

The Dalles Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, - - - JAN. 13, 1891

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT.

Table with columns: Pacific Coast Time, BAR., Wind, Rel. Hum., Dir. of Wind, State of Weather. Includes data for 8 A.M., 3 P.M., and weather probabilities.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, Jan. 13, 1891. Weather forecast Wednesday 12 M.: fair. Followed with rain. Snow in the interior.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Eugene Price leaves for home today.

Mr. A. C. Sanford, of Wasco is in the city.

Mr. Emil Schanno went to Portland today.

Old Jackson Engine company masquerade Friday night, don't forget it.

Mr. C. P. Heald, one of Hood River's most prominent fruit-growers, is in the city.

Mr. F. H. Lee editor of that wide awake paper the Klickitat Leader was in the city yesterday.

Last Thursday Mrs. Smith of Grant, a lady of 82 years, fractured her thigh, by slipping while getting into bed.

We understand the Home Dramatic club is debating the question of repeating their performance of "A Celebrated Case."

Frank Rutledge, the man injured so badly by the powder explosion last week, died yesterday morning. He was 24 years of age and unmarried.

It is stated on good authority, that the forfeited railroad lands will not be thrown open for settlement before the middle of March or the first of April.

Mr. Deerhake has so far recovered from his wound as to be able to get down stairs, which he did for the first time yesterday. His brother is with him.

Mr. C. W. Nibley of Salt Lake City, one of the principle members of the Oregon Lumber company, whose mills are located at Hood River, and at North Powder is in the city.

The Oregon Pomological society will meet in the city hall Saturday afternoon next, it being the regular annual meeting, and officers to be elected for the year a full attendance is desired.

The boys were snowballing at the depot this morning, getting the snow from the trucks of the cars. It is rather heightened amusement importing snow from the Blue mountains, for this purpose, but it is not too rich for Dalles boys.

Grant is putting in a system of water works, getting its supply from a spring-fed lake on top of the bluffs back of the town. The water is brought into a reservoir, so that it will give eighty feet pressure, and the supply is abundant.

Mr. Amos Underwood one of Skamania's county commissioners and his brother Edward, were in the city yesterday. They are pioneers of that county, and have one of the finest farms in it.

B. F. Laughlin lost a set of double buggy harness Saturday night, and Alex. Thompson and West. Rice each lost a set of single harness the same night. Whoever it is stealing, is evidently intending to go into the harness business or else to start a livery stable.

The Jewett Nurseries have a large number of trees to ship, and the tying up of the steamer Baker works quite a hardship on their proprietors. The trees have to be taken across the river in a small boat, and hauled over half a mile to the railroad at Hood River.

Mr. J. Craft, of Deschutes, made us a pleasant call this morning. He says he likes the CHRONICLE very well, that several cases of diphtheria have occurred in that neighborhood, one death, that of Arthur Clawson the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Clawson, resulted from it last week. The school in District 30 is temporarily closed; and a new school building is being erected.

Senator Watkins has introduced a bill for the building and equipping of a portage railroad at the Cascades, and a resolution introduced by him appointing a committee of both houses to confer with a committee of the Washington legislature, to arrange if possible for the two states taking hold of the opening of the Columbia. These are both needed acts and show that our senator is wide awake.

Mr. W. Pashek of Fifteen Mile had stopped his team yesterday afternoon in front of Mr. Vogt's store, and had just got out of his wagon, when a locomotive passing across Washington street whistled. This frightened the horses, and they turned sharp around cramping the wagon and breaking the tongue. Before Mr. Pashek could catch them they had got under good headway; turning the corner at the CHRONICLE office they ran up Second street to Brooks & Beers where they stopped. There were forty dozen eggs in a box in the wagon when the team started, but when Mr. Pashek examined their remains, he smiled and felt grateful that eggs are only worth fifteen cents a dozen. The horses were uninjured and ten dollars will cover the entire loss.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

List of the Officers Who Are in Charge of the M. E. Sabbath School.

Following are the officers and teachers who were installed at the M. E. church of this city on Sunday last:

Superintendent, Mrs. French; 1st Assist. Supt., Mr. Brown; 2d Assist. Supt., Mr. Lee; secretary, Lyman Lee; Assist. Sec., Dinsmore Parish; treasurer, Miss Adams; librarian, Mr. Kirby; Assist. liab., F. Parish; organist, Miss Brown; Assist. Org., Miss Grace Michell; chorister, M. Sylvester; assistant, Prof. Smith.

TEACHERS.

Miss Ruch, Miss Steele, Mrs. Sylvester, Miss Parish, Mrs. Allen, Mr. Jensen, Miss Adams, Mrs. W. Michell, Mrs. Lee, Miss Rose Michell, Mr. Phillip Michell, Mr. Lee, Mr. Cross, Miss Annie Sylvester, Mrs. Willerton, Miss McFarland, Mr. Williams, Mrs. Williams, Prof. Smith, H. H. Riddell.

L. LEE, Secretary, D. PARISH, Assist. Sec.

Real Estate Transactions.

January 11, Hood River Townsite company, to John L. Buck, lots 5, 6, and 7, in block 19, of Hood River, $375.

State of Oregon to Joseph A. Wilson, lots 1, 5, 6 and 7, of section 25, township 3, north of range 10 east, containing 49.79 acres, $49.70.

January 12, Elizabeth Dufur and husband to Anton Bauer, south half of north east quarter, and south half of north west quarter of section 14, township 2 north of range 15, east, containing 160 acres, $2,000.

January 13, State of Oregon to Linus Kelley, south half of north east quarter, and north half of south west quarter section 16, township 5, south of range 13 east, $200.

State of Oregon to L. B. Kelley, the north east quarter, and north half of south east quarter of section 16, township 5, south of range 13 east, 240 acres, $360.

State of Oregon to Hampton Kelley, south half of south half, and north half of north east quarter of section 16, township 5, south of range 13, east, containing 240 acres, $360.

The Blackville Twins

The musical comedy of the above name was presented to a well pleased audience at the opera house last night by the Hyer Sisters, a colored troupe taking its name from the two leading characters. The play was perfectly clean from beginning to end, the acting was good and the singing, of which the performance consisted in great part, was such as can come only from negro throats. The plantation scenes and plantation melodies carried many of the audience back to their childhood days. The cornet solo by George Freeman, has never been equalled in Paris except by Levi. Ike McCard in his specialties surpasses Billy Kersand or any other negro minstrel. The two sisters in 'Till Trovatore Verdi' were first-class, their singing and acting being faultless. The Georgia Minstrels, the Nashville Students, nor any other colored troupe has ever given a performance in Paris equal to that of last night. -Paris Times Nov. 6. 1890.

For a cut, bruise, burn or scald, there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It heals the parts more quickly than any other application, and unless the injury is very severe, no scar is left. For sale by Snipes & Kinersley.

Hotel Arrivals for the Past Twenty-four Hours.

UMATILLA HOUSE.

- Dell Porter, Wasco. I. B. Courtney, Goldendale. Chas. White, " A. H. Guyton, Post Falls, Idaho. J. E. Ingersoll, Portland. Chas. Smith, " Jas. H. Smith, " Chas. Hill, " S. G. Dawson, City. W. H. Moore, " Julius Weisick, Grant. D. M. Jay, Kansas City.

For a lame back, a pain in the side or chest, or for tooth-ache or ear-ache prompt relief may be had by using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It is reliable. For sale by Snipes & Kinersley.

Eat Before Going to Bed.

Most students and women who are troubled with insomnia are dyspeptic, and they should therefore eat before going to bed, having put aside work at least an hour before. If they are not hungry they should simply be instructed to eat, and if they are hungry they should eat whatever they want. A glass of milk and a biscuit is sometimes all that can be taken at first or mashed potato buttered. If possible, the night meal should be taken in another room than the sleeping apartment, and for men in the city it will be found advantageous to go out to a restaurant. Before eating, however, a cold bath should be taken, preferably cold or cool, which should be given with a sponge or stiff brush, and the body thoroughly rubbed with a coarse towel afterward. -Somerville Journal.

The census shows some interesting facts connected with the immense live stock interests of the west. The number of cattle ranging at large on the plains is now 10,000,000, 3,000,000 less than it was ten years ago. The reason is not that the number of cattle is so much smaller than it was ten years ago, but that the land has now been taken up for homesteads, and the cattle are on inclosed farms and ranches. The census shows further that the number of sheep in the west has increased 6,000,000, being now 28,000,000. The northwest appears to be turning from hogs to sheep for profit, there being only 4,000,000 swine in that region in place of the 8,000,000 told of by the last census.

$50 Cash.

For the best shots of The Dalles For full particulars call at the shooting gallery No. 88 Second St. Don't fail to make a record.

Nebraska corn at Joles Bros.

Lard in bulk at Central Market. For coughs and colds use 2379. Lots at North Dalles at acre price. Does S. B. get there? "I should smile." S. B. For elegant holiday presents go to W. E. Garretson's. Oregon Star brand of hams at the Central Market at 15 cents. Look out for the new hotel at North Dalles. Portland capital is going in at North Dalles. C. E. Dunham will cure your headache, cough or pain for 50 cents, S. B. North Dalles property for a good investment. Sliced hams, boneless hams, ham sausage and dried fish at Central Market. New manufactories are going in at North Dalles. 2379 is the cough syrup for children. North Dalles now is your chance before they advance. Get me a cigar from that fine case at Snipes & Kinersley's. Joles Bros.' is the boss place to buy groceries. For bargains in all lines of men's wear go to MACEachern & MacLEODS. Fine watches, jewelry and silverware, the very handsomest of Christmas presents at W. E. Garretson's. The sales of lots in North Dalles last week were big. Our best citizens are buying them. You need not cough! Blakeley & Houghton will cure it for 50 cents. S. B. $15,000.00 in Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc., to be sold at cost, at MACEachern & MacLEODS. The finest stock of silverware ever brought to The Dalles at W. E. Garretson's, Second street. Snipes & Kinersley are anxious to cure your headache for 50 cents. S. B. One of the largest tanneries west of the Mississippi river will be located at North Dalles and at least two other large institutions in the near future. All of our Immense Stock must be sold regardless of Cost, as we are Closing out our business in The Dalles. MACEachern & MacLEOD. North Dalles lots are selling fast and are being taken at Portland very freely.

For the New City on the Columbia River. It is now a moral certainty that very soon North Dalles is to receive another enterprise of greater importance to it than the one already started and our people must not be surprised if, at least, two manufactories are soon put underway. Mr. O. D. Taylor accompanied by a gentleman from Portland leave for the east on an extended trip, in a few days and on their return we shall expect to see lively times at North Dalles. Back of the proposition at North Dalles are men who are quietly working out the rapid development of the north side of the river. They are financially strong and able to put into practical operation improvements of very large magnitude. The next ninety days will change the appearance at North Dalles and our people will then know what we meant when we advised them to purchase something in this young city.

Peasant women in Japan. They are much the same today as their Ancestress Were Centuries Ago. The peasant woman, clad summer and winter in the same dress of blue cotton, and hardly distinguishable afar from her husband, who wears his hair in a knot like hers and is clad in a robe of the same color—the peasant woman who is daily seen bowing over her toil in the tea fields or in the liquid mud of the rice swales, protected by a rough hat on days when the sun burns, and having her head completely enveloped when the north wind blows by a dreadful muffler, always blue, that only leaves the almond eyes to view—the small and funny peasant woman of Japan, wherever she may be sought for, even in most remote districts of the interior, is incontestably much more refined than our peasant woman of the west. She has pretty hands and pretty delicate feet; a mere touch would suffice to transform her into one of those ladies that are painted on vases or transparent screens, and there would be little left to teach her of mannered graces, of affectations of all sorts. She almost always cultivates a pretty garden around her ancient cottage of wood, whose interior, garnished with white mats, is scrupulously clean. Her household utensils, her little cups, her little pots, her little dishes, instead of being, as with us, of common earthenware daubed with brilliant flowers, are of transparent porcelain decorated with those light and fine paintings that bear witness of themselves to a long heredity of art. She arranges with original taste the altar of her humble ancestors. Finally, she knows how to arrange in her own vases, with the least spray of verdure, slender bouquets that the most artistic among our women would hardly be capable of composing. She may possibly be more honest than her sister of the cities and her life may be more regular—from our European point of view, of course; she is also more reserved with strangers, more timid, with a sort of mistrust and dislike of the intruders, notwithstanding her amiable welcome and her smiles. In the villages of the interior, far from the recent railroads and from all modern importations, in places where the millenary immobility of the land has not been disturbed, the peasant woman has probably changed but little from what must have been, several centuries ago, her most remote ancestor, whose soul, vanished in time, has even ceased to hover over the family altar. At the barbaric periods of our western history when our mothers still preserved something of the grand and wild rudeness of primitive times, there lived doubtless yonder, in those isles at the east of the ancient world, these same little peasant women, so polite and so mincing, and also these same little ladies of the cities, so civilized, with their adorable courtesies. -Pierre Loti in Harper's.

He Wished She Was a Centipede. A party was given in St. Louis to which was invited a noble but bashful cowboy. He was a good looking fellow, and one of the young ladies present kindly took an interest in him and tried to make him feel at ease. He fell desperately in love at once, and the hostess, noticing this, encouraged him all she could. In leaving the house the young lady who had taken a friendly interest in the cowboy forgot her overshoes and the hostess told the young Lochinvar from the plains that he might return them to the girl if he wished. The herder leaped at the chance, and presented himself in due time at the young lady's house. She was surprised to see him, but greeted him cordially. "You forgot your overshoes last night," said he awkwardly, handing her the package. She thanked him and opened it. "Why, there's only one overshoe here," she exclaimed. "Yes, miss," said the blushing vaquero earnestly, "I'll bring around the other one to-morrow, and I only wish, miss, that you were a centipede." -St. Louis Republic.

Characteristic Autographs. Count Enzenberg, the Hessian charge d'affaires in France, had one hobby—the collecting of autographs of famous men. On one of the pages of the Hessian's album the statesman Guizot had written: "All through my long career I have learned to forgive much and often, but to forget nothing." The sentiment is not a Christian one, nor is it notable for its worldly wisdom. It is strange that Guizot, who was a professed Christian and reputed to be worldly wise, should have written it. His rival Thiers must have noticed the inconsistency, for underneath it he wrote: "A little shortness of memory cannot detract from the sincerity of forgiveness." Bismarck, while Prussian ambassador at Paris, being asked to write something on the same page, wrote: "As for myself, existence has taught me to forget many things, and to get myself forgiven for a great many more." -Youth's Companion.

No Venomous Beetles. Of more than 40,000 species of beetles widely diffused over the earth's surface not one is known to be venomous, or possessed of a sting. Butterflies and moths have no mouths to eat with, only a proboscis to extract sweet juices from flowers. Neither do they grow after assuming the winged state. When in the caterpillar state they are voracious eaters. A company of some species will strip a whole tree within a single day. -St. Louis Republic.

There is paid out of the national treasury $120,000 annually to residents of Canada, many of whom have not seen the United States since they were mustered out at Washington at the close of the war.

There is a specimen of the hairy crab in the British museum which, though not larger than a walnut, is saddled by a sponge as large as a three pound tomato can.

YOU NEED BUT ASK

THE S. B. HEADACHE AND LIVER CURE taken according to directions will keep your Blood, Liver and Kidneys in good order. THE S. B. COUGH CURE for Colds, Coughs and Croup, in connection with the Headache Cure, is no less perfect as anybody knows. THE S. B. ALPHA PAIN CURE for internal and external use, in Neuralgia, Toothache, Cramp Colic and Cholera Morbus, is unsurpassed. They are well liked wherever known. Manufactured at Dufur, Oregon. For sale by all druggists.

FRENCH & CO., BANKERS.

TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS

Letters of Credit issued available in the Eastern States.

Sight Exchange and Telegraphic Transfers sold on New York, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco, Portland Oregon, Seattle Wash., and various points in Oregon and Washington.

Collections made at all points on favorable terms.

JAMES FERGUSEN, EXPRESS - WAGON.

Furniture Moving a Specialty. Leave Orders at Fish & Bardon's, The Dalles.

H. STONEMAN, Next door to Columbia Candy Factory. Boots and Shoes Made to Order, and REPAIRED. Satisfaction Guaranteed. Quick Work. Prices Reasonable.

F. TAYLOR, PROPRIETOR OF THE City Market.

PEASANT WOMEN IN JAPAN.

They are much the same today as their Ancestress Were Centuries Ago. The peasant woman, clad summer and winter in the same dress of blue cotton, and hardly distinguishable afar from her husband, who wears his hair in a knot like hers and is clad in a robe of the same color—the peasant woman who is daily seen bowing over her toil in the tea fields or in the liquid mud of the rice swales, protected by a rough hat on days when the sun burns, and having her head completely enveloped when the north wind blows by a dreadful muffler, always blue, that only leaves the almond eyes to view—the small and funny peasant woman of Japan, wherever she may be sought for, even in most remote districts of the interior, is incontestably much more refined than our peasant woman of the west. She has pretty hands and pretty delicate feet; a mere touch would suffice to transform her into one of those ladies that are painted on vases or transparent screens, and there would be little left to teach her of mannered graces, of affectations of all sorts. She almost always cultivates a pretty garden around her ancient cottage of wood, whose interior, garnished with white mats, is scrupulously clean. Her household utensils, her little cups, her little pots, her little dishes, instead of being, as with us, of common earthenware daubed with brilliant flowers, are of transparent porcelain decorated with those light and fine paintings that bear witness of themselves to a long heredity of art. She arranges with original taste the altar of her humble ancestors. Finally, she knows how to arrange in her own vases, with the least spray of verdure, slender bouquets that the most artistic among our women would hardly be capable of composing. She may possibly be more honest than her sister of the cities and her life may be more regular—from our European point of view, of course; she is also more reserved with strangers, more timid, with a sort of mistrust and dislike of the intruders, notwithstanding her amiable welcome and her smiles. In the villages of the interior, far from the recent railroads and from all modern importations, in places where the millenary immobility of the land has not been disturbed, the peasant woman has probably changed but little from what must have been, several centuries ago, her most remote ancestor, whose soul, vanished in time, has even ceased to hover over the family altar. At the barbaric periods of our western history when our mothers still preserved something of the grand and wild rudeness of primitive times, there lived doubtless yonder, in those isles at the east of the ancient world, these same little peasant women, so polite and so mincing, and also these same little ladies of the cities, so civilized, with their adorable courtesies. -Pierre Loti in Harper's.

He Wished She Was a Centipede. A party was given in St. Louis to which was invited a noble but bashful cowboy. He was a good looking fellow, and one of the young ladies present kindly took an interest in him and tried to make him feel at ease. He fell desperately in love at once, and the hostess, noticing this, encouraged him all she could. In leaving the house the young lady who had taken a friendly interest in the cowboy forgot her overshoes and the hostess told the young Lochinvar from the plains that he might return them to the girl if he wished. The herder leaped at the chance, and presented himself in due time at the young lady's house. She was surprised to see him, but greeted him cordially. "You forgot your overshoes last night," said he awkwardly, handing her the package. She thanked him and opened it. "Why, there's only one overshoe here," she exclaimed. "Yes, miss," said the blushing vaquero earnestly, "I'll bring around the other one to-morrow, and I only wish, miss, that you were a centipede." -St. Louis Republic.

Characteristic Autographs. Count Enzenberg, the Hessian charge d'affaires in France, had one hobby—the collecting of autographs of famous men. On one of the pages of the Hessian's album the statesman Guizot had written: "All through my long career I have learned to forgive much and often, but to forget nothing." The sentiment is not a Christian one, nor is it notable for its worldly wisdom. It is strange that Guizot, who was a professed Christian and reputed to be worldly wise, should have written it. His rival Thiers must have noticed the inconsistency, for underneath it he wrote: "A little shortness of memory cannot detract from the sincerity of forgiveness." Bismarck, while Prussian ambassador at Paris, being asked to write something on the same page, wrote: "As for myself, existence has taught me to forget many things, and to get myself forgiven for a great many more." -Youth's Companion.

No Venomous Beetles. Of more than 40,000 species of beetles widely diffused over the earth's surface not one is known to be venomous, or possessed of a sting. Butterflies and moths have no mouths to eat with, only a proboscis to extract sweet juices from flowers. Neither do they grow after assuming the winged state. When in the caterpillar state they are voracious eaters. A company of some species will strip a whole tree within a single day. -St. Louis Republic.

There is paid out of the national treasury $120,000 annually to residents of Canada, many of whom have not seen the United States since they were mustered out at Washington at the close of the war.

There is a specimen of the hairy crab in the British museum which, though not larger than a walnut, is saddled by a sponge as large as a three pound tomato can.

NORTH * DALLES, * Wash.

In the last two weeks large sales of lots have been made at Portland, Tacoma, Forest Grove, McMinnville and The Dalles. All are satisfied that

NORTH DALLES

Is now the place for investment. New Manufactories are to be added and large improvements made. The next 90 days will be important ones for this new city.

Call at the office of the Interstate Investment Co., 72 Washington St., PORTLAND, Or. O. D. TAYLOR, THE DALLES, Or.

JOLES BROS., DEALERS IN:

Staple and Fancy Groceries,

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Cheap Express Wagons Nos. 1 and 2.

Orders left at the Store will receive prompt attention. Trunks and Packages delivered to any part of the City. Wagons always on hand when Trains or Boat arrives.

No. 122 Cor. Washington and Third. Sts.

Clearance Sale!

For the Purpose of Disposing of our

Fall and Winter Millinery,

Will Sell so CHEAP that it will pay you to have a new hat if only for "Looks."

MRS. PHILLIPS, 81 THIRD STREET.

The Dalles, - - - - Oregon.

H. P. GLASIER, DEALER IN:

Fine Cigars and Tobacco

Pipes, Cigarettes and Smokers' Notions.

GO TO THE SMOKER'S EMPORIUM.

109 Second St., The Dalles.

Grandall & Burget,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

Undertakers and Embalmers.

NO. 166 SECOND STREET.

* I. C. NICKELSEN, * DEALER IN:

STATIONERY, NOTIONS,

BOOKS AND MUSIC.

Cor. of Third and Washington Sts., The Dalles, Oregon.