WEATHER PROBABILITIES. THE DALLES, June 24, 1891. Weather forecast till 12 m., Thursday; light rain. Followed by fair weather. Nearly stationary temperature.

The Chronicle is the Only Paper in The Dalles that Receives the Associated Press Dispatches.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. J. H. Menefee of Dufur was in the city today.

Five tramps were arrested last night, found sleeping on wool sacks at the East End.

A shoe factory on a legitimate basis would receive substantial encouragement in The Dalles.

The youngest child of conductor French is reported very ill at the residence of Mr. French's father-in-law, Mr. Frisco in this city.

F. J. Miller, clerk of the Oregon railroad commission, came up from Portland last night and remained over till the noon train today when he left for Pendleton.

We believe within a year a shoe factory well managed in this city would pay out as much money for labor as did the railroad when the shops were here.

School Superintendent, Troy Shelly left on last night's west bound train for Newport to attend the State Teachers' institute, which is to be held there. He will be absent about two weeks.

The run of salmon during the past twenty-four hours has been rather light. Wipans Brothers caught only about 1000 pounds last night while some of the wheels caught next to nothing.

After next Tuesday the U. S. signal service will be under different management. It will be transferred from the war department to the agricultural department.

The stockholders of the Eastern Oregon co-operative association held a meeting today in the parlor of the Cosmopolitan hotel, for the purpose of taking steps to increase the capital stock of the association.

It is generally supposed that the present month has been an unusually cold one, but the signal service observer says that the mean temperature for twenty-three days of June is sixty-two degrees. The mean temperature for the past seventeen years is sixty-one degrees for June.

During the last two weeks the following elections and promotions have taken place in Company C, 8d regiment, O. N. G.: First Lieut. L. C. Christman to captain; First Sergt. C. H. Moore to first lieutenant; Q. M. Sergt. A. H. Kennedy to first sergeant and Corporal K. Gottfried to Q. M. sergeant.

The new boat, The Regulator, will, we are assured by Mr. Paquet, be launched tomorrow. The hour cannot be definitely fixed, but Mr. Paquet expects to have her in the water somewhere between three and four o'clock. Preparations for the launch are being pushed rapidly and everything needed is on the ground.

W. R. Menefee jr., of Dufur has just returned from Portland where he has been since the first of March last, taking a course of instruction at the business college. Mr. Menefee succeeded in taking a diploma in the short term of three months and is one of the only two who have ever accomplished it at that institution.

We are sorry to learn that the two-year-old child of Mr. Andrew McCabe, who lives between Five and Eight Mile, was kicked this morning by a sucking colt, badly fracturing its skull. The accident occurred at Polk Butler's place near Nansene. Mr. McCabe was returning from a trip into the interior, with a load of wool, and was accompanied by his wife and child. While getting ready for the road, this morning the child ran up to the colts' heels with the result stated. The child was immediately brought to town and placed in the care of Dr. Rinehart who succeeded in making it as easy as possible. The doctor thinks that under proper care it may recover.

Lorenzen & Co., yesterday caught in a seine at their fishing place on the other side the river below Crates' point a two or three-year-old grey-hair seal. The little fellow, we should judge weighs about sixty pounds though we have heard a gentleman offer to wager that he will weigh a hundred. The seal was the object of much curiosity to a large number of visitors at the old stone building on the corner of Main and Washington. Another seal said to be twice as large as the one described above was caught last night in one of the fish wheels of Wipans' Brothers on the North Dalles side of the river. Mr. Aud Wipans intends to send it to a small aquarium that there is on Paradise farm, Hood River.

THE PRIZES WE SEEK.

Full Text of the Third Regiment Competitive Drills and Athletic Sports. One of the features of the coming encampment will be the competitive drills and other tests of skill and endurance which will take place during the week. It having been found impossible to get a suitable challenge cup a very handsome water set has been substituted, consisting of pitcher, cup and salver, which together with the gold and silver medals have been generously placed in the hands of the regimental sports committee by Captain A. Ad. Keller to be competed for by the men actually in camp. The water salver above referred to will be given to the best drilled company, all being eligible and having an equal show.

The medals will be given for individual merit in drill and soldierly bearing and like the company trophy will be open for competition and each and all enter on equal terms. In addition to the above a second elegant water pitcher and cup will adorn some company's armory as a base ball trophy. Prizes will also be given for running—a full list of which is appended—entries must be made to Lieutenant Norton on or before Monday noon next, the 29th inst.; all entries are free, but as the time is limited to prepare a programme, positively no entries will be received after the time stated. Two entries have already been received in the competition for the gold and silver medals. The prizes are now on view in W. E. Garretson's window.

The following is the programme: 1. The Regimental Challenge Plate, open to any company in the regiment. Competing companies to have not less than 24 men, 2 sergeants and 3 officers. The company winning the prize to retain it as a trophy to be kept as part of the company's property and accounted for as such. 2. Individual drill open to any member of the regiment in camp. The winners hold the medals till the next encampment, when, if they win them again they will be entitled to retain them and have an additional bar attached stating the fact.

3. Base ball tournament, open to companies A, C, D, E, F, H and I. Each company will be allowed to enter one team, the winners to retain the prize for company use. A silver water pitcher and cup.

4. One hundred yard dash, open to any private or non-commissioned officer of the above companies. Members entering this contest must be under 35 years of age. 1st prize, an oxidized silver shaving mug and brush; 2d prize, a handsome ink stand.

5. One hundred yard dash, open as No. 4 but only to members over 35 years of age. 1st prize, an oxidized silver shaving mug and brush; 2d prize, a handsome ink stand.

6. One hundred yards dash for commissioned officers. First. A handsome gold headed cane. Second. Oxidized cigar stand.

7. Four hundred and forty yards dash open to any member of the above companies. First. A silver smoking set in case. Second. A handsome pair of vases.

Numbers 1 and 2 it will be seen are open competitions. Numbers 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 are of necessity limited, it having been deemed advisable to confine the entries to members of those companies whose officers have signified to Lieutenant Norton their intention to subscribe for the prizes in response to circular dated June 5th.

Mrs. Poorman's Assailant Put Under $1,000 Bonds.

Al. Lawson, the man charged with the criminal assault on Mrs. Poorman was brought before Justice Doherty this afternoon at two o'clock. Lawson waved examination and was bound over in the sum of $1000—a sum so ridiculously small that it is only justified by the fact that neither the justice nor Mr. A. R. Thompson, who appeared for the state believes that it can be procured. Quite a crowd was gathered around the office of the justice as the marshal marched Lawson from the jail and it was perfectly evident that it only wanted a leader to have dealt roughly with the prisoner.

Mrs. Poorman was able to ride down to the office in the sheriff's buggy, and the sight of the poor old lady, with her ear and face bearing the marks of having been bitten by the brute, and her broken arm in a sling, was enough to melt the stoutest heart.

We learn from Prineville papers that wool men, in that neighborhood, are hauling their wool to the Willamette valley and realizing 20 cents a pound for it. If this is true, and it cannot with reason be questioned, as names and dates are given, it argues something wrong in The Dalles market.

J. Evans, lecturer for the state grange of Washington, and William Holder, lecturer for the Oregon state grange, were in the city today. Mr. Evans informed the writer that the grange has increased its membership in Washington a hundred per cent. during the past twelve months.

James White has made arrangements with the railroad company to feed the west-bound passengers and the first meal will be served at 5 o'clock this afternoon, in the new restaurant back of the passenger depot building.

Death is the only power that can make some servant girls dust.

A spring snap—playing marbles.

Japan in "Starlight."

One might as well try to weigh a smile with steel yards or measure a ray of sunshine with a tape measure as to attempt a description of that decidedly eccentric creation, "Starlight."

It is called a musical comedy, but the title for it might be strung over several lines and include most every department of the dramatic world without violating the proprieties, for it is composed of the brightest portions of any number of popular dramatic and musical works ranging all the way from extravagant burlesque to stately opera. The entertainment is one of that sort that is capable of change from season to season, and while "Starlight" has been seen here before, this time it is really a new and revised version of itself, and the auditor sees practically a new production.

Vernona Jarbeau and her peculiar, pert, French methods are well known to the theater public. Certainly she is one of the most capable and entertaining artists in her line and in several respects stands alone. The company is by far the best she has presented. During the play Miss Jarbeau introduces her characteristic songs and dances, the latter of which, without being the least suggestive, are lively enough to catch even the most blasé, and which have made her famous. The costumes are elegant, the music bright and catchy, and the play may be safely depended on as furnishing an evening of pleasant entertainment.

It is a curious fact, but fact it is, that the bird that is more widely distributed over the earth and better known to man than perhaps any other, has no distinctive name. We refer to the barn-yard fowl. To call them chickens is to use a misnomer, unless we refer to those of them which have just emerged from the shell. To call them fowl is equally incorrect for the best usage of this term is much more comprehensive. To call the male bird a rooster is to use pure Americanism; to call the female a hen is to use a term equally applicable to the females of many other species. The fact, however, that all this is true, does not make a chicken fry or roast a whit the less savory.

Mr. W. J. Harriman, whose place is on the timber line between Five and Eight Mile, left a sample of fall wheat at this office which contains its own proof that it pays to farm well. It is Little Club and measures four feet and a half in height, and is a fair average sample. Mr. Harriman says, of a two-acre field of summer fallow, sowed in the fall. The sample speaks loudly of the necessity of summer fallowing in order to obtain the best results. Every whit as much grain can be raised on half the ground in cultivation, if summer fallowing is practiced, and with much greater certainty of a crop than that which is cultivated and with less labor and less expense.

Arrangements have been partly made to hold a farmers' institute at Dufur next fall similar to the one held a short time ago at Wasco in Sherman county. The arrangement for time and place will be made through the grange and the meetings will be attended by professors from the state agricultural college.

At a meeting of the Eastern Oregon Cooperative Association held in this city today, the association by unanimous vote resolved to increase its capital stock to $20,000. A meeting of the directors was held this afternoon to make arrangements for carrying out this resolution.

Conductor French brought into the office today a rattlesnake with eleven rattles on it. The "pet" was enclosed in a neat box with a glass lid and wire top and is the property of Matt Blazen. A snake in a box is an improvement on snakes in one's boots.

Just as we go to press Mr. Paquet informs us that the launch of the "Regulator" will take place at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon or as soon after as possible, but not before.

Messrs Jewett of White Salmon, John Medler and Frank Pike of Wasco and A. D. and D. L. Bolton of Boyd were in the city today.

We are pleased to learn from State Lecturer Holder that a new grange will be organized in the town of Dufur next Monday evening.

We were pleased to see Dr. William Sheekleford again on the street today after his long illness.

State Lecturer Holder will deliver the oration at Goldendale on the Fourth.
