WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

THE DALLES, June 22, 1891. Weather forecast till 12 m., Tuesday; fair. Slightly warmer.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

"You'll find in all the professions, in pulpit, in court and in shop, as well as in strawberry boxes, the best always gets to the top."

What do you do with jelly when it won't jelly?

Mr. William Quinn a prominent wool grower in Crook county is in town.

Mrs. Ben E. Snipes and son, Bennie, of Seattle, are visiting friends in the city.

Mr. George Herbert of the Mount Hood Hotel, of Hood River, is in the city.

Hon. G. W. Johnston and wife and Messrs. W. R. Menefee and C. P. Balch, of Dufur, were in town today.

Hon. A. R. Lyle of Crook county is stopping at the Umatilla House. He leaves this evening for a business trip to Portland.

A carriage and wagon manufactory is about to be started at Corvallis with a capital of $50,000.

A new horticultural paper will be started in Portland on July 6th. It will be published by D. H. Sterns and edited by E. R. Lake, the present secretary of the Oregon state board of horticulture.

The Walla Walla Union-Journal says: "Senator Sherman talks like a blacksmith on the silver question." We suppose that is because he gives such sledge hammer blows at the silver inflationists.

Mr. H. C. Nielsen is in receipt of some of the handsomest pants goods that has ever been brought to The Dalles. His corner window is filled with the new patterns and the display attracts much attention.

Chas. Graham has had a new sign painted and swung for his opera restaurant. It is a very handsome one, and at the distance of a block or two looms up in a magnificent manner. The sign is the artistic work of Mr. Hardy.

Herman Albright, who was arrested for selling liquor to Indians last week had his examination before U. S. commissioner Huntington on Saturday, and was held to answer before the U. S. district court at Portland. He was taken to Portland the same night by deputy-marshal Johnson.

The Dalles election, which took place Monday, resulted in the election of Hon. Robert Mays, mayor, and the balance of the ticket, which he headed. Mr. Mays is an excellent gentleman, one whom The Dalles did well to honor and who in turn, will honor The Dalles.—The Glazier.

The common council of La Grande have ordered the marshal to put a stop to all gambling in public places in that city, and now the gamblers are offering to bet that the grass will be growing in the streets in less than a week. If the prophecy is fulfilled the seed from that grass ought to find ready sale in some other towns we wot of.

Mr. Guy Wright of Portland was in the city yesterday and we are of the opinion that Fred Fisher must have been with him as bulletin boards and the sides of bluffs show specimens of his handiwork in the way of crayon portraits of some of our leading athletes. Since writing the above we have been reliably informed that he was here.

We shall never again doubt any fish story reaching us from a reliable source, since the arrival of that Columbia river salmon from S. L. Brooks, of The Dalles, Oregon. It measured three feet two inches in length, and tipped the beam at 25 pounds, and such another luxurious treat one seldom gets. Mr. Brooks' friends here are not likely soon to forget him, if he has been absent more than forty years, for we sliced the fish and distributed to the nearest and best, all of whom pronounce it luscious and rare.—Beardstown Illinoian.

Prof. W. J. Spillman and wife of the Indiana State University, Vincennes, Indiana, arrived in town over the Union Pacific yesterday morning and left on the boat this morning where he has been tendered a position as teacher in the Portland academy. Prof. Spillman is a brother of Mrs. D. J. Cooper, of this city, and his appearance was quite a surprise to Mrs. Cooper as it is a brother whom she had never seen.

The supervisors of the various road districts should take advantage of the present condition of the ground and do such plowing and scraping as are needed while the soil is in a condition to pack. The roads between this city and points in the interior are in many places sadly in need of such work and, if it is neglected, farmers will suffer when they come to wheat hauling and, if delayed, as it is generally, till the ground again becomes dry plowing and scraping will be of very little service.

Senator J. N. Dolph will deliver the oration at La Grande on the Fourth.

The Prineville market is seldom so well supplied with butter as it is now. Only fifteen cents a pound was offered for it this week.—News.

The Dalles has had two good academies, the Wasco Academy and St. Mary's Academy. Pendleton also has two, the Pendleton Academy and St. Joseph's Academy, and we are proud of them both.—East Oregonian.

The leprosy committee appointed to enquire into the conditions under which this disease spreads and breeds in India are said to have made some astonishing discoveries which promise the cure of this hitherto irremediable curse.

The drive-well patent swindle, by which many an honest farmer was robbed of hard earned dollars, not many years ago, is likely to be duplicated in a similar manner. The Scientific American has an illustration and a description of such a patent by Rice of Hutchinson, Minn.

Kansas is having a hard time. Last Saturday the southeastern portion of the state was visited by a combination of cloud-burst cyclone and tornado that destroyed standing crops, in many cases just ready for the reaper, and swept away bridges and buildings, involving an estimate loss of half a million dollars. Kansas is a good country—to stay away from.

Make your home premises beautiful. Each citizen by his own labor and a little money expended can add greatly to the attractiveness of the town. Brush up, take down the unsightly old fences, sod the lawns, be unsparring with the paintbrush and harmonious colors, see that the alleys are cared for and the streets in front of home clean—these things done, each will not only be healthier and happier, but will add his part toward making the town handsome as well as healthy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams have returned from a camping-out trip to Yakima City and the Ellensburg country, whither they went two weeks ago for the benefit of Mrs. Williams' health, which is much improved in consequence. Mr. Williams returns satisfied that there is no place like Wasco county. He says he would not give The Dalles for all the country north of the Columbia river.

Ellensburg is as pretty a town as he ever saw but he never saw a town with as many empty houses. He counted eight empty dwelling houses in one short street, and the remark will apply to the whole city. There is more life in The Dalles today than in all that country. They can raise nothing without irrigation and when it comes to raising wheat by irrigation it is an uphill business. Along the borders of the ditches wheat was up six to eight inches while s.x feet back it had never appeared above ground. The Klickitat valley is by far the best country he saw on the trip and the farmers there have every prospect of a splendid crop.

Mr. Leslie Butler returned this morning from Hood River where he had gone to attend the dedicatory services in the United Brethren church at that place yesterday. The new church which is a model of neatness and good taste was finished and furnished at a cost of about $3000. Of this sum $1206 remained as a debt on the society, but the efforts of the brethren, yesterday, were crowned with success and the society renews its conflict with the powers of evil with a balance of $94.30 on the right side of the ledger. Bishop Hoti delivered the dedicatory sermon in the morning and Bishop Castle preached in the evening. There were besides these a special service at 10 o'clock a. m. and Sunday school at 4 o'clock p. m. All the services were well attended and the preaching was listened to by a highly appreciative audience. Besides the two clergymen already mentioned the presiding elder of the district Rev. Geo. Sickafosse was also present as well as the pastor of the church Rev. C. W. Wells. Revival services will be continued in the new building during the present week.

A trip to the Tygh Ridge country on Saturday has given ocular proof of the condition of the crops in that fine grain raising district. From present indications we should judge that nearly one-fourth of the spring grain never germinated till the late rains, and had it not been for them would never have made anything. We never knew the grounds to be so well soaked at this time of year, and we never saw grain presenting a healthier color; at the same time the late sowed grain, since it did not germinate equally, presents, for the present, a spotted appearance which, however, will disappear within the next month. Fortunately there is very little volunteer grain in that neighborhood. In fact a ride through the Tygh Ridge country will convince any man, if further proof is necessary that it pays to farm well. We saw a field of barley and wheat, sowed in the spring, on summer fallow, on the ranch of Mr. John Bolton that, backward as the season has been, is as fine as any one wants to see. On the whole the rains came not a moment too soon. Had they not come the crop failure would have been greater than that of two years ago. After looking at the grass one wonders there is any grain left. The open prairie range is as bare and dry as it usually is in September but all will be changed in another month, and with any ordinary weather during the next six weeks Tygh Ridge will harvest a fine crop.

CROP-WEATHER BULLETIN NO. 20.

Report for the Week Ending Saturday, June 20, 1891.

OREGON WEATHER BUREAU, CENTRAL OFFICE, PORTLAND, OREGON. EASTERN OREGON WEATHER.

The temperature was generally below the average. There was a light rain about Walla Walla, on Tuesday, and general rains in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, Morrow, Umatilla, Union, Walla, and Walla Walla (Wash.) counties and south of the Blue mountains. Rainfall was above the average throughout Eastern Oregon. Light frosts in Baker county on the 19th. Snow in mountains in Baker, Grant and adjoining counties on 18th, 19th and 20th.

The rain was of great benefit to wheat. Hay has been injured to some extent. The acreage of wheat in Union, Umatilla and Walla Walla counties has been increased twenty per cent and the yield per acre will be equal to or greater than last year. In some localities, especially in the west and north of Pendleton and Walla Walla the wheat has been burnt some. Some few fields will not be cut. On the foot hills and high lands the wheat was never better. The quality of the wheat will be even better than last year. The out-put from eastern Oregon and Washington from present indications will be from one to two million or more bushels than that of last year.

B. S. PAGE, Observer U. S. Weather Bureau.

Tygh Valley Items.

TYGH VALLEY, June 19, 1891. ED. CHRONICLE: In response to your kind invitation for items I send a few with the hope of interesting at least some of your many readers.

A fifty thousand dollar rain visited these parts on the 17th; result, everybody has a pleasant smile; also a fine shower this morning, bountiful crops assured.
