Navy Blue Dresses—Brown Dresses—and Black Dresses

—Most of these dresses shown now for the first time—every style one of "the very latest"—every garment distinguished by its own better features—every one selected personally by Mr. McGee, the Lipman, Wolfe Apparel Commissioner, who is now in New York.

—Choose silk or wool—and fancy what you will as regards lines, drapes, panels and furbelows—here are dresses of delightful worth, of better character and in huge variety—at $29.75. Some of them are here pictured (at the left). Others are to be seen in the Lipman, Wolfe windows today.

The Sale on the Third Floor—Lipman, Wolfe & Co.

A few of the models at $29.75

The Thanksgiving Linen Sale

Why?

—Why such selling? Because we purchased the linens and landed them in America BEFORE THE NEW TARIFF was in force. Why so important? Because we place on these linens the LOWEST SELLING PRICES quoted in the last six years, because there is no probability of a tariff revision in years and because we cannot duplicate this sale under present conditions. Housewives familiar with linen prices will recognize the extraordinary economies offered. Come early.
