MET FEARFUL DEATHS.

A Train Load of Men in Pennsylvania are Wrecked in a Forest and Burned to Death.

The President Reaches Colorado--The Cruiser Charleston Has Been Sent After the Itata.

ELMIRA, May 11.—A Conders Port, Penn., special says that yesterday while a train containing 100 men on their way to fight the forest fires in Potter county, it was wrecked in the midst of the burning woods and the engine and cars destroyed. Eighty or more of the men were burned to death.

A special from Austin, Pa., tells of the wreck of a train in the southern part of the county and says seventy-five men were seriously and perhaps fatally burned.

The superintendent of the S. N. road and three or four men are still missing. That entire part of the country has been swept by flames.

Another Account.

PITTSBURG, May 11.—A special correspondent says that a train with two car loads of men on Moore's run was ditched between two burning skidways and superintendent Badger of the S. V. railway was burned to death.

Five others were fatally burned and many dangerously injured. The whole train burned. The men scattered and the full extent of the loss of life and the number injured has not yet been learned.

A MURDEROUS AFFAIR.

An Old Man Marries a Young Wife and the Trouble It Caused.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 11.—The details of a murderous affair which occurred on Wolf creek near the North Carolina line have been received here. Jonathan Bell, an old and well-to-do man, lost his wife by death six weeks ago. After two weeks he married a girl seventeen years old, greatly to the disgust of his family.

As time passed they grew more dissatisfied and finally they went in a body to the old man's home, and taking the young wife out, stripped her and gave her one hundred lashes.

On the following day, upon the complaint of Elder Bell and one John Ballew the whippers were arrested, but released on bonds. Then they went to Ballew's house to punish him for interfering. Ballew resisted and in a battle which followed John Bell was killed.

"Big" and "Wild" Bell, Perham Morton, Jack Johnson, three others, were fatally shot, Johnson and "Big" Bell since died and it is said others are dying. There has been no arrests. Both sides are armed for warfare.

The President in Colorado.

LEADVILLE, Col., May 11.—The Presidential party arrived this morning and was given a most enthusiastic reception. Judge Goddard delivered an address of welcome and presented a brick weighing nearly seven pounds to the president.

It is learned today that some of the party were robbed of small sums of money while at Portland, Oregon, last Tuesday night.

Oil Wells and Forest Fires Burning.

OIL CITY, Pa., May 11.—A message just received from superintendent Strong of the Oil City Fuel Co. from Pine Grove township says this far thirteen oil wells have burned. The fire is still burning. The Fuel company is in receipt of messages today from Elk and Blearfield counties announcing serious forest fires which are spreading.

A Serious Explosion.

LONDON, May 11.—An explosion of gas occurred today in the hold of the British steamer Tancarville, which is under-going repairs in the dry dock at Newport. Five men were killed and thirteen others injured. The steamer is badly damaged.

ITALIAN PEOPLE INDIFFERENT.

The Politicians, However, Continue to Talk Big and abuse the Administration.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Herald publishes another long cablegram from Palermo, in which the correspondent says: While I have found the common people surprisingly indifferent as to the actual dispute between the United States and Italy over the New Orleans massacre, the moment I turn to a politician the tone changes.

Prince Camporeale is probably the foremost man in Sicilian politics today. He declared that the slaughter of the prisoners made a very deep impression upon the people, and that nothing but a trial of the lynchers and payment of indemnity could remove the feeling aroused by the attitude of the United States government!

"The problem of how the murder of those prisoners is to be punished," said he "is for the United States to solve. It would be mockery to try these men in New Orleans. I have examined Kent and find that the venue can be changed to any county in the state. But the tone of Mr. Blaine's response to Italy was so warm, and I may say, so undignified, and the letter of President Harrison to the governor of Louisiana so cold, that our government naturally insists upon all its rights."

THE SCHOONER SEIZED.

Capture of the Robert and Minnie Effected.

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—The schooner Robert and Minnie was captured this afternoon about three miles from San Pedro, by Deputy Marshal Anderson, on board the tug Falcon. She made no resistance, and was towed into San Pedro harbor and tied up to the wharf.

The arms said to have been on board her had disappeared, and it is believed they have been transferred to the steamer Itata.

Agent Burch and Pilot Dill came ashore before the schooner was taken. Dill was arrested at San Pedro. Burch came to Los Angeles and was traced to the Arcade depot, where he was awaiting to take a train to San Francisco.

Burch first denied that he was the man wanted, but afterwards acknowledged and was arrested by Detective Harry Morse, and is now in the custody of the United States marshal. Burch said he landed the arms, but declined to say at what point, but it is supposed to be at Catalina or San Clemente island.

Marshal Gard, United States District Cole and Detective Harry Morse came up from San Diego to Los Angeles this evening.

DEMAND SUNDAY CLOSING.

The Y. M. C. A. Convention Adopts a Resolution for the World's Fair Exhibit.

KANSAS CITY, May 9.—In the Y. M. C. A. convention today the committee on resolutions presented resolutions on the subject of the world's fair. The resolutions provide for an exhibit of the association at the fair, and request its managers to keep the exposition closed on Sunday in deference to what we believe to be the practically unanimous sentiment of all the churches with which we are united, and in accordance with the example set by the Centennial exposition of 1876.

Colonel Dyer, of Minneapolis, offered a motion that secretaries all over the country write to probable exhibitors, asking them to make the appearance of their exhibitions contingent upon the closing of the fair on Sundays. This motion and the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Will Hunt for the Itata.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Herald's Washington special says that the department of justice has decided that the United States has a legal right to recapture the Itata and she will be brought back to San Diego if it takes the whole Pacific squadron to find her.

Instructions have been sent to admiral McCann and admiral Brown, and the Baltimore, Pensacola, and San Francisco will soon be searching for the runaway. The Omaha has been ordered to participate in the hunt.

Supreme Court Decides in Favor of Railroads.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The United States supreme court today decided a case involving the constitutionality and validity of the law of Pennsylvania taxing the Pullman Palace Car Co. on the basis of a proportion to the number of miles of railroad within the state over which the company's cars run compared with the number of miles of railroad in the United States over which the cars run.

The court holds the law constitutional and not in violation of the interstate commerce law. The court also decided in the same way the case from Massachusetts, involving practically the same question applied to the lines of the Western Union Telegraph company in Massachusetts.

Soldiers Arrested at Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA, May 11.—Six soldiers belonging to D troop have been arrested for complicity in the recent lynching of Hunt, the gambler. It is thought that the soldiers were arrested on information furnished by Corporal Arnold, who was arrested a few days ago.

Dining with Discrimination.

If one desires to dine with physiological discrimination the meal should begin with a few uncooked oysters or clams, which are immediately stimulating, nutritious and digestible; both oysters and sea fish contain a tonic quantity of iodine, and are good nerve foods. With the exception of cayenne, the earlier dishes should be mildly seasoned; the entrees may become piquant gradually; the ice or Roman punch refreshes the tissues of the mouth and throat, which have been heated by the food and somewhat inflamed or, rather, stimulated; the liquid coolness counteracts those feverish conditions, and prepares the palate for the flavor of the roast or broiled game.

The accompanying salad greatly enhances the intense flavor of the roast, while the condiments and salad oil favor digestion. The dessert sweets tend to regulate the combination of the nutritive elements in the blood, exercising a chemical action not yet thoroughly understood. Black coffee or tea without milk has an astringent effect, that is, it contracts the mucous membrane of the digestive organs, interfering with the flow of the gastric and intestinal fluids, and thus retarding digestion.

When their effect is desirable, the warmth and stimulus derived from either of those beverages can be replaced by drinking a glass of hot milk and water, swallowed as hot as possible, in large sips, and there is no handicap, as with tea or coffee. The milk soothes the sensitive digestive tract, which may be disturbed by other foods, and the hot water is sanative; the milk taken without the water would become a solid food directly it encountered the gastric juice, thus lacking the necessary liquid quantity.—Juliet Corson in Harper's Bazar.

Its Origin in Doubt.

The other day I casually asked a drug clerk the origin of the many colored lights which are now the universal signs of a drug store. The youth referred me very pleasantly to an older man in the store, who finally admitted that he knew about as little as his younger associate.

I called in every drug store on upper Broadway and made the same query. At each place the question seemed to paralyze the younger members of the establishment. The older clerks contented themselves with the opinion that it was only to attract attention that various colored liquids were represented by jets behind liquid in a glass bottle. I ascertained that there was a great deal of knuck in preparing the liquid so as to give a clear light of whatever color desired and to stand the test of time without precipitation.

One clerk said he thought that the custom could be traced back two or three hundred years until it faded into the barber pole that is now the sign of the tonsorial artists throughout the English speaking world. Another man, who seemed to get a little nearer to it than the rest, said that it originated with the early chemists and alchemists, who designated their places of business in this way. All of them expressed a desire that when I got the information sought I should furnish it to those engaged in the drug business.—Interview in New York Herald

Promiscuous handshaking in America has repeatedly served as a target for European cynicism. Yet the handshake, after all, is the sincerest manifestation of courtesies good will.
