the recent trial of Clark, in which he was acquitted of conspiring with Onay to defraud the government by padding Onay's expense account.

Onay is a former forest ranger, for 10 years with the government, Jones is a rancher and occasional forest service employe, and Raber is a former clerk of Clark's and an occasional employe of the forest service.

Humphreys announced immediately following his conference with Clark and Maguire that since the grand jury does not meet until September he intended to take plenty of time to study the case before making his decision.

Humphreys also stated that he would advise immediately on the law before announcing whether, since the acquittal of Clark, Onay can be tried on the present indictment of conspiracy.

Maguire holds that Onay cannot be tried on this indictment, since it involves conspiracy with a man whom a jury has found not guilty, and George Alexander, Onay's attorney, holds to this same view.

"They may be right," Humphreys said, "but I intend to advise myself thoroughly before saying one way or the other."

Man of 80 Tries to Kill Himself After Murdering Another

Redding, Cal., July 21.—(I. N. S.)—M. P. Rose, 80, former district attorney of Shasta county, following his capture by a posse admitted he had shot and killed Jeff Hildreth, prominent rancher, today, and then shot and probably fatally wounded himself.

Officers were proceeding to Weaver-ville with Rose. At Trinity Center he asked permission to get a drink of water. While behind the hotel he shot himself in the forehead and is dying. The officers were unable to explain how he secured the gun.

Hildreth was found slain at the gate of the Trinity County Stock farm. Rose was captured by a posse on Coffee creek.

He told he was waiting in front of Hildreth's place five hours to "get him."

German Indemnity Is Scaled Down Paris, July 21.—(I. N. S.)—The inter-allied reparations committee began to scale down German indemnity this afternoon. MANY KILLED FOR OPERATION OF 115-GALLON STILL Charged with complicity in the operation of a 115-gallon still five miles south of Crown Point, O. E. Van Gendale was arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriffs Christofferson and Beaman in McMinnville and taken to the county jail here. Frank Rogers and Barney Voigt, who were arrested when the still was discovered in operation, were fined $400 and $200 respectively by District Judge Deitch. The still was discovered three weeks ago. At the time Rogers and Voigt protested they were not owners, but merely employes, but refused to tell who owned the still. Clues found on the place caused the sheriffs to get out a warrant for Van Gendale.

HUSKY STEPHEN IS MOOT POINT IN DIVORCE SUIT

A 235-pound steppson who monopolized the favorite easy chair and selfishly appropriated and consistently retained the family newspaper, is cited in the divorce complaint of Charles E. Wenden, president of the Methodist church, Scott cemetery, as the shoat upon which the bark of his late romance was wrecked after a short cruise starting in January.

Wenden filed complaint in the circuit court today asking for a divorce from Elizabeth Wenden, whom he says is 34. Six months of it was enough for the seasoned caretaker of the cemetery. He alleges that his steppson is uncouth in his habits and inhuman in his treatment of his wife. He charged his wife with cruel and inhuman treatment, but the steppson believes him to be older than that.

SUES MOTOR COMPANY FOR $1544, ALLEGING FRAUD Alleging that the Pepp Motor Car company is used as a dummy and a subterfuge in deceiving and defrauding the public, Chester A. Adams filed suit in the circuit court Thursday afternoon for $7544 damages from David A. Pepp, president of the firm, and Ida Pepp, the president's wife, for a conspiracy to defraud him of the $7544.

He claims he traded in an automobile valued at $2350, giving $1000 in cash and a security note for $1350 for a new automobile. His note was sold to the Western Finance company, which foreclosed on the mortgage given Adams as security. Adams claims this caused him a loss of $1944. He also asks for money promised him in repayment of the note, which was at work for the firm as a salesman.

SHERIFF HURLBURT REFUSES TO ISSUE COMMISSIONS Sheriff Hurlburt announced Thursday night he would not issue special deputy commissions to either strikers or strikebreakers. A request was received from D. P. Fallon, chairman, and E. B. Knight, secretary of the executive committee of the Federated Shop Crafts, asking commissions for 20 strikers and 20 strikebreakers. Hurlburt replied that no commissions had been issued to strikebreakers. Commissions have been issued in some cases to special watchmen in the shops, but these men are not strikers and have no authority except when on duty, the sheriff said.

INKEEPER FILES SUIT TO TEST RIGHT OF SHERIFF An injunction suit seeking to restrain Sheriff Hurlburt from interfering with his business and attempting to test the state law which requires dance halls outside of city limits to be licensed and regulated, was filed in the circuit court Thursday afternoon by Anthony J. Tully, proprietor of the Old Homestead Inn on the Base Line road near Rockwood.

Tully claims deputy sheriffs during frequent visits to his place have damaged his business. He claims he is running a restaurant and not a dance hall. Any dancing in his inn is merely incidental to the regular orchestra which is hired. District Attorney Stanley Myers said the case could be taken to the supreme court if necessary. Suppression of these wayside eating houses is necessary to prevent violations of the prohibition law, Myers said. A bill will probably be introduced at the next legislature requiring all roadhouses, inns and country restaurants to be licensed, Myers said.

MOONSHINE CONVICTED, BUT WIFE IS ACQUITTED Ray Billings, automobile mechanic, who lives at No. 208 1/2 23d street north, was convicted in federal court this morning of violation of the national prohibition law. His wife, who was on trial with him, was acquitted. According to Thomas Maguire, assistant United States attorney, who handled the case, prohibition officers raided the place and found a 30-gallon still, 15 quarts of moonshine, 41 bottles of beer, four quarts of wine and 130 gallons of mash. Billings will be sentenced Monday.

DASHES ACID IN FACE OF WOMAN (Continued From Page One) Wyattville, Md., whose jurisdiction embraces Mount Rainier, to arrest Wallers and frustrate the under plots said to have been carried out last night.

STORY CAYEY TELLS According to Cayey, Mrs. Brooks was to have been slain and her body concealed in the disused vault. The plotter, he said, had gone so far in their preparations as to break the lock on the vault. Investigation confirmed this statement and Cayey revealed that the stone slab on top of one of the tombs had been removed and placed on top of an adjoining tomb, apparently to facilitate the ghastly work of blinding away the intended victim.

Cayey also turned over six signed letters sent to Mrs. Brooks threatening her life. He explained his possession of the letters by saying they had been sent to him by Mrs. Brooks. How they came into possession of the other information he failed to clear up.

Constable Garrison discovered that Mrs. Brooks had been attacked with acid. Adding to the mystery, however, she refused to give the reason for her failure to report the matter and she did not want anybody prosecuted.

PROPERTY OWNERS ASK EXTENSIVE WORK ON STREETS

Preliminary steps to carry through the most extensive street resurfacing work yet undertaken in Portland were made today, when T. Hart Gardner, on behalf of 135 petitioners, filed with City Auditor Funk a petition for extensive work in the central east side district. On the petition is represented 54.81 per cent of the property involved in an area of 40 blocks—extending from East 20th to East 26th streets and from Stark to Burnside streets. The petitioners ask that the old macadam be brought to grade and a top dressing of asphaltic concrete put on this base. The streets were improved years ago with macadam, but the maintenance fund was long since used, and many of the streets are full of chuckholes. The petitioners ask that the work be given the usually employed limits of its extent and the close-in location of the district. They ask that if the resurfacing cannot be done this season the chuckholes be filled, so as to expose the streets usable during the coming winter, and that the resurfacing work be undertaken as early next season as possible.

Portland Youths Following Party Fined at Newberg

Newberg, July 21.—Five Portland youths were fined $50 each, following a battle on the streets Wednesday night with two unidentified Newberg youths, and three Portland girls, held as witnesses, were released yesterday. Robert Bunch, No. 735 East 23d street, Portland, was fined on a speeding charge. Lyne Reddick, Glen Stephens, Jack Williams and Roy McMan, all of Portland, were in jail today, failing to raise money to pay their fines on liquor possession charges.

The five, with Olive and Dorothy Woods, No. 263 East 13th street, and Dale Taylor, No. 148 East Third street, Portland, came to Newberg in Bunch's car. The Newberg boys were on the street with two girls and a car which can be learned without provocation, the Portland party stopped, the youths jumped from the car and set upon the Newberg boys. The latter put up a stiff fight and the Portland battlers jumped in the automobile and Bunch drove rapidly away. The car was stopped and Bunch was arrested on a speeding charge. The arresting officer found liquor in the car and the party was taken to jail. The girls were kept in a hotel under guard at night and in the Commercial club rooms during the day.

Police Find Liquor On Man Taken for Spitting on Walk

J. Criss spat on the sidewalk today and as a result he is now facing a charge of violating the prohibition ordinance. Morals squad police saw him at Second and Clay streets. They were almost sure he had liquor, but the man's constitutional rights, involving the principle of illegal seizure, prevented them from interfering with him. They followed him until he spat on the sidewalk. As that is prohibited by city ordinance, Criss was charged with disorderly conduct.

When they searched him at police headquarters eight pints of moonshine whiskey were found in his possession. LEAVE OF ABSENCE Leave of absence has been granted by the city council to Dr. D. W. Mack, chief dairy and milk inspector of the city health department, to attend the annual meeting of the western division of the American Guernsey Cattle club at Seattle July 27 to 29, inclusive. Dr. Mack's experience in handling the milk inspection situation in Portland is considered of such importance that the club has sent a special invitation for him to participate in its program.

EMPORIA STRIKERS AND DEFENSE OF GOVERNOR ALLEN AND THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

Emporia, Kan., July 21.—(U. P.)—Arrest of William Allen White, Emporia sage, ordered by Governor Henry Allen for expressing sympathy with strikers, will leave their intimate friendship unimpaired, both declared today.

"This is merely a test case of the right of free speech in Kansas," the author of "Henry and Me" declared today, as he prepared for formal arrest on a charge of violating the anti-picketing law of the Kansas industrial court.

"There is no reason why this incident should interfere with our personal matters and personal friendship in the least," Governor Allen said as a representative of the attorney general's office was ordered to serve a warrant on White today.

The placard in the window of the Emporia Gazette, which caused Governor Allen to accept his friend's challenge for a "showdown," was changed today to read "51 per cent" sympathy with the striking railroad men.

"I have not had breakfast yet and I make it a point never to 'feel' before breakfast," White said today when asked his attitude toward the threatened arrest.

"What I do depends on how my breakfast goes. I am going to have a talk with my lawyer later. I won't insist on going to jail unless my breakfast makes me, and I hope it don't."

"This won't affect my friendship for Governor Allen in the least. I feel this is just a friendly test case. I won't know just what I am going to do though until after I talk with my lawyers."

EXPECT HIS ARREST

Officials here believed White would be arrested and immediately released on his own recognizance.
