Actions of the city council at to-day's session pertained to several mat-ters that are of interest to the patrons of the municipal golf links. One of these was the passage of the ordinance leasing from the Laidd Estate company the south half of the Eastmoreland links for a period of one year, the com-sensation to be the city's payment of taxes on the land. The agreement also carries with it in option to purchase the property at a price of $95,000.

Another matter was the passage of the ordinance openting positions of employes, necessary to operate the links. These positions include one park keeper at a salary of $140 a

At today's session the council also authorized the mayor and commis-sioner of finance to renew for a period of two years the lease with the Ukase Investment company for the 24 acres of land opposite ePninsula park used for the municipal auto camp, and re-moving the option to purchase the property. The rental price to be paid is the same as for the last two years, $225 per month.

Strong protest from adjacent property owners has been made against the application of V. S. Short for a permit to erect and maintain a one-story metal building for repairing motorcycles at a location on Williams avenue, between Eugene and Tillamook streets. The matter has been referred to Commissioner Barbur for investigation and recommendation.

The council today granted a permit to Emma B. C. Strout to alter a two-story fram building for a three-family residence fronting on Victoria street, between Broadway, and Hancock streets. Protest was made against the Vaughn for a permit to erect an apartapplication of W. W. and N. The great scope and extent of the grain inspection department has come to public notice largely through the experience of Thomas K. Campbell, public service commissioner-elect, since the November election. Ever since the returns showed that he was to be a member of the commission Mr. Campbell has been stumbling over hay and grain inspectors about the city who have taken pains to assure him of the importance of the work being done by the department and of its value to the public in general and to the growers in particular. Impressed by the multiplicity of these arguments and arguthers, Cempbell made some little investigation into the department with the above statistics as a result. "A few years ago." Mr. Campbell says in discussing the results of his investigations, "the legislature, for the purpose of correcting abuses, passed an act which wiped out all centinuing appropriations, and previded the all fees collected by any dearment should be paid into the general fund and no moneys should be expended except such as might be appropriated by the legislature.
