

CAMP MEETINGS NUISANCE, ASSERT PROPERTY OWNERS

The religious fervor of members of the Pentecostal camp meeting in Woodstock has aroused the opposition of residents of that district, according to a petition signed by 100 or more property owners requesting the county commissioners to put a stop to the camp meeting.

The petitioners say the noise of the meetings disturbs the neighborhood. The petition was referred to the district attorney and the sheriff, who are to consider the legal rights of the county, even if the commission decides to suppress the meetings.

Conditions around Maples, Or., in Tillamook county, are still very bad, but C. C. Scott of the patrol association said they were not quite as bad as he had anticipated. Scott made a trip over all the large fires in Tillamook and Columbia counties Sunday in government patrol plane. Scott found the Maples fire being driven by a strong wind off the ocean. He could not see the west side of the fire, owing to a blanket-like smoke cloud which hung low, but on the other three sides he found conditions no worse than had been reported by the wardens in charge. In addition, word has been received from this district since Scott sent out 40 additional men Sunday in response to a call Saturday night.

On the return trip Scott flew over the Beiding fire, where he found the fighters had made great headway. This fire was throwing up very little smoke and is believed to be under control. After alighting Scott sent a report of conditions as he saw them from the air to the Maples warden, advising him to check the east and south westerly progress of the blaze. The Columbia county warden was the only man to report that the fire had not been extinguished in his district was in good shape.

The Multnomah county sheriff's office had two men—Deputies Bedford and Burr—at a brush fire which burned Saturday night and Sunday on the Barr road between the Barker and Fisher roads. All the men in the neighborhood turned out and worked until the blaze was put out Sunday night. At one time a residence was endangered, so the deputies rounded up a tractor and had several tanks of water hauled to the place to provide for an emergency. The water was not needed, as the men in the brush managed to head off the fire. Rexford and Burr were high in their praise of the work done by the volunteers.

HEAVY WINDSTIRRED UP FIRE IN WESTERN WASHINGTON Olympia, Wash., Aug. 7.—A heavy wind Sunday night again stirred up the smoldering forest fires and cast a heavy pall of smoke over Western Washington. Two new fires were reported to State Forester Fred E. Pape this morning, one in the Rainier national forest, west of Lindbergh in Clallam county, and the other near Fairfax, Pierce county. No details were given as to the extent of either blaze.

An old fire, which has resumed spreading, is threatening the logging works of the Eastern Railway & Lumber company, east of Centralia in the Hannaford valley, according to a telephone message to Pape. The fire is not in a variable time, is spreading rapidly toward the works, the message stated. An unverified report from Nisqually stated that a logging lumber operation had lost a donkey, landing stage and many logs through spread of an old fire last night. The big fire near Port Angeles, which has been raging several days, was reported trenched around and under control. It will be held unless a heavy wind carries the fire over the trenches, the warden said.

SEVERE FIRE IN COVILTZ SECTION IS UNDER CONTROL Kelso, Wash., Aug. 7.—One of the worst forest fires that has burned in Oregon since the logging boom started on the Countryman place, north of Castle Rock on the Toutle a week ago, burned over several hundred acres of logged off timber, and into green timber of the Puget Mill company. Nearly half a million feet of timber of the Puget Mill company was destroyed. A fire line was built around the blaze and it was brought under control. Thompson & Hooper's small sawmill was saved after a desperate fight.

GO TO FIGHT FIRE Oregon City, Aug. 7.—Donald and Marshall Ryan have left for Buckner creek to aid in fighting the forest fire there, which are threatening the extensive timber holdings of their father, Thomas F. Ryan of this city.

Police in Running Fight With Liquor Men; Two Captured Armed bootleggers and policemen clashed in a spectacular gunfight in a warehouse Saturday evening along Willamette boulevard, which ended with the capture of two alleged rum runners. The two men were taken to the county jail after a struggle on the roadway in the course of their flight. The two fugitives gave their names as Henry Dietz and George Pines. Each is at liberty on $2500 charged with violating the prohibition law. Police had a tip that liquor was coming in from St. Johns, and Patrolmen Eased, Waddell and Richards were assigned to wait for the runners. They accosted the alleged bootleggers at Walker and Exeter streets and chased them to Willamette boulevard and Chautauqua street. Fourteen shots were exchanged, according to a police report made today. Two five-gallon kegs partly full of moonshine and three sacks of broken glass, the odor of which indicated they had contained liquor, were picked up where they had been abandoned.

1000 LOGGERS WOULD FIGHT BIG APPADISTRICT

About 1000 loggers were put to work Sunday to check a new fire which broke out Saturday night in the slashings of the Big Creek Logging company at Knappa, according to information received at the Forest Fire Patrol association here. The chief warden of that district also secured 50 additional men from Astoria. Reports stated that the fire was bad, but that it was still confined to slashings, not having reached green timber. The large crew was taken in to keep it in the slashings.

William Z. Foster Is Deported From Denver by Rangers Denver, Colo., Aug. 7.—(I. N. S.)—William Z. Foster, who came into prominence as leader of the national steel strike two years ago, was forcibly deported from Denver by state rangers according to announcement today by Adjutant General P. J. Samrock, head of the state police officers. Foster, it was said, arrived in Denver late yesterday from Salt Lake City. By the use of a disguise he succeeded in getting by state rangers and city police who were watching for him at the Union station. He was later found at a local hotel. A suitcase of "red" literature was confiscated by the deporting officers.

Seek Body of Girl Who Fell Off Cliff Posing for Picture The largest social industrial meeting ever held in Tacoma" is said by Norman F. Coleman, president of the Legion of Lumbermen, to have been the unanimous verdict of those present at the formal opening of the new home of the Tacoma Lumbermen's Association, which took place Saturday evening. Coleman was present in his capacity as official head of the organization and made the principal address. He returned to Tacoma this morning. "The expense of remodeling and furnishing the new Tacoma district headquarters," said Coleman, "which amounted to several thousand dollars, was met by the members of the Tacoma locals. Each man subscribed $1 and the employers matched the aggregate amounts furnished by their crews. The maintenance of the quarters will also be provided for on the 50-50 plan."

Proposed Plan to Collect Garbage in Business Area

It is probable that within the next two weeks an application may be made to the city council for a franchise to collect garbage in the business district and more condensed apartment house and hotel districts, so that these waste materials may be salvaged by being passed through a reduction plant. This was the information given out by Commissioner Bigelow today and he believes it may be a solution to the troubles that are facing the city's incinerator plant. It would enable it to handle the remainder of the collections for at least another year, believes Bigelow. At present it is necessary to pile up the refuse until the incinerator is overburdened, and plans have been under consideration for erecting another unit.

CIVIL SERVICE TESTS TO BE HELD FOR CITY WORK The city council has granted the use of the council chamber to the civil service examination commission to be held during August as follows: August 14, 9 a. m., utility man, labor service, water bureau. August 15, blacksmith's helper, labor service. August 16, clerical service, arboriculturist and assistant arboriculturist, supervising service. August 21, deputy inspector of licenses, deputy inspector of electric wiring, inspection service. Ex-service men who present their certificates of discharge from the army or navy when filing application for examination. Application blanks can be obtained at room 409, city hall.

TREASURER ONLY BIDDER City Treasurer Adams this morning was the only bidder for the purchase of $200,000 of city bonds bearing 4 per cent interest and payable in 25 years. The purchase is made by Adams for the purpose of investing money in the city treasury. The bid was at par and accrued interest, the bonds being dated March 1. The money is for the general extension and improvement of the water system.

CITY HALL BRIEFS Property owners on Sellwood boulevard, East Seventh and East 13th streets, want the city council to prohibit heavy truck traffic on this street. They declare the hauling of this material is catching on in the city and has done damage to residences by the frequent jarring of walls and chimneys.

BID ASKED Public work contractors are called on to submit bids for the district improvement of 50th avenue southeast, from 72d to 83d streets southeast, and 73d street southeast, from 48th avenue to 45th avenue southeast, and for construction of a sewer in Kingston avenue, from the south line of Arlington Heights to Fairview boulevard.

OLCOFF FORCES EXTEND RECOUNT (Continued From Page One.) one vote; precinct 141, where Olcott gained three votes; precinct 145 1/2, where Hall gained one vote; precinct 149, where Olcott lost two votes; precinct 152, where Olcott gained one vote; precinct 162, where Hall lost one vote; and precinct 171, where Olcott gained one vote. Olcott's net gain for the day three.

CONTINUATION OF THE actual recount in contested Multnomah county precincts was halted momentarily this morning when William B. Purdy, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, filed an argument to intervene in the Hall-Olcott Republican controversy. Purdy makes the same allegation that featured an action introduced recently at Salem in which he asks that the entire primary election be declared void because of fraud. Specifically, he avers that certain named individuals, taking advantage of the primary law, had changed the part of the ballot from Democratic to Republican on primary day and cast votes in the Republican primary which should have been cast in the Democratic primary, by depriving him of potential support.

Judge Bingham received the argument, but announced that he would render no offstage decision as to allowing Purdy to intervene. "Among the persons charged by Purdy with having changed their registration," he said, "is the editor of The Journal. Inquiry establishes the allegation to be false. Mr. Irvine is duly registered in Multnomah county precinct 227 and has made no change in his party affiliation. Because of absence from the city on May 19 this year he did not vote. When challenged today about the inclusion of this name by a Journal representative, Purdy admitted that he made no investigation of the matter. LEARN NOT GAINED Contestants had avowed the belief that in Multnomah and Marion counties—the ones so far canvassed—a gain of votes by the Democrats would be in favor of Hall. This would have overcome Olcott's lead in the official count and given Hall the nomination.

Subpenas are expected from Salem calling for the county clerk of Clatsop county to bring his ballot boxes to Portland for recount. Judge Bingham announced, however, that as soon as the Multnomah recount is finished he would adjourn court back to Salem, where the remainder of the count will be conducted.

Yosemite National Park, Cal., Aug. 7.—(I. N. S.)—Search was under way today in the waters of Merced river for the body of 17-year-old Elizabeth Jones, daughter of Professor L. W. Jones, head of the department of chemistry of Princeton university, who late yesterday slipped from a rock on which she was posing for a picture and fell 60 feet over the cliff to the river rapids below. Her father, who was taking the picture, attempted to save her, and managed to grasp her hand. It was too late to save her, however, and he narrowly escaped being carried over the cliff. Professor Jones has been lecturing this summer at the University of California.

CAR SHORTAGE ON RAILROADS BEING FELT IN OREGON

Serious car shortages are beginning to cripple the transcontinental railway lines in the Northwest as a result of failure of these roads to obtain a sufficient return of empty cars from the East, according to admissions made by railway car service bureaus today. "First intimation that a grave situation confronted the shippers of Oregon and Washington came today when the northern transcontinental lines were unable to supply requests for cars coming from lumber mills and private shippers in Washington. This inability to supply lumber shippers came as a result of diversion of all available cars to the movement of perishable goods, according to explanation made by the railroad officials. CAR SCARCE For 10 days the Northern line officials have been warning of the danger of impending car shortage and have been issuing pleas after plea to Eastern headquarters for the return of some of the empty cars for service in the Northwest. But supply lines in the East have been crippled by the shompen's strike and the officials said that every bit of equipment has been in constant use, with the result that no cars have been available for movement to the West. This situation developed on top of the growing shortage of motive power, with leases of the striking shompen have claimed and which the railway managers admit to a certain degree. "The situation on the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and S. P. & N. lines is not getting a sufficient return to feel the shortage of cars, according to A. S. Hering, car service agent, who said that the lines in the Northwest were not getting a sufficient return supply with the result that a little shortage existed on these lines. The Northern Pacific also beginning to feel the shortage of cars, according to J. C. Clifford, chairman of the Brotherhood of Firemen on the O-W. R. & N. POWER CRIPPLED "Motive power is certainly crippled as well as the car supply," said Clifford. "Boilers are dirty because sufficient forces are not being maintained in the shops to keep the boiler washings up to regulation. "Because the present administration applied the interstate commerce commission by cutting down funds, that body is not able to keep enough inspectors in the field, with the result that inspection regulations are not being maintained as for the best." In Portland from trainmen, according to J. C. Clifford, chairman of the Brotherhood of Firemen on the O-W. R. & N. ORDER OBEYED "The interstate commerce commission regulations are for the boilers to be washed every 30 days and these regulations are not being lived up to by railroads in the Northwest." J. B. Rhodes, chairman of the conductors' union, said that he has received numerous complaints from members of that organization concerning poor equipment. "The railroad managers admitted that there was a certain amount of bad-order equipment, but denied that they were unable to keep their motive power in proper running order so that the traveling public would not be endangered.

U. S. Refiners Seek To Control Cuban Sugar, Says Smoot Washington, Aug. 7.—(I. N. S.)—Seven groups of American refiners, aided by Wall street financiers, are attempting to control the Cuban sugar industry and destroy all competition from American sugar growers, Senator Smoot (Rep. of Utah) charged today in the senate. These American refiners, he said, have extracted $400,000,000 from the American public in the form of sugar profits during 1920 and part of 1921. "Two attempts made by Senator Pat Harrison (Dem.) of Mississippi to get Senate action on his resolution proposing an investigation of an alleged sugar syndicate were defeated today on objections raised by Senator Smoot. The syndicate, it was charged, was formed to raise a tax of $14,000,000 on the Cuban sugar crop for payment to American sugar growers in lieu of a high tariff rate. Smoot defended the 1.6 cents a pound tariff rate put upon Cuban sugar by the senate tariff bill. He declared this rate was "absolutely necessary" to prevent destruction of the sugar industry by the Cuban sugar crop.

Double Murder and Suicide Blamed On Abuses of Parole San Francisco, Aug. 7.—(I. N. S.)—Lattin in granting paroles was attributed as the chief cause of the tragedy last week in which Walter Castor, ex-convict sought on a murder charge, killed Police sergeant Timothy Bailey, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Castor, and himself. The coroner's jury found that Castor was on probation for manslaughter and expressed the belief that the deplorable tragedy could have been averted had greater care been exercised in the granting of paroles. The jury recommended that authorities having to do with granting paroles exercise extreme care in the extension to men of known criminal tendencies.

Longevity Gaining; Women Lead Men Washington, Aug. 7.—(U. P.)—Women with low-necked dresses and short skirts live longer than men with their counterparts, according to the bureau of census reported today. The average life of the men in the country is 55.21 years, as compared with 61.21 years for women. Despite the walls of reformers against the fast and strenuous modern life, the average longevity of men in 1920 was 3.75 years longer than in 1910, while the increase of women was 2.75 years.

Bride Charges Missing Husband With Polygamy Polygamy was charged against Boyd D. Maxwell, alias Harry L. Smith, in a complaint sworn to this morning by Mrs. Maria Francone-Smith, No. 690 Fourth street, who married Maxwell at Vancouver on July 29. The charge was filed by Mrs. Francone after she learned that Multnomah county records failed to show her new husband had been divorced from his first wife, Mrs. Maxwell, in 1917. She said to have represented to her, Mrs. Francone married Maxwell under the name of Smith and agreed to have the ceremony performed at Vancouver when Maxwell represented his marriage to her was not legal in Oregon because six months had not elapsed since his divorce. Police also found Mrs. Ruth Maxwell, the first wife, today, at No. 268 12th street. Mrs. Maxwell is an employee of a department store. The Maxwells are said to have been married nine years and have a 5-year-old boy. Mrs. Maxwell may file a desertion charge, police said. Possibility of Maxwell also being charged with forgery in the Washington courts loomed when W. B. Gano of Vancouver, an officer in the Marine Egg Saver Co., charged that two notes for $400 each which Maxwell had cashed at the bank were forgeries. Maxwell is said to have given two company notes as security for $700 which he borrowed a week after that he moved to Vancouver in an airplane at Chehalis, Wash., but of which venture he is said to have promised that the two would soon be rich.

Prosecutor Takes Step to Prevent Lightner's Escape Additional precautions were taken today by United States Attorney Lester W. Humphreys to prevent the escape of Dave Lightner, captured fugitive and alleged narcotic vendor, when the prosecutor was notified that the steamer West Faralons was arriving at San Pedro ahead of time. Humphreys wired the United States attorney's office at Los Angeles advising that the boat was reported 400 miles off San Pedro Saturday night and was therefore due some time today. The only apprehension the prosecutor has is whether Lightner is on the vessel. Humphreys has found from examination of the law that Lightner will not be able to raise any technical point as to the right of the United States marshal to arrest him at Los Angeles, as the court will refuse to take into consideration the manner in which he was extradited from China. Lightner is wanted here to answer five felony indictments, three of which charge a violation of the federal law. One of the indictments is for a $2000 bond and fled the country on the steamer Luise Nielsen. He was arrested July 4 on a high seas and put in irons. In Shanghai he is reported to have escaped from the consular prison. No report was received of his subsequent whereabouts until Clifford F. West Faralons in irons. Since Lightner's flight Judge Wolverton has raised his bond to $10,000.

J., Aug. 7.—Resolutions adopted by the national board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, in session here, sharply attacked the Ku Klux Klan. "The Ku Klux Klan challenge to our Catholic citizenship should be opposed by aggressive, intellectual power," the resolution read. "The rancorous bigotry of these secret political societies is designed to liberate from the rights guaranteed by the America we helped to found and build." Another resolution decried "the unhappy division of the Irish people, and expressed hope for an early cessation of strife. (Trade Mark Register)

TILLAMOOK FIRES NOT DANGEROUS

A personal inspection of the forest fires in Tillamook county was made Sunday by C. C. Scott of the Forest Fire Patrol association, who stated on his return that fire around Maples is not as bad as he expected to find. He stated that the country is so bogged by smoke that the fires seem worse than they really are. The Beiding fire is not serious at present, Scott said, although the smoke is bad there also. The extreme density of this smoke pall over the country made it difficult to discover just what damage was being done, he declared. In answer to an S. O. S. call received Saturday night from the Maples fire, Scott sent out an additional 40 men Sunday morning to combat the flames. On Thursday of last week the association sent 25 men and on Saturday sent 20 more men. As there are no telephones within 50 miles of the fire communication with the fighters is difficult. It was learned, however, that the fires are mostly confined to the underbrush. Reports from Columbia and Clatsop counties were encouraging, Scott said. A heavy fog from the ocean brought some relief to the fighters.

Impromptu Radio Treat Sunday Big Surprise to Fans Radio enthusiasts who tried to coax out of the etheral regions some shape of entertainment Sunday evening were they did last night's entertainment here at the Hallock & Watson Radio service, who put on a half-hour phonographic concert from the KGG station. The Hallock & Watson instruments never came through with such velvet smoothness or as much strength as they did last night. The quality of the music, especially in one banjo selection, being so strong that listening with a head set was uncomfortable at moments. How thoroughly the impromptu concert was enjoyed by people of the city and vicinity was shown by many calls during the night from the Hallock & Watson telephones engaged. The entertainment was such a success that Hallock & Watson will endeavor to arrange things so that there will be some of this entertainment hereafter on Sunday evenings. Long distance listening last night was not satisfactory. Either there was nothing in the air to be extracted or else the instruments of extraction were not functioning well.

The syndicate, it was charged, was formed to raise a tax of $14,000,000 on the Cuban sugar crop for payment to American sugar growers in lieu of a high tariff rate. Smoot defended the 1.6 cents a pound tariff rate put upon Cuban sugar by the senate tariff bill. He declared this rate was "absolutely necessary" to prevent destruction of the sugar industry by the Cuban sugar crop.

Double Murder and Suicide Blamed On Abuses of Parole San Francisco, Aug. 7.—(I. N. S.)—Lattin in granting paroles was attributed as the chief cause of the tragedy last week in which Walter Castor, ex-convict sought on a murder charge, killed Police sergeant Timothy Bailey, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Castor, and himself. The coroner's jury found that Castor was on probation for manslaughter and expressed the belief that the deplorable tragedy could have been averted had greater care been exercised in the granting of paroles. The jury recommended that authorities having to do with granting paroles exercise extreme care in the extension to men of known criminal tendencies.

Smith, in a complaint sworn to this morning by Mrs. Maria Francone-Smith, No. 690 Fourth street, who married Maxwell at Vancouver on July 29. The charge was filed by Mrs. Francone after she learned that Multnomah county records failed to show her new husband had been divorced from his first wife, Mrs. Maxwell, in 1917. She said to have represented to her, Mrs. Francone married Maxwell under the name of Smith and agreed to have the ceremony performed at Vancouver when Maxwell represented his marriage to her was not legal in Oregon because six months had not elapsed since his divorce. Prosecutor Takes Step to Prevent Lightner's Escape Additional precautions were taken today by United States Attorney Lester W. Humphreys to prevent the escape of Dave Lightner, captured fugitive and alleged narcotic vendor, when the prosecutor was notified that the steamer West Faralons was arriving at San Pedro ahead of time. Humphreys wired the United States attorney's office at Los Angeles advising that the boat was reported 400 miles off San Pedro Saturday night and was therefore due some time today. The only apprehension the prosecutor has is whether Lightner is on the vessel. Humphreys has found from examination of the law that Lightner will not be able to raise any technical point as to the right of the United States marshal to arrest him at Los Angeles, as the court will refuse to take into consideration the manner in which he was extradited from China. Lightner is wanted here to answer five felony indictments, three of which charge a violation of the federal law. One of the indictments is for a $2000 bond and fled the country on the steamer Luise Nielsen. He was arrested July 4 on a high seas and put in irons. In Shanghai he is reported to have escaped from the consular prison. No report was received of his subsequent whereabouts until Clifford F. West Faralons in irons. Since Lightner's flight Judge Wolverton has raised his bond to $10,000.

TILLAMOOK FIRES NOT DANGEROUS

A personal inspection of the forest fires in Tillamook county was made Sunday by C. C. Scott of the Forest Fire Patrol association, who stated on his return that fire around Maples is not as bad as he expected to find. He stated that the country is so bogged by smoke that the fires seem worse than they really are. The Beiding fire is not serious at present, Scott said, although the smoke is bad there also. The extreme density of this smoke pall over the country made it difficult to discover just what damage was being done, he declared. In answer to an S. O. S. call received Saturday night from the Maples fire, Scott sent out an additional 40 men Sunday morning to combat the flames. On Thursday of last week the association sent 25 men and on Saturday sent 20 more men. As there are no telephones within 50 miles of the fire communication with the fighters is difficult. It was learned, however, that the fires are mostly confined to the underbrush. Reports from Columbia and Clatsop counties were encouraging, Scott said. A heavy fog from the ocean brought some relief to the fighters.
