Table with columns: Pacific Coast Time, BAR., Temp., Relative Hum., D. of Wind, and State of Weather. Includes data for S.A.M. and S.P.M. and a note on maximum and minimum temperatures.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, June 19, 1891. Weather forecast till 12 m., Saturday; light rains. Nearly stationary temperature.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Geo. Filloon returned home from a visit to Tacoma Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are in the city the guests of Mrs. E. M. Wilson.

Mr. G. W. Johnston left for Goldendale this morning to visit his brother.

Mr. A. M. Dickey of Portland is in the city on a visit. He will return tomorrow.

The letter of the gentleman from Heppner in another column is published just as it was written.

Mr. George Phelps left for Huntington today, but what he is going to do after he gets there we don't know.

Hon. R. P. Erhart formerly secretary of State for Oregon is stopping at The Dalles for a few days for his health.

The marshal arrested yesterday a man named Herman Albright who is charged with selling liquor to an Indian.

Southern California's prune crop will be a failure this year. This will be a big year for Oregon prunes, cultivated in a country where crops never fail.

The new boat is to be christened "The Regulator." It is a defiant and suggestive title. May she long wear it proudly and honorably.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Alexander and Messrs. William and Barney Alexander of Salem are in the on their way to Wapinitia to visit friends.

Two car loads of beef cattle were shipped last night by M. C. Butler to the Sound. They were bought from Messrs. Kelly Brothers of this county.

As the heavily loaded dray of Bert Williams was passing today in front of the store of Crandall & Burget the axle broke square off near the high hind wheel.

Lum Brown, well known in this city, has opened the Monogram cigar store, lately owned by James Magill. We bespeak for him a share of the patronage of lovers of the weed.

Hon. D. J. Cooper, who has been engaged for some time in adjusting some swamp land matters in the neighborhood of Prineville, Crooked River and Black Butte, returned to The Dalles yesterday.

The Goldendale Sentinel says that letters have been received by parties in Goldendale stating that grain buyers are offering to contract for the growing crop of wheat at 70 to 75 cents a bushel at points further from the seaboard than Goldendale.

A fine rain commenced to fall at this place at 7:30 o'clock this morning and has continued at intervals up to the hour of going to press. From all quarters comes the report that abundant rains have fallen. Several farmers have begun to break sod.

The new United Brethren church at Hood River will be dedicated next Sunday, June 21st. Bishop Hott will preach the dedication sermon and Bishop Castle will preach in the evening. All friends are cordially invited to be present. The good people have built a church there that is a credit to the people of that beautiful valley.

James McGill, of the Monogram cigar store sold out his business yesterday to Mr. Barlow Adams and skipped the town, leaving several creditors to mourn his sudden departure. It is said he owes two or three hundred dollars to Portland parties who are camping on his trail and are very likely to find him as it is supposed he went that way.

Judge Thornbury, Captain Lewis and Messrs. Kloster, Haight, Burget and E. Schanno and son, who are at Trout Lake near Mount Adams, have sent to the city a basket of trout numbering 300, whereof the editor of the CHRONICLE was presented with a sample lot. They are beauties and the very sight of them makes an old disciple of Walton long to be with the fishermen.

The Goldendale Sentinel publishes a letter from W. P. Gray stating that he is perfecting arrangements with the Northern Pacific railway company to secure the use of their steamers for the purpose of collecting and delivering freight at Pasco and running down the Columbia and up the Snake river, if there is any reasonable expectation of securing enough freight to make the business pay. Mr. Gray also inquires if the producers of Klickitat county would ship their products to market or prefer to sell them on the bank of the river.

For Rent. A well furnished room in a private family, central location, suitable for a gentleman. Inquire at this office.

Circuit Court Notes.

In the circuit court yesterday, both Judge Fee and Judge Bradshaw were engaged for a time hearing cases. The following judgments were rendered:

Agnes H. Hope vs. Ashland Barret. Case argued and taken under advisement; judgment to be rendered in vacation and then entered as if in court time.

Sarah McAtee vs. B. S. McAtee, administrator; the same.

O. D. Taylor vs. J. W. Coffin; the same.

Dalles lumbering company vs. C. W. Denton, the same.

Oregon Short Line vs. Agnes Hope and E. Schutz, justice of the peace; judgment of the justice court reversed.

O. S. L. & W. T. Railway Co. vs. D. L. Cates; suit for replevin; judgment for plaintiff.

J. J. Woollery vs. L. A. Woollery, suit for divorce; marriage contract annulled and custody of child granted to defendant.

W. Lair Hill vs. George Gardiner. Jury trial; verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $268.33.

J. T. Mullen, administrator, vs. O. S. L. & W. T. Railway Companies. Judgment denied.

Dalles lumbering company vs. T. M. Denton; demurrer sustained and defendant allowed to amend.

G. W. Reno vs. D. L. Cates. Replevin; judgment for defendant.

In the Skottowe case a motion for a new trial was argued and denied. Fifty days were allowed for filing a bill of exceptions.

The case of The Dalles lumbering company vs. C. W. Denton came on this forenoon and had not concluded at the time of going to press. All the jurors except those engaged in this suit have been discharged for the term. Judge Fee left for his home last night. Judge Bradshaw will open court at Heppner next Monday and all business before the present court must be disposed of by tomorrow evening.

Give the Military Boys a Chance.

We learn that some of our merchants are not willing to let their employees off during the coming encampment, so that they can participate with their respective companies A and C. We hope such will not be the case. The Dalles should take pride in having their companies appear well and every man belonging to either of the organizations should be allowed to participate.

A feeling of patriotism should make employers let their clerks go with their companies. Numerically, A and C are smaller than any of the companies that will be present at the encampment and if a dozen or so of the boys are compelled to remain at work in the stores The Dalles will make a poor showing. We hope to be able to report that every employer in this city will make arrangements to let the boys be in the ranks during encampment week. Let's all join together to bring about a result so much to be desired.

Consult the Boat Company First.

We agree with The Dalles CHRONICLE in regard to the new boat being built at that place, and believe that before the farmers of Klickitat make definite arrangements with the Northern Pacific or any other railroad they should interview the gentlemen who are spending their money for the express purpose of benefitting the settlers of this and adjoining counties. Of course it will be farther for a great many of the farmers to haul their lumber in price is as great as it was last year it will pay to haul it to the new boat.—Klickitat Leader.

You Forget The Dalles.

The Baker city Democrat says there is going to be a city in Eastern Oregon within ten years, with 20,000 population, and that city will be Baker City. The Democrat is modest. We had an idea that Pendleton stood a small chance in the race, but probably she does not, and will have to content herself with her victorious baseball nine, and struggle along the best she can, with hope in place of gall.—East Oregonian.

A catfish three years old will weigh fifty pounds, and will daily destroy what it allowed to grow would represent its own weight in salmon. These voracious fish are now established in the Columbia river, and unless measures are taken for their extermination they are likely to do more toward exterminating the salmon than all the wheels, traps, nets and seines from Cape Hancock to the Snake river.—Astorian.

The following statement from Mr. W. B. Denny, a well known dairyman of New Lexington, Ohio, will be of interest to persons troubled with Rheumatism. He says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for nearly two years, four bottles in all, and there is nothing I have ever used that gave me as much relief for rheumatism. We always keep a bottle of it in the house." For sale by Snipes & Kinersly.

I am now offering mens' spring and summer suits at greatly reduced prices. J. C. Balowi

Another Outraged Passenger.

THE DALLES, 18 June '91.

EDITOR CHRONICLE: I see a complaint in your yesterday's issue edited outrage by one Mr Spade and the greatest wonder is to me, that the actions of these Union Pacific brakemen on these Passenger Trains has not found its way in the Public Press before.

Every word that Mr. Spade Stated is correct and the fact is he did not tell it all, these brakemen on the local trains that stop for meals at the Dalles are actually putting themselves in the place of Hotel runners by Soliciting costum and it is evident that they are not content with this and fearing some passenger might escape the close the Doors to the annoyance and inconvenience of all When No 8 mealing Train arrived at the Dalles Wednesday and stopped in the street as customary to allow Passengers to get off and get their Dinners there where two coaches that had side doors these coaches contained nine tenths of the Passengers and where the connected together the two Doors on the south side where locked while on the north side they where while open, at each end of these stood the old fashioned coaches without side Doors there stood a Brake-man at each end to prevent the escape of the Passengers I have seen this method of driving sheep and other stock but never saw it Practise on the human Family before.

A Financier's Views.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The head of a large foreign house here has been interviewed. He said:

A man may as well try to lift himself up, by his bootstraps as for us here to attempt to lift our market. It cannot be done unless Europe is willing and able to pay our securities. The market here is in a congested state. Our people have all the securities they want and are not in a condition to undertake a strong buying movement with no brighter hopes than at present of getting somebody to take the securities off their hands. There is nothing in the situation here which should cause a depression. On the contrary the situation warrants higher prices. Our relief is coming when Europe gets thoroughly over her troubles and finds herself able to invest money here again. My advices from London are that only so much of the gold which has gone there will come back as is needed to pay for grain and breadstuffs.

That our readers may have some idea of the game that has recently created the scandal in high circles in England we give an outline below of the way it is played. The layout consists of an oval table, with a chalk line drawn across its center. The players sit to the right or left of the table with the dealer in the center. Two cards are dealt to each side of the line and the players bet against one another's. As soon as the cards are dealt on either side amount to nine, it wins unless certain cards fall to the dealer (or banker) and he pays to both the right and left side of the table. The game is old, over a hundred years as records show, but has never got a foothold in America. At a few of the great European gambling resorts, baccarat rooms are kept open, but it is not a popular game with the public and only has popular recognition in private circles of the effete nobility of England today.

BAD SPRING FOR BOSSES.

The People of The Dalles Win a Handsome Victory.

The Dalles has just gone through a similar experience with bosses as this city. At the last legislature the people sought to have the water commission empowered to loan the sinking fund for the payment of the water bonds. The will of the people in this matter was defeated and it was arranged that the sinking fund should be loaned by the mayor and treasurer of the city, which did not suit the people. Consequently, at the late city election the citizens put up a ticket headed by Robert Mays for mayor, and made a clean sweep, defeating the bosses completely.—Oregonian.

The band boys have made arrangements to give a grand ball in the school hall at this place on the night of the Fourth of July. Dancing will commence at 7:30 o'clock and will conclude at 11:30, the following day being Sunday. Dance programmes are being printed for the occasion and good music will be furnished. Everyone is guaranteed a pleasant time. All should patronize the dance as a matter of duty, for the band boys contribute not a little to our enjoyment by their sweet music and they certainly deserve our support on an occasion of this kind.—Wasco Observer.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Willig wish to extend their most sincere thanks to the many friends who rendered them service during their sad affliction.

In almost every neighborhood there is some one or more persons whose lives have been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who have been cured of chronic diarrhoea by it. Such persons take special pleasure in recommending the remedy to others. The praise that follows the introduction and use makes it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Snipes & Kinersly.

A suggestion: If you are troubled with rheumatism or a lame back, allow us to suggest that you try the following simple remedy. Take a piece of flannel the size of the two hands, saturate it with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. It will produce a pleasant warmth and relieve you of all pain. Many severe cases have been cured in this way. The Pain Balm can be obtained from Snipes & Kinersly.

The wealthiest person in Centralia, Wash., is Mr. Washington, a colored man a strong Baptist. He contributed to the building of a Baptist church, but as matters did not go to his liking and differences arose, he now proposes to build a church to suit himself, and let others build their church, and so Centralia will have two Baptist churches.
