The Funeral of General Sherman Taking Place With Much Pomp and Glory Today.

Governor Pennoyer Vetoes all the Wagon Road Bills—Other Important Legislative Matters.

GENERAL SHERMAN'S FUNERAL

Taking Place With Great Pomp in New York Today.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—New York is today paying every possible tribute of respect to the memory of General Sherman. The dawn of his funeral day opened bright and clear. General business was brought almost to a standstill, from almost every house along the street American flags floated at half mast. There were few visitors in the early hours this morning. Only most intimate friends and a few old soldier were admitted and the latter had to show certificates that they served in the army.

Rev. Thos. Sherman the late general's son whose arrival was so anxiously awaited arrived at the house at 1:30 this morning.

A large floral shield was received at the house from the West Point cadets. The shield was six feet in height and four feet broad and was made of white and blue immortelles and calla lilies.

At 11 o'clock secretaries Blaine, Proctor and Rusk and generals O'Brien, Homer and Ewing arrived at the house.

President Harrison will not look upon the remains of the dead General. He preferred to keep within him the remembrances of the General while alive. He said he did not wish to see him in death when their associations had been so warm and genial.

At 12:25 a caisson draped in black and drawn by four white horses was drawn up in front of the Sherman house. The horses were mounted by regulars and army officers and were in their charge. Behind came the military trappings of the General.

The services of prayer began at noon and were over at 12:30. Prayers were read by Rev. Father Sherman assisted by Rev. Taylor and two other priests.

There were about 150 persons present at the services, the greater number of the relatives and among the friends were Mrs. Grant and Senator Cameron.

The decorations along the route are not so numerous or so elaborate as when General Grant was buried but nevertheless they were strikingly handsome and are in great profusion.

About 2 p. m. six lieutenants appeared in the doorway bearing on their shoulders the casket of the general, which they placed upon the waiting caisson. Members of the family, friends, invited officials and pall bearers then took their places in the carriages and were followed by members of Lafayette post, G. A. R. formed on either side of the caisson.

The procession then commenced to move but very slowly as both sides of the street were crowded with hundreds of carriages waiting to take their place in the line.

At Washington square the parade except the guard of honor and escort of honor and escort of mounted police was dismissed and Lafayette post, having in its center the caisson and black charger, swung into Broadway and marched to Desbrosses street ferry.

The carriages in which were the family, followed closely and all boarded the ferry boat which was in waiting and which took the remains across to Jersey City.

There the body will be placed in a special car and the family and those who are going will occupy another car.

It is announced that a brief burial service of the Catholic church will be conducted at the grave.

A SCENE OF HORROR.

A Mississippi Steamboat Sinks at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 17.—The steamer Sherlock struck the Kentucky pier of the Chesapeake & Ohio bridge, going down the river tonight on a trip to New Orleans. She had on board thirty passengers and about fifty or sixty of the boat's crew. The boat went down and floated down to Fifth street, where she sank. The cabin floated down the river, and at Riverside some of the crew got ashore in a skiff. Some were rescued at Fifth street. It is not known how many are lost. The river was high the wind strong, and as the vessel approached the Chesapeake & Ohio bridge those on deck were horrified to see the boat apparently at the mercy of the current. In a moment more, with a terrible crash the steamer struck the stone bridge, and was immediately disabled. James Pickett observed the accident from the Kentucky shore, and getting all the men he could, manned several boats and went to the rescue. He succeeded in taking off six women and seven men, following the floating vessel as she went down the river. He saw some of the crew swimming ashore. Two were on a raft and he thinks he saw many struggling in the water. When the steamer reached the Fifth street wharf the hull floated. Here some of the people managed to get ashore. The harbor steamer, the A. J. Martin, was hastily sent after the floating cabin and caught it at Riverside, several miles below Cincinnati. As many of the people as were left were taken hastily aboard and brought back. Mrs. McLean, of Pittsburg, was instantly killed by falling freight when the boat struck the bridge.

At Cincinnati it is known definitely that Mrs. McLean, of Pittsburg, and her granddaughter, Margery Brown, were the only two of twenty-one registered passengers lost. Of the nine unregistered passengers, whether all are safe is not sure, but it is believed they are among those who were rescued by the boats. All of the crew except the cabin and deck clerks are believed to have escaped. But there is much uncertainty about the clerks and some roustabouts who were not on the official list. Persons are reported escaping to shore for quite a distance along the river below Covington. The rescued are so scattered about on both sides of the river tonight that it is impossible to make a tally of those missing.

FIGHTING FOR LIFE.

The Louisiana Lottery Company Makes a Desperate Struggle.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18.—Yesterday in the supreme court the mandamus proceeding in the case of John Morris, of the Louisiana lottery, vs. Secretary of State Mason was called for argument. This action was taken by Morris to compel the secretary of state to promulgate the lottery amendment. The act provides for the submission to the voters of the state of the amendment to the constitution by inserting an article relative to schools, levees, asylums, churches, drainage, etc. The bill passed the last legislature by the necessary two-thirds vote, but was vetoed by the governor. Both branches of the legislature refused to consider the governor's veto and ordered the secretary of state to promulgate the amendment. This he refused to do. Morris sued out a writ of mandamus to compel him to do so.

REVERSED THE PROCEDURE.

One of America's First Families Brings Home a Foreign Wife.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Among the arrivals on the Scandia yesterday was one of Buffalo Bill's Indians, who returned with a German wife. Matee Nashi, or Standing Bear, met his wife when he was with the Wild West show in Vienna. Her name was Louisa Riediek; she was a widow with a young child, and was living with her father and mother. Standing Bear is an Ojibwa Sioux, and belonged to Sitting Bull's camp, and is a fine specimen of his race. His wife, aged 24, is a typical German, plump, blonde and not bad looking. She has learned the Sioux language, and so has her child. Mrs. Standing Bear's parents have accompanied her to this country, and will remain if the father can get employment.

SERVICES IN SAN FRANCISCO.

All Business Will be Suspended on Next Saturday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—A public meeting, called by the mayor and board of supervisors to take action regarding Sherman's funeral, was held this morning, and a number of prominent citizens were present. The discussion resulted in an appointment of a committee of arrangements, who shall secure a hall for public services and request the ministers of all churches to hold services both on Saturday, the day of the funeral, at St. Louis and on Sunday. Business men also will be requested to close their places Saturday. The committee will hold a meeting tomorrow.

THE REPORT UNTRUE.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Inquiries made today by the Associated Press reporter at the foreign office in regard to the statement, published at Vienna yesterday, that the English and United States government agreed to submit the Behring sea question to the arbitration of King Humbert, show the report to be untrue.

SADLER NOT THE MAN.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Today it was said to be an open secret that Sadler the alleged murderer of the girl called "Carrotty Nell" is innocent of the crime and is not the "Ripper." The police retain him in custody under a remand, but are busily engaged in searching in other directions.

OUR LAW MAKERS.

The Governor Vetoes the Wagon Road Bills—Other Matters.

SALEM, Ogn., Feb. 19.—In the house this morning Veatch's bill repealing the railroad commission was indefinitely postponed.

In the senate the assessment and taxation bill failed to pass.

The governor has vetoed all wagon road appropriations. The house can pass the bills over his veto but it is likely the senate cannot do so. If not, this will reduce the appropriation of the session about $130,000.

The Senate has defeated the big assessment and taxation bill. There will hardly be any legislation on this subject at this session.

SHERMAN'S RELIGIOUS BELIEF.

His Son Says the General Has Always Been a Roman Catholic.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The Rev. Thos. Ewing Sherman was seen by a reporter today touching the subject of General Sherman's religious belief. He said in a positive way: "My father was baptised in the Catholic church, was married in the Catholic church and attended the Catholic church until the outbreak of the Civil war. Since then my father has not been a communicant, but always said 'if there's any true religion it is the Catholic religion.'"

NOTABLE DEAD.

H. K. ENOS.
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—H. K. Enos banker and president of the Missouri Kansas and Texas Railway died this morning.

Professor Winchell.
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 19.—Professor Alexander Winchell died this morning.

Law Makers in Washington.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Speaker Reed having recovered his temporary indisposition, called the house to order this morning.

In the senate a bill was passed for the relief of settlers on certain lands in the southern part of Iowa. The senate bill to increase the pension of Brigadier General Powell to $72 per month was passed.

To Stop Prize Fighting.

AUSSIN, Tex., Feb. 19.—A bill making prize fighting in Texas a penitentiary offence has passed the house. The term of imprisonment provided for infringement of the law ranges from two to five years.

Rivers Still Rising in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10.—The river is rising an inch an hour here. The rain is falling as far up as Wheeling.

San Francisco Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. Feb. 19.—Wheat buyer 91, 1.46.

ANOTHER LARGE JOURNAL, INDEPENDENT, STARTED IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—One of the bold and most ambitious ventures in modern journalism will appear in this city tomorrow morning. It is to be a new daily morning newspaper of 12 six-column pages, complete in every department from the first issue of 150,000 copies, with the best available talent, with complete arrangement for news, the most improved modern machinery, enterprising business management and plenty of money behind it. The New York Recorder will take the field as an absolutely independent newspaper. It starts on a high plan. Its conductors announce that they have no axes to grind, no grudges to satisfy. They say that the daily history of the world will be recorded without malice, described without vulgarity, and interpreted without offensive dogmatism. It is to be a 2-cent paper, and essentially characteristic in certain features new to daily journalism. It promises to be a living example of modern progress, and a financial success from the start.

LINEAGE OF THE PUYALLUPS.

Another Scheme to Deprive Them of Their Just Dues.
TACOMA, Feb. 17.—The question of the lineage of the Puyallups has been brought up, and it is alleged that the original holders of the patents issued by the United States to the tribe were part of Canadian tribes, come to the country from Canada, and were not full-blooded American Indians, and therefore not entitled to the patent. The story originated from the fact that the Hudson Bay company brought over a number of Canadian Indians early in the forties for the purpose of jerking salmon. The tribe in question did not get any further south than the present city of Tacoma. They settled here for a number of years, then emigrated northward, settling somewhere in the neighborhood of Whatcom.

The Queen Suggested It.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—It is interesting to learn that Queen Victoria claims some credit for the authorship of "Ivanhoe." Her majesty does not, of course, pretend that she wrote the opera, but she does assert that she suggested it to Sir Arthur Sullivan, and feels a sort of editorial chief responsibility for its reception. This is one reason she proposes to see it, and will probably be accompanied by Empress Frederick and Princess Marguerite, of Prussia.
