THE DALLES, Feb. 14, 1891. Weather forecast till 12 m. Saturday; rain and snow on high altitudes. Stationary temperature.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The East End is remarkably quiet today.

The fire and other bells will ring at 7:30 this evening.

Mr. F. M. Thompson and J. H. Gilmore of Dufur are in the city.

Mr. Orien Kinersly and Dr. J. G. Boyd went to Hood River yesterday.

Miss Dell Crook, of Goldendale, is visiting her sister Mrs. John Filloon.

There is quite a snow fall between here and Portland and the storm still Mr. MacLeod, of the firm of Mac-

Eachern & MacLeod, went to the sound yesterday. The case of Flaherty against the railroad company was taken up at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The board of trade last night decided not to purchase the boats on the upper river, but to build here instead. The jury in the case of Carlsen against the railroad company brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for $3,666.66. Mr. Ben E. Snipes shipped a carload of hogs to Seattle yesterday. There were 81 of them and they weighed 16,000

The wires are down and locals as scarce as hen's teeth; none of the force were on a jamboree last night although we proudly admit that the paper looks like it.

REVIEW OF THE LOCAL MARKET.

There is not many changes to note in our review of the market for the past week. The great anxiety felt about the successful passage of the portage railroad bill for the Cascades, has absorbed everything else at the expense of all kinds of traffic and as a result there has not been much done in business lines. Freight rates have been discussed thoroughly; also the condition in which the producing classes are interested. The high rates charged by the railroad company on grain from the interior of Eastern Oregon to the sea board and the increased rates on ocean tonnage of vessels to foreign markets has put a different phase on the situation and now as a result the greater part of the wheat is going east by rail, instead of west to wood. the metropolis, thereby realizing more for the grain laid down in Chicago, net, than at Portland. The present freight rate on wheat is 101/2 cents per bushel and were the rates reduced to 71/2 cents per bushel, our farmers would realize 59 to 60 cents instead of 56 or 57 cents. An open river from this point to the sea would remedy the evil as far as inland transportation is concerned.

In the present condition of the local wheat market here, there are no changes of importance. The European markets are up and down just as often as cargoes are repored off the coast, and the quotations are correspondingly the same.

Chicago and New York grain quotations are as fluctuating as formerly, with no encouraging features to report. Chicago's May delivery quotation is 9734; New York, 1.0434. Portland's market remains unchanged with a firmer tone. Its quotation is room, Lena Hadley. unchanged. Valley is quoted $1.25@ 1.2614; Eastern Oregon, $1.15@1.1614.

Dalles market has no change to report since last week .56 for No. 1; .54 for No. 2. OATS-The oat market is very quiet and offerings limited at quotations with

The device lately hit upon by a memer of the Paris police force for catching a thief was certainly an ingenious one, but now that the light fingered fraternity know of the trap they will probably be on their guard in future. At one of the large dress warehouses in the Faubourg St. Germain there had been, it appears, for several weeks past a number of robberies committed, and though the strictest watch was kept by the inspectors it had been impossible to 11:45-The Indian and His Wars, Eva discover the thief. In the majority of ses the unknown shoplifter took away with him elegant and costly mantles exposed for sale on dummies in the shop, choosing his time for operating so well that his identity remained a mystery.

The police were at length appealed to, and in order to catch the rogue one or two agents were, at the suggestion of a member of the force, ordered to substitute themselves for the dummies rather, to hide themselves inside their wirework frames. It was not long before the plan succeeded. A day or two since, just as a richly trimmed mantle was being cleverly removed from the shoulders of a dummy, the individual engaged in the act felt himself grasped tightly by a pair of strong arms, and held a prisoner. The shoplifter's fright at finding the dummy to be, so to say, inhabited, was so great that it deprived him of speech and action, and he made no attempt to escape from the constable's grip or to explain away his conduct. He is now lodged in prison, and on any future thieving expedition of this kind he will probably be suspicious of dummies.-London Standard.

Football on the Bowery.

In a shop window on the Bowery is a most realistic and exciting representa-tion of the Yale-Princeton football The back of the window is covered with a strip of canvas painted to represent a grand stand filled with people, and the floor of the window is spread with green stuff to represent grass. The players are dolls dressed in the appropriate costumes and colors of the players, and a lot of them are massed on top of a small football in the center of the field. The names of the players and their po-sitions are posted at the side, with the announcement that these two teams have been engaged to play an exhibition game for the delectation of the employes of the firm making the display. It would be interesting to hear Capt. Poe and Halfback McClung's remarks if they heard they were advertised to play before the cutters and basters of a Bowery clothing store.—New York Evening

A Monster Tuning Fork.

While walking along the new elevated tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad, as a train passed over it at a fair rate of speed, the steel work gave forth a dis-tinct musical sound, as though a great violoncello were stretched from Henderson to Monmouth streets. There was no tremble or jar, or click at the rail joints. Indeed, the sound did not come from the rails, but from the steel girders and pillars, and continued until the locomotive had struck the solid ground six blocks above. The sound is an octave above the deep bass of Niagara falls.

With a long vestibule train the effect will be startling. I venture to predict that the dwellers along the line will not complain of the noise of the passing trains, for, though somewhat loud, it is yet harmoniously musical. Hence it will not disturb anybody. - Philadelphia Bulletin.

Hard Punishment.

Curt Abel, retired corporal in the Wurtemberg contingent of the German army, has been condemned to fourteen days' arrest by a court martial in Frei burg. Abel's offense was that he ex officers on German privates, and enumerated in several sensational pam-phlets cases in which soldiers had been beaten, burned with cigars, and cut with knives by lieutenants in command of them. The ostensible reason of his 276 and 278, Second Street. punishment, however, was that he had observed these abuses without reporting them. Abel's trial and sentence have aroused much indignation in all the German Liberal dailies which consider his treatment a matter of simon pure intimidation.—Berlin Letter.

Marriage at Sight. Robert H. Mitchell, of St. Joseph, Mo., recently advertised for a wife. Miss Alice V. Cammer, of Pennsylvania, a guest of relatives at Clay City, answered. He lost no time in reaching Clay City, and found Miss Cammet young, handsome and of excellent social standing. He had brought with him satisfactory reference. A license was procured, and the two were married at once. They left for their home in St. Joseph, followed by a hundred or more Clay City people, who wished them well. Mr. Mitchell is a school teacher.—Brazil (Ind.) Cor. Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Last of the Hutchinson Family. John W. Hutchinson, of the celebrated Hutchinson family of singers, observed the seventieth anniversary of his birth Monday by a reception from 4 to 10 p. m. at Lynn. Four generations were represented, and many prominent people sent letters of congratulation. Hutchinson, with his sister, Mrs. Abbie Hutchinson Patton, of New York, the sole survivors of the quartet, received the guests, who included prominent people of Lynn, Boston, Salem and New York.-Boston Journal.
