quotations in the wholesale market on the public market at the start of Monday's trade. Prices there are either too low or too high, seldom being where they should be.

Much criticism is expressed by producers against the management of Commissioner Bigelow's public market. The claim is made that legitimate producers are unable to find stall room on the market, not because there are insufficient stalis, but due to the fact that the city loans its stalls to speculators who force farmers to deal through them. This keeps the price of many products higher than they would be if real farmers were allowed to sell on the market.

sellers are said to be up against very scant offering at country points.

Another feature which creates trouble in the present instance is the overlaid of amut noted in many sections. This perhaps accounts for the fact that considerable of the late buying of wheat for export has been done in the Lewiston section. Because of the presence of smut, unsatisfactory grades are shown under the new federal rules.

DECEMBER COTTON PRICES

GO ABOVE 22-CENT LEVEL

New York. Sept. 11.—There was a further advance at the opening of the cotton market this morning which carried prices above the 22e level for December and later deliveries, making a recovery of 140 points, or nearly a cent and a half a pound from the low levels of last week. The advance, however, met considerable scattered selling by the South, as well as realizing by recent buyers.

The opening was firm at an advance of 1 to 13 points on higher Liverpool cables and over Sunday buying orders, with active months soon showing net advances of 20 to 23 points, at 22.18 for December, realizing was active and there were reactions of 25 or 30 points during the middle of the morning.

A further advance in the early part of the cotton trading today was followed in the afternoon by a fresh decline which wiped out the 58 % 57 % 60 % 60 % noon by a fresh decline which wiped out the gains of the morning and left prices lower on the day. Renewed selling for Southern accounts and the cessation of ahort covering which had furnished one of the main supporting elements in the rally at the close of last tests.
