

Portland Beavers to Cast With Sacramento Losers in Opening of 1923 Coast Season

Seals to Open 1923 Season Here April 17

By George Bertz

SEALS expected to improve the standard of baseball on the Pacific Coast league were adopted by the Coast League magnates at their annual session Monday in San Francisco.

The resolution adopted raising the player price from $750 to $1000 with the proviso that contracts for waivers cannot be withdrawn will eliminate a lot of jockeying by the club owners. It will also mean that a number of players whom other clubs would claim at the former waiver price will be released or traded to other leagues. It will not be compulsory to ask waivers until after May 1.

DO NOT 20-MAN LIMIT

The adoption of a 20-man limit, composed of 18 players of major or class A experience and two of smaller league or not professional experience, will enable the clubs to strengthen their reserve power. The 20-man limit extends from May 1 to September 1. Before and after those dates each club may carry as many players as it desires.

Abolition of the $20,000 player bonus was decided by a 5 to 3 vote. Portland will be the opponents of the San Francisco champions in the Bay city. Seattle will open at Salt Lake and Oakland at Los Angeles.

Portland will play Salt Lake during the second week of the season and Seattle will play Sacramento. San Francisco will be the attraction in the opening of the season at Oakland and Los Angeles and Vernon will tangle in the Cafeteria city.

San Francisco will open the Coast league season in Portland against the Beavers and Los Angeles will be Seattle's opening week opponent. Sacramento will play Oakland and Salt Lake will play Vernon in the third week. The Portland and Seattle clubs will open on their home lots April 17.

Los Angeles will play the second series in Portland and the Seals will meet the Seattle club in the third series at home. Sacramento plays at Vernon and Salt Lake at Oakland are the other series during the third week.

Toledo High Is After Football Struggle Here

F. W. Kluge, principal of Waite high school of Toledo, Ohio, has telegraphed H. J. Boyd, principal of the Washington high school, asking for a football game to be played on Multnomah field. Because of the inability of the Washingtonians to accept any post-season game owing to the cramped conditions due to the burning of the Washington high building three weeks ago, Principal Boyd directed the message to Principal S. F. Ball of Franklin high, the Quakers having defeated Jefferson high last Saturday afternoon and thereby gained a notch in the race for the 1923 championship of the Portland Public High School League. Washington still is in the running for the title, but regardless of the outcome, Toledo will be unable to accept any outside challenges at this time. Just what action Franklin will take will be determined following a meeting of those interested.

Ortega and Tom King to Mix Tonight

"BATTLING" ORTEGA is ready to mix tonight. The Mexican middleweight is ready to mix in any condition and is expected to give King just as tough a contest as did Jimmy Darcy, despite the fact that he is on the short end of the wagers.

Ortega, as the result of being kept busy during the past few weeks, has kept himself in excellent condition and is expected to give King just as tough a contest as did Jimmy Darcy, despite the fact that he is on the short end of the wagers.

King, whom the fans did not expect much from prior to his contest with Darcy, has trained hard for the match, and with a chance of getting a battle with Harry Greb, he will likely step out and try to win as quickly as possible.

The Antipodes boxer is not a showy mixer, but he is steady and can punch hard and has shown that he has the stamina to assimilate a lot of punishment.

McGraw Hopes to Win World's Title Again Next Year

By Henry L. Farrell

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(U. P.)—While he does not put it in many words, John McGraw has a speaking notion that he's going to drive his New York Giants to another National league pennant—maybe to another world's championship.

"My club looks very much better than it did this time last year," McGraw says. "It will be recalled that his 'last year's club' won the pennant and that the Yanks look like busters in the series.

"Last winter we had Toney and Douglas, two uncertainties, on the pitching staff and now we have McQuinn and Scott, two dependable pitchers in their places. I expect much next season from my young pitchers. Jonnard probably will be a regular and young Johnson and Blue are most promising," McGraw said.

"Naturally we are expecting much of Bentley and there is no reason why a player of his ability should not make good," McGraw said.

McGraw said he would start Jimmy McConnell, his $75,000 San Francisco star as a regular in center field.

"I want the boys to know that he's going to have a very good chance to make good. He is in no danger of losing his job even if he doesn't start off like a million dollars. He's young and it may take him some time to get used to his new surroundings," he said.

Trambitas Ready

TRAMBITAS READY

In the semi-windup attraction, Young Sam Langford of Seattle and Johnny Trambitas, Portland lightweight, will battle over the 10-round distance. This contest would be a main event on a majority of the cards staged in the other cities of the Northwest. Trambitas is a very much improved boxer since his trip to Los Angeles.

The remainder of the card is composed of two six-round and a four-round curtain-raiser.

Billy Geardau and Eddie Marving of Los Angeles will tangle in one of the six-round affairs, and Paddy Mullins and Danny Neenan, who hail from Spokane, will meet in the other six-round encounter. These battles are all in the middleweight division. Jack Clayton of Seattle and Jack Alexander will meet in the curtain-raiser. They are lightweights.

The advance sale has been good, and indications are that a good sized house will be present to see the battles mix. The first bout will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

FOOTBALL

THE North Portland Athletic club will send its football team against the Oregon club at Gonsaga City next Sunday afternoon starting at 2:30 o'clock. Coach Dean Donagan has been unable to land many games for his North Portlanders. For contests call Manager Harry Peterson at Atwater 3504.

Huntington Not Sure of Victory Over Aggie Team

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 14.—Coming out of the vicious struggle against the "ruffed grouser" without any serious injuries to any member of the team and with Coach Campbell and "Babe" Huntington getting back into shape, "Shy" Huntington is pointing his team for the great Oregon state football classic at Corvallis next Saturday.

That O. A. C. has a much better team than their standing in the conference indicates, and that they are a better team than W. S. C. is firmly proved by the Lemon-Yellow coaching staff, and as a result there is little chance of any overconfidence spoiling Oregon's chances.

Fencing Added to Reed College Sports

With the football season nearing a finish, wrestling, tumbling, fencing and boxing are coming to the fore as Reed sports.

Training in fencing starts next week under the supervision of Professor Pope of the faculty. A special room in the college gym has been set apart for that sport, and novices in the art of thrust and parry will start work in earnest with interesting competition in view.

Wrestling will also come into the limelight within the next few days. A. Jones and W. Foster will supervise the training. Activity in tumbling will be initiated with W. Foster at the post of coach.

Quintets to Meet

The second meeting of the A. G. Spalding & Bros. Basketball league will be held Tuesday night in the company's store, Broadway and Alder, and at that time applications for membership in the circuit will be accepted, according to President A. E. Cann. Eight out-of-town quintets already have signified their intentions of joining the affair and all managers are expected to report not later than 7:30 o'clock. For further information call Cann at Atwater 0215.

BOXING

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 14.—Frankie Schell, Buffalo welterweight, outpointed Bryson in six of the 10 rounds here last night and easily won the decision over the Columbus middleweight. Downey outwitted Schell in the seventh round, but he was off his feet by his cleverness and landed more blows and his fast footwork had the Ohioan missing continually. Downey substituted tonight for Dave Smith, who was to have fought Schell, but who cancelled the engagement because of an injury to his eye received in his recent bout at Boston with Jack Perry. In the semi-windup "Rock" Smith, New York writer, knocked out Frankie Welch, Chicago, in the seventh round.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Eddie Kane, manager of Tommy Gibbons, the St. Paul heavyweight, betrayed unseemly eagerness Monday when he got news that Tex Rickard is trying to persuade Joe Beckett, British heavyweight champion, to meet Gibbons in New York. Beckett in London or willing to fight in London or willing to fight in London for money, marbles or lollypops. "After Tom knocked off Beckett, we'll go after Dempsey," Kane said.

New York, Nov. 14.—In one of the most sensational events between featherweights—a slugging match from start to finish—Pepper Martin of Brooklyn was awarded the decision over Frankie Woodcock of East Side, New York, in a 12-round bout at the Broadway Sporting club last night.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—Tom Gibbons made short work of George Ashe here last night in a scheduled 10 round bout, knocking him out in less than 30 seconds of actual fighting in the first round. After the first round of the bout came in the midst of a bit of infighting, Ashe receiving a left to the jaw and a short right jab to the stomach, dropping like a log. Ashe was out for several minutes before he was helped to his corner by Gibbons and the referee.

Aberdeen, Wash., Nov. 14.—Arche Stoy won a six-round decision over Billy Morrow of Spokane last night. Chick Rocco of Portland, Kid Johnson of Olympia boxed a six-round draw. Joe Luark won on a foul from Jimmy Kelly and Bud Martin won a technical knockout decision over Arne Allison.

George Burns will box Joe Gorman in the main event of Thursday night's smelter at Tacoma, Wash.

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—(U. P.) Sailor Friedman, Chicago, lightweight, knocked out K. O. Loughlin, Bethlehem, in the fourth round.

B'nai B'rith Club Program Complete

All details for the "open house" smoker of the B'nai B'rith club to be held in the club and hotel Mill streets, Wednesday night, have been completed and the program will consist of four amateur boxing, two amateur wrestling, five vaudeville acts and an exhibition demonstrating the various wrestling holds. The first number will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock and the entertainment is open to the members of the club and their friends.

Louis H. Blumenthal, physical director, and Moe Levin, chairman of the committee in charge, have announced that the initiation fee to join the B'nai B'rith club has been lowered to $1.00. November 20, after which time the regular fee will be added, to the yearly dues of the new members.

Redmond Out for Football Title

Redmond, Nov. 14.—Redmond union high school has issued a challenge to The Dalles football team for a game to be played on the football field of Oregon east of the mountains. Redmond for two years has been the undefeated champion of Central Oregon and recently won from Burns the title of champion of the football championship of Oregon. She now aspires to the title for the eastern half of the state and has issued a challenge to The Dalles for a game to be played either here or at The Dalles.

ADAMSON'S ADVENTURES—What Do You Mean, Welcome?

Fumbles Play Big Part in Deciding Football Games

By Walter Camp
(Copyright, 1922.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Neither Harvard nor Princeton could have gotten pen enough to the other's goal line to score Saturday had it not been for muffs or fumbles on the part of opponents. Does this mean that our games are incapable of clear handling of the ball throughout a game? Does it mean that time is wasted on developing anything but a kicking game?

To those who have seen Michigan, Cornell, Washington and Jefferson and La Fayette play this season, such an inference seems silly. But the present football season has developed a great deal of discussion as to tactics, and the belief is strong today in some quarters that more big games will be lost and won on muffs and fumbles.

Many are asking why Princeton did not show more than she did in the Harvard game. To this others reply that "this is Princeton's method."

DON'T FORCE GAME

"Don't force your winning game—keep kicking the ball and wait for the breaks," is the principle they say was followed, and this has worked time and again in the past. A fumble at a critical moment in the Army's six-yard line probably cost Notre Dame a victory over West Point Saturday, as the game resulted in a scoreless tie.

La Fayette on the other hand, showed the players the great superiority of a well developed machine-like attack. Yale, too, showed something of the same kind, although on a lesser scale. At the same time, Cornell exhibited it against Dartmouth. In two of these games the weaker opponents with great courage put up a real fight, but in the end the stronger teams it would have seemed that Rutgers and Maryland were on their way to victory in the first few minutes of the game, but in the end class and team to tell and La Fayette wore Rutgers down, while Yale simply swamped Maryland.

DOBIE'S TEAM STRONG

Coach Dobie's Ithaca crew has yet to find a team that can stop Cornell. Eddie Kaw and Pann in the lineup.

The statement that Withington, the old Harvard player, made in Boston last night before the Princeton game that there was likelihood of Harvard dropping the Tigers stirred up a hornet's nest indeed. Coupled with some of the reports which earlier had emanated from the hub, it made the Princeton men fighting mad.

The taunt of Guy Nickolls in 1921 that the Yale crew lacked sand proved to be the whip that two weeks later drove the Blue team to victory over Harvard on the Thames. Did a similar psychological reaction give Princeton a football victory over Harvard?

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Winnipeg's bonspiel will begin February 5. The council of the Manitoba Curling association will try for 300 links to one who keeps the Scotch curlers, captained by Lord Anderson, will be in attendance.

American Golf Academy of New York city will cater to beginners. Foremost professionals will lecture to novices and advanced golfers who have not the time to travel to distant links to keep in form during the winter.

BASKETBALL

The opening game of the 1922-23 house league of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club basketball activities was played Monday night in the Winged "M" gymnasium, Captain Campbell's team defeating Captain Stinson's, 30 to 27, in one of the fastest hoop contests in the history of the house circuit. At the end of the first half Campbell was leading 16 to 12 and shortly after the final 20 minutes began Stinson tied it up only to lose out in the last few seconds of play.

Stinson and Fearnley played great ball and Williams scored most for Campbell and George Faust and Captain Campbell had the guarding down to perfection in the pinches. The next game will be played Thursday night, Captain Thomas meeting Captain Hugh Clerin.

Lone Touchdown Gives Holy Name Juniors Victory

The Holy Name Juniors are still undefeated, although they were given a hard afternoon's work Sunday, when they defeated the East Side Junior football team 7 to 0 on the East 12th and East Davis streets grounds. More than 1000 spectators witnessed the clash, which was for the leadership of the A. G. Spalding & Bros. Junior league.

The lone touchdown came in the second quarter, after Joe Quirk had intercepted a forward pass and was downed on the East Sides' 30-yard line. A series of line plunges and two completed passes put the pigskin in a position for Casey to take it over the goal line. Bellmer kicked the goal. John Donnelly, Holy Name quarterback, sprained his hip in the first quarter, but he pluckily stuck in the game until the end. Leo de la Fontaine, Quirk and Donnelly were the bright stars for the winners, while Jagelski, Barnes and Herb Alstad featured for the East Siders. Alstad recovered a fumble and had a clear field, but he stumbled before he could gather his full speed and was downed on Holy Name's 35-yard line.

The officials had a difficult time handling the game because of the crowd, which continually surged on the field. Referee Jacobberger many times found it necessary to stop the contest and ask the fans to get back at least 15 or 20 yards from the players.

Gibbons Will Get Chance in New York

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 14.—Joe Beckett declines to risk his fragile chin against Tommy Gibbons, at Madison Square Garden, any other fighter will suit Gibbons. Tex Rickard said Monday that he was trying to get Beckett to come here and meet Gibbons as a substitute match for the outlawed Siki-Norfolk fight.

"Gibbons wants Dempsey," said Rickard, "and he says he will fight anybody to earn the match. If I can't get Beckett for Tommy I may fix him up with the winner of the Bill Brunan-Floyd Johnson bout."

Tilden Out of Hospital

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—"Big Bill" Tilden, world's champion tennis player, minus the first joint of the middle finger on his racket hand, was out of the hospital today. "It will be four months before I am able to play and naturally I will not know until that time what effect it will have on my game," he said.

Japan Wrestler Hopes to Beat Dod On Mat Thursday

"HOW is it that some wrestlers and others have cauliflower ears?"

This question was put to Jack Dod, Sacramento heavyweight wrestler, who tangles with Terro Miyake in the main event of Thursday night's grappling card in the Heilig theatre's grapple.

Dod has had close to 600 matches during his career on the mat, which extends over 15 years, and he has yet to grow the "garden ears." The Sacramento grappler related an incident that occurred just prior to going on the mat with Ted Jyrie last week that brought up the question of cauliflower ears.

Dod was entering the theatre with Perle Casey, the Coast league umpire, and some fan remarked, "There's Dod, the big fellow. Another fan declared, 'No wonder the fellow (Casey) with the gray coat is Dod; can't you see he's got cauliflower ears?'"

The Sacramento man explained how he keeps from getting cauliflower ears. "The day before a match," said Dod, "I massage my ears with olive oil, and if they are sore after a match I do the same thing."

Dod also explained that he does not strain himself when an opponent has a tight grip on himself. He claims that an opponent will tire more quickly when he is working with an opponent than he would if efforts were made to break the hold.

Miyake arrived in Portland Monday and appears to be in great shape for the match. Miyake is a showy wrestler and has lots of speed, which enables him to work fast.

If Miyake wins he will get another chance to wrestle Jyrie. For that reason the Japanese wrestler will have to defeat the Sacramento grappler.
