PUBLISHES LAST ARTICLE The last written work of Viscoun Northcliffe was published in this country by The Journal through articles furnished by the United News, immediately after the famous British publisher had made a trip, incognito, through Germany. The articles were written in Switzerland, where Northcliffe had gone for a rest following his trip. They were entitled "Incognito to Germany." It was in the midst of writing these articles that Northcliffe was stricken with the illness which resulted in his death.

(By United News)
London, Aug. 15.—While Englishmen and women in all walks of life mourn his loss and newspapers throughout the world publish articles of profound appreciation of his work and accomplish ments. Fleet street, the nerve center extended illness.

foe of Premier Lloyd George since shortly beore the Versailles peace conference. It was Northcliffe who brought about the overthrow of the Asquith government in the midst of the war and the elevation of Lloyd George. It was Northcliffe who stood behind Lloyd George throughout the war. In addition to throwing his full weight into the mainthrough propaganda.

The allied conference, which broke up in failure in London on the same day Northcliffe died, found Lloyd George maintaining the same general position he has held to German reparations, as against the French, who have long had the support of the Northcliffe press.

cause of the break between Northcliffe and Lloyd George has never been disclosed. From among those opposed to Northcliffe have come stories that he demanded and was refused a place on the British peace mission to Versailles. From other sources, that Lloyd George sought to dictate the policies of Northcliffe's

Senators Urged to Prevent Removal Of U.S. Offices

Acting Mayor John Mann today sent a telegram to Senators Stanfield and them to do all within their power to prevent removal of offices of the internal revenue department from Port land to Seattle. The telegram reads: "Business men of this city inform me on what seems to be absolutely unquestioned authority that the office of the supervisor of the special agents for the internal revenue department is being closed here Wednesday and records and office force transferred from Portland to Seattle. "As the acting mayor of this city ask you to do all within your power to prevent our business people from being forced to undertake the extra costs and burdens of adjusting matters belonging in this office in the Seattle headquarters, and, secondly, to protect the right of this city and state to some reasonably fair recognition in the arrangement of Northwestern offices."

SCHOOL HEAD HONORED

Indian Loses Fight For Life After He Falls Into River

The Dalles, Aug. 15.-Fighting desperate losing battle for his life, Dan Teals, an Indian, was drowned at Sheran's Falls on the Deschutes river Monday, while spearing eels. After falling into the swiftly rushing vaters the Indian was carried to an eddy at the foot of the fish ladder He clung to grass at the edge of the precipitous cliff for several minutes, while friends looked on from above and endeavored vainly to aid him. Presently the grass gave away and he went down. The body was carried a mile downstream and presently lodged on a rock, where it was discovered by an S. P & S. section foreman He summoned help, but when men went to the scene the body had disappeared again.

In the meantime Coroner C. N. Burget was summoned and he went to the scene in the afternoon, but the body had not been recovered.

Moonshiner Foils Tip by Boy Scouts

Pendleton, Aug. 15. - Somewhere in Umatilla county is a moonshiner with little regard for the Boy Scouts of America, as represented by the Pendle-ton patrol. Several days ago the scouts left for their annual outing at Emigrant Springs. During their ramifications in the adjacent territory they found a still and mash. A messenger RECALL ELECTION CITED was sent back to tell the scoutmaster had found the outfit the still and mash

Salem, Aug. 15 .- A complete investi-Salem, Aug. 15.—A complete investi-gation of the rates, rules, charges and OEDRIC regulations of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company on the commission's own motion, is provided for in resolution introduced before the publie service commission Monday by Commissioner H. H. Corey. The resolution fixes the time and place for the proposed formal hearing and investigation at the courthouse, Portland, October 17, 1922.

No action was taken on the resolution by the commission at today's meeting, Commissioners McCoy and Kerrigan taking the matter under advisement. Neither had any comment to make on the proposal.

Corey, the author of the resolution refused to support the Kerrigan resolution providing for withdrawal of the commission's answer to the Dundans suit, which action was designed to automatically restore to subscribers of the Pacific company in this state the rates in effect prior to the commis sion's order of February 28, 1921. The investigation as provided for

The resolution, which is addressed had taken wings. Members of the to the Pacific company, calls attenlocal Rotary club went out Monday tion to the fact that 18 months have and brought the amateur sleuths back elapsed since the issuance of the former rate order.

Further attention is called to the fact that "popular disapproval of such increased rates has been demonstrated at a recent recall election held on May Manage Campaign 19, 1922, at which time two members of the public service commission were 19, 1922, at which time two members recalled and new members elected in their stead, said members having been pledged to do all in their power to secure a reduction in such telephone rates.

HOLDS INQUIRY PROPER

Corey also points out that complaints against existing telephone rates have been filed with the commission and declares that an investigation by the commission on its own motion "has determined that sufficient grounds exist to warrant a hearing being held to determine whether each, any or all of the existing rates, charges, tolls, regulations, practices and service of your company in the furnishing of such intrastate, long distance, local exwithin the state of Oregon are now
