Sir Jounson's Common is the Lucky Winner.

London, May 27.—The great event of the English turf was run today at Epsom. The weather was fine. It was was the second day of the Epsom meeting and the race for the derby stakes was the event. The distance was about office. Here is what he said in the course of an interview:

"To be president of the United States for four years is honor enough for one man. To fill that place properly ought to satisfy the ambitions of any American citizen. The people have a right to the undivided and unbiased services of the executive upon whom they confer such distinguished houors. The temptation to use the high office of president for electioneering purposes should be removed. President Cleveland before his election took the right view of the question. CATTLEMEN CREATE TROUBLE.

They Are the Most Dangerous Source of Trouble From Indiana. CHICAGO, May 25 .- Captain Ewers, U. S. A., agent at the Tongue river agency, was in the city today and had an interview with General Miles about the situation among the Indians in the West. The captain has just completed a tour of the camps within a radius of 200 miles of the Tongue River agency, and he said the people now to be feared were not Indians, but cattlemen, who want all the land they can seize for their cattle to roam over and will not allow anyone else to establish themselves. The cattlemen, Captain Ewers said, were the people who stirred up the Indians by stealing their land and taking advantage of them in every way, and the Indians are complaining bitterly of the encroachments of these marauders.

Air Ship Managers Out of Sight.

Омана, Neb., May 25.—The Air Ship Company, of Chicago, engineered by Professors Buhr and Dodd, of that city played a star engagement here yesterday. Eight thousand people went to the grounds to see the air ship fly. When 50 cents apiece had been paid, the managers locked the gates, grabbed the receipts, and left the city on horses previously secured for the occasion. The previously secured for the occasion. The crowd discovered their flight, and made a bonfire of the cover supposed to contain the air ship. Later it was discovered that the air ship had been shipped from the city and that the boxes destroyed were filled with paper.

ANOTHER MATCH FOR DEMPSEY.

The California Club Proposes to Match Him Against Gallagher.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25 .- It is stated today on good authority that the Cali-fornia Club directors are considering the advisability of giving Jack Dempsey another match. Although easily defeated by Fitzsimmons, Dempsey's friends be-lieve that he will be the same Dempsey against a man of his weight and inches. "Reddy" Gallagher, who the club talks of putting against the "Nonpareil," is a trifle heavier than Dempsey, but would not outclass him in other respects, as Fitzsimmons did. Gallagher says he is willing to meet Dempsey, and the latter's partner, Charley Dexter, wrote to Portland several days ago to get Jack's answer. Suffice it to say that Dempsey will meet Gallagher, providing the club will meet Gallagher, providing the club will give him a $5000-puse. Dexter says Jack is in fine condition and is willing

The town people assert the bells of the church rang weirdly during the storm, and they were much frightened by what they consider to be a supernatural phe-

edge that he had acquired at these places did not serve him well, now that he was engaged as clerk in a grocery store on Sixth avenue. One day a young lady came in the store and asked the clerk if they had any horseradish. "Hossradish? I should say we have," exclaimed the young man. "We probably have the most remarkable hossradish in the market," and he pulled down a bottle, covered with the dust of ages, and rolled it along the counter.

"Observe its gait," he continued with enthusiasm. "There's a hossradish that I can recommend. There's an A No. 1 family hossradish. I can warrant it to work anywhere. It will drag a family carriage, on a heavy track, in 2:40." The young lady looked at the clerk with some astonishment. She wanted the horseradish, however, and ventured to ask if it was strong. "Strong?" echoed the clerk; "why, it's as strong as a steam stump puller. It's the strongest hossradish that ever looked through a collar. You can take it right out of your phaeton, after a whirl around Central park, hitch it to a stone boat, and if it doesn't pull more than a locomotive I'll knock it in the head. Fact is, it's a heavy draught hossradish, with the swiftness and endurance of Salvator." "I meant to ask," said the young lady, somewhat confused, "if it is sharp does it bite?" "Bite? No; it's gentle as a sucking dove; wouldn't bite the smallest child. It seems kind o' sad like when it has to take the bit in its mouth. Oh, no; it wouldn't bite a piece of molasses candy. And kick? You couldn't make that hossradish kick if you tickled it with a straw," and the clerk punched the bottle in the ribs as proof of its excellent disposition.

The young lady did not seem entirely satisfied with the recommendation, and took the bottle up to examine it more

"That's right, said the affable young man; "look it over carefully. Examine it closely for ringbone, spavin, quartercrack, heaves, thumps, mumps, bumps, dumps, grumps or anything else under the shining sun. If you find it is not as sound as a dollar, the hossradish is yours without costing you a red cent, and with a nice set of silver mounted harness thrown in. Shall I wrap it up?"

The young lady said she would not take it along now, but might call later with a halter to lead it home.—River and Driver.
