Road to Seaside Shortened—Automobile tourists between Portland and Seaside will be interested to learn that the city council of Astoria has decided to pave Eighth street from the end of the present paving on Irving avenue to the summit of the hill which rises between the Columbia and Young rivers. This is the most direct route through Astoria to Seaside and the Clatsop beaches and will eliminate the long drive around Smith's Point. The Skipanon cut-off has already been completed and is in use, cutting off two or more miles by way of Warrenton. The new road through Rainier will be completed early in the spring.
