WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, April 13, 1891.
FAIR Weather forecast till 12 m., Tuesday, fair, slightly cooler.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Declaratory statement as approved by Captain Lewis for sale at $1 per 100 at this office.

J. W. Gilliam of Morrow county is in the city.

Five car loads of cattle are being fed at the stock yards.

Mrs. Pickett has been quite sick from the grippe but is recovering.

Mr. Butler is making up a car load of hogs to ship to the sound market.

Will Condon has been under the weather for the past few days but is now better.

Deputy United States marshal A. G. Johnson returned from Portland on the noon train today.

Surveyor Norton has got as far as Tygh Valley and continues to report an excellent and easy grade.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Sparks leave this city for Portland tomorrow where they intend to make their future home.

The Baldwin Land & Live Stock company have a fine lot of bucks at the stock yards which they have imported from California.

By a vote of over twelve to one the taxpayers of this city, yesterday endorsed the policy of the CHRONICLE. It was a cold day for the Times-Mountaineer.

From Mr. Dehuff we learn that the D. S. Baker will not start on her daily trips to the Cascades till the first of May, and maybe not even then.

Jim Blakeney had a runaway at the electric light building yesterday evening. One of the horses is badly hurt and the truck nearly ruined.

Freight train number 22 bound east was wrecked this side of the summit this morning on account of the sand drift. Nobody was hurt.

Honor is like the eye, which cannot suffer the least impurity without damage, it is a precious stone, the price of which is lessened by the least flaw.—Bossuet.

The CHRONICLE man saw three fine Chinook salmon at the store of W. A. Kirby this morning which weighed over 123 pounds. One of them weighed over fifty pounds.

Stock inspector C. W. Rice says we regret to hear, rather worse today. While no serious result is apprehended, the progress of recovery from rheumatic fever is necessarily slow.

The telephone at the Umatilla house whose wire reaches to the Company's shop is not in working order, and in its present condition is more ornamental than useful.

State Treasurer Phil Metchan came up from Portland this morning, where he went yesterday to visit, in company with the governor and the waterway convention, the location of the Cello portage railway. After reaching Portland it was decided to delay the matter for another week, in order to get more information from Washington.—Capitol Journal.

From a private letter received at this office under date of April 13, we learn that Mr. Norton's surveying party was camped at the mouth of Bear Gulch, which is south west of Kingsley and near the head of Tygh Valley. The route from Dufur follows a natural passage near the foot hills of the Cascades, and taps a fine timber country. The grade is easy till Jordan Creek is reached, near where it empties into Tygh, where there is a sharp pitch for a short distance, as the road nears the Tygh Valley bottom, of 90 feet to the mile. For the past few days they have made but slow progress—only two or three miles a day. They expect to reach Tygh Valley tomorrow, when their progress may be less slow till they reach Deschutes river.

County assessor Barnett left this afternoon to commence his annual round of assessing the county. He will begin on the other side of the Deschutes. The county court yesterday instructed him to assess all property at a rate of about three-fourths of its marketable value. This though higher than the assessment of last year does not necessarily mean higher taxes. It really ought to mean a lower levy, now that we have a state board of equalization. We believe that under the circumstances a seventy-five per cent. rate is just about what it ought to be. A lower one would be apt to be raised by the state board, and a higher one would likely be too high and would call for a reduction that might not be made.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

For God and Home and Native Land.
 EDITED BY
 THE DALLES W. C. T. UNION.

FOR GOD AND HOME AND NATIVE LAND.

PROF. CHARLES W. PEARSON.
 For God? Our Maker, Father, Friend,
 On whom alone our hopes depend,
 Whose mercies to us never end,
 O yes, for God.

For home? Who would live like the beast,
 Of only sensual life possess,
 Selfish, unloving and unblest?
 O yes, for home.

For native land, the great, the free,
 "Our hopes, our fears are all with thee."
 Our love shall ever constant be,
 O yes, for native land.

"For God, and home and native land?"
 The words are virtue's perfect band;
 Beneath this banner pure we stand,
 O yes, we stand.

A Rousing Temperance Meeting.

The largest temperance meeting ever held in San Francisco gathered on the evening of the 6th. Ex-governor Geo. C. Perkins, chairman of the evening, who strongly endorsed the movement to diminish by law the awful work which thousands of saloons are doing in this city.

Archbishop Riordan delivered the address. He quoted from Gladstone, Cardinal Manning, Judge Noah Davis, of New York, Powderly, Gen. Booth and many others. For one hour and a half he held the close attention of the great audience upon this so-called hackneyed subject.

At the last, he threw aside his manuscript and for a short time talked most feelingly to his own people, of whom no doubt a large number were present, upon the woes and miseries of drunkenness.

We were glad to see and hear, for the first time, this man, the head of the Roman Catholic church on this coast. We were glad to know that so learned, eloquent and practical a bishop, one who holds opinions and views upon practical questions and deadly evils, which we most heartily endorse, is over that great chalice.

Judging by the numbers and utterances of this meeting, there is reason to hope that some control over the saloon power in this city may be obtained by our citizens. At present the saloons rule and ruin the city. We ought to rule and ultimately ruin the saloons. By united, wise, fearless, unselfish and unceasing efforts on the part of all good citizens, this can be done. But to disconnect the bar from the corner grocery, stop sales to children, stop sales by women, stop sales on Sunday, stop the granting of free licenses and raise all licenses from $21 to $150 a quarter—to do this and nothing more will require united effort on the part of all good citizens, which has not been put forth in this city for many years. Let us sign the petition and work to achieve, even one of the above desired results. Any thing to break the horrid apathy which is upon our citizens, and lift it even a little the heavy burden which the saloons are laying upon us!—Pacific.

License as "Josiah Allen's Wife" Sees.

"If a deadly serpent had broken loose from some circus, and was writin' and twistin' his way through Jonesville, swallerin' down a man or a woman every few days, would men stand with their hands in their pockets, or arguin' up ag'in that barn-door a-whittin, or leavin' from year to year, whether it was best, after all, to let him go free? After they had seen some of their best friends swaller'd down by it, wouldn't they chase it into any hole they could get it into? Wouldn't they turn the first key on it they could get hold of? And if it broke loose from that, wouldn't they try another key, and another, till they got one that would hold him?"

Do you suppose they would rent out that serpent at so much a year to crunch and swaller folks accordin' to law? And wouldn't it be any easier for the folks that was crushed and swaller'd and for them survivin' friends of the same, if they was killed by act of congress.

The London Lancet, a leading medical journal, gives the following facts about liquor drinking in England:

It is appalling to find that the drink bill of 1890 amounts to £139,496,470, an increase of £7,282,163 over the sum of the previous year, all common sense and medical science notwithstanding. It is said to be equal to one-twelfth of the estimated income of all persons, to one-fifth of the national debt, and to be eight times more than the income of all the Christian churches. It is not our business to moralize on this expenditure. To us it means so much scirrhus, Bright's disease, gout, rheumatism, insanity, etc., disabling employment, taking the pleasure out of the life of families and bread out of the mouths of children. The drink bill for last year is larger than for any year but that of 1878, when it was more than one hundred and forty-two millions of pounds.

PASSED AWAY.

Mrs. Bunnell, one of the Pioneers Dies at 9:30 Last Night.

One of our most loved and respected ladies of The Dalles died last night at her residence in this city. The lady was Mrs. A. Bunnell, and her death took place after a long period of severe suffering, which she bore patiently and with Christian fortitude. Mrs. Bunnell was born at Saratoga Springs, New York in 1828, and was consequently 63 years of age. With her husband, who still survives, her she came to this city in 1861 and has resided here ever since, beloved by all who knew her. She was the mother of six children, all of whom are living with the exception of one. It was fortunate too, that all the five children were here at her bedside when she passed over to receive the reward for her pure and faithful life. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Congregational church.

Chicago Wheat Market.

To the Public.

Notice is hereby given that all the better shops of The Dalles will be closed in future on Sundays.

Yesterday's Election.

"The election today is nearly unanimous in favor of bonding the city for $25,000 to complete the present system of water works. This shows that the faction in favor of keeping alive the old fight are those persons who are now attempting to inaugurate the V flume system of water works. We never believed that using the old flume, draining a saw mill pond, was the proper one for the city; but now that the system is begun, we desire to see it rise or fall on its own merits, and are willing to abide the decision of the logic of events."—Times-Mountaineer.

This is an amazing confession. If the result of the election yesterday is an indication of the relative strength of the two so-called factions in this city a mighty powerful conviction takes possession of us that there is little left of one of them. Eleven persons only, voted "No" and it is a fair presumption that Mr. Michell was one of them. Thus the Times-Mountaineer, and its ten constituents will go down to posterity as the men who wantonly attempted to cut off their noses to vex their faces. Thus too, has the Times-Mountaineer put itself on record as opposing a measure, which if it had not carried, would have left the city to drink the putrid water of Mill creek for the next two years, filling it with sickness, disease and death and rendering useless and inoperative, for that time, all the money hitherto spent to improve our water supply, while at the same time the interest on the outlay already made would be constantly accumulating.

It is a matter for profound congratulations that the election has demonstrated beyond the possibility of cavil that the element that is said to have for so long time retarded the progress of this city has been reduced to ten mossbacks and one silurian and further reduction is not desirable as these are necessary to preserve the species.

A Surprise Party.

Mrs. Judge Thornbury was the recipient of a very pleasant party last Saturday afternoon.

It being her birthday her friends took it upon themselves to give her a surprise and to say they were successful does not express it. She was conveniently invited out for an hour or two in the middle of the day and her friends embraced the opportunity to step in and prepare the rooms. The decorations were ferns and flowers. When the proper time arrived for her return a messenger was sent requesting her presence at home immediately. She came, and saw, and was surprised. The ladies then arranged themselves at the different tables and the afternoon was spent in playing Drive whilst; of course it was a party of ladies there was a very limited amount of conversation. At four o'clock a very pretty pink lunch was served, the favors were hand-painted with pink ribbon decoration. At six o'clock the score cards were full and the counting and comparing revealed the fact that Mrs. Chas. Hilton was entitled to the first prize, a tete-a-tete sugar bowl and creamer. Mrs. Dr. Hollister gracefully accepted the booby prize, a crocheted Harlequin. The ladies as they dispensed declared the party a decided success and the bond of sympathy existing between women (on certain subjects) is remarkable, not one lady asked, Mrs. Thornbury her age. Invitations were extended to the following:

Mrs. Judge Thornbury, N. B. Sinnott, J. B. Crossen, H. M. Beall, Jud. Fish, John Dexter, E. B. McFarland, O. Kinersly, T. A. Hudson, T. J. Peters, Lulu Sampson, Capt. Lewis, Dr. Tucker, Dr. Hollister, Dr. Rhinehart, O. Barretts, G. A. Herbert, G. P. Morgan, Col. Houghton, Chas. Hilton, Misses M. Hollister, M. Michell.

They've Gone Fishing.

The worthy president of the board of trade, Mr. A. S. Macallister, accompanied by his faithful coadjutor, Mr. J. G. Farley, has gone to the mouth of Five Mile on a fishing trip today. Neither of the gentlemen were ever known to tell a lie (or to be caught in one at any rate) so the following lines will not apply to them, but as fish stories will become current for the rest of season, we give them as applying to fishermen in general:

Fishermen will fish,
 And fishermen will lie,
 And what a fisherman can't catch,
 A fisherman will buy.

Colonel Sinnott has invented a little scheme for delaying the passenger trains that stop for meals at the Umatilla House until all have time for meals, that works like a charm. The trainmen, who like a good meal, and deserve it too as well as any body, are put off in a corner by themselves and fed on the very best the house affords, but the waiters have strict charges not to wait on them till all the passengers are supplied. You see the point?
