Washington, Nov. 28.-(I. N. S.) eparation of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific lines would be an inconvenient and wasteful arrangement and would result in an increase in the operating expenses of the roads of more than $2,000,000 a year,' Richard Sachse, chief engineer of the California railroad commission, declared today before the interstate commerce commission. Only the Union Pacific would gain by the dissolution of the two roads, Sachse said. Public shippers and transportation would be greatly inconvenienced by such an arrangement, he added. Sachse said the estimate of increased operating expenses which the dissolu-tion of the lines would entail did not take into consideration the extra cost it would bring to shippers and other competing carriers that would be necessary in the adjustment to the new conditions following the separaflon. Railroad rates in the future can only be reduced by eliminating waste, Sachse said, and waste which would inevitably follow a separation of the outhern Pacific and the Central Paelfic lines would necessarily be reflected upon the public either in increased rates or impaired service. In the financial relations of the two "there was an roads, Sachse said, element of just and fair dealing. pointing out the Southern Pacific had assumed and paid the Central Pa-cific's debts. Residents around San Francisco bay, he continued, would be put to great inconvenience by separation of the two lines. Pointing out that the ferry boats and electric lines operating between San Francisco and Oakland were owned by both the Southern Pacific and the Central Pacific, Sachse said he did not see how the roads, if separated, could have joint waiting rooms and ticket offices.

There has been, of corse, a lighter side to the Tiger's reception in the ample, homely hospitable bosom of the "Windy City."

The city that was but a tiny one then last Clemenceau saw it, more than half a century ago, paid homage to its distinguished guest today.

those days, in the 60s, when young Clemenceau stood on its threshhold but then, so has the Tiger. Leading citizens, in tribute, recalled the empires he has shaken and the new maps of Europe he has drawn with his

Mrs. Albert Puts Best in Reading Of Enter Madame

Dramatic discrimination and crisp vitality were evident in Sarah Truax Albert's reading of "Enter Madame," Glida Vesari comedy, Monday afternoon at Trinity Parish house. Mrs. Albert succeeded in giving each of the 10 characters in the play a distinct personality in the minds of her audience and in surrounding all of the three acts the lack of stage properties was not evident. This was the first of a series of readings by Mrs. Albert to be offered in Portland under the auspices of a committee of prominent women for the benefit of the school of arts and architecture of the University of Ore-
