LONDON, June 9.—The jury in the baccarat trial today returned a verdict against the plaintiff, Sir William Gordon Cumming.

PROGRESS OF THE TRIAL. LONDON, June 9.—The Prince of Wales was not present this morning when the court convened.

Here the solicitor general Sir Edward Clarke sprang to his feet, and exclaimed: "I ask your lordship to interfere and that General Williams should not be allowed to make a statement as he has not the privilege of doing so."

To this General Williams hotly replied: "I was accused of an abominable charge."

Here the lord chief justice interfered by saying, "I do not remember the expression, but I don't think you can be allowed to speak."

But General Williams persisted in being heard. Lord Coleridge interrupted the general, remarking with considerable warmth, "I cannot hear any statement from you and immediately commenced his summing up while General Williams retired frowning and greatly discontented."

The announcement of the verdict for the defendant was received with hissing from the galleries where ladies had congregated and upon the part of some of those in the body of the court who were in sympathy with the plaintiff.

The court officers had some difficulty in suppressing these marks of the principally feminine disapprobation of the verdict.

A DAYLIGHT ABDUCTION. A Sensational Story Reported From Tacoma.

TACOMA, June 6.—An abduction in broad daylight, almost within Tacoma, and a wild midnight ride after the abductor and his prey form one of the most exciting stories this city has furnished for many a day.

The kidnaper took place Saturday afternoon, on the road leading to Shav-nigan lake. The story is that of trouble between man and wife, Ramsdell and his wife, who had been living in Victoria, separated a short time ago, and Mrs. Ramsdell, who is a good-looking woman, about 26 years of age, came back to her former home, the Dougherty farm, about three miles outside of Tacoma, while her husband married in Victoria.

The couple had three children, and Mrs. Ramsdell brought home with her their little girl. The older boys remained with their father. With her little girl and sister Mrs. Ramsdell went out driving Saturday afternoon. They went on for quite a distance, when there jumped from a clump of bushes a man who seized the horses head and brought the carriage to a stop.

He then said he wanted the child. Without wasting any time he seized the young one and lifted her from the wagon and disappeared, not heeding the cries of the mother. When Mrs. Ramsdell had sufficiently recovered herself, she resolved to seek the aid of the authorities.

She hunted up lawyer Sharpstein, and they swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest. Securing a deputy, the lawyer set out on the chase for the abductor and abducted. For about four hours the party sought everywhere for the father and child, but they were not to be found.

A HORRIBLE OUTRAGE. Committed by a Party of Drunken Prussian Youths.

BERLIN, June 7.—A horrible outrage by a party of drunken youths was committed at Dossen, Prussia, last night. The party were carousing in Tschernow's inn, and finding the host convivially disposed, they plied him with liquor until he was helplessly intoxicated.

They then locked him in a room, and after overpowering the bar-man, and locking him up also, criminally assaulted his wife and 14-year-old daughter. Though the mother and daughter were nearly dead from the effects of the brutal treatment they had sustained, the fiends took the precaution to lock them in rooms, so that they could not escape, and then set fire to the building, hoping thus to erase all evidence of the terrible crimes they had perpetrated.

In this, however, they did not wholly succeed, for though the mother was suffocated to death, and the daughter badly burned, the flames were subdued by the aroused townspeople in time to save the landlady's life. She was able to give a good description of the miscreants, but, as they had fled immediately upon setting fire to the place, they had succeeded in getting safely away for the time being.

The police authorities of the entire district have been put on the watch, and it is believed that the guilty parties will soon be apprehended. The people of the town are wild with excitement, and would be glad of an opportunity to lynch the ravishers and murderers.

CONCERNING LABORERS. A Serious Strike Averted in Chicago Yesterday.

CHICAGO, June 7.—A serious strike was averted today by a prompt concession on the part of the employers. Last night the journey bakers' council decided to order all the union bakers in the city out on a strike this afternoon if a renewal of last year's scale of wages was refused.

This afternoon over two-thirds of the master bakers had not only accepted the scale, but further agreed to advance $1 per week to all the bench hands during the summer months. Nearly 1400 men would have been affected by a general strike. Two of the largest establishments, Bremner and Aldrich, employing union and non-union help, will give an answer tomorrow. If they accede to the journeymen, 400 men now out in smaller establishments, it is expected, will speedily gain their point.

THE MAN WHO ROCKED IN THE CRADLE OF THE DEEP FOUND plenty of billows to rest his head on.

A Young Married Woman's Attack Upon Her Alleged Rival.

ST. PAUL, June 7.—There was a sensation in the Mannheim block, at the corner of Third and Minnesota streets, Saturday afternoon, when a little woman rushed from the elevator on the second floor directly into the school of embroidery of Miss Gibson and began firing at Miss Gibson, at the same time hissing, "You won't steal another woman's husband as you have mine."

The occupants of the offices in the neighborhood ran into the room and seized the woman just as she was dropping the revolver and swooning away. She proved to be Mrs. George L. Cresson, of No. 127 Nina avenue, to which point she was taken in a carriage and placed under the care of Dr. Wheaton. Miss Gibson was not injured. Mrs. Cresson charges that her husband, an assistant engineer of the Omaha railway, is too fond of the society of Miss Gibson, and sought to murder the latter on that account.

Mrs. Cresson was injured in a cable car accident six months ago, and has been quite ill-most of the time since.

A HEAVY LOSS. Twenty Thousand Dollars in Cash Lost to the Canadian Pacific Wreck.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 7.—In the accident to the Winnipeg express on the Canadian Pacific, at Straight lake, the sum of $20,000, which had been mailed from two banks here to Winnipeg, was destroyed. One package of $10,000 was entirely destroyed, but there was enough of the second bundle left to enable the bank to recover several thousand dollars.

Who the actual losers will be is not known, but it is likely to fall on the banks shipping the money.

TWO BROTHERS DEAD AND ANOTHER DYING FROM HYDROPHOBIA. KANSAS CITY, June 6.—Two weeks ago a mad dog bit a steer of a herd of cattle belonging to Vanderburg brothers, living in the western portion of Atchison county, Kansas.

The steer was soon after affected with hydrophobia, which spread to other animals in the herd. There were three of the Vanderburg brothers, and each of them was bitten by one or the other of the affected animals. Friday one of the brothers became violently ill with hydrophobia, and died last night in excruciating agony.

Today another brother died, and the third was brought to this city and placed in a hospital. Physicians say he can only survive a day or two at the furthest.

ACCIDENT OR OTHERWISE, IT WAS SUSPICIOUS. NEW YORK, June 7.—Mrs. Gail Barton, aged 26, wife of the manager of the Casino theater, shot herself in the breast at midnight last night, but inflicted only a slight wound. She was arrested for attempting suicide and sent to the hospital. She says she shot herself accidentally, but others say jealousy was the cause.

FLUIDS FOR REDUCING WEIGHT. In most of the treatise upon corpulency it is advised that the quantity of fluids of all kinds be reduced to the lowest degree consistent with comfort.

Corpulent people influenced by this are quite apt to carry the restriction too far. A certain quantity of water is essential to life and health, and if too great a denial is practiced, injury is sure to result.

A safe rule when trying to take off fat is to drink at least half a pint of water as hot as possible in the morning on getting out of bed, and another just before retiring at night. This quantity, with what is taken with the meals, will be quite enough to meet nature's requirements.

As for fluids between meals, very little of them will be needed if the diet is properly restricted and the overworked digestive organs are favored. Just as soon as their burdens are lightened they will grow stronger, and with the renewal in strength the intense thirst will disappear.

Weak tea, on account of the hot water, is recommended with the meals. As for wines, corpulent people are better off without them; of all kinds, probably good claret is the least objectionable.

The diet to which corpulent people usually restrict themselves is one which rather favors sluggishness of the bowels; therefore a mild laxative is generally needed, at least for a time. Considering the dyspepsia and bilious tendency which are so intimately related to corpulency, the Carlsbad salts suggest themselves as a serviceable remedy.

The imported comes in small bottles, which sell at retail for about seventy-five cents. One teaspoonful in a glass of hot water is quite enough for a dose, and it can safely be repeated every morning for several weeks.—Boston Herald.

A WANT OF QUICKNESS in the sense of smell must be caused by anything which shuts off the air from the olfactory nerves—a polypus, for example, or facial paralysis, which interferes with nasal dilation and the necessary muscular effort in smelling.

IN GENOA the wives and daughters of the fishermen get from the factor patterns and thread, hand spun flax or silk, and return the same weight in lace, receiving therefor such a price as pays them wages of five to ten cents a day.

THE FIRST silver dollar was coined under the act of Feb. 13, 1792, and weighed 416 grains, and had a fineness of .924, which standard was continued for a number of years.
