WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, JUNE 1, 1891. Weather forecast till 12 m., Tuesday; light rain. Cooler.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Curt von Otterstedt, editor of the Erie Presse, of Portland, paid this city a visit today.

Four hundred sacks of wool were received at the Wasco warehouse today up to early this afternoon.

The barge Julia is unloading a cargo of timothy hay, from the Klickitat landing, for Joles Brothers.

Lost—A bunch of ten or eleven keys. The finder will be rewarded by returning them to this office.

The ladies of the M. E. church will serve their friends with ice cream and cake on the Fourth of July.

On Decoration day Dr. Hollister wore a surgeon's sash that had been worn by his father during Sherman's famous march to the sea.

The regular annual election of the Eastern Oregon Co-operative Association will be held next Wednesday in the parlors of the Cosmopolitan Hotel.

The King's Daughters will meet at Mrs. S. L. Brooks' residence tomorrow afternoon. A full attendance is requested as work is to be done.

Graham, the restaurant man, with his usual good taste, had one of his show-windows tastefully dressed on decoration day with swords, guns, bayonets, flags, and evergreens.

Before a man can know anything there must be a sort of preparation for it. As Amiel says: "A man only understands that of which he has already the beginnings in himself."

Yesterday was a good day for woolmen if it was Sunday. Seventeen loads arrived in the city, sixteen of which are being unloaded at the Wasco warehouse this morning.

The Dalles Ice company received yesterday two carloads of Lake Coccolalla ice, which is superior in quality and thickness of any ice that has ever been brought to The Dalles.

Ex-senator Biggs and Mr. Clark Dunlap, of Sherman county arrived in town this afternoon. They have come to confer with our citizens to see what measures could be taken towards building a line of railroad between this city and Sherman county.

In the store of Joles Brothers we saw last Saturday a box containing thirteen strawberries which weighed a pound. They were raised by John Klint on Mill Creek. Who can beat this? Where is Hood River?

The reports of committees of the state grange showed that the membership of the order had doubled in Eastern Oregon during the past year. During that time ten new granges were organized in the state.

Messrs. Murdock McLeod, Tom Glavey and John Russell from Kingsley, yesterday brought into this city sixty head of live hogs which weighed an average of 180 pounds each. They were shipped to the Sound market.

Judge J. H. Bird was fortunate enough to have been the possessor of a policy of $2000 in the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company and as that company is one that always pays its losses promptly, his mother will soon be in receipt of the money.

A railroad bridge, a little east of Hood River was set on fire last night or early this morning, as is supposed by the sparks from a passing locomotive and before it could be extinguished eight bents were destroyed. Word was immediately sent to this city and the west-bound passengers on the 4.40 train were transferred to the D. S. Baker, which will continue to run till the bridge is repaired.

A gentleman who was present at the memorial services Saturday remarked to the writer that there was a wide difference between the action of the O. N. G. boys last Saturday and that of two or three years ago, on which occasions the members of the O. N. G., on arriving at the grounds, broke ranks and went, one time to a base ball game on the reservation grounds, and the other, to a target practice, instead of remaining for the ceremony and escorting the G. A. R. boys back to the city. The change under a new command was as marked as it was pleasing to the members of the G. A. R. to all loyal citizens and we have no doubt, to the O. N. G. boys themselves.

A Kansas woman boasts that she never appeared on the street twice within the same week in the same dress. Her husband is wearing a suit, this spring which he bought four years ago, and a hat of the vintage of 1885.

Headquarters for choice strawberries at Maier & Benton's.

Memorial Day. Memorial day was duly observed at the G. A. R. cemetery with the usual solemn memorial services. About the hour of two p. m. the members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., formed in line on Second street under directions of A. G. Johnson marshal of the day, and escorted by the two local companies of the third regiment, and preceded by the regimental band marched to the cemetery grounds under the command of Colonel Houghton accompanied by his mounted staff. A procession of Good Templars and a large number of citizens formed in the rear. Arriving at the grounds the two companies of O. N. G. formed on right and left flank with the G. A. R. in center, in front of the monument and opposite the grand stand. The memorial services were conducted by Commander W. S. Myers in a very impressive manner. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Comrade Hall of Astoria. The services were interspersed with appropriate music by a select choir and by the regimental band. It was estimated that not less than a thousand persons witnessed the ceremonies. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Comrade W. H. Wilson and taps being sounded the G. A. R. boys were escorted back to their post room.

Again Successful. Some time ago the CHRONICLE published an account of a foot race in California among the state university students in which Mr. Ed. Mays, son of Hon. Robt. Mays, of this city was the successful contestant. Last week the Berkeley boys had some more running and in a race of 440 yards between S. V. Casady of the Olympic club and Ed. Mays of '93, the latter won in fifty-five seconds to the great delight of the university boys.

The San Francisco Call of last Sunday in giving a report of the university races has this to say of them:

Another event, which was an all-absorbing one, though the existing records were not approached, was the 440-yard run, open scratch, between S. V. Casady, O. A. C., and E. Mays, '93. The men are old opponents on the cinder-path and had met before. Mays on that occasion carrying off the laurels. It was supposed that this victory had engendered feeling between the men, and that report spreading, as such rumors usually do, had the effect of centralizing the interest of all the amateur talent on the grounds upon the twelfth event in yesterday's programme.

The race was won in a jog by Mays in 55 seconds, three seconds slower than his former time, the present University Club record. After the race was awarded to Mr. Mays it was represented to him that he had fouled his opponent by striking him on the leg, which showed evidence of the fact by a slight scratch. Upon hearing of this he voluntarily requested the judges to award the race to Mr. Casady, claiming that he fouled him unintentionally, but the judges, at Mr. Casady's request, refused to allow the same.

Circuit Court Notes.

In the circuit court this morning a decree of divorce was granted to Nellie Orsborn from her husband, Marion Orsborn.

Judgment was allowed in the sum of $1000 against G. T. and L. H. Prather in favor of J. R. Dawson.

The case of Bower against Hauser, involving the price of a horse, valued at $125 was on trial as we go to press, and is likely to occupy the rest of the day. Eighteen witnesses have already been examined and at least half a dozen more have been subpoenaed. The case came in on Friday afternoon and was continued till 10:30 p. m. of that day.

Colonel Bain Coming.

Col. Bain, who is justly considered the finest orator on the American platform, will lecture in The Dalles on the 6th and 7th of June. The lectures will be "Safe Side of Life for Young Men" and "Drink the Enemy of Labor and Business." Truly may it be said, that it is not often in a life time that the people have an opportunity of hearing a man so wonderfully gifted. Miss Willard says of him: "To a pictorial memory, a keen incisive judgment and a sunlit imagination, Mr. Bain adds a pleasing presence, faultless manner, and voice of mellow compass and subtlest sympathy."

O. D. Taylor Heard From.

The Buffalo (N. Y.) Express of May 25th says "that Rev. O. D. Taylor of The Dalles, Or., will preach at the Dearborn street Baptist church at 10:30 a. m. today, after which he will ask for pledges to cancel the church's indebtedness, amounting to about $2,400." It seems the appeal was successful as a private letter from Buffalo since received informs us. The amount raised was $3,100 and the church there is much delighted with Mr. Taylor's efforts.

Saturday's Baseball Game.

The ball game last Saturday between The Dalles and the Cascade nines was a very close game and was witnessed by a goodly turnout. The game resulted in favor of The Dalles. Following is the score:

Table with columns: Innings, Dalles, Cascades. Rows: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9.

A large, fine-looking man was visiting the Ashland ladies recently, selling them seeds for an improved clematis vine that blossomed out into a flower as large as a saucer. With a very sweet-scented lot of talk and pretentious ceremony he succeeded in planting a box of his seeds in the gardens of a large number of Ashland's flower-loving ladies, taxing them a fee of from $1 upwards. He did well. The seeds are also doing well, after considerable nourishing and very tender care. They are radishes. The handsome florist is gone, and there is lots of good-natured smiling going on at the expense of the victims.—Ashland Record.

CROP-WEATHER BULLETIN, NO. 11.

For the Week Ending, Saturday May 30, 1891.

OREGON WEATHER BUREAU, CENTRAL OFFICE, PORTLAND, OREGON. EASTERN OREGON WEATHER.

Cooler, partly cloudy weather with general rains prevailed since Tuesday; Sunday and Monday were very warm with east winds. The rains were heavier in Union county than in other sections. On 25th and 26th thunder storms were quite general. On the 26th a south wind of unusual severity was experienced in parts of Gilliam county, especially at Arlington, which did some damage. The rain-fall amounted to from .10 to .45 of an inch. South of the Blue mountains especially in Crook and Grant counties the weather is yet cool and season backward.

CROPS.

The rain was of inestimable benefit and value to the wheat crop. The east winds did some damage in parts of Umatilla, Morrow, and Wasco counties. The effects of the rain is supposed to offset the damage. The rains have revived the excellent wheat prospects throughout this section. Fruit is well set and thriving well. Strawberries are becoming plentiful. General prospects for crops of all kinds, are at the present time most flattering.

B. S. PAGUE, Observer U. S. Weather Bureau.

Death of Judge J. H. Bird.

The fluctuating hopes and fears that have filled the minds of the many friends of Judge J. H. Bird, have at last been set at rest forever by the announcement of his death at Pasadena, California, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. Judge Bird was born in this city about 36 years ago. His aged and grief-stricken mother, to whom he was everything that an affectionate son ought to be, still survives him. The judge was a man of generous and kindly impulses. No man had a warmer spot in the hearts of those who knew him best. His tender solicitude and generous care for his widowed mother was alike honorable to his head and heart. Judge Bird was educated in the Willamette university and studied law under the late Judge Whitten of this city. He was admitted to the bar in 1880 in the same class with Senator Watkins, Hon. F. P. Mays and Judge A. S. Bennett. His ability soon placed him in the front ranks of his profession, and five years ago he was elected judge of the Seventh judicial district. No man ever sat upon the bench whose decisions were more just or more universally respected. More than a year ago his health gave way and symptoms of the dread disease consumption were manifested. He removed to the milder climate of San Diego, California, where he remained till about two months ago when he changed to Pasadena. While the genial air of Southern California may have prolonged his life, as the result proved, it could not stay the progress of the disease. His remains will be brought to this city for interment, and are expected to leave Pasadena today and arrive here about next Thursday morning.

Some Fine Cattle.

Mr. W. F. Alexander a brother of Mr. Geo. W. Alexander, late of Wapinitia, has just arrived from his home in Missouri, bringing with him a very choice lot of thoroughbred and short horn and Devon cattle and a thoroughbred running stallion and mare. These animals are to be added to the herd and stud of Mr. Joseph Tripper, of Wapinitia. About two years ago Mr. Tripper imported sixty head of Devon and Shorthorn cattle and a few thoroughbred running horses. His success has been such as to encourage him to continue in the business. His sales have been widely distributed all over Eastern Oregon. Last fall he sold five head of thoroughbred Devon bulls to Curtis C. Strong of Portland. Mr. Tripper thinks a cross between the Devon and Shorthorn makes the best cattle for all purposes in the world. Last fall his cattle came off the range in better condition than any others in his neighborhood.

Mr. Tripper has now a stud of sixteen thoroughbred runners. The new stallion is of the Ariel stock and is registered in Bruce's stud book. Mr. Tripper intends to have a full exhibition of his stock at the next district fair. The CHRONICLE heartily wishes him the success he deserves for improving the stock of Eastern Oregon.

A Credit to Oregon.

Little Mary Roberts, who has been to the Asylum for the Blind, at Salem, paints a delightful picture of that institution. She entered its doors last September, and returns able to read point print as rapidly as anybody reads a book. She became quite an adept at type-writing, and she has learned to sew so well that she expects soon to enter the embroidery department. She is a very intelligent little girl, and it is touching to hear her tell how truly and why the inmates all love Mrs. and Miss McFadden, Miss Olive Copwell, Miss Scott, the music teacher, and Mr. Gardener, the net and hammock teacher. The institution is trying to get all the blind little ones, and why should it not? It is the best home on earth for them. The state supports the teachers, and the little ones, with their intellects and sympathies developing among their own class, feel less keenly their common misfortune. Besides, they learn there to be self-supporting. That institution is a credit to Oregon.—Klamath County Star.

The leaders of the third-party cause at Washington profess to have direct assurances that Senator Stanford, of California, is ready to put himself at the head of their movement, with all that is therein implied, and that he will be the standard bearer of the alliance, or people's party, in 1892. Some of the alliance leaders claim to be authorized to make public the alleged fact that Senator Stanford considers he holds his great fortune simply as "steward for these people."

Who is the Traitor?

The directors of The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation company have been quietly making arrangements for the charter or purchase of a boat for a connection below the Cascades and thought they had succeeded, but some traitor in camp gave their plan away, and Thursday night last the Union Pacific railroad bought the boat the directors expected to secure and have tied it up as they did the Baker last fall, presumably for fear of the floating ice. Some one in The Dalles has proved a traitor to the best interests of this city and the farmers of the interior and time will tell who he is.

Not Entitled to Repayment.

Acting commissioner Stone has written the land office at this place that "parties who fail to comply with the law under which they have made their entries, within the time prescribed by law, are not entitled to repayment of fees, commissions or purchase money."

Dighton, Mass., is the strawberry-growing center upon which Boston, and New England in general depends for its luscious fruit; and just now it is figuring out that it lost $25,000 by the late cold snap.

A new motor, utilizing ordinary gas as well as petroleum, is announced, compact in form, requiring little space and no expensive foundations or attendances. In one-half minute's time starting can be accomplished.

Apply by letter or otherwise to the editor of the CHRONICLE or to the owner, W. L. Ward, Boyd, Wasco county, Oregon.

He wants it known.—Mr. J. H. Straub, a well known German citizen of Fort Madison, Iowa, was terribly afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism when Mr. J. F. Salmon, a prominent druggist there, advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One bottle of it cured him. His case was a very severe one. He suffered a great deal and now wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured him. 50 cent bottles for sale by Snipes Kinerly.

The following statement from Mr. W. B. Denny, a well known dairyman of New Lexington, Ohio, will be of interest to persons troubled with Rheumatism. He says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for nearly two years, four bottles in all, and there is nothing I have ever used that gave me as much relief for rheumatism. We always keep a bottle of it in the house." For sale by Snipes & Kinerly.
