SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE.

BEHERING SEA TROUBLES.
To be Made the Subject of a Special Message.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—A special says: "President Harrison expects to accompany his transmission to congress of further papers relating to Behering sea controversy, with a special message framed with special reference to the intended rejection of British government proposal to arbitrate." To submission of the question whether seizures of British sailing vessels by U. S. were or were not lawful seizures.

The president strenuously objects, and he will never agree to it unless congress shall assume the responsibility in some mode yielding adherence to it. We will ask congress for a liberal appropriation to meet the expense of fitting out chartered vessels to serve as revenue vessels to capture and dispose of numerous marauding vessels expected to enter Behring sea next year.

THE INDIAN DIFFICULTY.
Friendly Indians Combine to Bring in the Hostiles.

RAPID CITY, N. D., Dec. 20.—General Miles has received advices from General Brooke that 500 friendly Indians have left Pine Ridge to attempt to bring in the hostiles. Thirty-nine of Sitting Bull's Indians who left the agency on Monday, have sent in word that they will return.

General Carr has thrown out a cavalry force to intercept the band now reported moving across the reservation to Bad Lands.

General Miles says no advance would be made until the result of the Pine Ridge conference was known. Big Foot and Heemp have surrendered and returned to the agency.

General Miles discredits report of a large band of Indians in the vicinity of Camp Crook on the Little Missouri river. No further engagements are reported from lower ranches.

Congressional Proceedings.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—In the senate to-day Pettigrew introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of fire-arms and ammunition to Indians on reservations; referred.

Ingalls was granted a two weeks' leave of absence to-day.

Platt introduced a joint resolution appropriating $100,000 to enable the President to take action and obtain from the German government a supply of the remedy discovered by Dr. Koch, and for manufacture of same. Laid over.

In the House on motion of Congressman Hermann, bill passed for cancellation of certain contracts for the delivery of stone for the improvement of the Columbia river.

A License War.
WATERVILLE, Maine, Dec. 20.—The town of Skohegan is greatly excited. Last Thursday every hotel, restaurant and lodging house in the place was closed the proprietors refusing to pay victuallers license as required by revised municipal statutes. Hotel men received assurance that the action of the municipal officers was unauthorized and they have agreed to open as before.

No Evidence Against Them.
SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18.—John J. Glacken, a well-known farmer and hop-grower, and Charles Fisher, an employe, who were charged with the murder of Antone Menke, Glacken's brother-in-law, were discharged to-day by Justice Devine after a preliminary examination.

TRAGEDY AT FRESNO.
Murdered His Wife Because She Would Not Stand His Cruel Treatment.

FRESNO, Dec. 18.—Another atrocious murder was committed here early this afternoon, when Dr. F. O. Vincent shot and killed his wife. Owing to drink, Vincent has been going steadily down for months. His wife, who was a model woman in every respect, has worked industriously to support not only herself but her husband, and his ill-treatment toward her became at last so unbearable that she sued for divorce. Vincent insisted that she withdraw the suit, but to no purpose. He went to her house to-day and demanded that the suit be withdrawn, but she would not consent thereto. He then began to use force and attempted to get her to swallow something from a vial which he produced. Falling in this he drew a revolver and shot her four times, each shot taking effect, and one ball is thought to have passed directly through her heart. She died almost instantly. Vincent was at once arrested and taken to the county jail, where, from his actions, it was thought he had taken poison after killing his wife. The effect of the dose, if he had taken any, soon passed away and he walked about. The murderer says he has done the best thing possible under the circumstances. The jail is strongly guarded to-night to prevent any possibility of lynching.

SWINDLING COAL DEALERS.
A Successful Gang Operate on San Francisco People.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—The Chronicle says the Seattle and Northern Coal company, which opened an extensive office here November 15, has vanished, and investigation shows that a successful swindle has been perpetrated. The company was organized in Seattle about three months ago with a capital of $50,000. The business was transacted here by a man named Ayres, who issued a circular offering to sell coal to be delivered after January 1, at $7.75 to $8.25 per ton. As coal was selling at the time for from $14 to $16 per ton, the advertisement was very attractive. The circular advertised to sell only a limited amount of coal, and only then on condition that the purchaser would buy one share of the stock of the company, valued at $5, for each ton of coal ordered, the stock to be taken back by the company at par value in payment for coal. Canvassers were employed and quite a business was done. A. F. Bruenbrook was announced as president, A. C. McAuley as vice president, the Ayer-Chapin company as treasurer, E. Willard as secretary and M. McAuley as assistant secretary. McAuley and Bruenbrook came here for a few days, and on December 5 the whole outfit disappeared and nothing has since been heard from them.

WAS GABRIELLE HYPNOTIZED?
Angry Discussion in a French Court on the Subject.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—At the Eyraud trial to-day Dr. Brouardel, who was deputed to examine into the mental condition of Mlle. Bompard, expressed the conviction that she was perfectly responsible for her actions, although she would come under the category of "morally deficient," being a person that would commit a crime with indifference. Dr. Suereste, the physician of the Bompard household, said he had hypnotized Gabrielle, and believed it possible that Eyraud had. Dr. Brouardel denied the influence or hypnotism, and a stormy scene ensued. Dr. Voisin, a police physician, swore that he had hypnotized Gabrielle, but declined to enter into details. Her counsel asserted that Voisin had important confidences from the persons, and demanded that he state them. The public prosecutor opposed it, and blamed Voisin for having resorted to hypnotism. The president of the court decided that the matter ought to be dropped. The audience protested loudly, and the court was cleared.

HELPING THE POOR.
Emperor William Providing Work for His Needy Subjects.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Emperor William has made 5,000 families grateful by one of those acts of thoughtfulness for his people which are so characteristic of the impulsive young ruler. It has been customary for soldiers to be pressed into service to help the postoffice department out during the rush of holiday mail matter. This year 5000 extra hands will be required on this work. The Emperor has ordered that instead of using soldiers the extra force was to be recruited from deserving and unemployed poor. This step is also highly satisfactory to the military authorities, who dislike to have troops mixed up with civilian's employments.

THAT CHIN.
When love was strong and love was young,
And she was yet to win,
He used to praise with flattering tongue
Her pretty dimpled chin.
Now, though she's still his heart's delight,
As in the bygone years,
When home he's going late at night
It is her chin he fears.

Persons Worth Knowing About.
Jules Verne is the author of twenty-four novels.

Von Moltke, on his 90th birthday, was asked how young he would like to be. "About 80," answered he, the vision of youth rising to his mind's eye.

There died a unique character in Philadelphia last Monday. He was Frank A. Gibbons, known as "The King of the Air," one of the most picturesque aerial performers on record. His beauty was superb; so was his vanity. His career was world wide. He was a great inventor of machines used in museums and other places.

One of Mrs. Henry M. Stanley's everyday dresses is a gown of creamy brown Indian cashmere, edged with a deep band of brown fur about the bottom, with a velvet bodice, crossed belt and cuffs and a fur neckband; a brown bonnet with pink flowers, and in her hand a bouquet of pink autumnal roses.

Real butterflies are tacked on the evening fans. It goes without saying that these are not good flirting fans, although showy and pretty. The most composed and accomplished fashionable could hardly maintain the even tenor of coquetry with a mouthful of wing or a pair of antennae in her eyes.

Wearing gloves at night is apt to make the hands wrinkled and yellow. They may be softer, but the softness is obtained at the expense of the appearance. Occasionally it may be necessary to wear gloves for a night, but the inside of the palms should be cut out to insure ventilation.

A German bride was recently wedded in a novel dress of red and white, the colors of her husband's regiment, and her bridesmaids wore also gowns of scarlet and white. The bride, Countess Elizabeth Koenigsmarck, is said to be one of the handsomest women in Germany.

Mrs. Ogden Mills, nee Miss Livingston, daughter-in-law of the great western millionaire, who prides herself upon her blue blood, has in her casket a necklace worth $35,000, which is a single string of gems presented by her father-in-law on the occasion of her wedding.

Brass kettles need not be banished entirely for sweet preserving. If they are well scoured with vinegar and salt and washed with hot water just before using they are perfectly safe. Our housekeeper thinks them unsafe for pickling.

The dance at Delmonico's which Mrs. James Hugh Beekman gave for Miss Marguerite Schiefelin cost between $5,000 and $7,000. Mrs. Henry J. Scudder's afternoon reception for her daughter probably cost $1,000.

In Paris there are professional trunk packers who can be hired to pack a trunk artistically, folding expensive gowns and other garments in tissue paper and stowing delicate bric-a-brac in the safest way.

Mrs. C. P. Huntington has in her possession a pair of ruby earrings worth $15,000, the two stones weighing fifteen carats each, and, are without exception the handsomest in town, or indeed in the country.

The difficult task of arranging and editing the correspondence of Cardinal Newman has been entrusted, in accordance with his request, to Miss Amy Mozley, daughter of Canon Mozley, a clever and cultivated young woman, whose brightness of mind afforded much entertainment to the quiet priest, who was a relative.
