Miss Bettie Chappell, of Goldendale, is in the city the guest of Mrs. John Filloon.

Mrs. George Filloon left yesterday for a month's visit to relatives and friends in Tacoma.

Messrs. Brigham and Vanderpool of the S. B. Medicine company, of Dufur, are in the city.

Wool continues coming in liberal quantities. The price of wheat remains steady at 80 cents.

A gentleman has found a pocket book containing a small amount of money and some other articles. The owner can have it by applying at this office.

The people of Eight Mile have determined on having a fourth of July celebration of their own, which will be held under the friendly shade of a grove of willows on the ranch of W. H. Williams.

The members of Assembly No. 2870 K. of L. are specially requested to attend the regular meeting of the Assembly this evening as business of very great importance will come before the meeting.

A. J. Wall of Eight-mile has two coyote pups, a month old which he has christened "Tom" and "Betsey," after Tom Fargher and Al Bettington.

By referring to our advertising columns it will be seen that the new granger store has just received a fine line of wagons, buggies and farming machinery of the standard and approved makes which will be sold as low as the lowest and on liberal terms.

We have received cards of the wedding of Francis Henry Allison to Miss Eva T. Earhart, daughter of ex-secretary of state Earhart, which took place at Portland on the 13th inst.

A lively runaway occurred on Second street today at about 1 o'clock. A team from Eight Mile belonging to one of the Doyle boys got frightened in the lower end of town and headed for the east end. The driver kept with the wagon although the seat was dashed out on the street.

Last Saturday (?) immediately after attending Sunday school, Geo. Joles, G. W. Miller, James Harper and Tom Joles had a lively game of pitching horse shoes under the pines near the end of the flume.

The editor of the CHRONICLE last evening advertised the loss of a horse and blanket. A few hours after publication word came that the blanket was found.

Resolutions of Respect.

HALL OF ST. PETER'S BRANCH, No. 451, C. K. of A. THE DALLES, OR., May 8, 1891.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to call from this branch our esteemed brother Knight, David Burke, and

WHEREAS, In the demise of our said brother, this branch has lost a faithful and devoted member and his large circle of friends one who ever entertained the kindest feelings towards his fellow men.

Resolved, That the sympathy of this branch be extended to his relations and friends in this, their hour of grief and that the charter of this branch be draped in mourning for thirty days; that these resolutions and preamble be spread on the minutes and that copies be sent to the Catholic Sentinel of Portland, and to the press of this city for publication.

A. BRONGESTY, J. P. McINERNEY, P. E. FARRELLY, Committee.

Keep the Profits at Home.

Eastern Oregon farmers sell their hogs to Chicago shippers for five cents a pound and buy back their own pork in the shape of ham at sixteen cents a pound in course of time.

The residents of The Dalles are more fortunate in having the Columbia Packing company located here. That company puts up many thousand pounds of first class hams every year and sells them at figures way below sixteen cents. Then too the products of our home company are superior to any brought from the east, and can be sold to the consumer at a lower figure, as no money is paid to mercenary railroad corporations for transportation.

John R. Rankin and wife to A. B. Jones. Part of the Jas. M. Benson Donation Land Claim, containing 24 acres. Consideration, $1200.

E. B. Dufur has filed a plat of "Dufur's Grand View Addition" to Dalles city. The new addition is on the bluff near Mr. Dufur's residence, and from it is obtained one of the finest views in the whole city.

The cigar factory in this city has rapidly won its way by the force of real merit only. The entire capacity of the factory is readily disposed of. Nearly every merchant in the city and in the adjoining towns handles its product, and the universal sentiment is that no better cigars are manufactured anywhere for the same prices.

The Wasco warehouse company are making improvements on their warehouse building that will greatly facilitate the handling of their constantly increasing shipments of wool and merchandise. A platform is being extended all along the south side of the building and over it will be built a porch extending over fourteen feet.

A service of foreign missions will be held by Rev. A. Krause, of Tacoma, Wednesday, May 20th, at 8 o'clock p. m. in the German Lutheran parsonage on Ninth street.

The Portage Road.

Portland Telegram.

The commencement of work on the very short but very important road at the Cascades marks an important step forward in the long-delayed, red-tape strangled work of opening the Columbia to navigation.

If, as is believed, this road, operated by the state, in conjunction with boats above and below, can reduce rates from The Dalles from one-third to one-half, it surely will be of immense advantage to all the people of the region tributary to that city, and to Hood River and other points this side.

The state board will undoubtedly prosecute this work with all possible diligence, without any promptings from the press. They understand as well as anybody the great importance of having it ready, if possible, for use this fall.

What a Horse Would say if he Could Speak. Don't hitch me to an iron post or railing when the mercury is below freezing. I need the skin on my tongue.

Don't leave me hitched in my stall at night when a big cob right where I must lie down. I am tied and can't select a smooth place.

Don't compel me to eat more salt than I want by mixing it with my oats. I know better than any other animal how much I need.

Don't think that because I am a horse iron weeds and briars won't hurt my hay.

Don't whip me when I get frightened along the road, or I will expect it next time and may be make trouble.

Don't trot me up-hill, for I have to carry you and the buggy, and myself. Try it yourself some time; run up-hill with a big load.

Don't keep my stable very dark, for when I go out into the light my eyes are injured, especially if snow be on the ground.

Don't say "whoa" unless you mean it. Teach me to stop at the word. It may check me if the lines break, and save a run-away and smash-up.

Don't make me drink ice-cold water, nor put a frosty bit in my mouth. Warm the bit by holding it a half-minute against my body.

Don't forget to file my teeth when they get jagged and I cannot chew my food. When I get lean, it is a sign my teeth want filing.

Don't ask me to "back" with blinds on. I am afraid to.

Don't run me down a steep hill, for, if anything should give way, I might break your neck.

Don't put on my blind bridle so that it irritates my eye, or so leave my forelock that it will be in my eyes.

Don't be so careless of my harness as to find a great sore on me before you attend to it.

Don't lend me to some blockhead that has less sense than I have.

Don't forget the old book that is a friend of all the oppressed, that says: "A merciful man is merciful to his beast."—Farm Journal.

Southern Oregon News.

From the Klamath County Star. The Dalles CHRONICLE is an Oregon daily possessed of logical acumen and a smile that is es.

Jay Gould rejoices over the good crop prospects of the country, and who does not love to hear about Jay's joy! It is as pure and sweet as the joy of a maggot in the center of an old cheese.

If the farmer's alliance will bend its honest brow to the work of controlling nominations and working in the several states, instead of trying to run the government, it will soon be running the government.

The people of Tucson, Arizona, are rapidly building up their town. They buy 800 copies of local paper every month for the purpose of sending it abroad, and in addition pay $200 a month for "write-ups" of their town.

The Monitor, of Fort Scott, Kansas, is paid $7,000 for talking up the advantages of that city. There are many other towns that believe in printers' ink, and they are all booming.

Examination of Teachers.

Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at The Dalles, Wednesday, May 27th, at 12 o'clock.

Dated, this 16th day of May, 1891.
