LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

A. J. Wall, of Eight Mile, made us a pleasant call to-day.

Fifteen cars were loaded with wheat from Moody's warehouse Wednesday.

Frank W. Mitchell, head bookkeeper for Mitchell & Lewis of Portland, is in the city.

Sidney Young returned this morning from Salem where he has been visiting friends for several days.

J. A. Anderson shipped two double-decked carloads of sheep to the school and Victoria Wednesday night.

School Superintendent Shelby who has been visiting the school at Cascade Locks came up on this morning's train.

Deerhake who shot himself some time ago, is nearly recovered and we understand expects to start home in a few days.

Mr. Henry Deckert, who fell down the stairs at the Jackson House Monday is paralyzed on his right side from the injuries received.

The forfeited railroad lands are now open for settlement and Mr. Hugh Gourlay, made the first application at this office under the new law to-day.

We had the pleasure of examining specimens of coal from the Ross mines yesterday. They were shown by Mr. Norton, and are certainly of excellent quality. Captain George Thompson tried some of this coal in his home and is highly pleased with it, claiming it is nearly as good as Chamberlain's. An article elsewhere in this issue is good reading on this subject.

A copy of the instructions which will be issued to the registrars and receivers of the land office has been received by Thornbury & Hudson from their correspondents in Washington. It is therefore probable that the instructions will be in the land offices before many days, together with a list of lands subject to entry under the homestead act. It is probable the maps and descriptions of land are what cause the seemingly unnecessary delay.

Mr. Geo. W. Smith brought to this office to-day a specimen of both wheat and barley grown on Mr. W. N. Crawford's place in Klickitat county, seven miles from The Dalles. The specimens were grown in the field, and they are both headed out. The stalks are eighteen inches in length and can be seen in the windows of the Chronicle office, an unanswerable argument on the equableness of our climate, and prolific character of our soil.

The Oregonian has the largest circulation of any daily, Sunday or weekly paper west of the Rocky mountains, and in order to further increase its circulation they have selected with great care, a large list of valuable books, and other useful articles and are offering them, as premiums to each new subscriber to any of its several issues for yearly subscriptions. The Oregonian should be in every household. Send for premium list to the Oregonian Publishing Company, Portland, Oregon.

For a cut, bruise, burn or scald, there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It heals the parts more quickly than any other application, and unless the injury is very severe, no scar is left. For sale by Snipes & Kinersley.

Board of Trade Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Board of trade to-night at 8 o'clock sharp. Business of great importance is to be transacted and every member is requested to be present.

The question has been asked, "In what respect are St. Patrick's Pills better than any other?" Try them. You will find that they produce a pleasanter cathartic effect, are more certain in their action, and that they not only physic but cleanse the whole system and regulate the liver and bowels. For sale at 25 cents per box by Snipes & Kinersley.

Wife of Another Man.

New Ross, Jan. 22.—Suzette T. Lamson decided this afternoon that the marriage of Eva L. Hamilton to Robert Ray Hamilton was void and that she is still the wife of Mann.

DIED.

In this city Jan. 22d, at 10 o'clock a. m. Mrs. Nettie Bost. The funeral took place this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bost moved here from the Big Bend, during the winter. Mrs. Bost is the daughter of John Hinkle of Silverton. She leaves a family of five children.

General Booth is confident of completing the $100,000 required for his scheme to redeem "Darkest England" next week. He has arranged to hold on the 30th Thanksgiving services in Exeter hall. It will be in some sense a service of exultation over the Times, and other enemies that have tried to prevent him from getting money.

A Splendid Guard Mount.

The "guard mount" and hop of A and C companies of the 3d regiment at the Army last night was a brilliant affair. By the time the assembly sounded, 8:30, the big Army was filled except the space reserved for the "sojer boys." Four hundred and fifty chairs had been provided but they would not seat half the crowd. At 8:45 "guard mount" commenced, the boys going through the drill in an excellent manner, and showing an increased proficiency in drill. The new 3d Regiment band furnished the music, and although it has been practicing but a few months did exceedingly well.

After "guard mount" Professor Birgefield's band came in, and about seventy couples took part in the grand march. In one quadrille forty-two sets were on the floor, and yet the crowd around the Army did not seem to be diminished. Dancing was kept up until after 1 o'clock this morning. It was certainly the largest crowd that ever attended a social gathering in this city, and A and C Company can justly feel proud of the interest taken in them. It was the best Guard Mount we ever saw outside of the army, showing that both officers and men are taking a deep interest in their work, and indicating that the 3d intends to make the other regiments of the state "get in and drill" if they expect to rank according to their numbers.

The Railroad Land Has Gone Back.

The U. S. land office is now receiving filings on railroad lands and we are prepared to make out all necessary papers.

THORNBURY & HUDSON.

The Dalles, Or., Jan. 22, 1891.

Ladies wishing to have first-class work done in dressmaking will please call on Mrs. C. L. Schmidt, Masonic block, Third street.

From Society to Socialism.

Speaking of ministers reminds me of a little story I heard recently. Hugh O. Pentecost, who started out as a Baptist preacher, broke away from his church, ran for mayor of Newark, N. J., and is now editor of Twentieth Century. He married a very prominent society girl of Hartford, Conn., about ten years ago. Their wedding was a very swell affair. Afterward Mr. Pentecost accepted a pulpit in Brooklyn at a salary of $10,000 a year. Everything seemed bright for the young couple. The wife was handsome and popular, the preacher was eloquent, earnest and successful.

A few nights ago some old friends of Mrs. Pentecost, who had known her in the days when she shone as a society belle, went to hear her husband address a crowd of workmen on the east side. Imagine their astonishment when Mrs. Pentecost came out on the stage and, attired in a most striking garb, sang to the assemblage a revolutionary song. She has been a most loyal wife. She has supported her husband in every step he has taken, and has been of great service to him in his rather peculiar career. Considering her former life as a society woman, her present career as a singer of socialistic songs is picturesque.—New York Cor. Kansas City Journal.

Mrs. N. E. Bragg, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, recently laid the cornerstone of the new Y. M. C. A. building at Bangor, Me. Of the $40,000 so far paid in on the building, find the women of Bangor have given $18,600, and it is to be hoped that young women will share with young men the advantages of the building when completed.

Mrs. Olive Washburn, of San Francisco, is about to devote the bulk of her fortune to founding a Nationalist colony in California. Bellamy's "Looking Backward" theories are to be followed, and all people of good moral character will be admitted, irrespective of religious belief. Over $100,000 will be spent in buildings and improvements.

Instead of wintering at Corfu, as was her original intention, it is very likely that the empress of Austria will go to the West Indian in a few weeks, in which case she will probably cruise on this side of the Atlantic during the greater portion of next year. The empress has conceived a wish to visit Cuba, Jamaica and Mexico.

One of the three daughters of John D. Rockefeller, while a student at Vassar, had a handsome allowance in the way of money from home. Instead of spending this on rich gowns and apartments she paid for two years the tuition and expenses of a girl from the country who was not able to pay them herself.

For lovers of condiments and highly spiced dishes it is a simple thing to work up a French dressing into an entirely different article by adding a pinch of celery sauce, a dish of curry, or horseradish, a few drops of caper or Worcestershire sauce and a spoonful of French mustard.

Four years ago Miss Lena Woodard, living on Thora creek, Wash., sowed the seed from one head of barley. She harvested the crop with a pair of shears, and sowed the amount received the next year, again harvesting it with her shears. The third crop her father cut with a grass-cythe, getting enough barley from this crop to sow forty acres last spring, which averaged forty bushels to the acre when thrashed, making a total yield of 1,600 bushels from one head of barley in four years.

The civil service commission has taken a very smooth way of calling John Wannamaker a liar. John stated some time ago that one-third to one-fourth of the men furnished by the commission, have not proved satisfactory. The commission shows that nine-tenths of these men are still kept in the service, also that the figures of Wannamaker's own report contradicted themselves.

You can safely judge a man by the class of men who put him on the back. A sausage skin is a ground hog cage.

Queer Contents of His Brain.

Alliance, Box Butte county, Neb., furnishes a case for surgeons, and scientists to study over. Sunday Adelbert Higby, a boy, 16 years of age, residing in that place, was out hunting with a rusty old shotgun. The gun exploded, striking the boy in the forehead just above the right eye, crushing the skull. Through the aid of a companion who was with him the lad was taken home and Dr. W. H. Smith was summoned.

At sight of the wound the doctor was surprised to find the boy alive, but judge of his amazement when, probing the wound, he found an old rusty screw that had been in the stock imbedded fully an inch and a half in the brain. Further probing brought to light two pieces of the boy's hat brim and four pieces of the skull bone, the largest of which was nearly the size of a silver dollar. In the operation the doctor also found it necessary to remove about half an ounce of the brain itself. It is something, no surgical authority has recorded as possible. But here it is proved. The injured boy has been conscious ever since the accident, and unless blood poisoning sets in he stands every chance of recovering.—St. Joseph News.

The Kindly Mastiff Spoke for Her.

That was a fine passage between the executive of Kentucky and the wife of the condemned man, who went to Frankfort, Friday to ask for a pardon. She had presented her papers and sat breathless while the arbiter of her fate perused them; and, as she waited, a mastiff, the playmate of the governor's little son—a beast not given to strangers—uncoiled himself from the rug, where he had been lying, and came up in that friendly way which only dogs know how to affect, with perfect sincerity, and, seeing suspense and pain in the agitated features of the poor woman, he put his paws gently upon her knees and began to lick her hands. The governor finished the papers, and the petitioner was about to speak when the grim old soldier said: "It is not necessary, madam; the dog has spoken for you," and straightaway signed the document which was to release a dying man from prison and enable him to go to his grave from his own home.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Path of Storms.

A method is now on trial at the meteorological office at Stockholm which seems likely to throw some light on a subject which hitherto has been attended with much uncertainty, namely, the determination of the path taken by storms. From the telegraphic weather reports tables of the density of the atmosphere have been constructed, and other data have been collected which have been embodied in special charts. These charts are found to give more reliable clue to the movements and origin of cyclones than the usual method of the comparison of isobars and isotherms alone. The latest investigations show that storms move in the direction of the warmest and dampest air parallel to the lines of equal density leaving the rarest air to the right hand.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Red Noah.

The Mesquah craze, among the Indians of the north, west and northwest, revives interest in anything that pertains to the queer delusions and beliefs that have been life among the different tribes for the past century. It is remembered now that, in 1889 the Sampoels, a small tribe in what was then Washington territory, became greatly agitated over the teachings of an old chief who professed to believe that another flood was near at hand. He said that the Great Spirit had commanded him to collect tribute and build an ark that would outride the waves. His great canoe, 112 by 288 feet, is still to be seen in an unfinished condition near one of the tributaries of the Columbia.—St. Louis Republic.

Eighty Days for Eighty Oaths.

Park Wilson, a well known character about town, was sent to jail by Justice Hansman, at Chambersburg, Pa., Dec. 10, for eighty days for swearing eighty profane oaths. Under the Pennsylvania "blue laws" act of 1794 the penalty for profane swearing is sixty-seven cents for each oath, or in default of payment thereof one day in jail for each oath. Wilson would not pay a fine of $7.30 for the oaths indulged in Saturday night, so he went to jail for eighty days. A conviction under the blue laws is a very rare occurrence in Pennsylvania.—Baltimore American.

A Feat in Photography.

Washington commandery, Knights Templar, Hartford, have made arrangements with a photographer to take an immense composite photograph of the members of the commandery. There will be between three and four hundred in the photograph, the front ones being about three-fourths size. The picture will be 64 by 104 feet. It will take about a year to finish it, and the cost will be $1,000. When completed the photograph will be placed in the commandery room.—Boston Transcript.

It is said that Marshal Prim was disgusted with his portrait on horseback painted by Henri Regnault, and asked the artist why he had made him look like a coal heaver. The painter packed up his canvas and left for Paris. Prim was assassinated and Regnault was killed by the Germans before Paris. Now the artists are so fond of the picture that there was a sensation the other day because it was temporarily absent from its place in the Louvre.
