

ESCAPED CONVICT IS BEING TRAILED BY BLOODHOUNDS

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 22.—Bloodhounds were washed into today in the search of the forest on McNeil island for Frederick E. Delage, escaped convict, who has been at liberty since early yesterday.

Warden Archer, who is personally directing the search, is convinced that the convict is still on the island. Motor launches patrolled the island during the night to cut off any possible chance for the convict to escape to the mainland.

Announcement was made today that Guard Martin E. Darby, who was in watch tower No. 7 at the time of the escape, had been discharged for inefficiency.

Darby fired two shots when he discovered that Delage, who had been working outside of the prison fence, was making a dash for liberty.

The warden said he did not believe Darby tried to bring down his man, and for that reason dismissed him.

"I'm through," said Darby. "No more of this for me. I can't stand it. No, I can't fire on a fellow man." Delage was sentenced in Seattle on May 5 last to a two-year term in prison for violating the national motor vehicle theft act.

Delage escaped from the same side of the prison from which Roy Gardner, daring train bandit, made his sensational break last Labor day. Gardner, however, ran across an open field for some hundreds of yards before he reached the brush, while Delage had evidently planned his escape more thoroughly, as he was open to fire for not more than 100 yards.

To Ask Portland For $25,000 for Palestine Project

A fund of $25,000 is to be raised in Portland to assist in financing an irrigation project in the Jordan Valley in Palestine, according to plans outlined at a meeting of prominent Jewish residents of the city at the Concordia club Monday night. Jacob De Haas, who is touring the Pacific coast states in the interest of the project, was the principal speaker at the meeting and explained the feasibility of the undertaking and the benefits which would accrue to agricultural and industrial interests in the Jordan valley.

Engineering and construction work would be under direction of Pinhas Rutenberg and the estimated cost of the project would be between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, De Haas stated. A campaign for funds in Portland will be managed by the following committee: I. Lovang, Charles F. Berg, M. Barde, D. Solis Cohen, Ben Selling, Max Hirsch and Joseph Shemanski. It was announced that another meeting would be held next week when Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, chairman of the central committee of the Palestine Development league, would be the principal speaker.

Asks Removal of Haynes, Alleging Misuse of Position

Washington, Aug. 22.—(U. P.)—Immediate removal of Federal Prohibition Commissioner E. J. Haynes on the ground that he is defrauding the government, was demanded of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon by Representative John P. Hill, Maryland, Republican, today.

Haynes is defrauding the government, in that he is using and causing to be used the official mail frank of the treasury department for the sending out of personal political propaganda in the interest of himself and associates, the anti-saloon league, Hill charged.

Many Would Wed Girl Accused of Killing Her Lover

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 22.—One thousand letters, hundreds of them proposals of marriage, have been received by Marie (Peggy) Beal, the black-eyed, bobbed-haired beauty awaiting trial for the murder of Frank Warren Anderson, "perfect lover," she revealed today.

Miss Beal shot and killed Anderson in a downtown hotel two months ago when he suddenly discovered she was his "fifth love."

The men who want to marry Peggy are from all walks of life. A Detroit minister knows she is "not all bad," and would "let her up." A Galveston sea captain would take her far out on the briny deep, so she could forget the past; a widower of San Diego is certain she would make a "good pal," while a convict in the San Quentin prison writes that he is doing fancy work and will soon have $50 to get a divorce.

Social workers and business men have also bombarded her with mail.

Salem Redwood to Be Saved by Fence And Electricity

Salem, Aug. 22.—Salem's big redwood tree, whose intrusion upon one of the city's busiest streets almost cost its life, will be spared. The city council Monday night, yielding to the prayers of individual citizens and organizations interested in the preservation of the historic tree, decreed that it should not die. In order to protect traffic along Summer street against the presence of the tree, A. N. Bush, Salem banker, has agreed to construct a fence around the tree and to have it lighted with electricity.

The tree was planted many years ago by Daniel Waldo, Salem pioneer, and is one of the few redwoods in this section of the state, none of which, it is claimed, having attained the majesty of the Salem tree. It is probable that the Pacific highway, which follows Capitol street into Salem, may be re-routed over Summer street, which is being paved. In this event the redwood will be the only tree in the "highway between the Canadian and Mexican borders."

RICH WOMAN TRIES TO BUY HUSBAND

San Francisco, Aug. 22.—(U. P.)—A strange love triangle, in which a wealthy woman is alleged to have offered to pay $100 a month to another woman for surrender of her husband, was revealed here today in published statements of the parties concerned.

Mrs. Rodney Kendrick first attracted attention to the situation when she declared Mrs. Wakefield in which she had her own money, and that Mrs. Kendrick could have Mr. Kendrick's income for her support as far as she was concerned, Kendrick's mother

STATEMENT DENIED

Mrs. Wakefield in her statement, admitted her love for Kendrick, her desire to marry him and her willingness to see that Mrs. Kendrick and her baby were properly provided for.

Kendrick also in a statement added that his wife had told him she proposed to secure a divorce, and that following the declaration all three had "lived happily together" at Mrs. Wakefield's Sananito home.

Kendrick's mother, said to have been a witness to the conversations between Mrs. Wakefield and Mrs. Kendrick, denied published statements that Mrs. Wakefield had made a flat offer of $100 a month to Mrs. Kendrick if she would divorce Kendrick.

RETURNS FROM TRIP

Mrs. Wakefield did say that she had her own money, and that Mrs. Kendrick could have Mr. Kendrick's income for her support as far as she was concerned, Kendrick's mother declared today.

The mother also denied published intimations that Kendrick and Mrs. Wakefield had gone on a camping trip alone to Lake Tahoe.

"They were at Lake Tahoe together, but only as members of a camping party," she said.

Mrs. Wakefield, who returned late yesterday from the camping trip, declared that Mrs. Kendrick "was a very sick girl" and told how she had cared for her while the three are said to have been living together at Sausalito.

GRANDFATHER COMING

"Mrs. Wakefield often got up in the night, went to Mrs. Kendrick's room and tucked the covers around her," Kendrick's mother said, verifying Mrs. Wakefield's statement.

John D. Spreckels of San Diego, Cal., sugar and railway magnate, was expected here today to look after the interests of his two grandchildren in the affair. He was the father of Mrs. Wakefield's first husband, and the children are with Mrs. Wakefield.

Bumors that he would institute court action could not be confirmed.

Hennington made a brief tour of the entire East.

BECHTEL IS SUED ON FRAUD CHARGE

Oregon City, Aug. 22.—Shelton Bechtel of Jennings Lodge, a party to numerous suits in the circuit court here, is named on a charge of obtaining money through fraudulent misrepresentation in an action filed here yesterday by Josephine Gallup.

The complaint alleges that Bechtel made fraudulent representations concerning a suit in progress, in which Mrs. Gallup was interested, by means of which he secured $1100. According to the complaint, H. H. Gallup was suing Josephine Gallup in the Idaho courts for Latah county. Bechtel, it is charged, as the friend of both parties, represented to the woman that he could effect a settlement out of court. On this basis, she alleges, she paid him $500. Later he came to her and said that Gallup had refused to accept the $500 and demanded $1100. Accordingly, she claims, she paid Bechtel $600 more. Later she discovered that Gallup knew nothing about the proposed settlement and now she is suing Bechtel for the money, plus interest from February, 1920.
