

WILSON'S CRITICS NOW WANT YANKS KEPT ON RHINE

Washington, Oct. 11.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Congressional critics of the policy of keeping American troops along the Rhine, who were voluble two and three years ago, have almost subsided. Now some of those who rebuked the Wilson administration for not drawing back all American military forces from Germany when the war ended, are insisting that American troops shall remain indefinitely.

"It is helpful to world peace," according to Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican, a leading member of the military affairs committee. The administration, he said, "having come to the conclusion that it would make for the peace of the whole world, ourselves included, a small representation, in no sense a military force, has been retained there."

AMERICANS POPULAR

There are about 1200 American soldiers left in the Coblenz area, Mr. Tilson said. He recently returned from a visit to the Rhine "front." General Allen, the American commander, is also commander of the military district, and has French troops under him as well. Tilson said he found the French soldiers proud to serve under General Allen, and he discounts reports that the French have treated the Americans with disrespect. He found satisfaction with the behaviour of the Americans all around, he said, among Germans, French and Belgians.

"I think that the effect of their being there is diplomatic in a sense," Tilson explained, "as I believe it makes for peace. At any rate, it reduces the danger of friction between the other powers to have an American force there whom both sides believe to be on the square, with no selfish interests and no ulterior motives. It has a wholesome effect upon all concerned."

MEN NEEDN'T ON RHINE

"The gentleman does not believe then that the Democratic administration made a mistake in retaining troops there?" Inquired Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the minority leader.

"Well, judging of the fact of their being there now and what they are doing now, I can say no," responded Tilson. "Whether a previous administration retained too many there, in order to make it appear as a fighting force, I do not now undertake to say. At any rate, I believe it is now for the best interests of this country and of the whole world, for us to have a representation on the Rhine as long as the circumstances remain as they are."

Northwest Will Be Assigned 2450 Refrigerator Cars

Wenatchee, Wash., Oct. 11.—As a result of the conference between representatives of the American Railway Association and superintendents of Eastern railroads, held in Washington, D. C., 2450 refrigerator cars will be moved west for loading here. One thousand additional refrigerators have been promised by the Pennsylvania railroad.

This information was contained in a telegram received by the Wenatchee Valley Traffic Association from Curtis Robinson, its representative at the Washington conference.

These cars it is understood, will be moved as rapidly as possible. A slow movement is the best that can be looked for, it is declared. The steady arrival of cars from a supply of this size, however, insures relief from car famines this season, it is believed.

FOREST FIRE RAGES

Denver, Colo., Oct. 11.—(U. P.)—A force of 75 men today was fighting forest fires raging at the head of Poudre river, 70 miles north of Denver, according to forestry service officials here. Other fires are burning near Telluride, Colo., in the extreme southwestern part of the state. Large tracts of spruce timber are threatened.
