Wheat Takes an Upward Turn in the Chicago Market on Account of Removal of Duty in France.

A Great Consumption Cure Discovered in France--- A Prominent Seattle Merchant Found Dead.

CHICAGO, April 17 .- There was a boom in wheat today caused by a dispatch received yesterday stating that the French government will probably be compelled before August next to ask the chamber of deputies to suspend duties on cereals

FOUND DEAD.

A Prominent Seattle Merchant Dies on the Way to His Home.

SEATTLE, April 17 .- Chester Cleary, a well-known merchant of this city and Tacoma, was found dead in the street about seventy yards from the door of his own house, overlooking Lake Union, at six o'clock this morning. He left the hour. store at 11 o'clock, last night, went home on a late electric car and complained to the conductor that he was ill. The conductor helped him half way up the hill The toward his home. Cleary only walked a few steps, fell with his head down hill, and was found there dead this morning. He was a remarkably successful business man, having risen in a few years from a clerkship to the proprietorship of two of the largest dry goods houses on Puget sound. He was 38 years old and unmarried.

THE ALTON BOYCOTT.

Tickets Taken Off Sale---Collapse Will

Boston, April 17 .- The Boston and Albany railroad company has been requested by the New York Central to take Alton tickets off sale. The company take their tickets off under protest, officials of both the Boston and Albany and New York and New England roads before the Alton boycott will collapse.

THEY WHIPPED A SLANDERER.

Six Helena Young Women Apply a Dose of Rawhide Oil.

Helena, Mont., April 16.—Six comely young women, two of them armed with stout rawhides and all of them ablaze with righteous indignation, walked into Billy Hartwig's barber shop, under the Montana National bank, at 9 o'clock tonight. Their names are Georgie Delaney, Bessie Stantler, Lou Bohy, Mary Barkley, Annie Devilt and Frankie Pearson. Advancing to the chair at which Matthew Rau worked, the leader, Miss Georgie Delaney, exclaimed, "You have been slandering me long enough." Instantly her strong right arm weilded her cutting rawhide, and Rau beat a precipitate retreat to a corner pursued by the enraged ladies. A second lady, Miss Bohy, added to the chastisement by her rawhide, while the other four formed a half circle to prevent a rush for the door. In revenge he went to the manager of the party and told him that she was not a proper person to be in that company, and on other occasions is said to have aspersed her character. The six women are all waiters at the Delmonico restaurant, and are of good repute, being honest working girls. Rau at present is quite out of sight. The young women are the heroines of the

> FRANCISCO'S NEW STOCK YARDS.

Directors Decide to Commenc Work Upon the Improvements at Once. CHICAGO, April 15.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the South San Francisco Land and Improvement company it was decided to commence improvements on the property of the company at South San Francisco at once. The stock yards, abbatoir, packing houses and other important buildings will be pushed forward to completion as rapidly as possibly. A contract has already been closed with Von Schmidt & Co. for the construction of a ship canal which will be made of sufficient capacity to accommodate any class of vessels sailing on the Pacific ocean. Mr Smith, vice-president of the company, will leave here in a few days for San Francisco, where he intends to make his the company's interest at South San Francisco.

She says that in February she was employed by Maggie Mitchell, the actress, as a tutor in German and to care for her effects. Miss Mitchell made very to stand the strain and broke down with The army and navy are at variance in Miss Mitchell abandoned her without money. Through the kindness of some railroad men she was enabled to come to Chicago, and wanted to get to Phila-delphia. The mayor referred her to the

The Northern Pacific Stocks.

New York, April 15.—A broker in Northern Pacific stocks is quoted as saying:
"There never was a time when Northorange exposition, is dying at the Leland ern Pacific matters were so free from hotel. He has been suffering from la mystery as now. This very fact makes everybody anxious to know what is putting down the stocks. There never was a time when Northern Pacific stocks were so scattered as today, consequently it is harder to trace the selling than ever Benares, April 17.—The excitement before. It is true Germany has been selling these stocks, and the public here has been selling them, but there is no apparent attack on them, nor any resistance offered by inside people to the decline. They move naturally, and this is all the better for them. There is absolutely no truth in the reports that there is friction between Villard and his friends on the side."

The Professors Chosen. BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 15.—Dr. Jordan has completed arrangements for the appointment of the faculty of the Stanford university, and has made the following names public: Dr. Andrew White, ex-president of Cornell university, to be non-resident professor of history; F. Stanford Lake, Forest university associate professor of physics. versity, associate professor of physics; Horace B. Gale, Washington university, St. Louis, professor of mechanical engineering; Prof. Joseph Swain, Indi-ana university, associate professor of mathematics; Douglass H. Campbell, Indiana university, associate professor of betary of botany. Bismarck Probably Defeated.

Berlin, April 16.—Forty districts at Geestemunde gave Bismarck 3223; Sohmalfield, socialist, 3264; Adolf Freis-innige, 1630; Plate Guelph, 1391. There will probably be a re-ballot between Bismarck and Sohmalfield.

THE RESULT A SURPRISE.

The result of the poll at Geestemunde has been a great surprise to Bismarck's friends and was received with considerable satisfaction in high quarters, where the hope has been entertained, and is not yet given up, that Bismarck will not get into the Reichstag.

NEWSPAPER WORK IN ENGLAND. Active Reporters in the Small Places Make Pretty Fair Wages.

The most important perquisite for reporters is that known as "lineage." Daily newspapers, for example, have recognized correspondents in nearly every town of any importance throughout the country. A reporter living in one of these places, and connected with a local newspaper, may be appointed correspondent for a dozen or even more jour-nals. All events of importance have, of course, to be attended for his own paper, and should anything occur of sufficient interest to justify notice in the papers he represents, he writes a report and forwards it by telegraph or by train. From each paper he receives the cost of the telegram and is paid for his report at so much per line, varying in different towns between one penny and twopence per line. Some of the London cisco, where he intends to make his papers pay as much as threepence per headquarters to give special attention to usual importance or value the leading provincial newspapers will sometimes pay a like amount. By this means it is no unusual thing for a smart man to make as much as five pounds in a single In a good district a reporter looks forward to doubling his weekly income by "lineage" alone. Even when not the recognized correspondent of any paper, he makes a considerable addition to his earnings by "lineage." Take, for example, an interesting event coming to the knowledge of the reporter some morning. He writes out a telegraphic message and wires a paragraph to the principal evening papers. A special reduced charge is made for press messages. Up to 6 o'clock in the evening seventyfive words can be sent over the wires for one shilling, and one hundred words after 6 o'clock for the same amount. Every repetition of the message costs

From each paper which inserts his paragraph the enterprising scribe receives half a crown or three shillings and sixpence, usually the latter sum. So, taking it that he sends his news to twelve newspapers, the cost of the telegrams would be three shillings and tenpence, and if the report were used by nine out of the twelve papers he would receive (taking as a moderate estimate that he would be paid half a crown by each) £1 2s. 6d. Deducting the cost of the telegrams it will be seen that he clears nearly a sovereign by the transaction. The risk is small, for any spicy item of news told in an interesting way is always welcome, to the evening papers especially. If only two papers were to insert and pay for his report he would still be a gainer.

In the large cities and towns there are men known as "penny-a-liners," unconnected with any particular newspaper, who make a decent income by keeping a watchful eye for items of news which may escape the observation of the ordinary reporter. Any terrible calamity in a district is a golden harvest to the scribes. A railway accident, colliery explosion or startling murder means pounds, shillings and pence to the re-

Another source of profit to the "Knights of the Pencil" is shorthand writing in the local law courts. In many towns the reporters are the only compe-tent shorthand writers, and to their lot fall the shorthand notes which from time to time are required by solicitors and other people.—London Tit-Bita.

A Mad Race.

Mrs. Drubbins (who has been reading of the performances of a somnambulist)

The paper says that last night a man jumped out of a window to the roof of another house, and ran along that till he came to a church roof, when he leaped to that and climbed up the steep
