WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, March 20, 1891.
RAIN Weather forecast till 12 m., Saturday; light rain. Nearly stationary temperature.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

F. C. Sexton, of Dufur, is in the city. The town is remarkably quiet today. Frank Fulton, of Biggs, Sherman county, gave us a pleasant call today.

Ervin M. Shutt, foreman and manager of the Wasco Observer gave us a pleasant call today.

A. McDonald of Monkland, Sherman county, and James Baldwin of Portland, are in the city.

The Wasco Observer is out with two and a half columns of criticism on "Arnold McCoy's defense."

Mrs. Robert J. Marsh of Portland is visiting friends in The Dalles. She is the guest of Mrs. Roscoe.

The city assessor expects to commence the assessment of city property for the current year on Monday next.

A number of farmers and sheep men are in town looking for men to work on their ranches and assist during the lambing season.

Nothing doing at the city jail or recorder's court. Marshal Gibbons and Recorder Knags talk of going on a strike unless business improves.

The household goods of Dr. J. G. Boyd are already packed and addressed for shipment to Bernalillo, N. M., where the doctor intends to make his future home.

The marriage of John Nachter and Miss Borstal, both of Bake Oven was celebrated yesterday afternoon by Rev. Mr. Horn at the German Lutheran church in this city.

J. H. McDonough returned last night from San Francisco where he has been under treatment for paralysis of the optic nerve of one of his eyes. He reports having been much benefited.

We would call the attention of stock men to the advertisement of merino sheep for sale which appears in another column. The sheep are very fine and will be sold at a bargain.

Reports from all agricultural points tell us that the farmers are all busy plowing. Winter lingered so long in the lap of spring that the season for planting will be necessarily short and every moment must count.

The new goods for the Eastern Oregon Cooperative store have arrived, and are being opened up, and put in place. The store will be opened for business on the 25th. E. N. Chandler and S. R. Husbands will conduct the business for the present.

The new flag has flung to the breeze on top of the brick school house. Mr. McCrum who set the flag staff in position and raised the flag says it is the first time he has hoisted the American flag since he licked the Jonnies and suppressed the rebellion.

A gentleman of this city whose position gives him opportunity to know what is going on in certain quarters inaccessible to a newspaper man was heard to say: "Last fall I would have sold my property in this city at almost anything I could get for it, now I would not sell it at any price."

The Dalles, the starlit city of commerce, in summer a paradise and in winter a flower garden, possessed even now of the bones and sinews and arteries of a mighty city—the pride of the state and the apple of every eye—shall assume all the charm of rarest beauty with the power and luxury that wealth can give. She sits today at the feet of her own possibilities, while passing stars sing together of her coming glory.

The executive board of the Klickitat County Temperance Alliance offer a standing reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of any doctor giving a permit to any person to purchase intoxicants in violation of the laws of the state; and a further reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any druggist or other person selling intoxicants in violation of the law of the state.

Speaking of the street rumors anent the coming back of the shops to this city it is beyond all doubt that two employees of the company were here only a short time ago to make a report on the cost of repairing the old shops and other estimates. They reported that it would cost more to repair the old shops than it would to build new ones. This, taken in connection with the purchase by the company of 14 acres in the new West Dalles addition may mean the building of new shops there.

REVIEW OF THE LOCAL MARKET.

The past week's trade has been more brisk than the former. Our merchants have replenished the stock on hand with fresh goods, and in the dry goods line with new styles for 1891.

REAL ESTATE.—We note increased activity in outside property, new additions to the city being laid out. At present the attention of investors is being attracted to the western part of town where a large new addition has been laid out on the George Snipes tract. Several transfers of lots in the military reservation addition have been made during the past few days at good prices. All inside property remains firm with no changes to report.

In the grain line wheat has advanced somewhat since our last report. The Wasco warehouse has paid 62½ cents per bushel, and is continuing to do so in order for export only, although eastern markets have made no material change in quotations, it has advanced, owing to the increased number of vessels in Portland on charter and immediate dispatch which is required to save demurrage.

The Wasco warehouse has shipped within the past week 28 cars of wheat.

Chicago and New York grain quotations are as fluctuating as formerly, with no encouraging futures. Chicago's May delivery quotation is 1.03¼; New York, 1.06.

Portland reports a steady market after a light decline since last week. Valley, $1.32½; Walla Walla, $1.27½; Eastern Oregon, $1.27½.

The Dalles market quotes No. 1, 62½; No. 2, 60.

In the vegetable line there has been a better supply of cabbage, parsnips, carrots and turnips. Potatoes are coming freely and a decline is noticed. Choice seed potatoes are in good demand at $1.00 to $1.10 per 100 lbs. Early Rose are the most eagerly sought after. Choice Early Goodrich and Burbank Seedlings are in good demand.

OATS.—The oat market is very quiet and offerings limited at quotations with an upward tendency. We quote, extra clean $1.60 per cental and inferior $1.40 per cental.

BARLEY.—There is nothing doing in barley. There is none offering. Quote prime brewing $1.05@1.10, feed $1.00@1.05 per cental, sacked.

FLOUR.—Best brands $3.75@4.00 per barrel.

MILLSTUFFS.—The supply is quite sufficient for the demand. We quote bran and shorts $20.00 per ton. Shorts and middlings $22.50@24.00 per ton.

HAY.—Timothy is quoted $17.00@18.00. Wheat hay is limited in supply and has an upward tendency. Quote, $12.50 per ton. Alfalfa market is without change in former quotation, $13.00@14.00; oat hay, $12.00.

POTATOES.—Are coming in more freely and have a downward tendency. Quote .75@.90 cents per 100 lb.

BUTTER.—Is in better supply. The market is supplied largely with California roll at present. Quote A 1 .60, B .50@.40, per roll, and dull sale.

EGGS.—The market is weaker with a still further decline anticipated as the supply is increasing. Quote .15@.17 per dozen and a downward tendency.

POULTRY.—We quote, good, average fowls $4.00 per dozen, common $3.00 @3.50 per dozen. Turkeys .10 per lb. Geese .90@1.25 each. Ducks .35 @.40 each.

WOOL.—There are only a few lots of wool in store, and quotations cannot be made with certainty, prices average from .15@.18 for Eastern Oregon.

HIDES.—Prime dry hides are quoted at .04@.05 per pound. Culls .02½@.03½. Green .02. Salt .03. Sheep pelts extra .75@.85, ordinary .40@.60 each. Bearskins, No. 1 $8.00 common $2.50.

BEEF.—Beef on foot clean and prime .03½, ordinary .02¾.

MUTTONS.—Wethers, extra choice $4.00, common $2.75@3.50 per head.

HOGS.—Live heavy, .04¾. Medium weight .04, dressed .05½@.06.

Lard 5 lb .11@10½; 10 lb .10¼; 40 lb .08@.08½c per pound.

Birthday Party.

A few friends of Mrs. C. L. Phillips, (our popular milliner) consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corbett, of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Simpson, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bayard, of The Dalles, met at the residence of the above named lady last evening, it being the anniversary of her birthday, and, after spending the evening in playing drive whist, mine host receiving the booby and Mrs. Simpson first prize, a sumptuous lunch was served and the party broke up in the "we sma'" hours wishing the good lady many happy returns of the day.

Reciprocity.

The following dispatch is self-explanatory.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20, 1891.

To the Emperor of Germany:

DEAR WILLIAM: I see from reading The Dalles CHRONICLE, (published daily and weekly at The Dalles, Oregon, and containing the associated press dispatches—the weekly only a dollar and a half a year) that you don't like our American hogs and have refused to buy any more American pork. All right, William, every man to his taste, as the philosopher said when he kissed the cow. But I want you to understand distinctly that if you won't eat any of our American pork I won't eat any more of your Limburger cheese. There now.

Yours for reciprocity,

BEN HARRISON.

A New Railroad.

A gentleman well posted in the inner workings of the transcontinental railroad companies said yesterday to an Oregonian reporter:

Another railroad project that is of direct interest to the Oregon people will no doubt soon be started by the Lehigh Valley Coal company, of Pennsylvania. The company has possession of vast coal properties in Gilliam county, in the vicinity of the town of Fossil. For the development of these beds they propose very soon building a road into that country from some available point. Just where it will be has not yet been decided but the line will doubtless run either from Heppner or The Dalles, more likely from the latter point, as the route is more feasible, owing to the presence of water along the line. At any rate, whichever route is taken, the state at large will be benefitted by this additional development of one of her great natural industries.

From the results of recent experiments it seems probable that in the not distant future the electric light may become an important adjunct in large forcing houses where early plants and vegetables, lettuce, etc., are raised for the market. In a large establishment of this kind in New York the house was divided by a board partition, on both sides of which the same plants were growing. On one side an electric light was kept burning for five or six weeks, with the result that there was a very striking difference in the growth of many kinds of plants. On the lighted side the lettuce was ready for market, while on the other side the plants were not more than half as large. The effect upon flowers, petunias, verbenas, etc., was also very marked, but while they develop much more rapidly under the electric light, they last only about half as long, and begin to bleach and fade very soon after opening.—Oregonian.

Rev. Wm. MacEwan, who was formerly the rector of St. Paul's church in The Dalles, but now located in Portland, came near being unwittingly murdered by having a brother clergyman bilked out of $10 by a shrewd Portland thief. It seems that Wednesday afternoon a messenger boy delivered a note to Rev. Thomas L. Cole purporting to have come from Rev. William MacEwan, in which the writer requested a loan of $10. Not having the money about him at the time Mr. Cole instructed the boy to inform the sender that the money would be sent later. Upon visiting Mr. MacEwan it was discovered that the note was a forgery, evidently written by some rascal who was in need of money and thought it possible to hoodwink the clergyman. The moral evidently is that the only way to keep from being robbed is to be without money.

A gentleman of this city who is well known for his quiet demeanor was overheard today making the following remarks: "When I was a boy I had serious thought of being the competitor of Gabriel for the job of blowing the trumpet that shall awake the dead. My voice was so powerful I used to stand on Caesar Mountain, away down in Missouri and declaim my school exercises to the children in the little school house a mile away, and they could hear every word of it distinctly too." This beats Colonel Sannot's fish story.

While the wind was blowing a stiff gale yesterday a little fire started in a small building at the west of the company's shops. A lady on second street was the first to observe it when she hurriedly ran across Mill Creek and gave information to the employees, who formed a bucket brigade and soon had it under control. Had the fire got headway under the circumstances it is hard to tell what damage might have been done.

Some papers are making merry over the announcement that the editor of the Azusa (Cal.) News gave birth to twins a few days ago. It is not an occasion for levity. The editorial function is all-embracing, and the accomplished lady referred to will doubtless have no serious trouble in keeping the twins quiet as long as the feeding bottle and paste-pot holds out. The kids being thus pleasantly occupied, she can pour out her powerful mind on paper, unimpeded by infantile pranks.

We have it on reliable authority that two railroad contractors have already expressed their readiness to take the contract for building a portage railway between The Dalles and Celilo for less than $400,000. E. O. McCoy says it would cost a "MILLION" with a big law suit and innumerable other disadvantages thrown in.—Wasco Observer.

A perfectly simple and innocent remark may have a queer sound, as when a lady wound up a letter by saying: "Now I must say good-bye, for my feet are so cold I can hardly hold the pen."—Pick me up.

Ex-Senator Ingalls tells a reporter in Boston that "If the republican party shall oppose free coinage of silver in 1892 it is doubtful whether it will carry a single state west of the Alleghanies." Well, suppose it doesn't? Suppose all the fools in the United States shall vote that 75 cents' worth of silver shall be equal in value to 100 cents of gold, still it will not be so any more than now, and gold will still be king.—Oregonian.

Mr. Richard Geary, an old timer, but now a resident of La Grande is in the city.

During the winter the hen may be dilatory, but she generally comes to the scratch when the garden is planted.
