

RUSSIAN REDS WOULD CREATE SOVIET IN U. S.

St. Joseph, Mich., Aug. 25.—(U. P.)—Overthrow of Eugene V. Debs and Samuel Gompers, leaders of American labor was urged by Nikolai Lehin and the third international of Russia, according to a report issued by federal agents in the Bridgeman raid.

The report was made by one of the Russian delegates to the communist convention which broke up when federal agents arrested 18 delegates.

FIGHT GOMPERS

Allen Myers, special agent in charge of the investigation, declared that the report outlined plans of the Russian Reds to establish a soviet in this country.

Agents were working to determine whether the report was brought to this country by Arnold Lozowsky or Maurice Reitsch, who were known to have been delegates from Russia. Both men escaped shortly before the raid.

The report reveals that the trades union education committee, headed by William Z. Foster, is an offshoot of the third international, Myers stated.

"The report revealed a clear-cut revolutionary program calling on the communists to overthrow the 'old machine' of Gompers and accept the dictatorship of the proletariat.

"The manuscript stated that the collapse of the socialist party in this country was due to the fact that they did not 'organize the masses.'

DENOUCE DEBS

"Debs was a man who never really grasped the significance of the organization of men," the report said.

"This message from Lenin stated that organization of the masses in a revolutionary program to overthrow conservative leaders such as Gompers was the only plan.

Myers also declared that delegates at the convention had branded rail union leaders as cowards, "who did not dare tell their men that this brotherhood was at work."

HATWOOD SAID TO BE URGING

I. W. W. TO START TROUBLE

Washington, Aug. 25.—(U. P.)—Department of justice officials believe that William D. Hatwood, former I. W. W. leader, who fled to Russia when his conviction for violation of the espionage act was sustained by the supreme court, is urging I. W. W. in this country to instigate violence during the rail and coal strikes.

Haywood, known as "Big Bill," is in Moscow working in cooperation with soviet officials, and messages through underground channels are said to have come from him to radicals in this country.

The department of justice is keeping a close watch on many of the known I. W. W. and communists now in this country. It was upon information from the department that the communist convention, scheduled to be held in Michigan woods near Bridgeman, was raided.

Information compiled by the federal government is daily being transmitted to the states in order that they may aid in the campaign against the radicals and arrest them upon the first violation of any law.

DR. H. H. EAST HAS WIFE, MAN TAKEN

Hood River, Aug. 25.—A fight in a downtown hotel here last night brought to light in Justice Othman's court this morning a scandal involving prominent Portland people and resulted in Mrs. Irma East, wife of Dr. Harry H. East, Portland physician, and deputy city health officer, and a man who gave his name as C. A. Manuel, being bound over to the grand jury in bonds of $500 to answer charges of adultery, perjury and rape.

Manuel arrived in Hood River yesterday afternoon and, stating that his sister-in-law would arrive later, engaged two adjoining rooms, connected with a bath between. Later in the evening the "sister-in-law" arrived, and shortly after, went to her room.

About 11 o'clock Dr. East awoke, and having ascertained that the couple were in the hotel, went to the sheriff's home to swear out a complaint against the couple, declaring that the "sister-in-law" was his wife. While the sheriff's wife was calling Deputy Edick, Dr. East left and went to the hotel.

When the deputy arrived he found that Dr. East had broken into Manuel's room and found the couple together. Dr. East attacked Manuel and a fight ensued, in which Manuel suffered a black eye and other superficial injuries.

Manuel and Mrs. East spent the night in jail.

It is believed here that "Manuel" is an assumed name.

15,000 Acres of
Klickitat Timber
To Neil Concern

Extensive timber operations in Northern Klickitat county, Wash., are forecast in the announcement today that the entire holdings of the Western Pine Lumber company, including 15,000 acres of timber, a 16-mile railroad and a 100,000 feet capacity mill, has been purchased by the J. Nell Lumber company of Spokane.

This announcement was made today by H. P. Holmes, sales manager for the Nell's Lumber company and formerly associated with the Western Pine company in connection with reports that E. E. Lytle is engineering a railroad building project in that section.

The fact that this 16-mile railroad which extends in the same general direction as the reported Lytle right-of-way, leads timber men to believe that Lytle has not secured a right of way. The Nell's Lumber company had no report of any negotiations with Lytle. The amount of money involved in the transaction between the Western Pine and Nell's companies is not revealed by officials of the two companies, although it is presumed to run well towards $2,000,000.

The railroad involved in the deal is the Klickitat Northern railroad, which extends from Klickitat on the Golden-Eden branch of the S. P. S. in a north-westerly direction to a point named Plateau. The mill, which is operating on a basis of 100,000 feet a day, is located at Klickitat.

The Western Pine Lumber company was formerly controlled by Max Houser.

Officials of the S. P. S. railway company said today that if Lytle intended to construct a line to Yakima from the Columbia river, that he would have negotiated in some manner with the Klickitat Northern railway owners. Lytle is reported also to be interested in the Horse Heaven irrigation project in Klickitat and Yakima counties.

South Sea Beauties
Fete Ship-Wrecked
Captain and Crew

Honolulu, Aug. 25.—Captain J. A. Olsen and his crew of seven from the wrecked schooner Henriette arrived here today after escaping from the Amazon isle of Tangawa of the Ellice group in the South seas. The captain and his crew were on the island 20 days. The population of the island consists of 180 natives, of whom only 12 are men.

When the Henriette, en route from Fiji to San Francisco, struck a reef on the island the native women in outrigger canoes braved heavy seas to rescue the captain and crew.

Once they were ashore they were feted and treated to endless hula dances and beseeched to remain on the isle for the rest of their days by the women, many of whom they declared to be supremely beautiful, because all the marriageable male natives were traveling in other islands.

On the twentieth day, despite the pleadings of the women, they insisted upon signalling a distant motorship, the Hauraki, which sent out boats and brought them aboard.

"We had the very devil of a time getting away from the women," declared Captain Olsen. "They even came out into the surf as we left and tried to hold back our boats while they pleaded with us to stay."

Colonel Geo. Moses'
Retention at O. A. C.
R. O. T. C. Is Asked

Washington, Aug. 25.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BERN.)—The President W. J. Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college has appealed to Senator McNary, seeking retention at that institution of Colonel George W. Moses, who began instruction of the reserve officers' training corps in May and is about to be withdrawn.

"The war department states that reduction of appropriations has made necessary the reduction of officers in this work, discretion being left to Major General Morton, commanding corps area, as to who is to be dropped."

Training will be continued as before, it is stated, and General Morton has full authority as to personnel.

SPEEDERS TO BE HALTED

Oregon City, Aug. 25.—Three months ago West Linn passed an ordinance prohibiting cows from roaming at large in the city streets. Now the West side council seeks to prevent autoists from speeding on the same thoroughfares and a speed cop is to be employed for at least two months.

Home Talent Play Is Goods Small Towns 'Rarin' to Start

By Alexander F. Jones
United News Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, Aug. 25.—Where would Lillian Gish be if it hadn't been for the home talent play in Springfield, Ohio?

Where would Douglas Fairbanks be if it hadn't let him be the thunder in "Two Orphans" in Denver?

Where would Lenore Ulrich be if she hadn't begged and begged to get into that home talent at Milwaukee?

THOUSANDS COACHED

"I have coached 10,000 amateurs in five years," said Miss Olive Kackley, one of the leaders. "That means hundreds of plays. Thousands of home talent producers were few and far between. They have now grown so rapidly that a national organization is necessary."

HOME TALENT THE THING

The home talent play is the thing that is making the stars stand around on Broadway. This country has gone wild on home talent drama and musical comedies and minstrel acts and pageants. Everybody thinks down in his heart that it is a shame that Eddie Sothorn is getting all this reputation when he could do Hamlet a lot better. And everybody thinks down in his heart that it is a shame that Eddie Sothorn is getting all this reputation when he could do Hamlet a lot better. MOBILE OPPOSED BY ATTORNEYS

Recall proceedings instigated against Circuit Judge Walter Evans by Robert G. Duncan caused numerous expressions of disapproval today from attorneys and state officials, who all appeared to give the matter only slight consideration, nowhere seeming to take the movement with any degree of seriousness.

Duncan said today he already had two circulars abroad with petitions and was preparing to send out more Saturday and next week, keeping them on the street until the required number of voters had signed the papers.

JUDGE NOT WORRIED

Many attorneys were very emphatic in condemning Duncan's behavior, stating it was entirely unbecoming.

"The legal machinery of this state is not being put to use, and it is impossible for every disgruntled litigant to begin proceedings of the kind and get away with it," said one attorney.

"This is a fine state of affairs, when a judge is intimidated before he renders a decision, and then because he renders a decision against a man, an attempt is made to recall him from the bench."
