WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, March 7, 1891. FAIR Weather forecast till 12 m., Monday; fair. Followed by light rain or snow. Snow in the mountains. Warmer east of the mountains.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

All quiet on the Potomac. P. W. Knowles, of Wamic, is in the city.

March 15th is the last day of grace on school taxes. Ex-Governor Moody came up from Salem, last night.

Mr. Bailey, formerly chief clerk at the company's shops in this city, passed through today on his way to Portland.

Mr. O. M. Pope the artist has returned from Portland and will take charge of the Eastman gallery from this date.

H. C. Nielsen, left today for Portland, to lay in a new stock of goods. He says "tariff or no tariff," he is going to sell cheaper than ever.

John F. Webb, one of the victims of the recent U. P. accident near the Cascades, died at St. Vincent hospital yesterday morning. This is the first death among those injured.

We notice the new legend "Mays & Crowe," in black and gold, over the store lately owned by Abrams & Stewart. It is an excellent work of art, by our townsmen Mr. Hardy.

The delinquent city school tax list will be turned over to the sheriff in two or three days. To save further costs parties who have not paid their tax should call immediately on the new school clerk, J. M. Huntington, and settle up.

Messrs. G. Burlingame of Cleveland, Ohio and L. Hubbard of Buffalo, New York, arrived this morning, in company with Rev. O. D. Taylor and are his guests for the few days they remain in the city.

Col. N. B. Simnot received, this morning, a letter from the president of Notre Dame, Indiana, university, in which reference is made to the Colonel's two sons, being in excellent health, and making excellent progress in their studies.

A new grocery and notion store will be opened about the 10th instant, by Messrs. C. W. Rice and John E. Barnett in the building lately occupied as a cigar and notion store, by Mr. Robberson and which has recently been purchased by Mr. Robert Mays.

A boycott has been declared by the tramps on the Hotel de Gibons. Only two boarders now remain. The rest, we hope, have betaken themselves to their "out of town" residences; and The Dalles will try to struggle along without them.

We print today one of the sermons of Rev. Dr. Talmage. This will be one of the features of the CHRONICLE for awhile as we have made arrangements for having the sermons sent to us, and we trust they will be acceptable to our readers.

The 1:10 p. m. west bound freight could not leave today till a crew came in from below to take it off. Ten or twelve passengers were kept waiting at the depot till another freight would come in from Portland, so the same crew could turn around and go back. This is a specimen of Jay Gould economy.

Stock Inspector, C. W. Rice, has just received a private letter from Antelope which says: "There has not been any scab broke out in this precinct as yet. I think there will be but few cases. We are in the midst of a snow storm about two feet on a level. No loss of stock reported as yet."

The bitterly contested elections in Canada with which religion, annexation and nearly everything else was mixed up, have resulted in a victory for the government by a reduced majority. The annexationists are whipped, and we have no tears to shed. What do we want with Canada anyway?

The people of Walla Walla county promised Mr. Hunt's subsidy of $100,000 to build his road. They actually gave him $65,000. Now that Mr. Hunt has sold the road they are asking the question "Did it pay us to give the subsidy?" and they seem to have concluded by a large majority that it did.

Michael Pelez, a former subject of Kaiser William swore today that he would forever renounce all allegiance to all foreign princes and potentates, especially mentioning the name of the German emperor. Clerk Crossen made a note of it in his little book, and gave him a certificate accordingly. Frederick Lewis Sandox did some swearing to the same effect.

SWEET SABBATH BELLS.

What They Will Ring for Tomorrow—A Few Gems.

A friend stands at the door. In either light-closed hand holding rich gifts—three hundred and threescore: Waiting to strew them daily over the land. Even as seed, the sower. Each drops he, treads it in, and passes by: It cannot be made fruitful till it die. —Dinah Mulock-Craig.

Little Sins.

Years ago there was not a single thistle in the whole of Australia. Some Scotchman, who very much admired thistles, thought it a pity that such a great island should be without that marvelous and glorious symbol of his great nation. He therefore collected a pack of thistle seed, and sent it over to one of his friends in Australia. Well, when it was lauded, the officers might have said, "O, let it in; is it not a little one? It is only to be sown in a garden." Ah, yes, it was only a little one; but now whole districts of country are covered with it, and it has become the farmer's pest and plague. It was a little one, but it would have been a blessing if the ship had been wrecked that brought that seed. Take heed of the thistle seed; little sins are like it.

AT THE M. E. CHURCH.

Services conducted by the Rev. Henry Brown, tomorrow. The subject of the morning discourse will be "Is There any Other Way?" In the evening the pastor will preach upon "Lost Opportunities."

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The pastor Rev. O. D. Taylor will conduct both services tomorrow. The subject of the morning service will be "Loyalty," while in the evening "Perfidy" will be the theme. Sabbath school immediately at the close of the morning service.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Service conducted by the pastor Rev. W. C. Curtis. The Lord's supper will be administered in the morning. The subject of the evening's discourse is "Salt and light on conseratism and radicalism."

African Slavery and American Rum.

THE DALLES, March 7, 1891. EDITOR CHRONICLE. Among the dispatches of the 6th is the following: "The rejection of the slavery resolution has caused a tremendous sensation in Brussels. King Leopold is greatly incensed." This will usually be passed unnoticed by the reader and never be apprehended as having any connection with an American and yet this matter exhibits us before all civilized christian nations, in the most selfish and humiliating position possible to conceive of. It exhibits us as having an utter lack of high moral purpose and philanthropy. The findings of the Brussels convention, in which America, as well as other civilized nations, took active part for the suppression of the slave trade and selling of liquors in Africa, has been rejected by our congress on the grounds of "entangling alliances and interference with commerce." Examine this for a moment. All other nations unite in active or moral support in these objects. Our alliance must, therefore, be with some semi-civilized, half naked tribes, on the coast of Africa as against every christian nation, and for what purpose—so we can sell liquor.

It has been broadly affirmed that every missionary sent there goes in a ship loaded to the hatches with New England rum. This great article of commerce, the support of which isolates us from the country of nations in promoting the welfare and opening to commerce the new world of Africa. While other nations are spending time, money, or at least active sympathy in the elevation and regeneration of these people, we conclude for the sake of a few merchants and rum distillers, to put the most serious obstacles in the path and that in their mouths which steals away their brains, and also is the greatest danger to explorers, missionaries and merchants. The deplorable suffering, misery and death it causes is familiar to any reader of recent literature on African travel and explorations. Ours is the only civilized nation which does not lend active and moral support, and worse still, refuses either. The blush of shame comes over us as we reflect how much the American sentiment is misrepresented by the action of our so-called representatives and will yet add another count in the daily growing sentiment that the day of reckoning is fast approaching, in which these men who so dare interpret the great moral responsibilities of the American people will get kicked out and that, let us hope, for ever.

But I write for information, on this matter. Please study up the matter at your earliest convenience and let the public judge of the matter. LEANTLE.

Last Call—Last Chance.

Messrs. Livermore & Andrews the makers of the luxurious easy chairs at 77 Court street, hereby give notice that they will close out their business on April 1st. Parties wanting chairs should give their orders in at once in order to have them made before we close out. LIVERMORE & ANDREWS.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

UMATILLA HOUSE. P. Mohr, Hood River. Michael Pely, Hood River. John A. Moore, " " C. M. Elkins, Prineville. Frank Woodcock, Wamic. Dan Crowley, Antelope.

A process for the production of a new material called "lactite," or "milk ivory" has been invented, skim milk being the substance from which it is made.

Shabby Treatment of our Sheriff.

Sheriff Cates is as mad as a wet hen. Early this morning he received the following telegram: "Pendleton. D. L. Cates, sheriff, The Dalles. Arrest colored porter on west bound sleeping car, 'Samoa.' I want him for shooting a man here. Wire answer quick. W. J. FURKISH, Sheriff."

When the west bound passenger arrived at The Dalles, between ten and eleven o'clock this forenoon, Sheriff Cates had a hurried whisper with conductor Coleman, who informed him that his man was aboard. Curg immediately entered the "Samoa," and arrested the colored porter, sure enough, but conductor Coleman insisted that the sheriff had the wrong man, but positively refused to point out the criminal. Curg says there were "forty niggers" aboard the train and unless he arrested the whole outfit it was impossible for him to find the guilty one, he was very reluctantly obliged to give up the job and let the man escape. Sheriff Cates feels very indignant at the action of conductor Coleman, in thus frustrating the ends of justice and hopes, one day, to get his fingers (officially of course) in his auburn locks when there will be an official hair pulling matinee, sure, and we don't blame him a bit. Of course the man may yet be arrested later, but that does not excuse the conductor.

A BABY IN CHURCH.

Somebody's Darling is Thrown upon the Charity of the People of Baker City. Revellie.

While services were going on at the Methodist church last night, somebody left a new born babe in the hall leading to the church door. It was carefully wrapped in a shawl and placed in a basket. After the services had progressed fairly and Rev. Woods had gotten fairly down to his work, the child commenced crying and attracted the attention of a gentleman who was sitting near the door, who immediately went out and brought in the basket and right there the services ended.

The baby is a bright little fellow and is probably the offspring of some poor woman who has taken this method of hiding her shame. The little one will be kindly cared for by the good Samaritan of the Methodist church. Meanwhile the officers will try and find who left it there.

Some East End Athletics.

The East End of the town was yesterday the scene of some astonishing feats of strength. A sixteen-year-old Irish lad who looks as though he had the consumption, took a 128 pound sack of wheat in his teeth and without touching it with his hands, quietly laid it on his own shoulder. This morning the same youth tied a string around an anvil and block, in Thompson & Fargher's shop, weighing 160 pounds and lifted it with his teeth from the floor.

Professor McCarty, another East Ender, and a son of the Emerald Isle, can take a 26 1/2 pound dumb bell and throwing it fifteen feet in the air catch it on his arm as it comes down. Dan Baker says he saw him do it and Dan carries a little hatchet.

Some Fine Samples of Tobacco.

Mr. John Cates called at this office today and showed us some very fine samples of tobacco, which he raised last year in his own garden in this city. Mr. Cates ought to know good tobacco having been in the business of tobacco raising, in early life for many years, and he considers his samples of a fair quality. Cigar manufacturers tell him that tobacco such as they use and which Mr. Cates considers not so good as his, costs them nearly a dollar a pound. Mr. Cates says he knows he could make money in this country if he got twenty-five cents a pound for it; but of course it would require moist land or facilities for irrigation. Mr. Cates is going to get his samples made up into cigars and promises the CHRONICLE man a smoke when he gets them.

Wasco Academy Exercises.

Yesterday at the Academy a very neat programme was carried out. The Friday afternoon exercises are becoming distinctly a feature of the institution. Following were the exercises: Speech of James Otis. Charles Michaelbach Swan's song of Parson Avery. Laura Thompson Artman Ward crossing Dixie line. Nell Johnson Katie Kitchum. Mabel Mack Selection from "Colonel Carter of Cartersville." Winton Curtis.

A New Academy.

Articles of incorporation were filed for the Wamic academy, an educational institution; soon to be erected at the little town of Wamic. The capital stock is 300 shares at five dollars each, and the incorporators are Martin Wing, Henry Driver and H. F. Woodcock. We congratulate the people of Wamic for their enterprise and zeal on behalf of the rising generation.

Pendleton will soon have blue-coats. More than forty names have been enrolled for the proposed militia company. Col. Houghton, of The Dalles, has been advised of this fact, and asked to send an officer to muster in the members. Wheeler's hall will probably be secured for drilling purposes.—East Oregonian.

Those easy chairs made by Livermore & Andrews are the neatest thing of the kind ever made. They are just the thing for your porch or lawn in the summer, and are as comfortable and easy as an old shoe. Call and see them at 77 Court street.

California appears to have a tough time of it. Ships narrowly escape destruction from storms, in which many are drowned off San Francisco, and a great part of the state is flooded, entailing a heavy loss. Here in Oregon, where smooth waters and sunny skies prevail, all is peace and happiness. The only storm we know anything about are the papers "cyclones" that Mr. Finley, of San Francisco, daily discovers.—Astorian.

The first big political fight of '91 will be fought in Ohio next summer. McKinley will be nominated for governor of the Buckeye state by the republicans, and the tariff will be the issue. The silver question is not, nor can it be made one. Both are partly matters of geography, but the tariff is pre-eminently a party issue.
