The Closed Season Will Not be Agreeable to Canada.

CHICAGO, May 25.—A Washington special says: Lord Salisbury is waiting to find out whether the closed season will be agreeable to the Canadian government as between 80 and 100 Canadian poachers are afloat in Alaskan waters. The British foreign office has probably learned by this time that the closed season won't be agreeable to the Dominion government.

GROSS BREACH OF TRUST.

Action of the McCarty Factional Treasurer in Ireland Condemned.

NEW YORK, May 23—At a meeting of the Parnell delegates a reception was held today and resolutions were adopted declaring that the action of certain members of the parlimentary fund association in forwarding to Justin McCarthy $15,000 of the proceeds of the Dillon-O'Brien reception is a gross breach of faith to subscribers, and it was pledged that money would be sent only to Messrs. Kenney and Webb, joint treasurers of both sections of the Irish parliamentarian party. The resolutions express surprise that Eugene Kelley, the treasurer, in the face of his repeated assurances that he would retain these funds until the dissensions in the party were settled, should have consented to hand over this portion of the funds to the exclusive control of McCarthy and his supporters.

The resolutions further state that it is proper to inform the Irish people at home that the attempted formation of a national federation of America merely emanates from a handful of gentlemen individually responsible, but representative of nobody but themselves, and who did not hold any public meeting to create the proposed organization, and who are wholly unable to obtain any public endorsement of their action.

BIDDING FOR FRIENDS.

Italy Trying to Curry Favor With the Great Powers.

LONDON, May 23.—One of the effects of the difficulties between Italy and the United States has been to confirm the adhesion of Italy to the triple alliance. Marquis Rudini was distinctly wobbling on this subject when he took the office, but now he is a firm supporter of the alliance as Crispi and has entirely withdrawn his patronage from the irredentist agitators, and has nothing more to say about the friendship of France. He is also extremely profuse in his utterance of devotion to Great Britain. He has declared in a conversation with a well-known Italian, that Italy and Great Britain should always be found on the same side, which is interpreted in England that Rudini wants the aid of England's fleet in the event of an European war. It should be remembered in this connection that the powers in the triple alliance are not obliged to assist each other unless there is an actual invasion of the territory of the alley requiring assistance. A war confined to naval operations would not of necessity call out the allied forces.

VICTORY FOR PROHIBITION.

County and City Licenses in Kansas City Declared Void

KANSAS CITY, May 23.—Judge Field, of the circuit court, rendered a decision this morning based on the dram-shop act of 1889. The case is an injunction proceeding brought by adjoining property-owners to close the saloon. The judge made a permanent injunction restraining the saloon-keeper from conducting the dram-shop business and the county and city licenses held by him were declared void on several grounds, among them failure to secure a petition for issuance signed by a majority of the citizens living in the block in which the saloon was located; failure to indemnify the city and county against selling liquor to habitual drunkards; permitting gambling, etc. An appeal will be taken. If the decision is sustained every saloon in the city will be affected, and every saloon license will be void.

CORBETT'S FUTURE.

Several Clubs Already Bidding for a Fight Between Him and Slavin.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—Last night Dick Roche, of the granite club of Jersey City, telegraphed a well-known sport as follows:

See Corbett and tell him to keep clear of all offers unti: he hears from me. We will make a bid for him to meet the winner of the Slavin-Kilrain match.

Corbett has also received the following telegram from Bud Renaud, of New Orleans, regarding a match with Slavin at New Orleans:

I am authorized to offer you a $12,000 purse for the Olympic Club, of New Orleans, for a fight to a fiuish with Slavin, to take place in January next.

In reply to Roche, Corbett telegraphed that he would be in New York in two weeks and would talk fight to him in person. When asked as to what he proposed to do in regard to the offers, Corbett said:

I'll probably not fight again for a year. I'm not anxious to meet Slavin. I am not compelled to fight again, and my friends have advised me not to be too anxious about getting a match with Slavin, and then I don't propose to harness myself up to a club until I find how I am going to be treated by the California club. I have been training for three months for Jackson, and it would not do for me to take any chances with a big, strong fellow like Slavin. In physique, I have considerabie to gain. In another year I will be a much stronger man and better-conditioned to meet the Australian.

Corbett's admirers do not hesitate to say that he can whip Slavin, but still they have advised him to take his time before accepting a match. Like himself, they believe that he will be a far better man in another twelve months.

ITALIAN CONSUL'S WAR.

The Lynching at New Orleans Referred to in Uncomplimentary Terms.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—The Post-Dispatche's special from New Orleans gives excerpts from the statement prepared by Italian Consul Cort for his government before he was recalled. The document, it is stated, is a very lengthy one. It complains of the manner in which the evidence was procured against the accused Italians, and says nearly all of it was false and unreliable. In conclusion Corte says:

"It is natural, if it is true what the grand jury affirms, that two American citizens manage the temple of justice at their pleasure, corrupting jury and officers of the court, or, a I believe, a second power exists, besides the constituted authorities to which I am accredited, I am compelled before recognizing the government, in effect, to consult my own government. In the fulfillment of my duty I fear nothing and no one. If the reserve imposed upon foreign officers did not prevent me from applying to the press, public opinion, which has here so great an influence, and the good sense which characterizes the American people, would have dissipated the misunderstanding."

Sealed Orders for the Rush.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—Collector of the Port Phelps has received sealed orders from Washington relating to the sealing industry in the Behring sea this year. The orders are to be delivered to the captain of the revenue cutter Rush, and will not be opened until she proceeds to sea. The North American Commercial company does not yet know how many seals it will be allowed to kill, but it has learned from authoritative force that the number has been limited to 60,000, and that the season, which begins June 1, and has been extended to September 21, instead of August 21 as heretofore.

Five Thousand Men Discharged.

LONDON, May 23.—Five thousand men employed in the steel works at Blackow, Vaughan & Co., received notice that their services were no longer required. Dullness in trade is the reason given by the firm for the wholesale discharge of their employes.

A New Remedy for Cancer.

The juice of the Papaw (Carica Papaya) has long been known to have the remarkable property of softening flesh, and the leaves are often used by natives of tropical America for wrapping around meat to render it tender. Dr. Mortimer Granville believes that this property will prove of great value in the treatment of cancer. He has studied the matter for a considerable time, and has convinced himself that the juice, or its active principles, would prove an effective solvent of cancer tissue when used with some other substance, such for instance as periodohymethoxychinolin.

—The salmon run is on and the Columbia is fairly crowded with them. The nets here are reaping a harvest, and the wheels at The Dalles are catching them by the ton. This state of affairs is pleasant to us people, but causes the Astoria papers considerable uneasiness. One paper there says the wheels should be torn out, or the hatcheries abandoned. As far as we are concerned we can see no difference between catching a salmon in a net or in a wheel. The Astoria people are perfectly willing to catch all they can, and would catch every salmon in the river if they could; but as they can't, they turn green with envy because The Dalles is getting some of them. Astoria seems to think because it is at the mouth of the river, that it owns the tributaries thereto and the fullness thereof. We are satisfied to catch what Astoria cannot, and as they have first grab, and get all they can, they have no kick coming.—Hood River Glacier.
