WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, Feb. 6, 1891.
RAIN Weather forecast till 12 m., Saturday; rain or snow. Nearly stationary temperature.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Court meets Monday and will serve to liven things up a little.

Mr. T. F. Wood left for Susanville California this morning.

The westbound passenger arrived here at 9 o'clock this morning.

Mr. George Rice of Boyd made us a pleasant call this morning.

Mrs. M. A. Gordon was appointed postmistress at Wamic Wednesday.

License to wed was today granted to Mr. Elijah Huskey and Miss Artestis Prather.

Mr. George Young of Bake Oven accompanied by his brother arrived here last night.

Dr. Siddall who has been spending the winter in San Francisco arrived home this morning.

The will of the late John Stanley was probated today. It appointed John Marden executor of the estate without bonds.

A slight sprinkle of rain fell last night, but although the conditions for a heavy rainfall were good, the sky is clear again today.

Mr. John Stoddard of Hood River, who has been east for the past winter arrived here today.

This has been a genuine April day, a mixture of sunshine and showers, and the trifling quantity of ice that formed on the ponds here has vanished.

Stock shipments are falling off, although grass-fed beef is still to be had. This is one of the strongest commentaries on our climate that could be possibly be made.

William A. Haining to Ezra Henson, the north half of the northeast quarter; and the southeast quarter of northeast quarter of section 4; township 3 south of range 14 east.

The case of Agnes Hope against John Andrews, is on trial before his honor Justice Schutz and a jury today. The action is brought to recover a balance of account alleged to be due.

China New Year tomorrow, so do not imagine that there is a riot if you hear the big bombs and the red-jacket fire-crackers making the early morning hideous with their warlike noises.

The Capitol Journal says Simons will resort to bribery to carry the amendments to the Australian ballot bill, if necessary. These are bold words and will probably draw Mr. Simons' fire.

Mr. B. Huntington is in Walla Walla representing our board of trade in the waterway convention which met there yesterday. Mr. Huntington is thoroughly posted on all matters liable to come before the convention, and the board could not have sent an abler representative.

Columbia Hose company held its annual meeting last night and elected the following officers: Foreman, J. H. Worsley; first assistant, Claude Cooper; second assistant, E. C. Pease; president, H. J. Maier; secretary, J. S. Fieh; board delegates, E. C. Pease, H. A. Bills, and John Fillion.

The city treasurer reports about $4,900 on hand, as shown by his monthly statement to the council which was filed last Saturday but which the council took no action on until last night, at which time about $3,300 was ordered paid. This will probably satisfy "Enquirer" in yesterday's issue.

Mr. O. B. Whitmore official instructor of the A. O. U. W. delivered a lecture at the Methodist church Wednesday evening which was largely attended. Mr. Whitmore is a pleasant speaker and handled his subject in an able manner. The A. O. U. W. is gaining rapidly and with Mr. Whitmore in the field will increase its membership yet more rapidly.

Company C had a large turnout last evening. Scarcely a meeting passes that new members are not elected, last night being no exception as two were elected. Hereafter the commissioned and non-commissioned officers will meet the captain on Tuesday evenings for theoretical and tactical instruction. The drill last night was in the platoon formation.

Real Estate Transactions.
United States to George A. Young, the east half of the southeast quarter of section 5; the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 4; and the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 9 in township 7 south of range 15 east.

For a cut, bruise, burn or scald, there is nothing equal to Chamberlin's Paint Balm. It heals the parts more quickly than any other application, and unless the injury is very severe, no scar is left. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly.

REVIEW OF THE LOCAL MARKET.

Our review of the market is without interest. In mercantile lines our merchants have been fairly busy in closing up last year's business, and as far as business transactions are concerned, have been satisfactory. The present is fair to average and as the season passes, with the near approach of spring on us, the activity is increasing with each week. Collections for the past month, although a little close, were fair and comparatively easy.

Produce receipts have been limited. Wheat transfers from first hands to the buyer have been in excess of the preceding week. About 3600 cents have been sold and shipped from the Moody warehouse at prices ranging from 53 to 54 cents per bushel. The wheat in the Wasco warehouse, which is on storage, is not being offered for sale, and there has been none received during the past week. Buyers are offering as high as 56 cents per bushel for A1.

Eastern and foreign markets are as fluctuating as ever and to conjecture what the future will bring is idle speculation. Chicago's May delivery quotation is 99½; New York, 1.04½.

Portland's market remains unchanged with a firmer tone its quotation is a little higher. Valley is quoted $1.25@1.26½; Eastern Oregon, $1.15@1.16½.

Dalles market quotes a slight advance since last week .56 for No. 1; .54 for No. 2.

OATS—The oat market is very quiet and offerings limited at quotations. We quote, extra clean $1.50 per cental and inferior $1.35@1.40 per cental.

BARLEY—There is nothing doing in barley. There is none offering. Quote prime brewing $1.05@1.10, feed $1.00@1.05 per cental, sacked.

MILLSTUFFS—The supply is quite sufficient for the demand. We quote bran and shorts $20.00 per ton. Shorts and middlings $22.50@24.00 per ton.

HAY—The hay market is weaker, with lower quotations and want of firmness, owing to the continued warm weather, which has checked the usual demand. Quote, timothy, $17.00 per ton, wheat hay in compressed bales $12.50. Oat hay dull sale at $11.00@12.00. Alfalfa market is without change in former quotation.

POTATOES—Are in moderate supply and are firm at quotation $1.00, common 0.90 per 100 lb.

BUTTER—There is no change in the market for gilt edge and choice shows an advantage for the seller. Quote A 1 0.70, good 0.65, brine 0.40@0.45, common 0.30@0.35 per roll.

EGGS—The market is some firmer than noticed last week, although quotations are unchanged. Quote 0.15@0.18 per dozen.

POULTRY—The poultry market is stiffer since our last quotation, and a still farther advance is looked for as there is a scarcity in supply. We quote, good, average fowls $4.00 per dozen common $3.00@3.50 per dozen. Turkeys 0.10 per lb. Geese 0.90@1.25 each. Ducks 0.35@0.40 each.

WOOL—The market shows no movement or change in the quotations. Eastern Oregon 0.14½@0.16½.

HIDES—Prime dry hides are quoted at 0.04@0.05 per pound. Culls 0.02½@0.03½. Green 0.02. Salt 0.03. Sheep pelts extra 0.75@0.85, ordinary 0.40@0.60 each. Bearskins, No. 1 $8.00 common $2.50.

BEES—Beef on foot clean and prime 0.03, ordinary 0.02½.

MUTTON—Wethers, extra choice $4.00, common $2.75@3.50 per head.

HOGS—Live heavy, 0.04. Medium weight 0.03½, dressed 0.05½@0.05¾. Lard 5 lb. 0.11@10½; 10 lb. 0.10½; 40 lb. 0.08@0.08½c per pound.

W. H. Wilson Esq., The Dalles, Or.
MY DEAR SIR: Yours of the 27th inst. is at hand and contents noted. I have examined copy of bill you enclosed in your letter and it fully meets my approval. I would suggest one matter for your consideration; might it not be better to provide compensation for the one term judge while he is actually engaged in traveling to and from the place of holding court.

I notice a decided improvement in my condition since writing to you last. My doctor asserts positively now that no new complications will arise. I feel better now than at any time since taking sick, in fact I am very much encouraged and expect to return home a well man in the spring.

I am back at the Florence hotel again. We left the place we were staying at on account of a defective sewer.

Again thanking you for the interest you have taken in me during my sickness I remain, very respectfully,
I. H. BRID.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days; during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlin's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from experience with it, he regarded it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly.

For slapping a drummer in the face last week, Willis Kinder, of Waitsburg, was on Monday fined $20 and cost. No doubt, Willis felt aggravated, for drummers are noted all over for their extreme freshness and smart aleckism, and the drummer probably deserved it.

The question has been asked, "In what respect are St. Patrick's Pills better than any other?" Try them. You will find that they produce a pleasanter cathartic effect, are more certain in their action, and that they not only physic but cleanse the whole system and regulate the liver and bowels. A Black Female Samson.

Freedman's Town, a suburb of Houston, Tex., boasts of a female Samson, who has repeatedly proven herself a match for any three men that have pitted their united strength, and who a few nights ago successfully routed Officer John Baxter and three of his assistants, all men of fine physique. The woman is a negro, as black as night and of a stature slightly above average, but magnificently built and extraordinarily active. Her grip was such that she was able to break two of the bones of the hand of the woman with whom she had a fracas recently, and it was on the police attempting to arrest her that she not only was able to prevent them putting the handcuffs on her, but, taking the officer and his posse one by one, flung them out of the house and closed and locked the door.

Baxter, in particular, is accounted a man of unusual strength, and is of large build, but he says his muscles were as a child's when compared with those of the black Amazon. The woman, whose name is Caroline Jenkins, is about 30 years old, and is the mother of seven children. She has been seen to pick up a barrel of flour and carry it a distance of several yards without appearing to overtax herself, and when tested was found to be able to break with ease a new grass rope an inch in diameter. Since her exploit with the police it is said that a party of gentlemen propose traveling with her, if she will go, and give exhibitions of her strength, which is to be ascribed to no electrical or magnetic process, but to her muscular development alone.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Out Partridge Hunting.
"Did you ever go a partridge hunting, and tramp all day through the brush, tear your clothes half off, get wetter'n a drowned rat, fall in the mud and never see so much as a feather?" queried a well known gunner.

"No, indeed. When and where did all this happen?"

"Up in Sardinia the other day. Ed Andrews, the crack shot of that town, invited me to come up there and go shooting, claiming that the birds were thicker in the woods along Cattaragus creek than honey bees in a sweet clover patch. Of course I went; but I came home all broke up."

"And you didn't get a feather?"

"Nary a one. Tried to shoot a chicken on a hen roost, but the farmer caught me at it and chased me four miles without a let up. Andrews killed a chipping bird and a red squirrel, that's all."

"But you brought home some birds?"

"Very true, I bought them on the market, the same as the other Buffalo boys do. Let's see, it cost me about $30 in cash, and I've got to buy a new suit of clothes and a new hat. Bet your boots I don't go partridge shooting again. Tired? I can't walk; am lame all over, and feel like a second edition scarecrow. Andrews walked me all over four towns; wanted me to invest in real estate, too, and all that; talked about their great race track and the metropolitan Sardinia city of 1990, and filled me so full of glorious enthusiasm that my head is cracked from ear to ear. Fun? Well, I should snicker, but one dose will last the lifetime of Methuselah!"—Buffalo Commercial.

Another Bear Caught by a Cowcatcher.
As the Louisville and Nashville passenger accommodation was passing through Wade's cut, a deep and narrow passage through the rocks, about eight miles east of Milan, Tenn., Engineer George Pendor was surprised to see a big brown bear come into the cut at the west end, about ten rods away. The bear stopped directly in the middle of the track, facing the engine. The locomotive bearing down upon him seemed to paralyze the bear, and he was perfectly motionless until the engine was within thirty feet of him, when he arose on his haunches preparatory to a spring.

The train was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour through the cut, and seeing that he might wreck the train by a collision with bruin Engineer Pendor shut off steam. As the train came in contact with the bear his hind legs opened, and he fell forward on the cowcatcher, claving savagely at the hard wood. He seemed stunned or bewildered at the strange occurrence, and did not manifest any inclination to get off. He rode into town on the cowcatcher, and was shot and killed.—Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Deceiving Safety Purse.
A safety purse has made its appearance over the ocean. It can be laid down without any fear that the contents will disappear. Many women have an unhappy knack of leaving their purses about, and it is to these that the safety purses appeal. They are a puzzle to the uninitiated. A purse with silver mounts will have the opening spring hidden away in one corner, yet all the corners look the same. The way to open another is to turn the spring right round. Another purse deceives you into the belief that the bottom is the top.—New York Journal.

The original She of Rider Haggard's famous story is said to be a swarthy potentate named Majajai, whose kral was lately re-enforced by certain unprovoked captures from a neighboring tribe. For this offense she was fined £300, and for the greater offense of refusing to pay was mulcted in the sum of £1,000 and 800 head of cattle, which the native commissioner of the Transvaal has now set out to collect from this defiant Boedice with two cannon and a force of armed men.
