He Would Build Up Manufactories at Home. KANSAS CITY, April 14.-In a letter read at the commercial congress today President Harrison says: "The extraordinary developments of the production of agriculture which has taken place in recent periods of this country by reason LIVETY, Feed and Sale recent periods of this country by reason of the rapid enlargement of the area of tillage under the favoring land laws of the United States very naturally called searching for him. the attention to the value and indeed the necessity of larger markets. I am one of those who believe the home market to be necessarily the best for the producers as it usually emaninates him in proportion to its nearness from the exaction of transportation companies. NEW ORLEANS GRAND JURY.

A Report Expected From It During the Survey to be Began on the Proposed

New Orleans, April 12.—The grand jury is expected to report the coming week, and, among other things, it is said the confession of Politz will be used in the report. Politz confessed his innocence and said he joined the Mafia under the impression that it was a benevolent society. He was present at the meeting when Hennessy's death was decided upon and was ordered to carry the guns in a sack to Monasterion's shanty, but refused. He did not know of the killing until the Sunday following, but afterwards learned the details from Monasterion. They were substantially the defined plan having for its object the candidacy of Secretary Blaine in 1892 terion. They were substantially the same as claimed by the state upon the trial implicating Scaffedi, Marchesi, Bagnetto and Monasterion as Hennessy's slayers. The state did not use the confession, because it had such direct proof of Politz's presence at the killing, which his story denied. Politz is said to have had a brother who closely resembled him, who has not been found. His identification might have been transferred to him, and Politz's confession would have formed an important link in the chain of evi-

CRIME IN ENGLAND.

A Drunken Barman's Horrible Attack

on his Employer's Child. London, April 12 .- A horrible tragedy occurred in a public house in North London this morning. A man named Fritz, emplored as barman in Eggleston's public house, became wildly intoxicated, and attacked the young daughter of his employer, who was dusting the bar. He struck her on the head with a hammer, fracturing her skull. The child fell senseless at his feet, and Fritz, now thoroughly frenzied, siezed her by the hair and dragged her into the parlor, where, after locking the door, he smashed the furniture. Speing signs that the terribly injured girl was returning to consciousness, Fritz again attacked her with the hammer and beat her until he supposed she was dead. He then went to his home, where he loaded a revolver, telling his wife he intended to kill every member of the Eggleston family. Then he dashed out of the house, and has not been seen since. Fritz's victim is still living, but cannot possibly ccurred in a public house in North Lonand has not been seen since. Fritz's victim is still living, but cannot possibly Russia Increasing the Defensive Forces of the Empire. St. Petersburg, April, 12.—The czar has renamed most of the regiments of the Russian army after the commanders of generals notable since the time of Peter the Great, and the reserve battalions after the important victories gained by Russian arms. Ten of these battalions are raised to full regiments, 20,000 being thus added to the reserves. With the recent decrees for the construction of military roads and a large increase in the fleet, everything points to an urremitting increase of the defensive forces of the empire. The Military Gazette the names and addresses of mill owners, country merchants, professional men, cut, etc., who are not located in villages; also lists of government and county officers, cers, census statistics, times of holding court, names of the postmasters, post-offices, express and telegraph offices, list of incorporated companies, with amount of capital, justices of the peace, all hotels, with rates per day, daily and weekly newspapers, their politics and day of issue, besides much other information useful to all classes of business and professional men.

Agitation in America. Paris, April 12.—Leaders of lhe recent miners' congress are arranging to appoint a general strike executive committee, composed equally of representations of all trades, professons and pursuits in the state, wherein the name and post-office address of every person in each line of business may be found, is an immittee, composed equally of representa-tives of French, English, German and Belgian miners. The German miners have decided, in the event of a strike in Belgium, to also strike if the German colliers endeavor to supply Belgium with coal. The English delegates also guarantee to stop the export of coal. If the new system of drawing upon American coal weakens their position, the executive committee will open communication.

Polk & Co.'s Directory. Mr. L. A. Connella, representing R. L. Polk & Co.'s "Gazateer and Business Directory of Oregon, Washington and Idaho," has been in The Dalles for a few days past and tomorrow will go to Goldendale to see what business can be done in that flourishing city. He reports having met with much success here and thinks The Dalles a good town for business in his line as the merchants have been generous in their subscriptions and advertisements to the directory. And well they might for the directories publisned by Polk & Co. are better and more satisfactory than anything that has been attempted in this part of the country.
