Episcopalians Are Center of Social World

By Hazel Handy

ENTERTAINMENTS given for the visitors attending the Episcopal convention hold the center of attention on the social calendar. A round of teas and dinner parties has been on the daily program for the past week. Most brilliant have been the large assemblages for the proper reception of the guests within our gates. Portland will again have an opportunity to prove her right to the title by which she is known throughout the United States as being the City of Hospitality.

Miss Constance Piper and Miss Helen Stover shared the honors at a charming tea given by Miss Mayme Helen Flynn Thursday afternoon in the blue room of the Hotel Portland. Mrs. Edgar B. Piper assisted Miss Flynn and the honor guests in receiving. Early fall blossoms formed a most attractive centerpiece for the tea table, which was presided over by Mrs. John Cabene Beatty. Mrs. Edgar B. Piper and Miss Irene Daly. About 65 matrons and maids called during the tea hours. Miss Piper and Miss Stover expect to leave Sunday for New York. During their stay here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Piper they have been the inspiration for many smart social events.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery returned Monday night after an absence of five months on a trip through the East. She has with her now the Dr. Henry Russell Talbot and wife. Dr. Talbot is a representative to the Episcopal convention of the National Cathedral in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. James Muckle are entertaining as the house guests, Bishop and Mrs. Moshers and Mr. John Moshers of the Philippines, and Bishop Moreland and Miss Moreland of Sacramento.

Alpha Pi Delta entertained with a tea Saturday at the home of Mrs. Frank Waterhouse. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Waterhouse, Mrs. Loren Johnson and Marguerite Michel.

Among the popular visitors to the General Convention are Canon and Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot, who are the house guests of Mrs. Talbot's mother, Mrs. James B. Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook and Miss Margaret Cook are at Gearhart on a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Cook recently motored to California.

Mr. I. N. Fleischner, Miss Elise Fleischner and Mr. and Mrs. William Ehrman are back in town after spending the summer at Gearhart.

Eastern Matrons Entertained by Mrs. J. N. Teal

AMONG the many social affairs which have been given for Mrs. Sidney Z. Mitchell and Mrs. Charles Maxwell of New York was the attractive bridge tea for which Mrs. Joseph N. Teal was hostess Friday afternoon. Six tables of bridge were played and additional guests were invited for the tea hour. Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mrs. Don J. Zan, Mrs. Charles F. Switzer and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger were in charge of the tea table.

Mrs. Thomas O'Day entertained informally at tea for Mrs. Sidney Z. Mitchell and Mrs. Charles M. Maxwell Tuesday.

Mrs. James B. Malarkey will entertain with an informal tea for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Huntington Malarkey, Thursday afternoon.

MISS FRANCES COOK of Terre Haute, bride of Dr. John A. Saari. Mrs. W. E. Roberts, an attractive young matron of Riverwood. Mrs. Maxwell M. Page, just returned to Portland. Miss Katherine Seller, bride-elect of Mr. Lawrence Dickson of San Francisco. Miss Jane Honeyman will leave for school at Farington, N. Y. Miss Sue Herington, hostess Saturday for a group of girls who are leaving for school.

Mrs. C. A. Dolph Hostess at Tea For Miss Dolph

MRS. CYRUS A. DOLPH entertained with a tea Friday afternoon, honoring her granddaughter, Miss Louise Dolph, who recently graduated from an eastern finishing school. Receiving with Mrs. and Miss Dolph were Mrs. George Woodward and Mrs. John P. Hollingsworth, both of Philadelphia. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. W. B. Ayer and Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett. Mrs. Joseph A. Minott and Mrs. John Cabene Beatty served ices, while Mrs. Rende M. Ireland and Mrs. William Vanderbilt Dolph were in charge of the punch bowl. Assisting the hostess about the drawing room was her daughter, Mrs. Edward Clark

III and her daughters-in-law, also Mrs. Thomas Honeyman, Mrs. W. D. Wheelwright, Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett, Mrs. Chester V. Dolph, Mrs. Warren F. Houghton, Mrs. Theron E. Fell and Mrs. Charles F. Beebe. Miss Susan Tucker, Miss Rhoda Burpee and Miss Ann Elizabeth Warren assisted in serving.

Cards are out for an "at home" to be held Wednesday, the 20th, when Mrs. Franklin I. Fuller will receive, honoring her mother, Mrs. L. M. Parrish. The affair will be given in celebration of Mrs. Parrish's eightieth birthday.

Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Kirby are entertaining Archdeacon A. R. Lord and Mrs. Lord of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Parsille of Chicago, who are attending the General Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. William McMaster, accompanied by their house guests, Mrs. Samuel T. Halsted and Miss Martha E. Wright, are making a visit of several weeks' duration in British Columbia.

Nuptial Vow Said Before Garden Altar

BEFORE an altar of blue delphinium and marigolds in the lovely garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Montague, the wedding of Miss Caroline C. Montague and Mr. George Judson Beggs was solemnized Thursday evening. The bridal party advanced down the path to the church to the wedding march played by a stringed orchestra, where Dr. T. E. Elliot read the nuptial vows. Entering on the arm of her father, Mr. Richard W. Montague, the bride was a lovely picture in her gown of ivory toned satin made over pale pink, adorned with rose point lace and touches of silver flowers. The veil of tulle bordered with rose point lace was held in place with orange blossoms and silver petals. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, lilies of the valley and orchids. The matron of honor, Mrs. Burford Payne, sister of the bride, was gown in sapphire blue lace over white chiffon, a wreath of silver leaves in her hair and a shower of mid-summer flowers completed her costume. The bridesmaids in the old-fashioned gowns of gold and blue and gold and watermelon pink and gold changeable taffeta added a quaint touch to the bridal party. They were the Misses Margaret Beggs, Marian Holcomb, Marcelle Carllock, Geraldine Pilkington and Anna May Brown. Little Mary McCracken and Mary Elizabeth Hanchett were dainty flower girls attired in white, and carried tiny baskets filled with rose petals. Master Toddy McCracken was the ring bearer.

Mr. Richard H. Martin attended Mr. Beggs as best man and the ushers were Dr. John Richard Montague, Mr. Walter Cofold, Arthur Cofold, Arthur Michener, Howard Kelly and Raymond Versteeg. Preceding the ceremony Mr. Otto Wedemeyer sang a number of solos.

The ceremony was followed by a reception and dancing. At the supper table presided Mrs. Maylin Scott, Mrs. Charles Dundore, Mrs. Frazier Cameron, Mrs. Roland Lockwood, Mrs. James Fowler, Miss Vera Flynn, Mrs. Harry Holmes and Mrs. George Sargent. Assisting were Miss Dorothy Manville, Miss Dorothy McGuire, Miss Imogene Letcher, Miss Donna Spencer, Miss Elizabeth Torrey, Miss Florence Fowler, Miss Valerie Coffey and Miss Helen Houghton.

Mr. and Mrs. Beggs will reside in Irvington following a wedding trip of several weeks' duration.

Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Metzger, Mrs. Lloyd Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rothchild were members of an interesting no host party at the Hotel Portland Friday night supper dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin T. Griffith have returned from a motor trip to California, where they accompanied Miss Janet Griffith, who entered Mills college for the fall term.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shull were hosts for a beautifully appointed dinner given at the Hotel Portland Tuesday evening. Covers were placed for 13.

Mrs. Ora C. Baker has returned from an extensive motor trip through Eastern Oregon.

Mrs. George Black and Miss Agnes Black have returned to Portland after spending the summer at Gearhart.
