

McGraw Turns Pitcher Over to Portland Team—Oregon Loses Star Player

Beavers Get Two Tossers From Giants

By George Berz

OFFICIAL notice of the release of Max J. Rachac, pitcher, and Lee King, outfielder, to the Portland Beavers by the New York Nationals is contained in the latest bulletin issued by John H. Farrell, secretary of the National association.

These two players' contracts were assigned to Portland in the George Walberg deal, which was concluded late in the summer by President Klepper of the Beavers. In addition to Rachac and King, Portland has two more players coming from the Giants. These two players will be named shortly before the opening of the Portland training camp season.

RELEASED ON OPTION

Pitchers Sullivan and Yarrison, who were with Portland during the final weeks of the past season, also were included in the deal.

Rachac is a big right hander, who pitched for the Vancouver club of the Pacific International league last year. He was purchased by McGraw and farmed out to an International league club. The fact that McGraw released Rachac under the optional agreement plan bespeaks what the manager of the world's champion thinks of the hurler.

King is a right handed hitting outfielder. He is said to be a hitter of Sammy Hale's type and that was what the Beavers needed last year. The Portland batting order contained too many left-handed batters last season and the club officials plan to strengthen with right handed hitters.

King has played in the major leagues for several seasons. In 1921 with the Giants and Phillies he played 151 games, batting .254. He made 79 hits for a total of 128 bases. In 1920 with New York he hit .276 in 93 games, making 72 hits including 11 doubles, four triples and seven home runs.

All Golfers Are Invited to See Golf Exhibition

President C. H. Davis Jr. of the Waverly Country club Tuesday announced that the 16-hole exhibition match Saturday between Walter Hagen, British open champion, and Joseph Kirkwood of Australia and H. Chandler Egan and Dr. O. F. Willing of the Waverly club would be open to all golfers and those interested in the sport.

A gallery tag, for which a charge of $2 will be made, can be procured at the first tee prior to the start of the exhibition or during the progress of the match. The gallery tag will entitle the holder to witness both morning and afternoon rounds and to sit on the clubhouse porch with Kirkwood, which is said to be the greatest stunt in the golfing world.

Egan is scheduled to arrive in Portland Tuesday afternoon and will play the exhibition. The morning round of the match will start at 9 o'clock.

Salaries of Star Ball Tossers Show A Big Shrinkage

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Ideas that the huge salaries paid to baseball players are exaggerated and far from correct, according to several prominent players, are being spread among the organization of the players' union, the wide variance between the money actually paid to the players and the salary the public believed they were receiving, according to the leaders among the players maintain.

Babe Ruth, for instance, is generally supposed to be drawing $75,000, whereas his salary was said to be not much more than one half this amount.

During the trial of the "Black Sox" players, it was surprising the rather meager salaries were paid to the players who were considered to be among the highest salaried players in the game.

One of the pitching stars of the recent world's series was said to be working on a $2500 a year contract when he was released by one club.

Some of the big stars are drawing salaries in a puzzle. Some are drawing salaries and their attraction at the gate, but the general run of salaries paid to the ordinary players is not anything to brag about.

Club owners do not make a practice of opening their books and showing their payroll. Perhaps they are not anxious to show the dopsters to figure out what the players should be getting. In justice to them it would seem they are guilty only in that they do not correct the false impressions and that would be bad business.

Hot Battle Promised in Record Tilt

By Davis J. Walsh

International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—From various sources today came reports that a serious break in the ranks of the Amateur Athletic union had been averted by the decision of the delegates to the further and more mature consideration to the claims of Charlie Paddock for seven world's sprint records. These reports underestimate the situation.

The clash between Louis N. Goldsmith, chairman of the record committee, which declined to be a party to Paddock's claims, and Lorrin Andrews, representing the Southern Pacific association, was merely the opening skirmish. It ended amicably enough when Andrews forced a motion for further consideration down the meeting's "horde" of resolutions through. But the incident is by no means closed.

From all indications Charley Paddock and his records will be the center of a bitter internal war which may not be short of a definite break with the ranks.

WILL NOT ACCEPT MARKS

When the seven records made by Paddock at distances from 60 to 175 yards, at the Los Angeles meet last August, last, again come up for a vote, the same controversy will arise, the combined East aligned against the Pacific coast and some sections of the West South.

The records will not be accepted. That is as sure as slow poison.

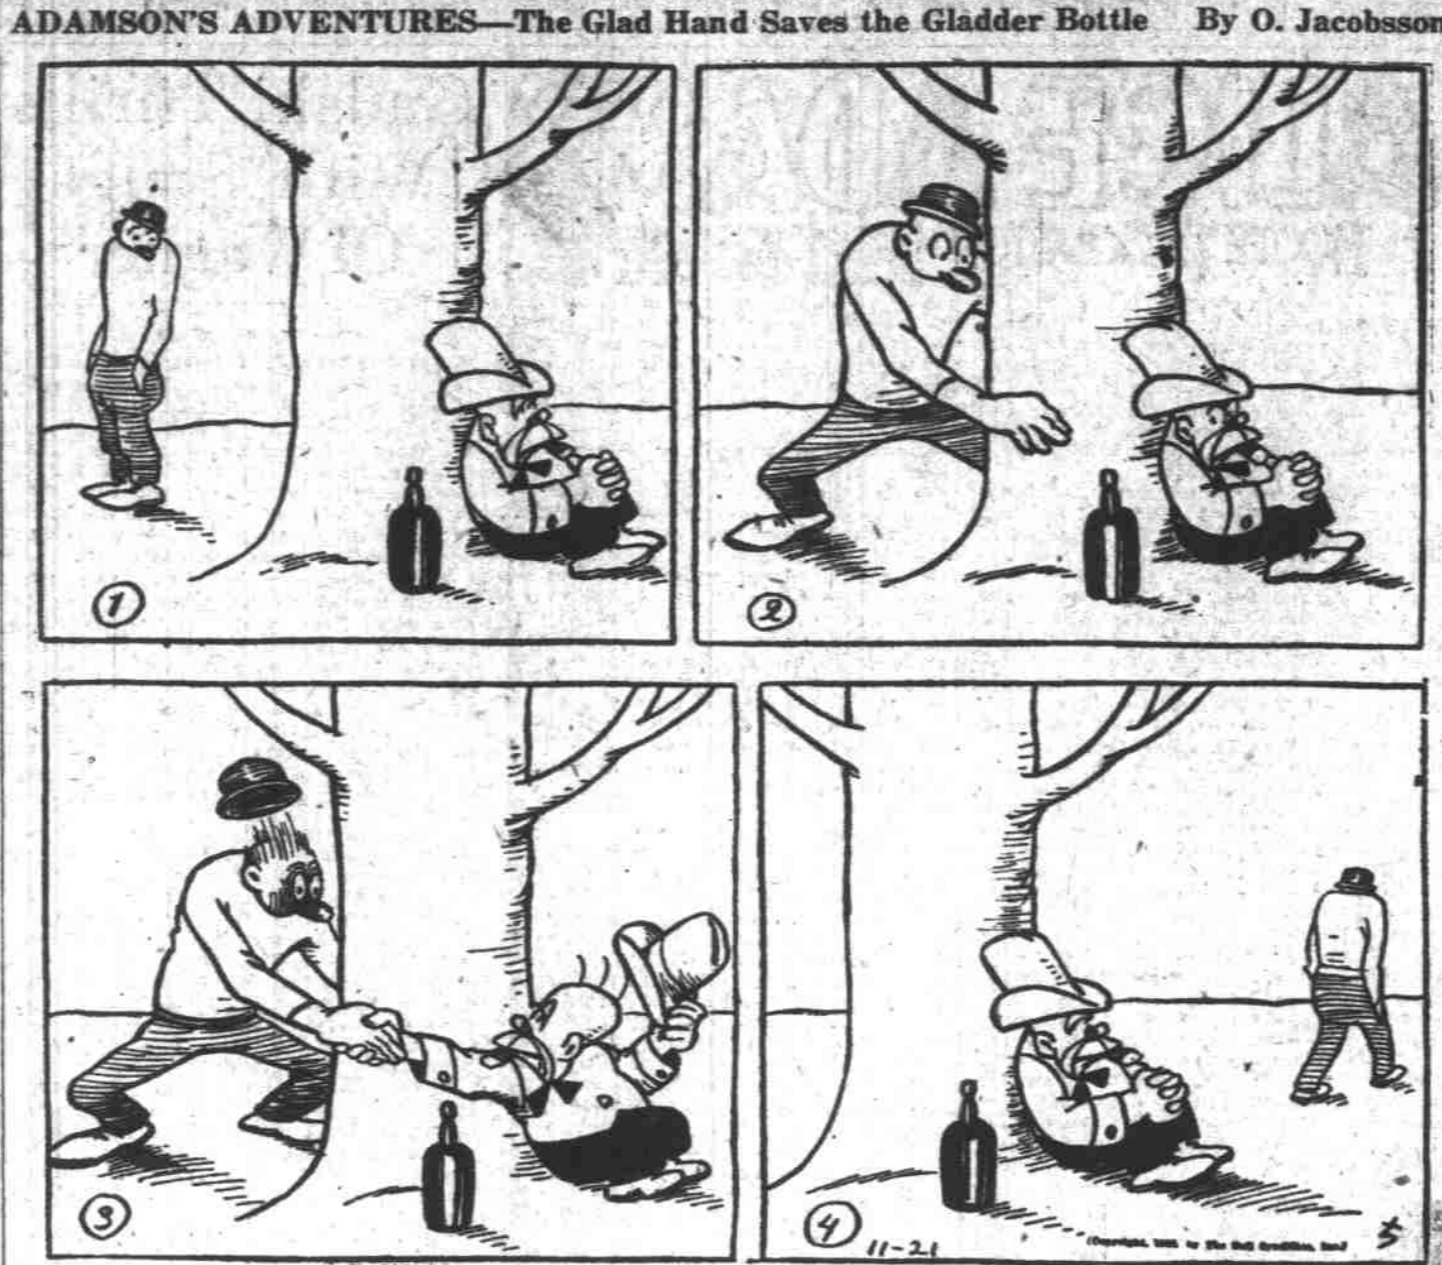

What then, of the threat of Robert S. Weaver, presiding head of the Southern Pacific association, and former president of the national body?

In his telegram of instructions yesterday he made no uncertain declarations of the kind of which rejection would be "considered an affront to the honesty and integrity of the Southern Pacific association and that the latter would fight to a finish."

The fight to a finish will come when the new record committee brings its report before the next annual meeting.

The records in question follow:

60 yards, 1. 1-10 seconds.
70 yards, 7 2-10 seconds.
75 yards, 7 2-5 seconds.
80 yards, 7 4-5 seconds.
100 yards, 8 2-5 seconds.
125 yards, 12 1-5 seconds.
150 yards, 17 seconds.

Grid Squads Praised for Big Victories

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—There are some great things to be said of certain of the football teams of the country now that it has been possible to subject late games to cold analysis. Now it is possible to give credit where credit is due.

First of all, Princeton made final disposal of the retreating non-star aggregation, trained by Bill Roper, also could carry the ball.

HAD REAL ATTACK

In the Yale game the Tigers showed a real attack when it was most needed. That time came at the psychological moment when Yale kicked off to them at the opening of the third quarter. The Nassau warriors already had demonstrated a sterling defense against a really powerful attack headed by Jordan, an extremely difficult to stop. The previous period had ended with Yale coming strong. Everybody expected the Blue wave to be washed down toward Princeton's goal line when the teams took the field after the intermission.

When Princeton received the kick-off by Harold C. Brown, Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, in New York, February 1, equaling record.

American indoor two-mile relay record (four men), 7:54 4-5, by Penn State relay team, in New York, February 1.

PORTLAND'S MARK APPROVED

American indoor record for running 1000 yards in 20 minutes, by J. L. Murphy (Portland, Or.) of Notre Dame university, in New York, February 1.

American indoor record for 60-yard dash, by Loren Murchison, University of Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, in New York, February 1, equaling record.

American indoor two-mile relay record (four men), 7:54 4-5, by Penn State relay team, in New York, February 1.

PENN SHOWS FIGHT

Bill Roper and Princeton are to be heartily congratulated upon a team and an array of subs, every man of which not only could fight but was a smart, clever-thinking unit with individual initiative and a football head. Brown, too, comes in for a necessary measure of praise for an attack developed by Robinson and Reggie Brown, which consisted of something more than bluffing and a head line. This attack was broad enough to extend and deceive opponents. It gave Yale trouble and defeated Harvard.

Great credit is due Pennsylvania and Coach Heisman for having surmounted many handicaps. The Red and Blue came back courageously after having lost to Alabama, to defeat Penn State. Auburn was not a bit frightened at the reputation of center and the nerve to take the measure of the Kentuckians. Kentucky university could not be alarmed by the conquerors of Pennsylvania either until it was shown to a dose of his own medicine.

WARNER'S MEN SHOW FIGHT

Ohio State deserves full praise for the fight Wilce's men made against Iowa, but an equal amount of credit is due Iowa and Howard Jones, for, although Ohio State was behind in the lead, the Iowans still had the pluck to come back and overcome the lead, which was held by the Red and Blue back country.

Perhaps greatest praise should go to Glenn Warner's Pittsburg men. With a tough schedule and after suffering earlier in the season, but the local prospect of having another team run rough shod over them. For Washington and Jefferson was a team which had not met defeat, which had laid the mighty Lafayette team low and which was considered by many leaders of the Eastern aggregations. In addition, "W & J" had such stars as Widener, Erickson, West and Batista, yet Pitt defeated this aggregation 19 to 0. That was indeed some triumph.

BOXING

(By Universal Service)
(Special Radio Dispatch)

LONDON, Nov. 21.—At the end of 20 desperate and grueling rounds for the middleweight championship of Great Britain, Ted "Kid" Lewis tried hard to land a knockout, but could not put it over. Todd fought so gamely that the crowd which filled Holland Park took noisy objection to the referee's decision. The accusation was made that Lewis used his head in the fighting.

New York, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Pancho Villa, American flyweight champion, has been ordered by the boxing commission to fight in his own class. The commission stopped arrangements being made for a Villa-Terry Martin fight, and told Villa there were plenty of good flyweights for his attention.

New York, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Harry Greb, American light-heavyweight champion, and George Engel, his manager, will sever relations on December 29, according to Engel. Their contract expires then and Greb will do his own business after that.

Milwaukee, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Joey Sanger, Milwaukee, was outpointed by William J. Lester, University of Toledo, Nov. 21, in 10 rounds Monday night.

Toledo, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Benny Vaigar, New York, outpointed Kayo Jeakle in a 12-round bout here last night. Both are lightweights.

Boston, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Louis Bogash of Bridgeport won the decision over Bryan Downey of Columbus, Ohio, in a 10-round bout here last night.

High School Grid Title In Balance

ELEVEN years ago the Washington high school football championship was divided into two sections in 1918, on account of the war, the two squares had to wait until 1919, when Jefferson won a sensational 10 to 19 affair. A 21 to 7 victory for 1920 and 16 to 9 last season, complete the record of seven Washington triumphs, one tie, and two Jefferson wins.

Toledo, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Benny Vaigar, New York, outpointed Kayo Jeakle in a 12-round bout here last night. Both are lightweights.

Boston, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Louis Bogash of Bridgeport won the decision over Bryan Downey of Columbus, Ohio, in a 10-round bout here last night.

Rud Brown's Grid Career Ended as Result of Injury

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 21.—"Rud" Brown is out of it, he has played his last football game in Washington.

This statement, issued from trainer's headquarters Monday, means that the headliner of the Arleta first stringers, who has been a star since he was a freshman, has been injured.

Big Bill Spear, the other star end, has a sprained ankle, which he played on for a large part of the game Saturday. Quarterback Chapman is also suffering from time burnt as the result of coming in too close contact with the Bell field line.

It is a big job that Oregon has to rebuild a team to go against the Northern huskies, but it is a job that every man and woman at Oregon are behind strong. Spear and Gram will probably both be in shape to play on Thanksgiving day and the loss of Brown is partly overbalanced by the presence of Terry Johnson in the squad.

The 10-day rest may either make or break the Webfoot chances. There may be somewhat of a relapse because the team were so well pointed after the Aggie contest, again there may be another revival. Oregon coaches are, fairly confident that the latter condition will be the case.

Fabre Will Handle Pro. Hoop Contest

Leon Fabre, official referee of the Portland Public High School Basketball league games, has been accepted to handle the Arleta Athletic Club-Mill City contest, scheduled for Saturday night in the Franklin high school gymnasium. It will be the first appearance of the Arleta professionals and Manager Ray Brooks is confident that a large following will be on hand for the occasion.

A preliminary match between the Arleta Juniors and the Sheridan, Or. high school quintet, will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock in order that the "main event" will be opened not later than 8:30 o'clock. The Arleta first stringers will work out Wednesday and Thursday nights in the Franklin gymnasium and then they will be ready for the visitors.

Men Past 70 Going In for Athletics

Santa Rosa, Cal., Nov. 21.—Men past 70 in Santa Rosa are going in for athletics. For some time this city has had a large club of septuagenarians known as the "Borrowed Time Club," but not wishing to accept the biblical suggestion that man's days are three score years and ten, the clubmen are now going to equip a gymnasium for themselves. The oldest member of the club is John S. Taylor, who is 94 years old.

Former Welter, Champ, Seeking Sleep Remedy

New York, Nov. 21.—(U. P.)—Jack Britton will give $10,000 to anyone who will prescribe a remedy that will make him sleep.

Not only his future in the ring, but his health depends on getting rid of insomnia which has bothered him for over a year, the former world's welterweight champion declares.

After losing the decision to Mike Walker which deprived him of his title, Britton went up into the Maine woods but he found little relief. He returned to the city for a while and he is now back in the wilds again.

"It is nervous trouble and not due to any organic disorders," Britton said. "I have been training for 20 years and I guess the strain was too much."

Schaefer to Play Hoppe For Cue Title

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Jake Schaefer, world's champion billiard player, won Monday night from Welter Cochrane, 500 to 403 in the 18.2 ball game international championship tournament at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

His victory allows him to go into the scheduled night of the tourney Tuesday with a possible chance of tying Willie Hoppe, who in leading row with four victories and no defeats. The last night will bring Schaefer and Hoppe together in what is expected to be the greatest match of the series.

FOREMANS MAY TIE

If Schaefer loses Hoppe takes the title. On the other hand if Jake beats Willie it will be a tie and the two will have to play again. Another complication arises. Foremans and Corli play Tuesday afternoon and if Foremans wins he stands a chance of tying both Hoppe and Schaefer and will have to be reckoned with in the play off.

In the game Monday night Schaefer made a high run of 167. His average was 74.6, while that of Cochrane was 15 1-2.

Score by Innings:
Cochran—0, 0, 112, 4, 46, 0, 0, 1, 10, 0, 3, 0, 17, 21, 17, 42—328.
Schaefer—23, 0, 1, 150, 20, 0, 0, 2, 1, 0, 0, 0, 81, 2, 3, 167—500.

HOPPE WAS LUCKY

Willie Hoppe nearly stumbled on his path back to the world's 18.2 ball cue title. He was leading 4-0 against Erich Hagenlacher, German cue artist, refused to take advantage of the former title holder's mistakes and Hoppe's road to victory appeared clear.

Hoppe had a narrow escape, playing his poorest game to date in the tournament, but finally ran out his fourth straight victory. The final score was 500 to 482, Hoppe averaging 22 16-22 and Hagenlacher 22.

Score by Innings:
Hoppe—3, 5, 2, 11, 2, 47, 4, 2, 13, 1, 90, 1, 25, 7, 117, 23, 92, 6, 6, 3, 22—500.

Hagenlacher—2, 6, 0, 25, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0, 67, 12, 1, 9, 24, 0, 160, 1, 4, 58, 0, 66—462.

Four Battlers in Shape for Bouts In 126-lb. Tourney

TWO 10-round encounters between a quartet of featherweights in quest of the Pacific coast championship crown, feature tonight's smoker of the Portland boxing commission in the Arroyo.

Weldon Wing, Portland, and Matty Smith of Wisconsin will face each other in the first of the 10 round encounters, and, judging from the ability displayed by both, the bout should be a hummer. Wing returned recently from a more or less successful invasion of the East, and promises to show the fans that he gained some knowledge of the fistio sport while taking in the sights of Broadway.

The second battle will bring Ad Macfie, who scored a hit in the first elimination round of the featherweight tourney by kayaking Sammy Gordon in a sensational match, and Danny Nunez of Sacramento together. This will be Nunez' first appearance in the Northwest, and, bent on making good before the two elevens staged a scoreless tie in the first five years of the tourney, arrived here he asked for the best possible opponent, and in being matched with Macfie he will have to step out and show a lot of class if he hopes to advance further in the tourney.

Just what feathers this boy will be matched with remains to be seen. Joe King Leopold, who has beaten Bud Ridley, Young Brown and Jimmy Dundee, is anxious to participate in the tourney. His manager, Fred Winsor, is hot on the trail of a match with the champion, and promises to show the fans among the contenders for the coast honors. Leopold has fought in the East.

Three other bouts complete the Portland card tonight.
