

Ban Placed on Interseconal Athletic Games: Scott Eleven Rests for Corvallis Game

Art Wilcox Not to Play Against Pitt

By M. D. Tracy

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Dec. 30.—(U. P.)—Cold, wet weather was the prospect at daybreak today for this afternoon's east-west football game between Stanford and Pittsburg. A drizzling rain which at times grew heavy and then abated off again almost to a fog fell during the night and was continuing during the early morning. The result was a wet turf, although not a muddy one, and a promise of only a portion of the vast crowd expected turning out to witness the game.

Pittsburg seems a favorite in what betting was being done. Little money was up, it appeared, and the bets were laid at the odds which seemed to suit the fancy of the bettors.

DEPEND ON FIGHT

Stanford's record for the season, composed chiefly of glorious defeats, was not such as to make her a favorite over any team, among the technical dopesters. Her chances today, everyone agreed, were on the same basis as they have been in every other game she has played, many dependent principally on the famous Stanford "fift." If the fighting spirit develops sufficiently, Pittsburg, everyone knew, could expect trouble.

Both coaches reported their men generally in fine condition. Sack, Pittsburg tackle, who has been suffering from a cold, was better although not entirely recovered.

"My men are in better shape than they have been all season," declared Glenn Warner, the Pitt coach. "We expect a hard game but we expect to win it."

CLEVELAND IN LINE-UP

Stanford's squad was hitting on all cylinders with the exception of Wilcox, star halfback, who has been ordered to watch the game from the bench on account of an injury suffered earlier in the season. His loss, however, will not demoralize the Cardinals, as they have several dangerous men who carry a real threat in the backfield. Cleveland, substitute halfback, will start the game in Wilcox's place.

"Stanford doesn't play games expecting to lose them," was the wily Saint Andy Kerr, Cardinal coach, unburdened himself. He had nothing more to say.

Many notables of the football world will see the game, including Coaches Hendersen of U. S. C. and Smith of California.

George Varnell, former Chicago hero, will referee; Tom Thorp, known to fame at Columbia, will act as umpire; and Walter Eckersall of Chicago will be head linesman.

Denial Made That California 'Big 3' Will Be Organized

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 30.—(U. P.)—With the coming of the new year the "big three" in Pacific coast collegiate sports will become a reality.

A 10-year playing agreement between Stanford, University of California and University of Southern California, has been drawn up, it is declared, and will be ratified here New Year's eve by Coach "Pop" Warner representing Stanford, Coach Andy Smith of California and Coach Elmer Henderson of U. S. C.

The agreement is to be made without consulting the Pacific coast conference, it is said. Henderson returned Friday from Palo Alto, where he had been in consultation with Warner.

PLAY EXCHANGE GAMES BUT NOT SIGN 10-YEAR AGREEMENT

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 30.—(U. P.)—California does not intend to sign a 10-year playing agreement with Stanford, University of California and University of Southern California, has been drawn up, it is declared, and will be ratified here New Year's eve by Coach "Pop" Warner representing Stanford, Coach Andy Smith of California and Coach Elmer Henderson of U. BASKETBALL

RIDGEFIELD, Wash., Dec. 30.—For the first time in several seasons, the Ridgefield high school basketball team was defeated by the Lincoln high hoopers of Portland. The Ridgefielders won last night's clash, 25 to 23, after the first half had ended 7 to 11 in favor of the visitors. Ray Brooks, coach of the Ridgefielders, following the game expressed himself as being satisfied with the officiating and the play of his team. He said that the Ridgefield team had the best that he had encountered in an out-of-town game in several years.

The Portland Independents had to postpone their game with the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club intermediates last Thursday night and Manager Oller has announced that the Intermediates will be given an opportunity to defend themselves against his aggregation in the Buckman school gymnasium Tuesday night. If they don't show up at that time, Manager Oller says he is going to claim the contest by a 2 to 0 forfeit score. He can be reached by calling EA 8430.

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 30.—(I. N. S.)—Carabosse, the famous mare belonging to the Prince of Wales, probably will be started in the New Year's handicaps at Tijuana, it was said today.

Unless heavily weighted, Carabosse, imported from England, and which beat all sorts of stars on the Canadian tracks last season, will likely be established a strong favorite in the million-and-eight event.

The mare also will be sent after the $30,000 Cofferth handicap, her trainer announced.

The first "baby" race of the year will be run Monday, for fillies which will enter the two-year-old class on that day.

Would Clear Name In Benton Case

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 30.—(I. N. S.)—Charles A. Knapp, famous in baseball as attorney for Jack A. Dunn, once elected president of the international league, and for years a figure in the fight against the draft, was today engaged by Buck Herzog to clear any doubts around his name in connection with the Rube Benton case.

Herzog was involved in the original Benton scandal, being accused jointly with Hal Chase of having offered Rube a sum of money to throw a game to the Cubs in 1920.

State High School Assn. Puts Up Bars

THERE will be no more inter-sectional or post-season interscholastic athletic games as far as members of the Oregon High School Athletic Association are concerned. At the annual meeting held in the Lincoln high school Friday the directors voted to approve the Corvallis, Ore., Ohio, affair scheduled for next Monday afternoon at Corvallis but there will be no other games unless the present rule is rescinded.

The Portland Public high school league is not a member of the state league and because of the fact that there is a regulation in the state association that a member cannot play a non-member, S. F. Ball, principal of Franklin high and Hugh A. Boyd, principal of Washington high, attended the gathering and asked that permission be granted to play school squads outside of Portland.

OUTSIDE COACHES BANNED

The state organization quickly frowned on the discussion and it was unanimously voted that if Portland members, who have in the past sent scholastic representatives of Oregon all they had to do was to pay the annual dues of $5 and join the combine. This one condition, however, confronts the high schools of Portland when it comes seeking membership in the state association and that is related to the ban on outside coaches.

"In almost every instance, coaches of the various branches of athletics in the Portland Public high school league are members of the state association and few exceptions are in cases where there is no qualified instructor other than the school teacher," Boyd said.

It has been pointed out that it can be a dangerous matter to have a faculty coach when he hasn't special training in his own branch of athletics. It has been pointed out that it can be a dangerous matter to have a faculty coach when he hasn't special training in his own branch of athletics.

PORTLAND WOULD PLAY

The scholastic standing of the Portland high school football squad of Toledo, Ohio, was the subject of discussion at their way to Corvallis to meet, the high school eleven of that place next Monday afternoon, will go a long way to putting the visitors in shape for a hard struggle, according to Coach Dr. A. W. Neill.

The party is made up of 21 members, of whom four are coaches, three are newspapermen, one trainer, a faculty manager and a student manager. As will be seen, the combination is coming well fortified with assistance to prevent the players from having to eat, think or drink anything else but football on the long, cold journey.

Despite the heavy rain of Friday morning, the Corvallis caravan headed by the high school band led the parade through the downtown streets and the arrivals were given plenty of opportunity to get a line on Portland. Arrangements were made through Fred L. Carlton, manager of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, to use the Winged "M" field for practice before the school contingent availed themselves of the opportunity by a short session Friday. Coach Neill, who is a former Whitman college athlete, announced that the line practice would be held this afternoon.

TITLES TO BE UNDECIDED

After much correspondence it was found that Washington could not go through with its end of the deal and continued and agreed to foot the entire bill.

As a result of the action of the Oregon State High School Athletic Association at Friday's meeting, it will be impossible to determine the Oregon state interscholastic title either in basketball or in football.

THE two days of rest which the Scott high school football squad of Toledo, Ohio, was to have before their way to Corvallis to meet, the high school eleven of that place next Monday afternoon, will go a long way to putting the visitors in shape for a hard struggle, according to Coach Dr. A. Pancho Villa Gives Martin A Drubbing

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—There isn't any question today as to Punching Pancho Villa being one of the most serious contenders for the bantamweight title. Give Villa the weight, and he would be able to show any of the bantams in the country that he is the best in his class.

There are few of the 12,000 at Madison Square Garden Friday night who didn't expect Villa to get his act together. Both will end their hard training Friday by boxing and sparring. Both will workout lightly Sunday to put on the finishing touches.

The announcement that Nunes will meet the winner of Monday's bout will no doubt be well received by the fans. Nunes has established himself in the heart of the fans by his wonderful showing against Kramer. He went into the contest on the short end and held the clever Los Angeles battler to a draw.

New Athletic Assn. Formed To Help Youth in Training

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The National Amateur Athletic Federation, the body in which the war and navy departments have decided to place the entire future training of the youth of the land in athletic sports, was organized Friday at a meeting in the Hotel Astor.

It is composed of nearly all amateur athletic organizations and is founded for the purpose of standardizing physical training of 25,000,000 youths between the ages of 12 and 24, without interfering with athletic bodies already established.

Difficulties in obtaining adequate representation of the United States at the last Olympic games and a view of insuring against physical disabilities which played a considerable part in the organization of the country's forces in the World war are the principal reasons for its existence.

WILL HELP CITIES

Colonel Henry Breckenridge, elected president, former assistant secretary of war in the Wilson administration, is its originator.

The President is not specifically for the purpose of heading athletic competitions, but to aid associations and clubs in their membership and in holding them for the benefit of youth everywhere, country sections, industrial sections, city playgrounds, as well as regular athletic fields and halls and gymnasiums.

College athletic conferences, individual schools, colleges, fraternal organizations and clubs in general will be urged to build or provide necessary equipment. The federation will endeavor to help municipal efforts along these lines.

TEST EVENTS ADOPTED

A special test, embracing the "100-yard dash, running broad jump, unning high jump and bar vault will be used during 1923 throughout the country, it was decided. This suggestion was made by Dr. J. P. McCurdy, president of the Springfield, Mass., Y. M. C. A. college in his report on proposed standardization of tests requiring little or no equipment.

The tests were adopted. They will be in use only in 1923. Other events may be added if found better suited. The system adopted will be applied to all youths between 12 and 24 who are reached.

RULES LAID DOWN

The rules now in force were adopted for baseball, tennis, golf, fencing, revolver shooting, girls' field hockey, polo, basketball, rifle shooting, football and bowling.

The committee on rules of the federation will investigate, revise if in its judgment it is necessary, and recommend rules for the following sports: Indoor and playground basketball, track and field racquet, squash, racquets, court tennis, archery, canoe paddling and sailing, fly casting, horseshoe, croquet, tennis, baseball, softball, curling, lacrosse, cricket, lawn bowls, skiing, baseball, pushball, service ball and tennis.

All athletic bodies by the American Athletic Union and the Intercollegiate A. A. A. belong to the federation. It is expected they will join.

In reply to a question from the floor it was stated that the federation does not intend to hold golf and tennis championship tournaments of its own.

Eastern league, was signed today to manage the Denver team of the West-end league in 1923. Gilbert came upon recommendation of Manager McGraw of the Giants.
