

Bezdek Will Consider New Diamond Bait

By John E. Foster (Copyright, 1922.) NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Hugo Bezdek, when he went to Penn State as an athletic director, said he was through with professional baseball for good.

It is reported that Penn State has shown such affection for Bezdek that he would feel far more at home under the auspices of the students than the roars of the Philadelphia baseball fans. Many believe, therefore, that Bezdek will not go back to professional baseball, in which he was far less successful than he is in college sports.

His record as a coach for Penn State has given him a high rating among college directors of sport for he handled many other kinds of athletics than football, although his greatest reputation is based on his success with the gridiron game.

A California baseball man, at present in this city, frankly stated today that the time would have to come when the Pacific coast league would have to be recognized in baseball as having the same rights as the two present major league organizations in the states between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic ocean.

Paris, Nov. 30.—Batting Siki, Senegalese boxer, who rose from just a boxer to champion of Europe in a night through the defeat of Georges Carpentier, and immediately afterwards ceased being a boxer at all, has taken his case to the chamber of deputies.

Siki is tired of selling shoe polish, which has been his occupation since the French boxing federation stripped him of his title, and he is having a nine months for conduct unbecoming a pugilist.

He conferred Wednesday with Deputy Diagne of Senegal, his home precinct, and is said to have won Diagne's promise to introduce in the chamber Thursday a proposal to deprive the boxing federation of any further government subsidy.

Knockout Gives Tunney Victory Over C. Weinert

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Nov. 30.—A volley or smashes from both of Gene Tunney's accurate batteries brought Charlie Weinert crashing to the carpet, knocked cold, in the final seconds of round three Wednesday evening.

But the fight interrupted the count and so the fight did not enter Tunney's record as an official K. O. until the fourth round began. Weinert's seconds brought him to semi-consciousness in the interval, but did not want him to get up. But the stubborn slugger wrenched free of their detaining grasp and lurched drunkenly at the reluctant ex-champion for round four, and it took a towel from Weinert's corner to save him from annihilation.

Gene stepped out in front in the second after they had sparred to a slow even break in the first. In the third Tunney battered Weinert freely with both mitts from the start, and in the last half minute caught him square with a left and right on the chin, as Weinert's guard slipped down.

Ashland-Medford Game Is Canceled

Medford, Nov. 30.—The football game between Ashland and Medford for Thanksgiving day has been canceled, Ashland having protested Baughman and Neff. Forest Grove will play Medford here in place of Ashland.

Hills has severed relations with Ashland as a result of a series of long standing disputes which reached the point when police of protest was served in this case only two days before the date of play, although the formal document addressed to the state board of control bears the date November 15, two days after the last meeting of the two teams at Medford on Armistice day.

ADAMSON'S ADVENTURES—He's Cornered the Hat Market

Quentin to Have Field Day Sports to Be Prison Feature

(By United News.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Behind the gray walls of San Quentin penitentiary today will not be so much a day of Thanksgiving as of forgetfulness.

For inside the prison walls the convicts will hold their annual Thanksgiving day track and field meet. There will be unknown heroes who will never be known to the sport world, and there will be great excitement over events never listed in Spalding's Guide for anywhere else.

For the last few weeks convicts have been betting on the results—betting such precious articles as a year's supply of prison tobacco. The principal rivalry is between the men who will represent the juke mill and the men who will represent the shop.

Among the "intramural" events are such races as the "centipede race," a race between two picked squads of convicts in lockstep; an obstacle race and a wheelbarrow race, and, of course, there are the regular events like the shotput.

However, an experienced convict told the reporter the 16-pound shot, the 56-pound one is the principal contest.

Last year the mill won the most points but this year they will miss one of their principal athletes. He was a young fellow, just 21, who had offended against the state and society. He had paid his debt, and was eligible for parole. He hopes to appear before the parole board the week before Thanksgiving. However, he appealed to Warden Johnson.

Players Named for Mythical All-Stars

Six upperclassmen and four sophomores were awarded positions on the mythical all-star eleven chosen annually at the conclusion of the Reed college intra-mural season. Anderson, quarterback of the all-stars, was the first freshman to achieve that honor.

Eleven men adjudged the best of 40 who played in interclass football this season were placed on the mythical squad by the all-star selection committee, named by the Reed athletic council. These men receive credit toward letters which are awarded for all-star ratings in three sports. Members of the selection committee were Charles S. Botaford, director of men's athletics, Dr. L. E. Griffin and Dr. A. A. Knowlton.

Another Win Is Taken by Arleta

Despite the fact that they played a strong game, the Peninsula Vikings could not muster enough strength to defeat the Arleta Athletic club professional basketball team in the Franklin high school gymnasium Wednesday night. Arleta won, 23 to 21, the clubmen taking the lead from the start.

Bike Riders Ready For Big Whirligigs

(By United News.) NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Sixteen pairs of imported and domestic bike riders will start pumping at midnight Sunday on the big board bow in Madison Square Garden, thus beginning the first of the winter whirligigs.

Most of the notorious riders, whose name have boomed through the rafters of the garden in seasons past will be there on their velocipedes, and so will the same old durable crowd of fans. There has been a jam at the box office since the seas sail opened. New York is incurable.

Today Ends 1922 Season Of Football

(By United News.) NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The curtain falls today on the 1922 football season. There aren't many games, but the few scheduled are important.

Other interesting games in the East will be played between Washington & Jefferson and the undefeated West Virginia eleven. Pittsburgh and Penn State will provide a game of interest to the Pacific coast as both teams are going to California for post-season games next month with coast elevens.

Coach Anson Cornell's team is much feared by Whitman, since the Missionaries are in poor shape. "Bill" Lucht, left tackle, is out of the game with a wrenched knee. Substitute are Bartholomew and Bleakney, halfbacks, Lackey, end; Lucht, tackle; Carr, guard, and C. Heritage, center.

Early in the season the College of Idaho team was defeated by Utah by a 16-3 score, and Whitman recently went down to a 24-8 defeat at the hands of the Suburbs, after giving Whitman the short end of the "dope."

With a fast, dry field, the fans are likely to be treated to some pretty exciting action today, but it is not clear whether his men were at their best on a wet or dry field.

High School Teams Work Out for Event

Thursday was declared a day of rest for the Washington high and Franklin high football teams because of it being Thanksgiving. Friday will find the athletes working at top speed once more.

Coach Meek sent his Quakers against Benson Tech in a practice scrimmage Tuesday and two or three of the stars were treated rather roughly but it is expected that all will be on hand to battle the Colonials.

It is likely that Captain Pete Brooks, the all-star end, will be in the Washington line-up after a forced layoff on account of a broken right wrist and left collar bone, and if he is the Colonial offensive will be strengthened considerably.

The King-Ortega scrap should be a hummer, for these athletes put up a real slam-bang affair at Milwaukee a couple of weeks ago. At that time King was given the decision. Ortega made a great showing against the Australian and he is confident that he learned a lot of things at their last meeting which will stand him in good stead Monday night.

When Captain Hansen was in Seattle recently he attended a smoker and it was there that he saw Frankie Green, a colored 120-pounder. They say that our Used Car salesmen show an unusual amount of enthusiasm in their work. Why shouldn't they? They see the Used Cars when they come in.
