

KLAMATH FALLS ROAD ROUTE IS BY WAY OF DAIRY

A long-pending highway location was definitely disposed of today by the state highway commission in the decision to route the Klamath Falls-Lakeview road by way of Dairy and Bonanza. This leaves open for future consideration the question of the route from Bonanza to Sprague river, which will be determined from an engineering standpoint. While the route by way of Bonanza adds about two miles in distance, it is of greater local service.

In its program of work for next season the commission ordered advertised for letting next month two sections in Lane county. One section is between Cheshire and Goldson, and the other between Goldson and Lowell.

On the recommendation of the county court of Malheur the commission let the contract for a new bridge across the Malheur river near Juntura to the Union Bridge company for $716.

Another final location made was in Josephine county, where the road connecting the Grants Pass-Crescent highway with the Oregon coast is to be on the north side of Sucker creek.

Josephine county was granted authority to spend $10,000 of its cooperative fund in dressing up the Grants Pass-Applegate river section of the Crescent city road.

An offer made by the Willowa county court to appropriate $14,000 with which to cooperate on the Flor road, between the forest boundary and Enterprise, was taken under consideration.

A communication was received from the California Automobile club, requesting the privilege of installing signs along the Pacific highway giving distances to California centers of population. The commission took the request under advisement, pending taking up the matter with the highway authorities of Washington.

The date of the official opening of the new Oregon city bridge across the Willamette river was set for December 27.

The commission will have a conference with the federal road commission this afternoon to consider the federal aid system and forest road.

Future federal cooperation is to be what is known as the "seven percent system" and its supplementing forest road system.

Open Safety Pin Extracted From Throat of Baby

By using the fluoroscope, an open safety pin was extracted from the throat of Eugene, 2-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Haddix, No. 599 Union avenue, at Emanuel hospital late Wednesday afternoon.

The operation was performed by Dr. Stuart Shotton, who extracted the pin within a few moments after the fluoroscope was obtained. The baby was taken home by his parents immediately after the operation. The pin was swallowed by the baby while at play.

Still Operators Handled Roughly By Judge Ekwall

Still operators fared badly in municipal court Wednesday and in addition to being assessed heavy fines were sentenced to terms in jail.

James I. Hunter, in whose home at No. 4424 85th street southeast, Patrolmen Harms and Nutter found a complete distillery and 50 gallons of finished product last week, was fined $500 and sent to jail for 30 days.

At the expense that he was too old to work and relied on his still to earn a living did not bring any leniency to George Healey, No. 208 Hall street, who was fined $100 and given a 90-day sentence. Although 50 years old, Healey has been arrested on three occasions for running a still.

Vachel Lindsay, Famous Poet, Due In City Tomorrow

Vachel Lindsay, famous poet, whose words blow and sing like one of his own Middle Western whirlwinds, is due in Portland from Corvallis at 10:20 Friday morning.

After a moment at the University club, Lindsay will go to Reed college, where he will talk to the students. Several organizations, including the Professional Business Women's league and the Portland Woman's club, will have opportunity to hear him, but his only public appearance will be at the Auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock, when he will chant his own poems and talk.

Lindsay is known as a vagabond and apostle of the common people, but he is not so much that as he is a poet for all people. His work has a haunting melody, yet is fresh, windy and red-blooded.

He has roamed the world and saturated himself in the life led by the people of various nations. His itinerary does not look like the itinerary of the tourist, but like that of "Heldre Jack," the tramp.

His appearance marks the opening of a series of lectures to be held under the direction of the Library association, which will bring many noted literary men to Portland.

NEW LINE PROGRESSING

Final construction details on the Portland, Astoria & Pacific railway line were studied during the past two days by officials of the S. P. & S. system, with which the line is affiliated. The officials returned at noon today and reported the new rail line in good shape to Vermont. Those making the trip were A. J. Davidson, general manager; A. J. Witcomb, chief engineer; G. E. Votaw, superintendent; and Charles Whitfield, superintendent of maintenance of way.

CLACKAMAS CUTS LOAD ALLOWANCE

Oregon City, Nov. 23.—Drastic reductions in the tonnage allowed on county highways was made in an order issued by the county court yesterday.

Under the new ruling but 400 pounds per tire inch will be permitted for all trucks. This is a reduction from the sliding scale of 500 per tire inch for tires totaling under 30 inches and 600 for trucks with tires over 30 inches.

The new rule applies to all roads in the county, with the exception of the Pacific highway, where the old ruling stands.

An order was also issued cutting down the speed of trucks of all types to 12 miles an hour. It is understood that this order is to prevail only during the wet months and is to be rescinded in April. The new regulation applies to both full and empty trucks.

Indications of the seriousness of the traffic condition was intimated in the justice court when Judge E. J. Noble rescinded the license of Louis Hartke for 30 days, following Hartke's arrest on charges of speeding with a truck.

Hartke was arrested by State Officer Harneker in Oregon City for speeding while passing a car. He was fined $10 and costs in addition to suspension of the license, which will prevent him from following his occupation as a chauffeur for a month.
