SAVEC BY PRESENTIMENTS.

Strange and Mysterious Warnings Beeded in Time to Escape Death.

"I want to tell you a story," said Dr. Moliere, a well known physician. "I'm not a superstitions man, nor do I believe in dreams, but for the third or fourth time in my life I was saved by a premonition. I got aboard car No. 81, on the Sutter street line, at the ferry, to ride up to my office. As usual I waiked to the forward end of the car, took a seat in the corner with my back to the driver, and, pulling a paper from my pocket, was soon deeply engrossed in the news. Suddenly something said to me, 'Go to the other end of "Acting on impulse I changed my seat, and so rapid were my movements that the other passengers in the car noticed them. Remember, I was sitting and sneezing. The cough is soon followed and sneezing. The cough is soon followed driver. I was paying no attention to anything but my newspaper, and the premonition. if I may so call it, could not have come from any ontside influence, such as seeing approaching danger; but, sir, I had not been in my new seat more than five seconds when the tongue of a heavy loaded wagon crushed through the side of the car just where I had been first seated, and had I not changed my seat my back would have been broken by the wagon tongue.

"As I said," continued the doctor "! am not superstitious, but the incident I have just related, taken in connection with other incidents of a similar nature occurring in my life, make me believe in spite of myself that there is a 'divinity that shapes our ends, rough-bew them bow we will."

The train was running at a high rate of speed. and the draught soon made the heater in the car red hot. Suddenly there came to me a premonition of danger, and turning to my companion I said: 'If we should meet with an accident, a collision, for instance, you and I would be in a bad place. We would certainly be hurled on that red hot stove.'

For Service Bifles.

An ingenious invention has recently ap-peared for enabling shooting practice to be made with service rifles in many cases where no range exists, and where it is only possible to fire with some device of kind. An ordinary cartridge case is em-ployed to hold a miniature cartridge and bullet in its mouth, which together occupy the position of the service bullet, the part ible to fire with some device of this occupied by the service charge being filled up by a chamber containing a piston, which is struck by the regular breech block piston on firing, and so carries its blew to the miniature cartridge. Cartridges with different charges are made for ranges from 25 to 300 yards.—New York Times.

The Real Question.

In all the discussion that has arisen about the proposed shortening of the college course, the advocates of either side have limited themselves to a single point at issue: Will the student be able to learn the proposed in these years to qualify him for enough in three years to qualify him for the duties of life? This is all very well, but there are other questions more important. Will three years be sufficient to make a football player of a man—an oarsman, a crack pitcher, catcher or first baseman? The fact that all this side of the question has been entirely overlooked shows how set and narrow is the mind of

Is Disease a Punishment?

The following advertisement, published by a prominent western patent medicine house would indicate that they regard disease as a punishment for sin:

"Do you wish to know the quickest way to cure a sever cold? We will tell you. To cure a cold qickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the system. This can always be done if you choose to, as nature in her kindness to man gives timely warning and plainly tells you in nature's way, that as a punishment for some indiscre-tion, you are to be afflicted with a cold and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by a profuse watery expectoration and the sneezing by a prosuse watery dis-charge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin white coating on the tongue. What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double doses every hour. That will greatly lessen the severity of the cold and in most cases will effectually counteract it, and cure what would have been a severe cold within one or two days time. Try it and be convinced."
