If the young Fox was scared, Mr.

Goose was angry. There was no fear in him, not a particle of it. He marched back and forth in front of the little doorway through which the young Fox had vanished, hissing in a way quite dreadful to hear. He didn't put more than his bill inside that doorway for it was dark in there and he was too wise to take any chances. The young Fox couldn't understand what it. W. C. T. U. Is in Session at Library

By Vella Winner THE Multnomah County W. C. T. U executive committee is holding an all-day session today at Central li-brary. The morning session was given over to a round table discussion of natters important to the W. C. T. U. During the luncheon hour the Oriental Woman's college project was present-ed by Mrs. Charles W. Williams, executive secretary of the campaign for Oregon. A business session and program will take place this afternoon.

Central W. C. T. U. will be host to the county institute to be held Thurs day in Central library. Central Un-ion's new year book will be ready for distribution within a few days. The motto for the year will be "I am not wax, I am energy." Mrs. Lulu Horning is president of this union.

Mrs. D. D. Hobart read a paper on "Hazel Hall and Some of Her Poems," and Mrs. C. C. Whiteman gave a sketch of An-thony Euwer's limericks and "The Jerryscope," by Jerrold Owen, was also touched upon by Mrs. Whiteman. Mrs. Harold Warner reviewed "The Heart of Little Shikara," the prize winning short story, written by Edi-son Marshall of Medford. One of the poems, written by Guy Fitch Phelps Portland pastor, was read by Mrs. Willard Bond. Anne Shannon Monroe's "The Hearthold of the Household," was reviewed by Mrs. William E. Lowell.

The large half of Multnomah camp No. 77, W. O. W., was filled to its capacity Friday evening, the occasion being dividend night, and it is estimated that at least 1500 members were present. So packed was the hall that the degree had to be conferred in short form on a class of 40 new members, there being no room for the degree team to work. Fifty-six new applications for membership were received, making a grand total of 302 since September 1. Consul Commander E. A. Clark presided and interesting addresses were made by Head Manager W. C. Hawley, Head Manager J. O. Wilson and Deputy Head Consul E. P. Martin, Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Stackton, L. Carroll Day, Past Consul A. LAUNDRY

The Modern Laundry Brings "Sunshine" on Rainy Monday

No matter how stormy Monday may be-the woman who utilizes the modern laundry has no concern about her washing.

For rainy weather in no way interferes with the excellent work of the modern laundry. Your finest fabrics or roughest clothes are washed and cleaned with the same gratifying results.

It's a real pleasure on rainy Monday mornings to bundle up all the family washing, phone the laundry -and then smile.

Try it!

The best way to do the family washing

The modern laundry does more than washit cleans! Instead of rubbing the dirt particles into the fabrics, it dissolves them with plenty of pure soap and then releases them by gently forcing clean water through the fabrics. Hot water and steam leave the clothes absolutely sterilized. Modern laundry methods conserve fabrics, clean thoroughly and economically, and in every way give the housewife the careful service she appreciates.
