claimed it was the manufacturer's business. Ford refused to be a party to a business that cared nothing about the interests of the consumer.

Wall street doesn't like to pay working men much money. The men who direct affairs there believe in charging all that can be charged for commodities and service.

Day by day and night by night, the highways are strewn with wrecks. You see at the roadside a car in the ditch with one wheel collapsed.

THE FATE OF TWO BILLS The bonus bill was vetoed. The tariff bill was signed.

THE BUSINESS OF CRIME There is a great deal to do in Portland about bootleggers. Macqueray has just recently had their share of attention.

THE INDUSTRIAL FEUD THE feud between Henry Ford and Wall street is reported to have broken out anew.

PORTLAND'S DUTY EASTERN Oregon has not increased population for 10 years, is the word brought back by the Portland business men's excursion.

Medford Clarion: In spite of some newspaper opposition the idea of holding an electrical exposition at Portland in 1923 is gaining ground.

without corresponding out-state expansion would result in overabundance and might lead to retrogression, an experience which is as yet stranger to this city.

The thing for Portland to do is to see that Eastern Oregon begins to grow again. There are reclamation projects that ought to be settled on terms fair to the settler.

A GREAT STATE FAIR THOSE who have failed to see the Oregon State fair make a mistake. It is a great show. It is the greatest in Oregon history.

FAIR, OR NO FAIR? An Ardent Advocate Answers in the Affirmative: Predicts a Greatest Portland.

Gold Beach Reporter: A great many voters are going to say "no" to the initiative measure which would permit the people of Portland to bond themselves for $2,000,000 for a 1925 exposition.

Bend Bulletin: So far the 1925 advocates have said that the state was not to be asked to tax itself for the fair.

NO MOURNING IT IS announced that men and officers of the army need not salute except on military reservations or when they speak in uniform.

YOUR ATTENTION, HENRY Henry Ford is still talking about his currency scheme. What we want is a dollar which resembles your well known silver in that it will go long way, but won't go very fast.

COMMENT OF THE STATE PRESS ON THE 1925 FAIR Medford Mail Tribune: Travel is splendid education. Julius Meier has returned from his trip around the world, a less exuberant, but a much wiser man.

SALEM CAPITAL JOURNAL: If the people of Portland really want a fair they should prove it by putting up their own money first, instead of waiting until they find out whether the proposed bill will be passed.

Corvallis Gazette-Times: Portland asks the privilege of putting on this exposition—asks the people of this state to vote to let Portland bond itself for a large sum of money.

Union Republican: Julius Meier of Portland, recently returned from a tour of foreign countries that are expected to participate in the 1925 fair in Oregon.

Bend Bulletin: So far the 1925 advocates have said that the state was not to be asked to tax itself for the fair.
