The guest told his experience to Mr. Sam Parker, who extended this consolation: "Oh, chair, and the thief will come back and steal your shoes."

Monday the thief of nerve entered the writing room of the Palmer house. A man was sitting at the desk busily engaged in writing. His new silk hat was on the table not two inches from his elbow. The thief wore a black Derby, without lining or sweatband. When he departed he wore the guest's eight dollar silk, leaving the worn out Derby behind. But the man of nerve was not satisfied with that. He paid a Palmer house messenger boy twenty-five cents to carry this note to his victim, "Oh, where did you get that hat?" This was the first intimation the guest had of his loss. Not long ago a guest was taking a nap in one of the easy chairs in the rotunda of the Tremont house. The thief stepped up to him, removed his new hat from his head, and left an old slouch in its place. - Chicago Tribune.

An Abomination.

Our esteemed contemporary falls into a vulgar error when it says that the young lady who is to wed the Rev. Thomas G. Milsted is to become that worthy gentleman's helpmeet. We object to the word "helpmeet." The only excuse for its use is its usage by and among ignorant people When God saw that it was not good for man to be alone he said, "I will make him an help meet for him." These words, recurring in holy writ, have been confounded by the careless and the unthinking, and the result is that abomination "helpmeet." Christ bade the Pharisees and Sadducees "bring forth fruits meet for repentance." If we are to have helpmeet, why should we not also have fruitsmeet? The confusion of ideas induced by the juxtaposition of certain words is felicitously illustrated by the old story of the pastor who, rising in his pulpit, said: "Brethren, I take for my text today a Or part of the fifteenth verse of the thirteenth chapter of the gospel according to

The Late Capt. Wallace,

A Pittsburg friend of the late Capt. George Wallace, of the Seventh cavalry, thus describes that officer: "He was a magnificent man in every sense of the word. He was 6 feet 8 inches tall, and 32, and 30, tp. 1 north of range 13 east, of athletic build. He will long be remembered in the Seventh as a most fearless rider and crack shot, as well as a Wm. H. Steel to Mrs. A. C. Steel, N. charming companion. That Capt. Wal-E. 1/2 section 26, Tp. 1, north of range 13 lace died hard and fighting to the last is shown by the latest reports from the seat of war.

"There were found lying around him where he fell five dead Indians, for whom five empty chambers in his re-volver accounted. He was wonderfully expert with gun or revolver. I remember that on one little hunting trip we took together in Missouri he disdained to use a shotgun on small game, and

Practical Shoe Lacing

In unlacing a shoe with the present style of hook the wearer must take the laces entirely away from the hooks be fore the shoe can be removed. By a new vote of the wearer simply pulls the top of the NEW FIRM! from the hooks. When the shoe is put on it is securely fastened by pulling the upper ends of the two laces. The shoe is laced in a second. With this patent Does S. B. get there? "I should it is claimed, a lace shoe can be fastened smile." S. B. as quickly as a man can put on a Congress shoe.—New York Telegram.

> One Bottle That Reached Friends It must not be assumed that all bottle messages found on the various coasts are due to an evil desire for mystification. A bottle found in Druidge bay in November, 1889, contained a message from an apprentice named Westerley. stated that the writer was ill used by the chief officer of his ship, which was leaking badly. This bottle paper is the only information received from that ves-sel since she sailed, and her insurance money has been paid.-Chambers' Jour-

Visitor-Well, my little man, rather cold weather we're having, aren't we? Little Man (gloomily)-Yes. It's goin' to be the hardest kind of a winter, and we'll have snow an' ice all next spring an' no summer weather till the Fourth

"Hem! How do you know all that?"
"Cause I didn't get any sled or skates this Christmas—nothin' but toy boats and fishpoles and such things."—New York Weekly.

Astronomy for February.

The only occurrences of especial popular interest in astronomic annals for the month of February are the movement of J. M. Huntington & Co. announce lengthening of the day, the disappear-that they are prepared to make out the ance of Jupiter from the evening sky.

Warner Hillyer, of Antelope valley, Nev., reports thousands of wild horses ranging on the high mountain plateau Chicago, Feb. 28.—The directors of the Mount Carmel Aeronautic Company dicided today to raise $2,000,000, a part of which will be expended in establishing a large plant and building Pennington airships.
