INDIANS DO NOT FIGHT.

The News from Pine Ridge Indicates that the Hostiles will Surrender their Arms and Not Fight.
The Kansas Legislature Passes a Bill to Provide Coal for their Suffering Constituents.
THE LATEST STRIKE.

Both Sides Claim to be Gaining Strength.
CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The striking telegraphers on the St. Paul road claim to be gaining ground and that fifty men left their work at noon to-day. Chief Thurston says the road is running passenger trains on comparatively good time, but freights are greatly impeded.
General Manager Earling says that only seventy-two men are out and their places can be filled. As the strikers show letters and telegrams from 350 men who have gone out it is evident that the general manager is not well posted.

FROM THE RIDGE.
No Apparent Fear of the Bloodiest Indian Battle on Record.
PINE RIDGE, Jan. 17.—A council between the friendly and hostile Indians have tended to quiet the anxiety of many of the white people and to assure the Indians that their fear of being massacred by the soldiers is without foundation.
Everybody to-day seems to feel that the trouble has been brought to a close. Up to noon to-day seventy-one guns were turned in by the hostiles. More weapons are expected to-morrow.
A council is to be held this afternoon to consider the separation of the tribes.
UNEQUAL TO THE TASK.

The Traffic Managers Fail to Come to an Agreement.
CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The traffic managers of the western roads have proved unequal to the task of establishing territorial divisions to the western traffic association. They were in session for three hours this morning and got no further than an informal discussion of the subject.
Every effort to reach an agreement on material points territorial boundary lines met with objection. The upshot of the whole discussion of the matter was referred to the commissioners association. The traffic managers adjourned in disgust.
Want an Adjustment of Rates.
CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—The lines engaged in the traffic to the west received notice from the board of trade and transportation bureau at Salt Lake that a delegation will soon call on them to ask for an adjustment of rates to that city. They claim to have received no concessions since the first Pacific road was built, while points further away, in Oregon, Washington and California have been given material reductions.
Sealers Preparing for Business.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Resident owners of sealing vessels are busily at work making preparations for the coming season. A new departure will be the introduction of steam launches in the business, two of which will be carried by the schooner Henry Dennis. The Dennis is now at Seattle, but will sail for this port to engage hunters and receive her steam launches. The schooner Mattie Dyer, which was seized last year, and the schooner Helen Blum are also fitted.

Kansas Sends Coal to her Destitute People.
TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 17.—The house this morning passed the senate resolution providing for a supply of coal to be sent to destitute people in northwestern Kansas from the penitentiary coal mines. There is nothing in the report that the senate will adjourn sine die to prevent the election of an U. S. Senator.
A Disastrous Blaze.
PALMER, Mass., Jan. 17.—The main part of the dye house of the Palmer mills of the Otis Co., at Three Rivers was burned this morning and two employes perished.
Loss on the mill $20,000.
The Colorado Legislative Row.
DENVER, Jan. 17.—There is but little excitement to-day over the legislative row. The hall is still in possession of Pinkertons and deputy sheriffs. The probabilities are that a compromise will be effected next week.
Very Important.
APIA SAMOA, Jan. 17.—The long expected Chief Justice of Samoa, Mr. Odarkrantz, has arrived.
San Francisco Market.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. Jan. 17.—Wheat buyer 91, season $1.47 1/2.

INDEED A BLACK SHEEP.

How Gullible Colonists From Minnesota Parted With Their Money.
TACOMA, Jan. 15.—The local colony of former residents of Stillwater, Minn., have been fleeced recently to the tune of about $400 by the "black sheep" representative of a prominent family of that city. D. B. Staples, or "Dave," as he is more familiarly known, is the son of millionaire Staples, the lumber king of Stillwater. As a boy he was wild and as he grew older he was wilder, which in a short time developed into something more than the usual rich man's son's escapades, and he shot his man in a dispute over a horse race. This caused his arrest, and all his father's money could not save him from conviction. About three months ago Dave Staples arrived in Tacoma with no apparent purpose except to enjoy himself. He made it his business to become acquainted with the former Stillwater residents, and with them he made no concealment of his past history, but always said: "The old man will always look out for me." After he had been in the city a few weeks he secured occasional loans from the colonists, many of whom had formerly been in the employ of his father, and when they suggested payment he said: "The old man will send me some money in a few days," and then asked for a further loan. The Stillwater colony became alarmed a few days ago when they heard that he was about to leave Tacoma for the east. They looked him up and asked him about it, but he said that he was going to remain in Tacoma until spring. One of his creditors, his landlord, W. J. Chance, had little confidence in his promises, and swore out a warrant for his arrest for a $46 board bill. In some way young Staples got wind of it and took the next train for parts unknown, and eluded the constable with the warrant. The Stillwater colony mourns his loss, but will write a letter to the millionaire father, asking reimbursement of their losses.
A TRUE HEROINE.
With All the Crew Sick She Brings the Boat to Port.
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The steamship Alva, from Port Simon, Hayti, arrived here to-day and brought to this city Miss Maud Annis, daughter of the captain of the bark James H. Hamlin, who navigated the vessel and took her safely to port while her father and the crew were suffering from fever. Miss Annis is eighteen years old, slight of stature, has black hair and sparkling eyes. She was very modest when spoken to about her heroic act. Three weeks ago the bark was reported by the steamship Newport as being off Navassa, December 12, with all hands ill with yellow fever. One man stood at the wheel despite his sickness. The Hamlin left St. Lucia for Mobile November 30. Two days after leaving, the crew began to complain of illness, one by one. On the fifth day the captain diagnosed the complaint as yellow fever. Texas Smith, the first mate, was the first to succumb to the disease. December 2 he died and was buried at sea. Three days later two more of the crew took to their berths. December 10 Captain Annis had to follow the others, leaving the care of the vessel to the second mate and his daughter. The latter took her place at the wheel while the mate adjusted the sails. The Newport hove in sight December 15. The steamer was signalled that they were sick and that food had given out. The surgeon was sent from the Newport together with some food. Captain Annis wanted the steamer to tow him to port, but this the captain could not do. He offered to put a man on board to pilot the vessel, but that Captain Annis did not want, and the steamer went on her way. Miss Annis and the mate continued to work the vessel until near Aux Cayes, when the former fell ill. A pilot happened along just in time to take charge of the bark and take it to port. Miss Annis was taken to the house of the British consul, where she remained for two weeks, until she recovered.

Must be Expected.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Secretary Windom has decided that all foreign cattle imported into the United States, whether for consumption or for transit, must undergo veterinary inspection by officers of the agricultural department. This rule does not apply to American cattle passing through Canada in bond, whether intended for domestic consumption or export.
Will be Sold.
MAYFIELD, Cal., Jan. 15.—Eight palace cars with 128 horses were shipped from the Stanford ranch this evening, consigned to P. C. Kellogg, New York. They are the get of Electioneer, Clay, Whips, Woolsey and Ansel.

NATIONAL BASEBALL MATTERS.
Joint Meeting of the League and Association Delegates.
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Delegates from the National League and American Association met again to-day. The difficulty in freezing out the Toledo, Syracuse and Rochester clubs seems to have been bridged over. Rochester is willing to drop out and has been brought in. The Toledo club may be bought by the association to-day. Differences in the national league are still serious, as the Boston magnates are still obdurate in the demand that they be allowed the whole field to themselves. They are fighting to keep out the association franchise. It is not thought a settlement will be reached by the League to-day, but the associations seem to have business well under way for a conclusion.
The American association met this morning, but adjourned again until 3 o'clock. The Toledo club's injunction against the association was waived, pending the prospective settlement of their claims.

Matters in Congress.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—After sitting all night the senate is still in session at 10:30 a. m. Faulkner concluded his speech against the election bill, having held the floor for almost twelve hours. Stewart has given notice of a motion to recommit elections bill with instructions to the committee to report it back with a provision for the election of members of congress on days when no other elections are held in the several states.
The senate has rejected the amendment offered by Vest by a vote of thirty-two to twenty-five. Teller, Wolcott, Washburn, and Stanford voted with their republican colleagues, leaving democratic vote a strict party one.
The republican majority determined to adjourn about 3 o'clock, until Monday night. At that time the continuous session had lasted two hours. The session is unprecedented in length for many years, meanwhile they are meaning to have caucus Monday night, to determine further order of procedure.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS:
A Business Change.
Mr. Robert Mays has purchased the stock and business of the firm of Abrams & Stewart, one of the largest and best equipped hardware firms in Eastern Oregon. An inventory of stock is now being taken and as soon as this can be completed which will be probably about the 1st of February, Mr. Mays will take possession.
The masquerade last night was a success financially and otherwise of which Jackson Engine Co., may justly feel proud. There were thirty-six masks, and the hall was filled to its utmost capacity with spectators. There were several elegant costumes but as we cannot mention each as being the most beautiful, we are compelled to forego the pleasure of mentioning any except the party winners. We know The Dalles and know when we are well off. Mrs. Richard Barker, as a Spanish girl, took first prize, a plush work case. Mrs. Mat Blazen, as nurse girl, securing the second, plush collar and cuff box; Julius Fisher, as a marine, took first gentleman's prize, a gold headed cane, and Julius Wiley as North Dalles tramp, a fine bronze table gong. Everybody was well pleased with the evening's entertainment, and we are glad indeed to note the fact.

The question has been asked: "In what respect are St. Patrick's Pills better than any other?" Try them you will find that they produce a pleasanter cathartic effect, are more certain in their action, and they not only physic but cleanse the whole system and regulate the liver and bowels. For sale at 25 cents per box by Snipes & Kinersla.
The bishop of Bedford, England, submits a proposition barring clerks from matrimony who do not earn sufficient salary to keep a wife respectably. He estimates that 150,000 clerks in London receive an average of 17 shillings, or $3.50 a week. American clerks who receive from $12 to $18 per week have much to congratulate themselves on after all.

A teacher in the LaGrande school was telling her pupils about some mummies having been recently exhumed in Egypt, when a stupid girl raised her hand and said: "Please, Mr. am, were they dead?" She is still wondering why it was the class smiled.
