

WASHINGTON AND OREGON TO HAVE SAME AUTO CODE

A conference of Oregon and Washington state traffic officials for the purpose of drafting a uniform motor vehicle code for the two states, was held yesterday at the Imperial hotel.

Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, and T. A. Rafferty, chief traffic officer, comprised the Oregon delegation, while L. D. McArdle, director of the department of efficiency, Fred J. Dillie, director of the department of licenses, and Dean Leidy, inspector in the traffic division, represented Washington.

Only matters pertaining to the operation of motor vehicles were dealt with, as it was considered that the licensing of automobiles, and all related matters are subjects for purely local regulation.

Steps were taken toward perfecting the present reciprocal provisions between the two states. The matter of registration of non-resident owners of tourists was dealt with at length.

It was decided that certain rules of the road should be changed, while others should be made more definite and certain. Uniform definitions of certain terms of the motor vehicle laws were also decided upon.

New laws requiring all pedestrians on highways to keep to the left hand side of the road, and to step off the main portion of the road when two vehicles meet simultaneously, were urged. A provision will also be included prohibiting motor vehicles from standing on the main portion of the highways outside city and town limits.

It was decided to urge the state of Washington to change its present law on automobile lighting to conform with that existing in Oregon. A definition of a resident of a state for license purposes will also be included in the new code.

A conference of the legislative committees of the legislatures of the two states will be asked early during the coming sessions, so that all the proposed changes of the law may be carefully studied.

Oregon and Washington are well advanced in administrative laws as well as laws regulating traffic, the members of the conference decided.

Police Spoil Nice Bootleg Business

Business was brisk in the little soft drink establishment of Bob Kunsch and Bob Sugura at 17th and Thurman streets Saturday night when the police squads swooped down on the place and found the two men dispensing moonshine whiskey. For the next 10 days, however, the stand will be dark and its customers will have to quench their thirst elsewhere. Kunsch and Sugura were ordered to jail for 10 days by Judge Ekwall Wednesday. Kunsch was fined $300 and Kunsch paid $250 into the city coffers.

Women Are Jailed On Dry Law Charge

Mrs. M. Thomas and Mrs. Ed Hunter, both charged with the manufacture of liquor at their home, No. 1023 East Morrison street, were fined $500 each and were sent to jail for 30 days, by Judge Ekwall of municipal court Wednesday. The women pleaded guilty.

Chinese Drug Users Get Jail Sentences

Three Chinese arrested by the police recently in a raid on an opium den at No. 27 North Second street Tuesday received heavy penalties at the hands of Municipal Judge Ekwall.

Wednesday. Ah Chung, who had one bundle of the drug in his possession, was fined $250 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. Ah Hung, who had nine bundles, was fined $50 and given a 30-day sentence. Chung Wal, a visitor in the place, was fined $50.

Governor-Elect's Daughter Injured

La Grande, Dec. 28.—Lucille Pierce, daughter of Governor-elect and Mrs. Pierce, is suffering considerable pain as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident. The car driven by Allyn Hunter and occupied by himself, Miss Pierce and others, became uncontrollable and veered into a parallel ditch. Miss Pierce was the only one injured, but indications are she will recover rapidly. She is a teacher at Union.

Early Settler of Pendleton Is Dead

Pendleton, Dec. 28.—Andrew B. Grover, 77, resident of Pendleton many years, died here Tuesday night. He crossed the plains to near home in 1850 from Boone county, Ill., his birth place. For a time he lived near Helix, this county, where he will be buried. He was not married, but leaves one sister, Mrs. A. C. Smith of Pendleton, and a number of nephews and nieces.

Hillsdale Man Is Struck by Trolley

Fred Brot, aged 29, of Hillsdale, was injured Wednesday night when he was knocked down by a street car at Union avenue and Shaver street. Brot was carrying a wash tub at the time, and, according to witnesses, stepped in front of the trolley. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where it was said he had sustained several broken ribs. His condition is not serious.

PLAN TO CHECK INFUX OF LABOR

Aid to Astoria in heading off a possible influx of labor, attracted by the burned city's reconstruction program, was pledged by the city council Wednesday in passing a resolution asking the federal government to take charge of the labor situation there. The resolution calls upon the director general of the United States employment service to establish a branch in Astoria.

Mayor Baker, who is starting for Washington this week, was directed to deliver the resolution and explain Astoria's situation. This action was taken at the request of Frank L. Parker, chairman of Astoria's labor committee.

Bonds Voted for Snow Creek Project

Bend, Dec. 28.—Floating a $40,000 bond issue for the improvement and development of the Snow Creek irrigation project was unanimously favored in the election held Tuesday, and validation steps already have been taken with a view to the sale of the bonds early in the spring. Work on the main part of the project will start soon after. A new dam will be built to improve water at Big Lake. About 1500 acres will be irrigated in addition to an equal area now watered.

Church People Pay Tribute to Memory of R. E. Watson

Federal services for Robert E. Watson, No. 130 Grand avenue, who was fatally injured last Saturday night in an automobile accident, were held Wednesday afternoon from the First Nazarene church. The Rev. D. Rand Pierce, pastor, presided, and was assisted in the service by the Rev. Mrs.

Pierce, and the Rev. J. G. Bringdale, pastor of Sellwood Nazarene church. A double mixed quartet furnished music. The church was well filled and floral offerings were profuse. Interment was at Rose City cemetery.

Watson had a large circle of friends among local church people. He had been janitor at the church for 12 years. Watson was born in Iowa, and came to Oregon in the 80's, and remained a resident of Portland after that. Besides the widow, a brother in Santa Rosa and sisters in Los Angeles and Missouri survive.

THE BIG END-OF-THE-YEAR EVENT

TO IMPRESS UPON THE WOMEN OF PORTLAND the importance of this opportunity, it is only necessary to mention that these high-type garments were made especially to increase the fame of "Sweet Sixteen" wear, when at the end of the year we wish to express our gratitude for the phenomenal patronage and largely expanded friendships "Sweet Sixteen" has enjoyed through 1922.

It is garments of this character that we present all through the year, freshened up with a youthful spirit to the time of their creation in the modes of the moment, and to which the greatest care in construction is applied. It is these garments that are known to afford a definite individuality and charming simplicity that bespeak true smartness and unusual values at

Our usual intensive specialization, more energetically applied for this event, gives to these thousands of dresses and coats the certainty of being exceptional and worthy of investigation by the women of Portland.

It will be interesting to make a study and comparison of the merchandise offered through the all-sorts-of "Sales" now being held, with the new and cleverly styled merchandise now offered here.

THE DRESSES

Creation that all twinkle merrily with their original "Sweet Sixteen" smartness, producing beautiful translations of the fashions in Canton Crepes, Tricotines, Poiret Twills, Matelasse, Taffetas, Georgettes and Spanish Laces in black and high colors.

With them we are presenting wondrously pretty imported spangled costumes, in Satins with Georgette and Moline overdrapes.

—Sizes 16 to 44

THE COATS

Such Coats as interest the followers of Fashion and create for the wearer a feeling of luxury.

Coats of high-grade Bolivias, Veldynes and Velours, all full silk lined, many with fur collars, in all the best models and the snappiest of man-made top-coats so much favored by the college girl and the sports-woman.

Many beautiful girls' Coats in sizes 14, 16, 18 among these SUPER-VALUES for Misses and Women.

Buying in such gigantic quantities, often the entire output of a producer, for our chain of stores, saving the manufacturers' profits in many cases through our manufacturers' connections, and receiving enormous discounts for our cash, explains in part how these remarkable values are possible.
