Maximum temperature, 80; minimum temperature, 58. The river is falling.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, June 4, 1891. FAIR. Weather forecast till 12 m., Friday; fair. Followed by light rain and cooler.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The wool clip of Mr. Frank Malone, of Antelope, amounts to 43,000 pounds.

R. A. Laughlin, W. H. Davis and J. P. Abbot of Wapinitia are in the city.

All the Portland papers are fighting for an open river except the Oregonian.

Two car loads of sheep were shipped from the stock yards yesterday, for Victoria.

Baker City scrip is worth 50 cents on the dollar. How is that for a boom town?

The Raymond excursion party consisting of ten passenger cars passed through the city early yesterday afternoon.

In the circuit court the case of C. S. Miller vs. Mary E. Miller and others is still on trial and is likely to go over till tomorrow.

We are reminded of the coming city election by the fact that Marshal Gibbons has announced himself a candidate for re-election.

The graduating exercises of the pupils of St. Mary's academy will take place on Saturday, the 13th inst.

Mr. A. S. Macalister and wife who have been several weeks at their ranch on the John Day are expected back to the city today.

It is estimated that not more than from 150 to 200 acres of grain have been absolutely destroyed beyond recovery by the crickets in the Wapinitia country.

Mr. R. R. Hinton and the two brothers of the late Judge Bird left yesterday afternoon for Portland to meet the remains on their way to this city.

Seven of the soldiers at the Walla Walla garrison have been indicted for the murder of the gambler, Hunt. They have each entered a plea of not guilty and are now on trial.

Nearly 9,000 head of sheep, belonging to J. Anderson and company, were ferried across the Columbia yesterday. They are all mutton sheep and will sooner or later be served up to the people of the sound cities.

Mr. Aaron Frasier has engaged to teach a seven week's school in the Ten-mile school district. This is another teacher's unexpired term, and fills up the time before the re-opening of the graded school at Dufur.

Col. Bain will lecture at the Congregational church on Saturday night of this week. On Sunday he will hold a union mass meeting at the opera house, admission free to both.

On Tuesday eve, the 9th, the pupils of the Wasco Independent academy will give an entertainment at the opera house. The graduating exercises will take place on Thursday evening the 11th at the Congregational church.

Next Wednesday the 10th will be the last day of school, at the public schools of this city. Instead of the customary public exercises the children, on Thursday the 11th, will have an excursion and picnic.

The band boys are much pleased with their new band-stand. It is not only a fine pleasant place for playing but the light is excellent, enabling the players to see without difficulty the smallest dot and musical character.

C. G. Roberts of Hood River, Frank Malone, John and Donald McLennon of Antelope, James Driscoll and M. Ellsworth of Bake Oven and I. J. Butler of Kingsley are registered at the Umatilla house.

The Hon. W. McD. Lewis arrived in town last evening. We had the pleasure of congratulating him on another addition to his family in the form of a bouncing boy, born to him May 27 ult. We are pleased to know that mother and child are doing well.

One of the principal stock owners of the new boat has asked us to urge upon the directors to call her "The McGinty" in honor of our fellow citizen of that name. The answer of the CHRONICLE is, No Sir! A possessor of the honored name of McGinty who would try to pass himself off as "Frinch" will never, by our consent, have a boat called after him. Not much.

The friends of Mr. Solomon will regret to hear that he is a very sick man. On Tuesday morning he left for Portland to place himself under special medical treatment. Mr. S. B. Adams who has been placed in charge of his business informs us that the condition of Mr. Solomon is alarming. His physician here, we understand, has grave apprehensions about his recovery.

Mr. A. Scherneckau is in the city, the guest of Mr. G. A. Leibe.

Mr. Geo. A. Young and wife left for Salem yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of their son-in-law the late Clarence Durbin.

Farmers from the interior state that spring wheat has never looked in as good color as it now does. None of the crops so far are suffering from the want of rain.

F. A. Seufert was asked this morning "How is fishing?" His answer was, "Fishing is very good only they don't bite." The fact is very few fish are being caught and the catch as yet can scarcely be said to have met the expenses.

He Has Disappeared.

Will Hardy is the name of a young man of about 30, who has been engaged for sometime in working for Mr. Frank Fleming of Dog Creek. Night before last Mr. Fleming and the young man came into town each driving a team.

They put up the teams at The Dalles Merchantile Co.'s stables and shortly after that Mr. Hardy disappeared and nothing is known of what has become of him. There was no reason for his going away. He had no money and it is a mystery why he walked off.

Band Concert.

The following is the programme for the open-air concert to be given this evening by the third regiment band.

- 1. March: The Village Beauty. 2. Aria for 3 flat alto (a solo by Al. Varney.) 3. Virgil, Lee Quickstep.

The genuine Kranich & Bach piano is a first class instrument in every particular.

Their make of piano is sold direct from the factory by E. Jacobsen & Co.

the leading dealers in musical goods in The Dalles, Or.

Besides the Kranich & Bach we sell direct from the several factories all the leading makes of pianos, and are prepared to give better prices on any of them than any other house in the city, as our business connections are such that we are prepared to do this.

All pianos that we handle are guaranteed. We do not handle what may be termed second grade pianos. Anyone wishing a piano of any of the leading makers will do well to call and get prices from E. JACOBSEN & Co., The Leaders, 162 Second-st., The Dalles, Or.

The People Are in Earnest.

Pendleton Tribune. The solution of the Cascades railway problem seems at hand. The portage commission has determined on prompt and vigorous action and evinces a determination to push the enterprise to completion in season for the removal of the approaching wheat crop.

The history of the long struggle for an "open river" has been prolific of schemes, promises and swearing, and characterized by disappointment and disgust. If now success crowns the effort it will be because the people of the state wisely resolved to help themselves. When the people move in earnest there is small chance of corporate interests blocking their way.

Attention!

The Dalles Mercantile company would respectfully announce to their many patrons that they now have a well selected stock of general merchandise, consisting in part of dress goods, gingham, challoes, satens, prints, hosiery, corsets, gloves, handkerchiefs, hats, caps, boots, shoes, gaiters, furnishing goods, ladies' and mens' underwear, groceries, hardware, crockery, glassware, etc., in fact everything pertaining to general merchandise. Above being new, full and complete. Come and see us.

Lost.—On the bluff near the new frame school-house, by a little girl pupil, a small satchel containing a handkerchief and small pair of gloves. The finder will please return it to the teacher, Miss Wood, or leave it at this office.

The Dalles Mercantile Co., are now prepared to furnish outfits to the teamsters and farmers and all others who desire to purchase anything in general merchandise. Their line is new, full and complete. Call and see them. Prices guaranteed.

To the Public.

THE LAST ROSE.

Hushed is the voice that held our hearts enthralled. Hushed ere life's wine on those glad lips had passed.

Hushed in its joyous prime, while trophies sweet Still breathed their fragrance at the singer's feet—

And she who sang "The Last Rose" o'er and o'er Since first her girlish hands song's scepter grasped.

Linking it with her name from shore to shore. Lies with the last rose in her fingers clasped As seal of science.

Dear the singer's fame, But dearer still each tender household name We knew her by—wife, daughter, sister, friend; And while the passing years her praise prolong.

With her "Last Rose" in loving thought shall blend The roselike life she wedded to her song.

—Mary B. Sleight in Harper's Bazar.

Baby is sick.—The woeful expression of a Des Moines teamster's countenance showed his deep anxiety was not entirely without cause, when he inquired of a druggist of the same city what was best to give a baby for a cold. It was not necessary for him to say more, his countenance showed that the pet of the family, if not the idol of his life was in distress.

"We give our baby Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," was the druggist's answer. "I don't like to give the baby such strong medicine," said the teamster. You know John Oleson, of the Watters-Talbot Printing Co., don't you? Inquired the druggist.

"Yes," said the teamster, "he is a good old, got hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and drank the whole of it. Of course it made the baby vomit very freely but did not injure it in the least, and what is more, it cured the baby's cold. The teamster already knew the value of the Remedy, having used it himself, and was now satisfied that there was no danger in giving it even to a baby. For sale by Snipes & Kinersley.

Forfeited Railroad Lands. We are now ready to prepare papers for the filing and entry of Railroad Lands. We also attend to business before the U. S. Land Office and Secretary of the Interior. Persons for whom we have prepared papers and who are required to renew their applications, will not be charged additional for such papers.

THORNBURY & HUDSON, Rooms 8 and 9, Land Office building, The Dalles, Oregon.

He wants it known.—Mr. J. H. Straub, a well known German citizen of Fort Madison, Iowa, was terribly afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism when Mr. J. F. Salmon, a prominent druggist there, advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One bottle of it cured him. His case was a very severe one. He suffered a great deal and now wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured him. 50 cent bottles for sale by Snipes Kinersley.

Notice. Having leased the Mount Hood hotel at Hood River, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the fact that the house is being thoroughly renovated and will be open for the reception of guests on or about May 1st, and I would most respectfully solicit a share of the public patronage. Nothing will be overlooked for the comfort of guests.

GEORGE HEBBERT.

The following statement from Mr. W. B. Denny, a well known dairyman of New Lexington, Ohio, will be of interest to persons troubled with Rheumatism. He says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for nearly two years, four bottles in all, and there is nothing I have ever used that gave me as much relief for rheumatism. We always keep a bottle of it in the house." For sale by Snipes & Kinersley.

It is well known that vegetable and animal oils are unsuitable for cylinder lubrication, and recently in France where colza oil was used it was found necessary to burn out the deposits in the ports of the locomotive cylinders.

Katie Got the Book. Katie was going to bed after a day of toil minding her sick and maimed dolls—chronic invalids all of them—and her be-a-u-tiful duck, the one old quacker that traveled with the hens because he had no better company.

The robin that had been watching her out of the corners of his bright eyes, he ran over the lawn and listened to her prattle, was asleep already with his head under his wing, and Katie's hung heavily on mother's shoulder as she was undressing her. "Now I lay me" had been said, with many yawns in between, and mamma's pet had been tucked in snugly; but just as the sleepy eyes were closing she sat suddenly bolt upright.

"Mamma," she said, "I want Johnnie's picture book—that with the lambs."

"Hush, Katie!" said her mother, the least bit warmly, for the little feet and the little tongue had never ceased going one moment all day. "Now we will go to sleep."

"But, mamma," and the big eyes pleaded earnestly, "can't I have Johnnie's picture book this once?"

"Not tonight, dearie; it is too late."

"Mamma," said Katie, sitting up, very straight and looking very solemn indeed, "I heard a story of a little girl—she was a good little girl—that asked her mamma out when she was put to bed for the picture book with the lambs, and the mamma told her she couldn't have it, and—and—the baby voice fell to an awed whisper and the eyes grew very big—'in just—about—two—minutes—she was dead!'"

"My, Katie! And what killed her so quick?"

"Because," said Katie with conviction, "because she didn't get the book."

She got it, and in five minutes was asleep with it in her arms.—Harper's Young People.

Wanted to Know. Few men were ever fonder of news and gossip than was old Jerry Clisben. Despite this fondness, however, Jerry was not a talker, and rarely took part in conversation other than to ask an occasional question about some point of special interest.

One day Jerry's brother William, who lived some miles away, came to visit him. William had his right hand heavily bandaged, and this fact, of course, required an early explanation.

"Burnt it 'most off 't the fire 't other night," said William. "Ye see, old 'Square Deau's' barn got afire, 'n' I went with the rest; but 'twan't any use, 'bout everything was burnt. If I wuz the 'square I'd give that boy sech a lickin' 't he couldn't stan'."

"What for?" asked the interested Jerry. "Why, fur settin' the barn afire," was the reply; "but there! I furgot ter tell ye 'bout that part of it. Ye see the square's boy—great dough head—he found an owl settin' on the ridge pole, and so, of course, he had ter shoot at it."

"Wal, the barn winder was open, 'n' the gunwad went right inter the haymow, 'n' 'twan't five minutes afore 'twas all a-blastin'." Everybody turned out, and we got out the old boss, 'n' then Bill Treat said—and so the old man went on with a long story, giving every detail of what was done, said and thought by each one who was present at the fire.

When at last the story was ended old Jerry remained for several minutes silently meditating on what he had heard; then he suddenly looked up and gravely asked, "Did ye say whether the boy killed the owl?"—Youth's Companion.

Girls Like to Be Kissed. A young society man who moves in the younger circles told something out of the usual run the other day. He is a handsome fellow, tall and erect, and a prime favorite among the girls.

He said that he attempted to kiss a pretty girl, and just as he got his arms around her slender waist and was about to kiss her she said if he dared she would scream.

Not wishing to have a scene, which such an action would cause, he withdrew his arm and resumed his seat at the other end of the sofa. In an instant the pretty girl said, "Oh, I thought you were braver than that."

She, however, obstinately refused to let him kiss her.

In a couple of days he called on another girl. He wanted to kiss her, but she likewise threatened to scream if he should attempt it. He thought he would profit by his former experience and paid no attention to the warning.

He kissed her—she screamed; her mother came in and demanded an explanation. The girl came to his rescue, however, and said a mouse was in the room, and she screamed as it ran across the floor. Furthermore, by saying the young man had gallantly tried to catch the mouse, she explained his blushes to the mother's satisfaction.—Louisville Commercial.
