Cougar Team Shifted for Aggie Game

WATCH the Cougars in Saturday's football classic against the Oreson Aggies on Multnomah field. This is the statement of Eldon Jenne, advance man of the Washington State college team, which is due to arrive here Friday morning for a light signal practice before awaiting the whistie that will set it in action against

Coach Gus Welch has made several coach Gus weich has made several thanges in his lineup for Saturday's game which will add strength to offensive attack. Vernon Hickey, the big backfield star of the Cougars in the game against Oregon, will call signals for his right half position, and Slater is scheduled to play the quar-terback position in the place of Jack

LINE STRENGTHENED

The Cougar mentor figures tha with this combination he will have a stronger offensive against the defense of the Aggies. Welch is not confident of a victory, according to Jenne. He figures that the Aggles have a very strong defensive team, and they proved this in the game against Oregon when they held the Lemon-Yellow team for downs inside their 10-yard zone. The Pullman line will be strengthened also for the Aggles. Bud McKay, former all-coast guard, who has been on the side lines since the Washington game, has been working out with the squad again and will get a chance to play in the game. This game will be the first played between the Aggles and the Cougars in Portland since 1919, when P. A. C., through the booting ability of Carl of 6 to 0. Last year the Cougars won from 0. A. C. 7 to 3. LOCKSTEP PLAY TO FEATURE

Yale Alumni Jones Again

TEW YORK, Nov. 23 .- The jolly old pastime of firing Tad Jones at Yale has begun all over 'again, this time just two days before the Harvard Tad has been left out, his contract torn across the middle—for a consideration, of course—and a new head coach all ready to say it on the dotted line. You don't believe it? Ask any graduate who sits around the fireside at the Yale club.

He is several hundred miles removed from the scene of activities at New Haven, and therefore knows all about them. Jones, he will inform you, Harvard game Saturday. If there is anything in Yale football get rid of Jones seldom, if ever, comes dog to triumph over its ancient rival up for consideration before the foot-ball committee at New Haven. The committee, in fact, is often the last to learn of it. It is the Yale alumni that is hostile to him. They contend-and with some reason-that Tad has had remarkable material since he returned to control Yale football in 1920, yet has had nothing to show for it beyond one victory over Princeton in the three seasons he has coached the team. Wherefore they gain much satisfaction in firing him every year. This time they feel particularly aggrieved. They traveled down Princeton in high feather, saw Yale outgain Princeton, lead in first downs by 13 to 5, and lose on the score board

This rather sour performance has generated some real activity among Yale men in New York. They are now honestly and candidly out after Jones' scalp, and there is a serious doubt as camp next season. The Chance story comes from a for-mer Chicago player who has been a close intimate of Chance all of his baseball life and who probably would know what the former Chicago manager contemplated if anyone did. Friends of "Honey" Fitzgerald, one time mayor of Boston, would like to see him acquire control of the Boston see him acquire control of the Boston Americans and have urged him to get in. Probably "Honey Fitz," would not object, because he likes baseball and was a very prominent figure as a fan when Jim McAller owned the club. The obstacle between "Honey Fitz." and the place as head of a major league club seems to be the amount of maney asked for the Boston propof meney asked for the Boston prop-erty. It is said an offer of $1,000,000 for the club was turned down. That is a lot of money even for a franchis in Boston and negotiations have never gone above that figure.
