

MOUNT HOOD TO SIT PRETTY FOR AIRPLANE PHOTO

C. S. Woodruff, daring aerial photographer, has hit upon the happy idea of photographing majestic old Mount Hood from every viewpoint at close range. To perform this feat he will have to circle the famous peak in an airplane and arrangements are now under way for such a trip, which even Woodruff admits is not without its dangers.

Whether or not Woodruff and his pilot, "Bill" Graham, will make the circle depends upon the interest shown by the public in the undertaking, and interest in this case equals orders for pictures.

"Mount Hood has become so famous," said Woodruff this morning, "that I think it time to show more than one side of it. With that end in view I am planning an airplane trip completely around the mountain, photographing as we go. But a trip of this kind is quite expensive and one cannot afford without a considerable number of advance orders. The pictures will prove of inestimable value for attracting tourists and spreading Oregon's fame as a state of scenic attractions. The views would also furnish an idea of the wonderful panorama that completion of the Mount Hood loop road will unfold."

Woodruff has his plans mapped out in detail and wants to start as soon as possible. Like Roald Amundsen, who is occupied with plans for a flight over the North Pole, Woodruff has to take advantage of favorable winds and weather conditions. He plans to make the start from somewhere in the vicinity of Estacada, and it will take about three days to get all his equipment there.

Anyone interested is invited to communicate with Mr. Woodruff at the Multnomah hotel.

Chief of Police Breaks Two Ribs; Keeps It Secret

Two broken ribs are nothing in the life of Chief of Police L. V. Jenkins, who is running the Portland department today with his usual dispatch, in spite of the injuries he received last week while fishing in Salt creek, near McCredie Springs, Or.

In fact, the chief considered his handicap of so little consequence that no one at headquarters learned about the mishap until three days after Chief Jenkins returned from his vacation.

Today he told of how he was climbing up the side of a canyon when he slipped and fell on his fish basket in such a manner that two of his ribs were broken. He was knocked unconscious by his fall, but Miss M. E. Cushing, his sister-in-law, and Inspector C. E. Klingensmith, companions, soon revived him.

Then with the support they could give him he was forced to hike two miles along a mountain trail until he reached his camp.

"But I had a dandy bunch of fish," declared the chief.

The incident of his mishap was only of comparatively minor consequence in the story that followed about the fish.

Two Men Held on Auto Theft Charge

Evidence sufficient to warrant holding Ray Cooper, alias Jack Kennedy, and Claude Ferrand, alias Lee Coufey, to the federal grand jury on an automobile theft charge was found Tuesday afternoon by United States Commissioner Fraser. They are charged with stealing an automobile belonging to R. H. Cooley, of Los Angeles, and bringing it into Oregon in violation of the federal motor vehicle theft act. They were indicted by the last grand jury for violation of the Mann act, but a few days ago were acquitted of that charge by a jury.

Urge Medford Man On Farm Loan Board

WASHINGTON, AUG. 2.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL.) George A. Mansfield of Medford, Or., prominent in farm bureau circles, has been recommended by Senator McNary for appointment to the federal farm loan board to succeed W. H. Joyce of California, who recently resigned.

Crops Ruined by Iowa Hail Storm

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Aug. 2.—(U. P.) Cutting a path two miles wide and several miles long, hail as large as hen's eggs and falling to the depth of six inches, destroyed all corn, grain and fruit early last night. The storm originated in the vicinity of Ryan, in Delaware county, swept across the northeastern part of Linn county into Jones and Dubuque counties. Nothing was left standing in the path of the storm and the damage will amount to more than a million dollars, many farmers losing everything they had.

SIX KILLED IN TUG EXPLOSION

New York, Aug. 2.—A boiler explosion on a tug boat in the East River today snuffed out the lives of four men.

Fire followed the explosion which left only a shell of the tug and it soon sank from sight.

The force of the explosion was such that windows were broken.

Police and fire boats were rushed to the scene immediately after the blast and began searching for bodies.

The tug, which was called the Eastward, was warning into her pier as the explosion took place.

Some of the victims were blown clear of the vessel, their bodies falling into the river.

The blast blew away a section of the big Eastern plant nearby and showered debris over a radius of half a block.

X Y Z Broadcasting To Men

This is the Ad man of the Winthrop-Hammond Co., 127 Sixth St., broadcasting. Busy? Well, I should say so!

Store was thronged with eager buyers all day.

CLERKS trying their very best, and obeying instructions to make a new patron for the store out of every stranger.

BUYERS happy at being able to replenish their wardrobes at such remarkable prices.

BOSS satisfied to sell at raw cost or less, rather than move such a stock of high-class merchandise.

AD MAN, with his chest out, thinking the rush was all due to his efforts.

EVERYBODY HAPPY! And why not?

With $2 Shirts going at $1.19; $3 Shirts at $1.95; $5 Shirts at $2.95; Silk $8 and $9 Shirts at $5.95; 75c Garters at 49c; special lot $1 Ties at 49c, and 50c Hose for 29c. No wonder the store was packed all day.

The balance of our Straw Hats are going at just one-half price. All Felt Hats are marked at good-bye prices.

Then, on the second floor, the clothing men were trying to wait on two customers at once—a poor method under ordinary conditions. $45 and $50 Suits going at $29.50—wonderful bargains. The $50 and $55 Suits at $36.50 were in demand and many patrons wanted our finest $75 and $80 Suits at $49.50. And why not?

Thrifty men are gobbling up the $50 Overcoats at $29.50 and those swell Hirsch-Wickwire $60 and $65 Overcoats at $39.50. Also Raincoats at the same reductions.

The $50 Sport Suits at $29.50 find eager buyers, and there's a large stock to pick from.

There's a few Evening Suits to sell, but I'll have to tell you about them later on.

It's tough luck to have to move, but the store is surely making a host of new friends by this sacrifice sale.

Eggert-Young Co. will have one fine shoe store when they move in—that's certain.

Don't forget our location—127 Sixth St., between Washington and Alder, where the "Lotus" was in the good old days.

X Y Z signs off.

MAN IS SHOT AND SLIGHTLY HURT BY DEPUTY, IN RAID

In a liquor raid late Tuesday night on a house at No. 1242 East Ninth street north, Deputy Sheriff Joe Beeman shot and slightly wounded Carl P. Lehl, 22-year-old longshoreman, who was in the house at the time of the entrance of the deputy.

The bullet passed through the flesh in the upper right arm and slightly cut the flesh on the back "near the wing of the scapula," as the Emergency hospital physician termed it.

Beeman admitted that he shot a trouble was about to take place.

After Lehl's wounds had been treated he was placed under arrest on a charge of operating a still and held under a bail of $250.

Lehl stated he is married and lives at No. 796 East 11th street, and that he was only visiting the place when the raid took place. He is an employee of the Montag Stone works, No. 101 Columbia boulevard.

Frank H. Clemons was also arrested by the deputy sheriff and held under a charge similar to that of Lehl's. Deputy Beeman found two stills in full operation and large quantities of mash and moonshine.
