

DR. MAYO MAY OPERATE ON MRS. HARDING

Famous Surgeon Speeding Toward White House, Where President's Wife Is Seriously Ill; Opiates Given Patient.

Washington, Sept. 9.—(I. N. S.)—At 3:45 this afternoon it was announced at the White House that Mrs. Harding was resting easier, with no improvement in her condition.

Former President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson called at the White House this afternoon to inquire about Mrs. Harding's condition. They drove up to the portico of the executive mansion, made an inquiry and then left their cards and drove away.

It was the former president's first close-up view of the White House since his retirement March 4, 1921.

Washington, Sept. 9.—(U. P.)—Mrs. Harding passed a fairly good night and her condition is as favorable as can be expected at this time, an official bulletin from the White House stated today.

The official statement said: "At 5 a. m., Mrs. Harding had a fairly good night."

"The complications of yesterday are less prevalent this morning."

"On the whole, her condition is as favorable as can be expected at this time."

(Signed) "Sawyer." This announcement was accompanied by an order closing the White House and grounds to visitors and by the cancellation of President Harding's engagements for the day.

DR. MAYO CALLED

General Sawyer came out of the sick chamber at 12:35 p. m. and told newspaper men there was no change in Mrs. Harding's condition. No further official bulletins will be issued until 8 p. m., he said.

Dr. George T. Harding, brother of the president, arrived this morning and is in attendance.

Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, Minn., who has been called, will arrive here at 7:40 Sunday morning, General Sawyer said.

Hydro-nephrosis, the malady from which Mrs. Harding is suffering, is an affection of the kidneys. In the present instance it is complicated by a secondary ailment.

OPIATES ARE GIVEN

Opiates were administered to the patient during the night to relieve the pain. Chairman Lasker of the shipping board said today Lasker said the doctors expected the crisis within 24 hours and were exerting every effort to prevent poisonous secretions from accumulating. If these efforts are successful...

Country Club, Brookline, Mass., Sept. 9.—(I. N. S.)—The United States has a new golf champion.

Jeff Sweetzer, of New York, playing like a champion since a week ago, when he was one of the number to plug his way through the terrific qualifying rounds, defeated the old master, Chick Evans of Chicago, three and two today, the 36-hole final over the country club course.

Sweetzer, 26-year-old Metropolitan titleholder, and one of the sensations of the tournament, played against the world's finest golfers. The sky was overcast this morning and it felt a little like rain, but the course was in good shape.

At the end of the first seven holes Sweetzer was one up on Evans. The Metropolitan champion won the first hole with a perfect four. The second was halved at par four. Both were off on the third, which Sweetzer took with a bad five on the par four hole. Evans rallied at the fourth and won it with a birdie three. The fifth was hotly contested and was finally halved in the regular five. Sweetzer took the sixth with a fine birdie three. They went wild on the seventh, which Evans took with a bad four.

The eighth and ninth holes were divided. Sweetzer won the eighth with a par four and Evans took the ninth with a par four. This left Sweetzer one up at the turn.

Lively debate over the resignation of the Rt. Rev. Robert L. Paddock, bishop of Eastern Oregon; a resolution forbidding divorced members to marry as long as their first mate lives; a motion to give suffragan bishops the right of franchise, and an attempt to get the house to say, in consideration of the proposed prayer book revision in favor of discussion of the denomination's relation to other communions featured this morning's session of the house of bishops at the Episcopal General Convention, assembled at the Auditorium.

The house also voted resolutions of sympathy for Mr. Harding in her illness.

The report of the commission to investigate the resignation of Bishop Paddock was presented by the Rt. Rev. A. S. Lloyd, suffragan bishop of New York.

RECOMMEND ACCEPTANCE

The commission recommended that the resignation be accepted as a medical specialist had advised them that "an invalid's chair is ahead of him if he is not re-elected."

Dry Navy Halts Rum Boats Lake Champlain Is Blocked

Wave, an 18-ton craft, which was overhauled just as it was putting into a wooded cove to transfer a cargo of rum, was captured by the yacht members of the crew, J. Fessette, for whom enforcement officials have been searching a long time.

Letting the Wave drift, the federal boat sped ahead to the cove. As she neared the other yacht two men jumped overboard and attempted to swim to shore. They were halted by a volley of rifle shots and finally surrendered.

The yacht was searched and was found laden with Canadian whiskey, Scotch and beer. The two men captured gave their names as Tim Smith and Barney Stone, and they, too, were locked up at Plattsburg.

5 Firms to Get City's Tire Orders

The city's purchasing department was in the strong glare of the spotlight Friday afternoon, when the city council held an adjourned session to consider Commissioner Pier's recommendation on the purchases. This was the "follow-up" of the Wednesday meeting, when the purchasing department had come in for severe criticism on the part of Mayor Baker and Commissioner Bigelow.

Commissioner Pier was absent, but hurried back when he learned that he would be investigated by another commissioner at the request of the council. He felt deeply grieved, declaring he could have been reached easily. Mayor Baker said no discourtesy to Pier had been intended, but the city's business must proceed regardless of the absence of a commissioner.

"I feel it isn't exactly safe for a commissioner to go on a vacation," said Pier. "When he does, something explodes."

"Well, when you go away, leave some one in your place to represent you who can give an accurate information," said Mayor Baker. "Mr. Hooper absolutely failed us. I supposed he was purchasing agent and familiar with the details of your office."

TALK OVER INDIVIDUAL STRIKE PEACE

Shopmen and Executives of Several Roads Meet; Latter Are Willing to Settle; Jewell Is to Urge Acceptance Monday.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Informal conference between striking railroad shopmen's chiefs and executives of several railroads to discuss a separate peace was under way here today.

The union leaders were sounding out the sentiment of the managers pending the meeting of the policy committee of the shopmen, to be held Monday, when Bert M. Jewell, president of the workers' organization, will recommend acceptance of offers of individual agreements to end the strike on a few roads.

These roads were reported to have notified Jewell that they would make separate agreements. They include the Baltimore & Ohio, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and other such lines which were not prepared to meet the strike with new workers when it called July 1, and since have had little success in efforts to break the walk-out.

When Jewell recommends to his advisers making a separate peace it will be a backdown from his original stand that the strike was nationwide and only a nationwide settlement would be acceptable to the shopmen.

JEWELL IN CONFERENCE

Jewell was in conference most of Friday with the executive board of his organization. A hard fight is in prospect, it was admitted, but confidence was expressed that the plan would be approved.

The adoption of this plan, it was said, would spell the end of the strike. The management of the Kennedy, according to the information, 90 cents an hour, 20 cents over the railway labor board scale. Other labor in machine shops are given lower rates of pay.

The policy that is expected to be pursued by those roads that decline to make peace with Jewell's organization is indicated today by the United Pacific. This road recognized its union shop employees association composed of old shop employees who did not strike.

EPISCOPAL WOMEN SEEKING EQUALITY

Recommendations for an amendment to the constitution of the Episcopal church to permit the admission of women as delegates to the house of deputies, were received this morning and placed upon the calendar for settlement next week.

The proposed change is the alteration of Article I, Section 4 of the constitution striking out the "man" in "laymen" and adding "women" in its place. The report of the commission on women's work in the church to the general convention, which was unanimous, the personnel of the commission including William Ford Nichols, chairman; Herbert H. Powell, secretary; Bishop Harding of Washington, D. C.; Bishop Woodcock, Kentucky; Rev. Dr. Sedgwick of Calvary church, New York; the Rev. Dr. Phillips of the Church of Our Savior, Philadelphia; Judge Philip A. Parker, Boston; Mortimer Matthews of Cincinnati; Warren Kearny of New Orleans.

The meeting was featured by two messages of greeting and benediction from the visiting prelates of the Near East, his grace Patriarchem, archbishop of Neapolis, and his grace Gerassimos Messara, archbishop of Beirut. The latter spoke through the medium of his archdeacon, Anthony Bachir D. But, who interpreted him. Each bishop stressed the importance of unity in Christian faith.

A vote was taken in the house of deputies as to the elimination of paragraph 41 of the Gloria in Excelsis of the Mass, which was read by the bishop of Neapolis, and his grace Gerassimos Messara, archbishop of Beirut. The latter spoke through the medium of his archdeacon, Anthony Bachir D. But, who interpreted him. Each bishop stressed the importance of unity in Christian faith.

A resolution forbidding applause in any session of the house of deputies was discharged from further consideration by the house and the committee was released.

League Held By Speech Of Haitien

By Edgar Angel Mowrer. (Special Cable to The Journal and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1922)

Geneva, Sept. 9.—Race prejudice received a severe blow Friday when the league assembly listened to a brilliant speech by Bellegarde, the negro delegate from Haiti, who in well chosen moderate words discussed the league's duties to mankind and especially the duties of the mandatory powers to the native populations under their control.

Referring to the recent reported massacre of the Bondouf-Sottentots by a South African expeditionary force, he asked for a full investigation, declaring that the "massacre of women and children in the name of the League of Nations is an abominable thing, which we cannot admit." This was a reference to the league control over the execution of the mandates.

The United States comptroller of Haitian finances is said to have refused to recommend the payment of the expenses of the Haitian delegate to the assembly. Bellegarde is living in a modest hotel and avoiding ostentation. The entire assembly followed the Haitian's speech with attention and many of the delegates congratulated the orator on his command of ideas and his courage in defending the Africans.

MINERS ALIVE, IS CHEMIST'S BELIEF

Jackson, Cal., Sept. 9.—(I. N. S.)—That the 47 miners entombed at the bottom of the mine shaft of the Argonaut gold mine nearly one mile underground are alive today, after 13 days have elapsed since they were first trapped by fire, is the belief of Dr. L. H. Duschak, consulting chemical engineer. He said that chemical tests made in the Muldon shaft established the fact that there are no corpses in the Argonaut.

To lend further impetus to the rescue work, the management of the Kennedy and Argonaut mines have posted a $5000 reward for the crew which first reaches the unfortunate men.

With the declaration of the engineer came optimistic statements from mine officials. They stated that everything the men were alive, basing this belief on the chemical tests taken at the 2400 foot level of the Muldon shaft. For the first time since the beginning of the fire the non-presence of poisonous gases was noted by exhaustive chemical analysis, they said.

Rescue crews working on the 3500 foot level of the adjoining Kennedy shaft reported they had reached an uncharted bulkhead, presumably erected during a previous fire. It is believed this bulkhead served to check the flood of water used in extinguishing this fire and that better progress will be made beyond the bulkhead toward the 75 foot wall of quartz separating the two mines than has been

House Leaders Plan Adjournment Early In Week of Sept. 18

Washington, Sept. 9.—(I. N. S.)—House leaders planned today for an adjournment early in the week of September 18. They will have cleared the legislative program so far as rests with the house, during the coming week.

The date of adjournment rests with the senate. Conference today between house and senate leaders failed to develop a day certain on which an adjournment could be taken.

It is expected that both the tariff and soldiers' bonus bills will pass congress finally during the coming week.

AMERICA By Hendrik Van Loon

A chapter a day in The Journal, beginning Monday.

What is said about this new feature: New York Times—"Why should not history be more fascinating than fairy tales? No reason if you go to Hendrik Van Loon to tell it to you."

Detroit News—"Dr. Van Loon has gone through the dusty files and brought out a great deal of fascinating information, most of it as delightful to an adult as it must be to boys and girls who ages range from 8 to 15."

Philadelphia North American—"Hendrik Van Loon commences a series of talks which sound like a father's informing talk with his young son."
