Pumps are made especially adapted to this work and may be obtained at our hard-ware stores. The most important part of the whole apparatus is the nozzle, for upon this depends the efficiency of the work. It is absolutely necessary 2,400 lbs. to have a very fine spray to do good work, as all the foliage and fruit must be thoroughly wet but not drenched. It is a lamentable fact that many of our gardners and orchardists, will still aver that their trees and fruits are free from pests of various kinds year by year, and $108. at the same time they are unable to bring to our markets a single box of ripened fruit, which is free from worms. The truth is, every orchard about us is infected more as less and about us is infected more about us is infected more as less and about us infected more as less and about us in a less and a less an at the same time they are unable to bring fected more or less, and only those who will fight our insect enemies may expect their orchards to be munerative.

Our orchardists ahould wake up to the fact that it will soon be too late to save their trees if they continue to cry, as they did last year, that orcharding, in Oregon, is a failure, notwithstanding the fact that sound apples were sold in this The -:- Vogt -:- Grand. non." COMPLIMENTS TO THE "SUN."

The CHRONICLE sincerely thanks the Wasco Sun for the hearty, joyous ring of Jay Quigley, its article headed "The Dalles-Our City," in this week's issue. Brother City," in this week's issue. Brother R. J. Jose, Morgan does not write of the place H. W. Frillman, where he makes his bread and butter as if he had a constant cargo of undigested sour grapes in his stomach, like some people we wot of. His article is the very opposite of those who, having made everything they own in the world here, never write of the city or its inhabitants would be and Only Geo. Thatcher. except with a pen dipped in worm-wood and gall, and who are constantly proclaiming to the outside world that we are nothing but a community of snarling mossbacks. The CHRONICLE, on the other hand believes that The Dalles is one of the very best towns in Eastern Oregon and it is not afraid to proclaim to the world that there is more business done here than there is in any town of its size in the state. Keep up your lick Brother Morgan and if the CHRONICLE can do nothing more it will gladly stand by and pat you on the back.

HE MUST SPEAK BY THE CARD.

Senator Pugh of Alabama is real mad at ex-President Cleveland. He charges him with having gone out of his way to use offensive epithets towards the South. In an address delivered at Buffalo the other day, Mr. Cleveland, alluding to the late war, used these words: "When the government was assailed by rebellious hands." Senator Pugh says this is an insult to the south. He is somewhat sensative, this senator is. Mr. Cleveland should have said: When the government got mad at the south or, when the government was caressed by friendly the government was caressed by friendly hands, or something like that. Senator CITY MARSHAL

Pugh swears that these "rebellious ands" are going to fix Mr. Cleveland at the next democratic national convention or if nominated the "rebellious hands" are going to fix him at the ballot box, but the senator is over sensative and hypercritical and will find few sympathisers among his sensible congeners of the democratic party.

that the people of Klickitat county are matter of shipping all their produce there while Portland takes it all as a matter of course and does not put forth the least effort to retain a trade naturally hers. The Sentinel does not exactly use these words but that seems to be its meaning. The people of Klickitat county are making arrangements to have their coming crop shipped up the river to Pasco and thence to the Sound by rail. The CHRONICLE heartily sympathises with this effort but sees no reason in the world why the producers of Klickitat county could not make better terms with the company owning the The time is past when farmers can boat now being built at The Dalles. raise good fruit without taking some This company could certainly carry the measures to meet the insect depredations products of Klickitat county to ocean and fungus diseases that are now so steamers, whether at Portland or prevalent. The man eating tiger is a creature both cunning and audacious. One deboth cunning and audacious. One described by Sir Samuel Baker, which became the victim of a practical jole, tras not the typical old and maney animal, but a powerful beast of almost uneraimpled ferocity. It was a mercileas highwayman, which infested a portion of the road, and frequently carried off the drivers of bullock carts to fear upon them. ers of bullock carts to feast upon them

The Goldendale Sentinei informs us in the jungle. The natives feared to travel with a sintired of paying tribute to Portland in the gle cart, and it became the custom to pass the dreaded spot with several teams together. This, however, proved a vain precaution, for the tiger seized the driver of the hindmost cart and made away with him in spite of the cries of those left behind. At length Mr. Duff, the superintendent of police, provided two covered carts. each drawn as usual by two bullocks. The leading one was fitted with strong bars of bamboo, which formed an impenetrable cage. In this the driver was seated, and Mr. Duff himself sat with his face toward the rear, prepared to fire through the bars at the moment of at-

This would have been an exciting time for the driver, but that individual was personated by a dummy stuffed with straw, which might prove tempting to the tiger's eye but would hardly satisfy

Slowly the carts moved along the dreaded path. Suddenly there was a roar and crash in the jungle. A large tiger bounded forth, seized the dummy driver and dragged him away. Nothing could have been better planned, but one roared and bounded upon the cart than the bullocks, terrified beyond control, went full gallop across the country, fol-lowed by the other team, all in the wildest panic.

It was impossible to fire, and after a few seconds of desperate chariot racing company. We commend this suggestion both carts capsized, and lay, with the animals, in a heap on the ground. The victorious man eater, victim of what he must have considered a practical joke, was left to a dry meal of a straw stuffed carter, instead of the juicy native he had expected to get.

Expensive Portraits.

The ladies of Gotham are very good to the gentlemen of this place. They are presenting them with miniatures of themselves exquisitely painted on ivory. Time was when a simple photo, card size, was good enough for anybody's best fellow. Then a cabinet must be bought for him, or a panel nearly as large as life and as natural as the camera could make it. Now it costs twenty-five dollars to give one's likeness to one's divinity, for it must be upon the finest of polished ivory and so beautifully tinted that none but a real artist can do the work.

The most approved ivory likenes no larger than the pictures of George Washington upon our postage stamps. And they are designed to be fitted within a locket which is to be worn upon the watch chain. Twenty-five dollars is the very cheapest sum for which the ivory likeness can be obtained. They used to cost fifty dollars, but an artist who makes a specialty of them says, "They cost no more than twenty-five in Lunnon." And so one must pay no more

Another dainty personal gift is a likeness of one's self painted upon a coffee cup which is to adorn the bachelor quarters of one's best love. If painted by an artist who understands china painting, the colors do not change in the firing, and the effect is as lovely as could Still another way of giving one's likeness to one's best boy is by having it painted upon the inside of the case of his watch. This method possesses one advantage over those previously mentioned, namely, that of endurance. Seasons may wax and wane. Time may come and time may go, but as long as the ticking of that particular watch goes on. just so long will the dainty, smiling features look out from the inside of the golden cover. Nothing can erase it and nothing can cover it up save another picture painted over it. And shame be upon the artist who could be prevailed upon to do so ruthless a deed.—New York World.

Sympathy with Suffering.

Unless there be some sympathy with suffering there will be nothing done for its relief, and the ties of human brotherhood will be quickly sundered. If it is a blessing that we are unable to feel the full force of another's sorrow, it is no less a blessing that we have the capacity of feeling a part of it. And this capacity usually needs development rather than restraint. For a few who may grieve unwarrantably for their fancied insensibility there are multitudes who are sadly deficient in sympathy and never grieve at all about it. It should never be forgotten that all social happiness, all mutual benefactions and all true benevoence are founded on the pres sympathy. Were it not for this we should be miserable and misery giving egoists.—New York Ledger.

Pearls in Oysters

The pearl oyster is a valued member of the family. Some produce pearl for but-tons and ornamentation, and some the gem. The latter is simply a result of the oyster's attempt to protect itself from some foreign substance. Thus, if a minute grain of sand finds its way into the shell, the animal will immediately envelope it with a nacreous of pearly coating, which if continued results in a perfect gem. The pearls attached to the shells are layers of nacre heaped up to prevent the onward march of a boring parasite seeking entrance from without. In Ceylon 17,000,000 pearl oysters were destroyed lately te produce $80,000 in pearls.—San Francisco Chronicle.
