the remains of a man named Finney, who died at the stage station on Currant Creek. He had been in bad health for a long time, and from appearance was stricken with death while reading a newspaper. The deceased, who has been a resident of this vicinity for many years, was a finely educated man, had been a Union soldier during the war, and no doubt in his better day had marked out great things which he would accomplished, but Alcohol that great solvent—dissolved his ambition as it has many another, and he died a wreck and will be buried a pauper.

Dr. Vanderpool, of Dufur, is the happiest man in that burg. Nearly a year ago, while camping at the Warm Spring families are out of employment. river, he lost a very fine horse which, with his mate, made one of the finest driving teams in the county. The doctor thought he had been stolen and used every effort within his power for his recovery, but in vain. He had long since given up the idea of ever seeing his handsome favorite when two or three days ago Jim Brown, of Tygh valley, brought him back to his master safe and sound. It need not be said the doctor was surprised and delighted. The horse was surprised and delighted. The horse was found by Mr Brown on the east side of the Deschutes and had probably crossed the river intending to get back to Dufur but got lost on the range.

For God and Home and Native Land. -EDITED BY THE DALLES W. C. T. UNION.

There are many yet in the school-room that consider the three R's quite enough; they believe those to be "cranks" who call for anything more. History repeats itself; at every stage in progress the cry is, "We pitch our tents here." At every stage there are those who feel the need of advancing. Whether the teachers advance or not the people go forward.

They breathe a different atmosphere from what their fathers did, read difference or not the people go forward. ent newspapers, and come in contact with different ideas. One who reads the newspapers sees that the effort (started in this city by that noble man J. Edward Simmons) to increase the reverence for the American flag, is a duty that must be taken up by the schools. We have a large number who enter our country en-tirely ignorant of our past—if we simply say they are ignorant the matter is explained enough—and who have been kept in order by bayonets up to this time; these, with no gratitude to us, would tear down this splendid governmental fabric. America is becoming the resort of nihilists, anarchists, and wild talkers of all sorts. Some want the govtalkers of all sorts. Some want the government to divide up the property of those who are richer than they; some want the government to furnish them with food and clothing. The foreign element among us must be made loyal and close beautiful much work work. and clear-headed, and this work must be undertaken by the public schools.

Representative J. D. Taylor of Ohio has favorably reported to the House of Representatives, from the committee on Alcolholic Liquor Traffic, a bill to prohibit the importation, exportation and in-The troubles between the Union Pacific and the train men have, we understand been adjusted satisfactorily to report that seven entire States, and major part of several other States, and 378.67. Sol. Houser of Bake Oven, A. J. Wash-States, have prohibited the traffic in alcoholic liquors as a beverage. "This fact," says the report, "together with the large favorable vote in constitutional amendment contests where prohibition did not carry, and other signs of the times, clearly show that commerce in alcoholic liquors as a beverage, the use of which experience has proven is so de-structive to the public morals, will not much longer pe tolerated by a majority, the ruling power of this Republic."

The same gentleman favorably re-ported from the same committee a join resolution proposing a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture, importation facture, importation, exportation and sale of all alcoholic liquors as a beverage in the United States, and in every place subject to its jurisdiction. This report says, "This evil is a confluent eruption affecting every part of the national sys-tem, and it cannot be cured while in

"Their Works do Follow Them."

It is a beautiful home, and every thing gives evidence of abundant peace plenty, but the dread monster, and pienty, but the dread monster, death, has entered and torn the only son from loving arms, and silence that is oppressive broods over all. In the room lately so filled with joy by his merry presence, now so saddened by his absence lies the cold form, but brave, handsome lies the cold form, but brave, handsome face; and to those who remain "yet a little while" there are only sweet mem-ories left of a true, happy Christian boy, who, from life filled with sunshine and faithful serving had heard the Master's summons: "Come up higher." How quiet he lies, and how peaceful. He is

Yet how fast the tears fall, as one by look at the loved one, for, Oh! how they will miss him. Among the many who enter that house of mourning is one old, in June abundant crops will follow be-yond any peradventure. A farmer from been more heartfelt than hers. All check that here. For a while no words are spoken, for fast falls the tears, but presently, making an effort, she says: "Mrs. S., Joe—my husband—wanted me to come over and tell you how good Mrurice always was to him. He says he is too wicked to come."

The forty tan games pay $4 a week each, or a total of $640 a month; the thirteen lottery games pay $2.50 a week, or a total of $130 a month, while the chuck-a-luck games now reduced to ten pay $5 a week or a total monthly blackmail of $200 a month.

Death of Charles E. Dunham.

It is with very great sorrow we record the death of Chas. E. Dunham of this city at a little after one o'clock today, in the prime of middle life and snatched away before many of the people of The Dalles had heard he was sick. The circumstances attending his demise are peculiarly sad and distressing. His wife who has been sick for two or three weeks is so very low that she cannot be informed of his death, while his youngest child is also so dangerously ill that it too may pass away at any moment. Mr. Dunham has been a resident of this city since the year of 1877 when he came here to enter the employ of the late H. J. Waldron. His previous residence was in Oakland California, and we believe he was born in Maine. He was a strictly honest and honorable man and was highly respected by all Joles Bros. who knew him. The Missing Man and Boy.

G. H. Barnett, the father of County Assessor Barnett, had a telegram brought to him today which may throw some light on the case of the man Tegarden whom we spoke of yesterday as having wandered away from the Umatilla House. The telegram was marked Tampa, Idaho and was signed "McIntyre Pullman," and asked the person to whom it was addressed to meet Tegarden at the depot at this place, as he was crazy. After reading the telegram Mr. Barnett was satisfied it was not for him, as he knew neither of the parties, and he returned it to the telegraph office.

A New Company O. N. G. Captain Geo. T. Thompson returned yesterday from Pendleton whither he had gone to muster a new company G of O. N. G. He is very much pleased with the results of his trip. Forty-five hand-plus fruit trees at half price. some young fellows ranging from 20 to 25 years old were mustered. Three officers were elected: C. G. Fraker as captain, Fresh Murphy as second lieutenant. The state property was transferred from Athena to Pendleton. Captain Thompson says he never mustered a finer company, always of course, excepting The Dalles boys.

The following taken from the Cresent City Record is entitled to be classed as something of a fish story itself: A fish-hawk pulled a large salmon out of Elk river one day last week. The fish was too large for the bird to carry off, so leaving it on the sand the bird flew off to a pile of driftwood and picking up a stick with a sharp and jagged edge returned with it to where the fish lay and sawed it in two, when it flew away with half of the salmon. This story may seem incredible but Senator Wilson, who was an eye witness to the scene, has assured us that it is facts. The following taken from the Cresent
