No changes were shown in meats and poultry, although the latter market appeared to be a little weak owing to the large amount of holdovers from Saturday.

The MARKET BASKET — Retail Prices

Owing to the continued warm weather, the pear crop has come on earlier this year. Local Bartlett pears are ripening fast at the present time, and are being brought on the market in a liberal way.

Addresses of many country points close to the city where fancy Bartlett pears and other fruits and vegetables are for sale can be found readily in the classified ad section of The Journal.

Within a week or 10 days local tomato crop will also be at its peak, if present weather continues. Tomatoes are ripening fast, and are arriving on the market in a more liberal way almost every day. Prices, however, will probably not be much lower than they are at present.

Crabapples are also on the market. Season on this fruit is generally short lived. The housewife, who wants good crabapples usually makes early reservations. Toward the close of the season crabapples are generally too soft and mushy to make good jelly.

Peaches are about as cheap a fruit as is being offered to the public at present. Unless a very fancy quality is desired, the consumer should be able to buy peaches for $1 to $1.25 per box, depending upon the color and quality of the fruit.

BUYING CONTINUATION MAKES COTTON MARKET STRONGER

New York, Aug. 21.—The cotton market showed continued strength at the opening today, with prices making new high ground for the movement. This was due to a continuation of the buying movement, which was inspired by deteriorating crop prospects and reports of an improving trade demand last week. First prices were 31 to 53 points above the closing quotations of Saturday, and December contracts sold up to $22.88, making net advances of about 45 to 55 points on the active position. At this level December showed a recovery of no less than 27 points from the low price of last Tuesday and to within 17 points of the high record established at the beginning of July.

Naturally enough this advance was sufficient to attract a good deal of realizing, while considerable hedging also was reported. Such offerings were readily enough absorbed for the first few minutes, but private reports came in reporting showers at a few points in Northwestern Texas over the week-end and the market eased off some 30 to 40 points from the best before the end of the morning.

The opening advance was stimulated by the continued strength of Liverpool and reiterated reports of an improving demand for goods.

With a further sharp advance the market drew close to the extreme high point at the beginning of July. December contracts reached $23.00, a recovery of nearly 300 points from the low of last Thursday. Buying was again inspired by the deteriorating crop prospects and reports of an improved trade demand. It was maintained from beginning to end. The market closed at an advance of 52 to 58 points.

MOST SHIPMENTS ROLLING UNSOLD

Too few sales are reported from Caldwell, Idaho, to establish a potato market at that point, although the stock continues to roll out. Nearly everything is being consigned. Idaho farmers are taking much less for their potatoes than Oregon farmers are asking, and as a result this market is being supplied with Idaho stock.

Total Oregon-Idaho shipments to date are not as heavy as a year ago, the figure being 730 cars, against 1287 for last season.

Shipping point information Friday, August 19:

Caldwell, Idaho, and nearby points: Hot, clear; haulings moderate, lighter, account temporary car shortage; too few sales to establish a market; most shipments rolled unsold.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Minimum 71 degrees, maximum 81 degrees; light wire inquiry; demand and movement slow; market steady. Sandland district, carloads, f. o. b. usual terms, Minneapolis and St. Paul rate, sacked Early Ohios, field run and partly graded, very few sales, 90@95c.

Kearney, Neb.; and nearby points—Warm, cloudy; haulings moderate; light wire inquiry; demand and movement slow, market dull. Carloads f. o. b. usual terms, sacked Early Ohios No. 2, wide range in quality and condition, few sales 65@80c, mostly around 70c.

Kaw valley, Kansas—Hot, clear; haulings light; light wire inquiry; no demand; practically all shipments rolled unsold.

Liverpool Weakness Causes Early Sales In the Chicago Pit

Chicago, Aug. 21.—After making new low prices for all deliveries of wheat, the market turned stronger today and from the low prices of the morning scored a substantial advance. The main cause of the early selling was the pronounced weakness at Liverpool, that market opening at a sharp decline and later weakening still more, closing 2⅛ to 4¾d lower, the biggest decline being on the near months. The export demand on the break here and sales were reported upwards of 500,000 bushels here, with business at the seaboard placed at about 1,000,000 bushels in all positions. Spring wheat reports from both sides of the line were favorable. Shorts covered freely. The visible supply increased 1,394,000 bushels.

Corn rallied with wheat, after a sharp setback in the first hour. There was a good demand for cash corn apparently and the market was steady. Country offerings were light. Export buying was of small proportions. Receipts were estimated at 240 cars. The visible supply total stocks showed a decrease of 2,319,000 bushels.

Oats were steady throughout the day. On the early dip in other grains, the market was steady and there was free buying by commission houses and by shorts which found offerings less heavy than recently. The visible supply increased 424,000 bushels. Receipts were estimated here at 250 cars, with primary receipts 1,387,000 bushels, against 1,302,000 bushels a year ago.

Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 21.—Nine carloads of Turkey red and hybrid certified wheat seed have been ordered by the First State bank of Prescott for use of farmers in that vicinity. Purchase of the wheat was made in Umatilla county.

According to Maurice B. Hill, cashier of the bank, it was believed by those in charge of importing the wheat seed that not more than two carloads would be ordered by the farmers when the idea was first put to them.

Cooperating with Hill in the purchase of the wheat was Fred Bennion, county agent of Umatilla, who was responsible for placing the lots for seed.

Liverpool wheat market took the greatest price drop over the week-end that it has suffered for some time, the drop on September being 4⅜ pence, or about 9¼c lower than Saturday's closing price. Closing prices on the Liverpool board Monday were 8 shillings 10 pence for both September and December delivery. Monday's quotations were about the level of prices quoted before the war.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET SHOWS MORE ACTIVITY; PRICES FIRM

Boston, Aug. 21.—Slightly more activity was manifested in the wool market here today as a reflection of the passage by the senate of the tariff bill. Prices were firm, with demand strongest for the medium grades. It is felt, however, that considerable delay is to be anticipated before the tariff measure is finally disposed of.

The calls for medium wools here has been reflected in the West, where good volume of Montana wools have been bought at good prices, although the bids both in Montana and Wyoming have been under the season's top. Buyers and sellers still are deadlocked over the remainder of the Southwestern clips.

Bonney View Farms are 25 miles east of Prineville, Or., and line both shores of the Crooked river. They are owned by May & Knox, who for 30 years have been successful ranchers and livestock men. The 14,000 acres owned outright consist of irrigated lands, cultivated hay lands, pasturage and range. The appraised value of these lands is $343,100. For loan purposes this appraisal was depreciated to $226,200 and all improvements, such as buildings, equipment, farm machinery, 100 miles of fencing, etc., was depreciated to a nominal figure—$8000. The cattle herd was valued at $66,000, based on the PRE-WAR average WHOLESALE PRICE of beef on foot.

Earnings

We estimate that the gross return from cattle turn-off, during the life of the loan will average $27,000 annually, and the total NET surplus from this turn-off, after deducting interest, principal, payments of bonds, operating expenses, etc., will exceed $58,000. This does not include crop returns and hay tonnage which alone amounts to a very substantial figure.
